Actual operation was stimulated to a degree that made it seem human hands were at the wheels of the miniature yachts. Instead a mechanism controlled by a clock adjustment, worked out the movements of tack and jibe, swining rudder and shifting sail. Designer Burgess said that so far as he knew, nothing of the kind had been built before.

He aims now to perfect the device by installation of gyroscopes. While the only expense of such tests is possible to only a few yachting enthusiasts, the designer said that the interest in America's Cup defence was such that he felt certain of continued support.

SKATING, THE BICYCLE AND GOLF

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., March 8.—(Associated Press).—Charles Jewtraw, national amateur speed skating champion, was the winner of the greatest number of points in the International circuit skating events which closed here recently.

The three meets comprising the circuit were the Canadian, held at Montreal; the National held at Saranac Lake, and the International, held here at Lake Placid. The Western skaters did not compete in the Canadian meet, in which Jewtraw finished second to Russell Wheeler, of Montreal, having a total of 80 points. At Saranac Lake Jewtraw carried off the National championship with a total of 120 points. At the recent International meet here he added 70 points, making his total for the three meets 270.

Ranking next in the total number of points is Charles I. Gorman, of St. John's, N. B., who has 200. He earned 70 in the Canadian meet, 70 in the National meet and 60 in the International. Joe Moore, of New York City, winner of the International title, is third, with a total of 150, capturing 20 in the Canadian meet, 30 in the National meet and 100 in the International.

Roy McWhirter, of Chicago, who did not skate in the Canadian meet, has a total of 150, having won 90 in the National meet and 60 in the International. Russell Wheeler, of Montreal, who won the Canadian championship with a total of 90 points, has a circuit total of 100; scoring nothing at Saranac Lake and adding but 10 points at the International meet here.

Ladies' Golf Union.

LONDON, March 8.—With more than 500 golf clubs affiliated to the Ladies' Golf Union, it is computed that in England and Wales there are considerably more than 50,000 women golfers. These women devotees of the game are well catered for in the matter of championships, for there is the women's "open", the English, Irish, Scottish and Welsh championships, to say nothing of the county championships, and when these come on for decision later in the year, there is every indication that a record number of players will be seen doing the rounds on the links.

Bicycle Race.

PARIS, March 8.—Paris, like New York and Brussels, is to have its six-day bicycle race this year for the first time since 1913. The race will be run from March 28, East Monday, until Sunday, April 4. Such noted riders as Brocco, Seres, Egg, Defuyter, Miquel, Berthet, Godivier, Aerts and Spiessens have already entered, and the management of the Parc des Princes Velodrome is trying to sign up two or three American teams.

New Golf Rule.

LONDON, March 8.—Opinion is divided among leading English golfers on a rule recently adopted by the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association eliminating the stymie definition or mention of the stymie. The new regulation, as reported here, provides that, when laid a stymie on the green by his opponent, a player may remove the opponent's ball, but that the opponent "shall then be deemed to have holed in his next stroke."

"I would do away with the stymie altogether," said Abe Mitchel of the North Foreland Club in a published interview. "In my view, the ball nearer the hole should be putted first. I do not think the new rule is quite a good solution of the stymie difficulty. To lift the ball under English rules, of course, means disqualification."

Alexander Herd, of the Coombe Hill Club, has been quoted as unequivocally opposed to abolition of the stymie. "There should be no interference, I think, with the ball of an opponent," he declared. "The stymie may be old fashioned, but it is a part of the game which should not be sacrifiled."

WHY BE AFRAID OF GOOD FOOD?

Eat what you like best but Follow it with a Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet.

When the stomach sours or becomes gassy with heartburn, it needs the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition. This you get from one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Relief is usually very prompt. The regular use of these tablets after meals gives the stomach and the small intestine substantial help to digest food and you will then be bold enough to eat baked beans, fried eggs, sausages, buckwheat cakes and many other things you thought would make your stomach miserable. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drugstore and you will then eat whatever you like, and be fortified against the acid,sour stomach due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

SKATING ARENA FOR GRIMSBY.

To Seat Two Thousand Five Hundred.

GRIMSBY, March 8.—Plans have been completed for the organization of a company to be known as the Grimsby Arena, Limited, capitalized at $50,000. A charter is being applied for. The object is to build a hockey and skating arena with a seating capacity of at least 2,500, dressing rooms, restaurant, special dressing rooms with shower baths for the hockey teams, etc. It will have ice surface by 80 to 180. The rink will be built alongside an artificial ice plant, owned privately, and the new company will purchase its refrigerator.

Grimsby has not played in the O. H. A. since 1912, but next Winter, with its new artificial rink, will have both a junior and intermediate team in the O. H. A. Many good players have been developed the past season, and this is especially so among the lads who qualify for junior hockey.

CRICKET'S LESSON.

Melbourne (Australia) Argus. — The devotion to cricket by British people has been the wonder of many nations for many years. They have criticized the game because they think that it is too laborious and too costly to play. They fail to apreciate its beautics which cannot be taught and are inherrent in nearly all men of British ancestry.

A set of boys playing cricket in the corner of a paddock or public park is the best organization of youngsters that can be found anywhere. Usually the lessons of fair play learned there stick throughout life and in many homes the very synonymm for fair play becomes the word "cricket." One must not overlook, too, the other charms of the game—the green, springy turf underfoot, the golden sun, and the blue sky overhead, and the thrill of a well hit ball. Cricket at its best is the king of games and it has been made so by the kings of sportsmen, the British.

Boils So Bad
HAD TO GIVE UP WORK

From the days of Job, up to the present time, boils have been one of the afflictions of the human race.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not prevent them from breaking out again.

Boils are simply caused by the bad blood bursting out; and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.

Burdock Blood Bitters, which has been on the market for over forty years, is well known as the greatest blood medicine procurable.

It purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul matter from the system, and when this is done the boils vanish, and you should never be troubled again.

Mr. James Fahey, Newport Island, Que., writes:—"I was troubled with boils on my back and neck, so bad that I was obliged to give up work. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. Finally, I went to a doctor, and he treated me for several weeks, and all without benefit. At last a friend told me of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I decided to give it a trial. I got three bottles, but before I had taken two the boils were all gone. It is eight months now, and I have had no return of the old trouble, and have never felt so well."

B.B.B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN PETROGRAD AFTER TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT AND STREET FIGHTING.

LASTED SEVERAL DAYS

COPENHAGEN, March 9 (Canadian Press).—Petrograd is reported to be in the hands of the revolutionary forces, which for several days have been fighting against the Russian Bolshevik troops near that city, says a special despatch from Helsingfors this morning.

The revolutionary forces were victorious, despatch declares, after a terrific bombardment of Petrograd from Kronstadt, Krasnoya Gorko, and Systerbak, which was followed by machine gun battles in the streets of the city.

News of the Russian situation today was conflicting, with the latest Helsingfors despatches reporting that the Soviet government forces had recaptured Krasnoya Gorko and Systerbak fortresses this morning and were training big guns upon Kronstadt, where fires were observed.

PARTY TOURING EASTERN ONTARIO WILL ARRIVE HERE THIS EVENING.

One of the four parties of the members of the Ontario section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association who are visiting different parts of the Province will arrive in Peterborough this afternoon on the 5.30 G.T.R. train from Port Hope. They will be received by the local branch of the C. M. A., who will entertain them at a banquet in the Empress Hotel to-night at 7 o'clock.

The purposes of these tours are to bring the members of the Association together, to study industrial conditions in each of the cities visited, to meet customers, and to exchange views and information in regard to manufacturing. The itinerary of the Eastern party includes Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Peterborough, and Oshawa. About thirty-five members of the C. M. PURCHASING AT HOME IS GREAT NEED

SIR HENRY DRAYTON AT CORNWALL DECLARES BUYING IN CANADA THE ONLY SOLUTION.

DESCRIBES CONDITIONS

CORNWALL, March 9.—(Canadian Press).—Taxation problems and present financial conditions were the principal points touched upon by Sir Henry Drayton in a speech at the annual banquet of the Cornwall Board of Trade last night. The Finance Minister stated that the era of over-production and extravagant buying had culminated last Summer and was succeeded by an extreme swing of the pendulum of a period of restricted production and an almost entire absence of public buying. The result had been a condition of relative unemployment and industrial stagnation. He recommended a campaign of purchasing Canadian products. Sir Henry, dealing with taxation, referred to impression that the rich escaped taxation at the expense of the poor.

CHARGES RING HANDLING OUR APPLE TRADE

PRESTON PROPOSES ONTARIO GOVERNMENT TAKE OVER THE SUPERVISION OF FARM PRODUCTS MARKETING.

TORONTO, March 9 (Canadian Press).—That hundreds of millions of dollars are lost annually by farming products of Ontario by reason of the fact that there are not proper precautions taken in regard to the marketing of Ontario farm products in Great Britain was the statement made by W. T. R. Preston, of Port Hope, this morning to the committee appointed by the Ontario Legislature to consider the question of marketing fruit products.

Mr. Preston stated that the Canadian apple trade overseas was in the hands of a large ring, which fixed prices regardless of the great gulf between the price received by the Ontario producer and the British consumer.

The remedy, according to Mr. Preston, lay in the Ontario Government erecting large warehouses in Britain where apples can be stored and re-sorted, and sold under Government charge.

The committee passed a resolution recommending that the scope of the committee be extended so that inquiries conducted might include all kinds of farm products, not necessarily only fruit products.

HAVELOCK MAN CONVICTED FRAUD

CASE HEARD TO-DAY IN COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Charge with attempting to obtain money under false pretences the Dominion Express Co., Albert Zahalan, an Assyrian confectioner at Havelock, was fined $50 and costs of $20.10 by Magistrate O. A. Langley in County Police Court this morning The Crown's case was that on Feb. 3, Zahalan received a five pound box of chocolates from John Hill of Peterboro worth wholesale 67 cents a pound to retail at 90 cents. He attempted to get a refund from the express company on the grounds that there was a shortage of four pounds but later confesesd that there was no shortage. Mr. J. O'Brien in defending accused contended that Zahalan did not claim a shortage but damages for one pound of chocolates broken in transit. Defence maintained that the express agent made a mistake and that there was no intention of fraud on the Assyrian's part.

Magistrate Langley found that Zahalan had tried to get $2.68 wrongfully from the Dominion Express Co "I believe you understood everything", he told the Assyrian, who had maintained ignorance of English to the express agent and in the court this morning. "You can think yourself lucky you didn't get a term in jail."

SEPARATE TRIALS FOR THE GARFIELDS

WOODSTOCK, March 9.—(Canadian Press).—A big surprise was sprung this morning when Montalieu Nesbitt, counsel for the Garfields, announced to the Canadian Press that Denton and Norman Garfield, charged with murdering Ben. Johnston, would have separate trials. This course was suggested by the Crown, he intimated. Separate juries will also sit on the cases which, it is said, will not last long.

THE BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING HELD

PRECEDED BY BANQUET PROVIDED BY LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE G.W.V.A.

PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Peterborough Board of Trade was held last evening in the G.W.V.A. hall and was preceded by a banquet provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A., under the able supervision of Mr. (Dr.) E. V. Frederick Over one hundred members took part in the event, including a number of visitors from out of town. Mr. Edgar Worth, retiring president, presided over the after dinner ceremonies, later assigning his duties to Mr. J. J. Duffus, newly elected president of the Board.

The Opening Toast.

The first toast after the "King," was to the ladies, proposed by Mr. Keith Lech and responded to by Mrs. (Dr.) Frederick. Following this the chairman read communications from Mr. J. J. Turner, past president, now in London England, expressing his regret at not being present and embodying a similar expression from Mr. G. A. Gillespie and also one from Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P., of like tone.

In his entire report, which was of considerable length, the retiring president emphasized the importance of co-operation. He referred to the absorption by the Board of Trade of the activities of the following organizations, without destroying their individuality: The Retail Merchants' Association, the Peterborough Horticultural Society, Trent Waterway Development Association, and Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. Reference was made to the constructive work being carried on by the Trent Waterways Association formed largely through the efforts of the board. The Transportation committee under Mr. W. R. Breyfogle, said Mr. Worth, was an active body in bringing before the City Council the need for a union station and the matter now rested with the G.T.R.

City Planning.

The work of the City Planning committee, presided over by Mr. J. W. Worth, was commended. In the matter of new industries, while the Board only claimed the securing of one, the assistance given to the City Council's Manufacturing committee and to the Industrial Commissioner was appreciated. The retiring president recommended the construction, if at all possible, of an industrial development building to encourage smaller concerns coming to the city. The Board's activities during the enforced power shortage last fall were dealt with and also the study made by the Fire, Water and Light committee of the Fire Underwriters' report and their recommendation to the Council that red lights be placed above the fire alarm boxes. How the firemen are being trained in other centres is now being studied by the committee with a view to co-operating with the Council for better fire protection. Some of the most important questions discussed by the Board during the year, the retiring president said, were: Further development of Hydro-Electric power, lighting of vehicles on highways, recommending the substitution of the luxury tax in favour of tax instituted at the base of supply, women assistants for county agricultural offices, nickel coinage, freight rates on government owned steamers for flour, optional system for municipal government, deepening of the St. Lawrence river, provincial museum for natural products and uniform method of assessment and taxation. Mr. Worth strongly recommended that an Old Boys' Re-union Week be held in this city. The president regretted that the Board had not received stronger financial support. It is to be hoped that during the ensuing year more individual support will be given to the Board's activities by its members, and that in ever case members should be boosters and not knockers. In the majority of cases the criticisms that have been levelled at the organization

NO CLUE TO SLAYERS OF SENOR DATO

ALL TRACE OF MEN WHO ASSASSINATED SPANISH PREMIER LOST IN THE RESULTANT EXCITEMENT.

THREE BULLETS IN HEAD

MADRID, March 9.—(Canadian Press).—All trace of the men who assassinated Premier Eduardo Dato last night was lost in the excitement attending the tragedy. The criminals, who were riding in the side car of a motor cycle, sped away and disappeared. At dark, near the Premier's home, the assassins drew close to M. Dato's car and opened fire, twenty-one shots being discharged. The whole tragedy was enacted in a few moments.

The chauffeur of the Premier's car, hearing the firing, increased his speed, but the Premier ordered him to stop. The Premier was terribly wounded about the head, but was able to speak. First aid was administered to the Prime Minister at a dispensary nearby, but he died while there. He had three wounds in the back of his head, and the car in which he was riding was riddled with bullets.

IMPRESSED WITH FUTURE OF CANADA

VISITOR TO THE CITY TOURING THE WORLD.

Miss Jill Cossley-Batt, O.B.E., B.A., B.BSc., who is at present registered at the Empress, is a rather interesting young lady. Only 24 years of age, she is a doctor of science, bachelor of arts, graduate of Oxford and London universities, holder of the Order of the British Empire for services rendered the cause during the great war as inspector of gas and municipal factories, writer, journalist, public speaker in seven different languages, and is now engaged in a tour of the world on which she started with only $400 and a ticket to Australia.

After visiting Australia, New Zealand and the South Sea Islands, Miss Cossley-Batt came to Canada and starting with Vancouver has already been to Ottawa and Montreal New York and Buffalo. She intends to visit Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton in the near future, returning to Quebec in June, and then proceding once more to Vancouver, where she will sail for China in August, on the Empress of India.

Miss Cossley-Batt's father was the victim of a Hun torpedo in the Great War, her brother also gave up his life for the cause of freedom and she sacrificed a great deal of her time and health in her work in the gas factories. She has opinions about solving te high cost of living problem, and advises a study of materials to take the place of the present meaning about high prices. If an article is not priced high she argued that prospective buyers will not purchase, believing the article cannot be good. She says that Canada and Africa seem to be the two countries least affected by the World War, and she regards the future of Canada with its boundless resources, as a most promising one.

"NOT A VICTIM ENEMY, MASTER OF THE GOV'T"

PREMIER DRURY THUS SUMS UP REFUTATION OF CHARGES AS TO SIR ADAM BECK AND GOVERNMENT.

PROVINCE NOT PLEDGED

TORONTO, March 8. — (Canadian Press.)—"Sir Adam Beck is neither the victim, enemy or master of the government," said Premier Drury this morning to a deputation from Waterloo county, supplemented by speakers from St. Catharines and other points who asked for power to re-submit to the electors the radial by-laws which had already been approved.

"The government has no desire to be arbitrary. The Hydro-Radial Commission will bring out the facts and if the facts brought out do not justify the government pledging the province's credit, the government will not stand in the way of municipalities going on with it, providing they re-submit the by-laws."

Sir Adam Beck reminded the deputation that the by-laws to which they had reference had been carried by very substantial majorities. The approval of government by order-in-council was necessary before the by-laws were submitted. "The whole Hydro Act if it were not bound up with such agreements as you call arbitrary would have been a failure if municipalities had their way in their efforts to destroy it," said Sir Adam.

SCORES THE EMBARGO ON OUR CATTLE

ALBERTA MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE MAKES STRIKING ARRAIGNMENT OF BRITISH POLICY

DISEASE CHARGE FALSE

EDMONTON, March 9.—(Canadian Press.)—In a striking arraignment of the British policy of continuing the embargo on Canadian live cattle shipments, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, speaking to a motion before the Legislature last night urging the removal of this embargo, declared that Canada had never had a definite case of pleuro-pneumonia objected to in Britain, never had a case of foot and mouth disease and of slaughtered cattle shipped to Britain since 1895 when the embargo was imposed, not one trace of disease had been registered after examinations.

Uplifting of the embargo could not be brought out Hon. Mr. Marshall said that there would have to be an alternative case adopted. Providing abattoirs at tidewater points to ship meat via the cool North Atlantic route to the British market more promptly and in better condition than was possible in the case of Canada's competitor, Argentine, which was obliged to ship across the Equator several thousand miles further. Mr. Marshall declared the agricultural industry of Canada in the face of the meat shortage in devastated Europe, was threatened with the most serious depression unless steady live stock markets could be maintained.

ARTHUR GRAHAM GETS JUDGMENT

AWARDED $245 DAMAGES IN POTATO DEAL WITH HAMILTON PRODUCE DEALER.

In the case of Graham vs. Gordon, tried before Judge G. M. Roger, at Millbrook, on Friday last, in which Graham sued to recover damages for loss of time and the difference between $1.80 a bag for potatoes and the price he was able to sell later on, His Honor has awarded judgment for Graham for $245.

In November last Mr. Gordon, a Hamilton produce dealer, advertised for potatoes by the car load and got into communication with, amongst others, Mr. Arthur Graham, of Manvers. Gordon first agreed to pay $1.25 per bag. By the time his letter had got here the price had risen and Graham wrote telling him so. After various letters and phone messages following the movements of the potato market, Gordon told Graham to buy two or three carloads of potatoes on commission at $1.80 a bag.

Graham went amongst the farmers to get the potatoes. When they were ready to deliver Gordon refused to have anything to do with them, giving as his reason that during previous telephone interviews he had stated that owing to the uncertainty of the market he had cancelled his order to buy and had repeatedly notified Graham of this.

Graham then sued for damages as outlined above; also for damages caused to him as a produce dealer.

The telephone operatives at Bethany had no recollection of cancellation and the court acepted that recolection as proof that no cancellation had been made in that manner. Six or seven witnesses told what they knew about the deal. The further fact came out that when Gordon was giving evidence that he had two carloads of potatoes on his hands on a falling market when Graham called upon him to carry out his bargain with him.

The Court decided the case in favor of Graham the agent, and allowed him all out-of-pocket expenses in connection with his various trips through the country, telephoning and for the men he had hired to handle the goods. In addition the Court allowed Graham, on the potatoes held by him for Gordon, the difference between the price on the date that they were to have been delivered and the price at which he subsequently sold them. A further allowance was made by the Court of twenty-five dollars damages to Graham's business by reason of Gordon failing to be on hand and to take delivery and pay for the car lots.

S. T. Medd conducted the case for Graham and J. R. Corkery for Mr. don.

MR. HARRY FOOTE IN A NEW ROLE

WAS INDIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR CAPTURE OF BIG FISH

The Mathias Studio on George street, is showinug a 'photo of Mr. Levi Payne, accompanied by a 'lunge which he had just captured. We do not know the exact weight or size of the fish, but those who are experts in the subject should be able to guess. The 'photo was taken by Mr. Harry Foote, who was kind enough to direct Mr. Payne's attention to a certain spot, where he declared this particular fish was to be caught. Mr. Payne took his word for it, and succeeded in landing his prey in about twenty minutes afterwards. Just whether Mr. Foote would be willing to extend his prophetic services in this direction to other friends or acquaintances is not stated.

REVIVAL—CHURCH OF GOD MISSION.

Due to the unfavourable condition of the weather, the attendance at the Mission last night was not as large as it wiuld have otherwise been. But those who were present listened with keen interest to Evangelist Campbell's earnest message from the text, "Come, for all things are now ready." Salvation's plan is all complete, said Mr. Campbell. Christ died for us, the just for the unjust. The Hoy Spirit may be had by all, not merely as an influence, but as an abiding comforter, and we have the Bible. Hence, everything requisite to man's redemption is freely furnished. Regeneration through faith in the merits of Christ's blood affirms Mr. Campbell, is the first step and second, subject to regeneration, we must receive the Holy Ghost.

"This is God's way and God's plan and the product of the experiences is a pure heart. We may develop all through life in love, patience, kindness, and other fruits of the Spirit, but these first "steps are fundamental and basic."

At the Mission to-night George Pease Tasker, Missionary to India, who is now in this country on furlough, will give the address. Time of meeting 7.45. Everyobdy welcome.

ALLEGE THAT DAM FLOODED TIMBER LAND

JOHN ANDERSON, OF BELMONT, BRINGS SUIT AGAINST HAVELOCK POWER COMPANY FOR $1500 DAMAGES.

WITNESSES EXAMINED

Yesterday afternoon the non-jury case instituted by John Anderson, of Belmont Township, against the Havelock Light and Power Company was proceeded with before Mr. Justice Logie, who is presiding at the Spring Assizes. The plaintiff claims damages amounting to $1,500 alleged to have been caused by defendents flooding forty-three acres of his land.

Plaintiff claims damages on the timber drowned, on the loss in not being able to use the land and not having accessibility to the water as formerly.

Perk, Kerr and McElderry are representing plaintiff and S. T. Medd is counsel for the defence.

Three Witnesses.

Three witnesses, Frederick Wilkinson, Dominion Land Surveyor, Ross Staples and the plaintiff testified yesterday afternoon.

The first witness gave a detailed description of the lands flooded and produced maps explaining the respective positions of the dam and Anderson's property. He said the flooding was caused by the dam. If all the stop logs were out of the dam, he said, there would be no flooding. Witness told Mr. Medd that when all the stop logs were in Anderson's land would be flooded to a depth of 3 feet 5 inches. In the Spring of the year Anderson's land would be flooded by the natural flow of the water. From the first of June to the Winter, witness said, the land would be clear of water.

Some of the timber was ash, said Mr. Wilkinson. Some of it might have died from old age, he said. There was some cedar as well.

An Estimator.

Mr. Ross Staples, of Dummer, for 25 years engaged in the buying and selling of timber logs, was the second witness. He had during the course of years become trained in making estimates of standing timber, he said. On or about Friday, March 4, he examined the Anderson property. He said he found some drowned cedar. Some of it was 4, 6 and 8 inches through. There was three times as much cedar as there was ash or maple. There was three times as much ash as maple, he believed. The ash and maple were all on one side of the stream.

In reply to Mr. Kerr, he said that most of the timber was drowned. "The ash and maple seemed to be dead longer than the cedar, although cedar is a hardier wood. We consider cedar one of our best timbers now," said witness to a question by Mr. Kerr.

A large cross-section of cedar was produced by Mr. Kerr and submitted by Mr. Kerr as an example of the Main Estimates in Excess of 1920 by About $45,000,000

RAILWAY ESTIMATES EXCEED LAST YEAR'S BY $92,000,000 AND SUPPLY BILL MAY STRIKE STRONG CRITICISM.

HUGE C.N.R. DEFICIT

OTTAWA, March 9.—(Canadian Press)—In Parliamentary corridors last night discussion turned almost entirely on the main estimates tabled by Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, yesterday afternoon and the railway estimates more particularly. The main estimates altogether exceeded the last session main estimates by about forty five millions although they are thirty one million lower than the total esiimates (main and supplemenary together) of last session. But the main railway estimates are approximately $92,000,000 more than the total railway estimates of 1920 to 1921. Three loans are included in the railway estimates, $50,000,000 to the C.N.R. $89,657,633 to the G. T. R. and $26,000,000 to the G.T.P. The loans are to cover (a) operating deficits; (b) Acquisition of property materials and supplies; (c) Interest on notes securities and obligations; (d) principal and interest of matured and maturing loans; (e) Construction and betterments.

Operations on the Government Roads last year, it is intimated, resulted in a loss of around fifty millions viz: Grand Trunk Pacific operating deficit $11,250,000; fixed charges $8,000,000; total $19,250,000. Canadian Northern operating deficit and fixed charges $23,000,000; I. C. R. and Transcontinental; operating deficit $7,000,000. Totals $49,250,000.

This total does not include fixed charges on the I.C.R. and National Transcontinental it is claimed in official circles that the requirements of the government roads are not so great as would appear on the face. A certain portion of the vote, it is stated, is required for the purpose of providing funds owing to the Government and therefore are in nature of book-keeping transactions. That vote is swollen by betterment, new construction and stock requirements but there is every indication of some strong criticism when the house goes into the supply.

MANY IRISH CLAMOR FOR ADMITTANCE

QUEBEC PARTICULARLY THE OBJECT OF WOULD-BE IRISH IMMIGRATION, WHICH IS STOPPED

MUCH UNEMPLOYMENT

LONDON, March 9.—(Special to The Examiner by Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service)— Irishmen of all shades of political thought are clamoring to get to Canada and while each province has its quota of devotees Quebec appears to be the most popular. Shoals of letters are reaching Agent General Pelletier and are dealt with by his assistant Capt. Verge.

"In view of the fact that there is a certain amount of unemployment in the Province", said Captain Verge today, "we are not at present accepting anyone for Quebec outside of a few special industries and only then when we have an absolute guarantee of employment await ing them. Some of the other provinces had planned big programmes and now find that they are unable to take a fraction of those who have applied . Farm hands are gravitating naturally to the prairie provinces while most of the domestic servants seem to regard Toronto as their Mecca."

THE FUNERAL OF PIONEER TO-DAY

LATE THOMAS EDGAR WAS WELL KNOWN IN SMITH TOWNSHIP.

(Contributed.)

One by one the sturdy pioneers who transformed this portion of Eastern Ontario from a wilderness state, causing it to blossom as the rose, are passing away.

Another of the oldest of these, in the person of Mr. Thomas Edgar, crossed the river at an early hour last Monday morning, 7th March, from the scene of his earthly toils and triumphs, to the happy home beyond.

Mr. Edgar was born on the Communication Road in Peterborough County on 23rd September, in the year 1846. All through life he was a busy and active man, and in the closing up of his life's journey he was ever cheerful and happy. He was ever active and on the alert, ever ready and anxious to do a kindness where opportunity afforded. His cheery countenance and geniality were an inspiration to those with whom he came in contact.

He was ever young in spirit and carried his 74 years as sprightly as a vigorous youth.

His happy smile, his love for humanity and good felloship won for him many staunch friends. In his home he was a devoted husband and father. In his religion he was a lifelong Methodist, and seldom missing in the sanctuary on the Sabbath.

In the year 1871 he was married to Annie Sanderson, daughter of the late Francis Sanderson, who died in November, 1907. Two daughters from this union survive in the persons of Mrs. W. J. Stubbs, of Toronto, and Mrs. T. Edwin Jory, of Regina, Sask., and one grandson, Edgar Stubbs, of Toronto.

Also two sisters, in the persons of Mrs. John Williamson, of Kippen, Huron County, and Mrs. John Pugh, of Peterborough, with one brother, John Edgar, of Bobcaygeon.

In the year 1910 he was married to Martha Brown, daughter of the late Robert Brown, who, with the daughters, are left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father.

About 30 years ago Mr. Edgar moved from the farm near Bridgenorth, where Mr. T. J. Lang now lives, to his recent home known as The Pines, on the outskirts of the city, from whence the interment took place at 1 p.m. to-day (Wednesday), 9th March, to the family plot in the Little Lake Cemetery.

INSURGENTS ADVANCE ON PETROGRAD

SOVIETS CONTROL CITY BUT VICTORIOUS REVOLUTIONARIES ARE ADVANCING ON MINOR FORCE.

WORKMEN IN REVOLT

LONDON, March 9.— (Canadian Press.)—Petrograd workmen are revolting against forced mobilization and have attacked the Soviet troops, says a Helsingfors despatch to the London Times. The Soviets, after street fighting, took possession of the greater part of the city.

The revolutionary leader, Kozlovski, is completely victorious the despatch adds. His artillery having silenced the minor force, he is preparing to march on Petrograd. He has issued a proclamation that he is in a hurry to save the population from the oppression of the tyrannous clique.

The Reuter's Helsingfors correspondent says it is reliably reported that Bolshevik infantry attacked Kronstadt yesterday but was repulsed with heavy losses.

CAMPBELLFORD IS LINING UP TEAM TO PLAY LACROSSE

If Peterborough is going to have a lacrosse team this year, the present would be a good time to call a meeting, and let everyone, young and old, attend it. The meeting in Toronto is dated for March 25th, which is not too early to set about organizing for lacrosse this summer. The local team did good work last year, under the management of Johnnie Sutherland, but lack of grouping made it difficult for them to compete with teams like Mimico. The boys who were in the game last year are anxious to get an early start this season, and would be glad to have the support of any player, beginner or otherwise, who is interested in lacrosse. Johnnie Sutherland, who is at present in Campbellford organizing a club, and also mentions Lindsay as a future field, promises to be back with the local boys again, so with Havelock, Hastings, Lindsay, Oshawa and Campbellford in the running, Peterboro should be sure of some good competition.

ALEX. JOHNSTON IS RETURNING TO POST

OTTAWA, March 9.— It is reported that former Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Alexander Johnston, is to be reinstated in his old position in the department.

Mr. Johnson resigned his position after 10 years of capable service to join the British Empire Steel Corporation as assistant to Mr. Roy M. Wolvin, general manager. The monster steel merger has been in process of formation for some time but has not been carried to the point of completion, and Mr. Johnston has served his connection with it.

MAKING BAD BOYS USEFUL CITIZENS.

Problem Successfully Solved in British Columbia.

VICTORIA, March 9 (Canadian Press.—Making bad boys into useful citizens is a problem that has been successfully solved by British Columbia, according to a report from the Provincial School for Boys, tabled in the Legislature, by the introduction of the honour system. Bars have ben removed from the windows, fire escapes are kept unlocked day and night, and not even one boy has atempted to escape.

To encourage good behaviour and industry among the boys and to permit every boy to earn a remission of a part of the term for which he was sentenced, they are grouped into classes and rewarded according to the progress they make. The boys are being taught to look upon the institution, not as a jail, but as a home. They have established a band, which gives enjoyable concerts.

HON. MANNING DOHERTY, THE STAR SPEAKER, CHARACTERIZED DISEASE CHARGE AS "UNMITIGATED FALSEHOOD."

BEAVERBROOK PRESIDED

LONDON, March 9.—(Canadian Press.)— About 700 of an audience attended last night's meeitng here called to protest against the embargo on the exportation of Canadian cattle. Lord Beaverbrook presided and speeches, mostly on lines covering the now familiar arguments against the embargo, were delivered.

Hon. Manning H. Doherty, Ontario Minisetr of Agriculture, had a star place among the speakers and made special reference to London newspaper attacks on him in regard to his attitude on the embargo.

"I fear my presence here to-night may be misunderstood. Let me point out emphatically that I am not here with the idea of dictating or even advising the people of the goverment here. I want to nail down that lie. I feel that I have a right to bring the facts to your attention here." Mr. Doherty proceeded to prove that Canada possessed a clear bill of health from 30 years of official records and denied the charge of disease as one of the most unmitigated falsehoods ever promulgated.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1921.

"SAFETY FIRST."

In deciding to oppose the application of the Grand Trunk Railway to the Railway Board for permission to dispense with the night shift of watchmen stationed at the streets protected by gates, the City Council is acting in the best interests of the citizens. It required a long fight before the Railway Board finally ordered the protection of these crossings, and it would be a very short-sighted policy on the part of the Council to accede to the request of the railway authorities that during the hours between 10.30 p.m. and 6.30 a.m. the service of the gatemen should be dispensed with There are other ways in which the Grand Trunk might economize; certainly the means they propose of saving money is not one that commends itself to the public. The traffic during these hourse, of course, either on the railway or on the streets is not heavy, but at the same time the possibility of an accident is always present and the salaries of the gatemen would form a very small item alongside the loss of a human life. The Council could not afford to assent to such a retrograde policy as the removal of the night gatemen, and their opposition to the proposal before the Railway Board should be vigorous. An application of the railway's own slogan, "Safety First," would seem to be necessary in regard to this question.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS.

Major G. C. Poiner of Quebec South has renewed his fight in the House of Commons for more consideration in the matter of pensions for the widowed mothers of Canadian soldiers, and in the interests of justice to the mothers who gave their sons for the cause of the Empire it is to be hoped that his effort will receive more sympathetic attention than during the last session of the Special Committee on pensions to which his resolution has again been forwarded. The Pension Act in its relation to widowed mothers is too narrow, too limited. Mr. Poiner objects to reductions being made in the amount of pension granted in such cases on account of any income the mother may be receiving, and also to the fact that there are other children in the family being allowed to interfere with the granting of a pension. "The duty of Canada is to see to widowed mothers of soldiers who lost their lives in the war," declares Major Poiner, and a strong current of popular opinion will be behind the member for Quebec South in his fight for more generous consideration for these women. Members on both sides of the House has on this occasion supported the principle of Major Poiner's motion. That may or may not be an augury of a better reception this year at the hands of the Special Committee.

LEGISLATURE INTERFERENCE.

The interference of the Ontario Legislature in municipal administration, as exemplified in recent legislation in regard to fire departments, is one of the baleful effects of the alliance between Labour and Farmers'. The legislation originates, of course, from the Labour group, and as the rural sections of the Province are not affected in the least, it afforded a fine opportunity for the Farmers to show their willingness to assist their Labour allies—a willingness that will be displayed on all such occasions so long as the measure only involves urban dwellers The eight-hour day is a different thing—that would be injurious to the interests of the farming community, and so it is laid away on the shelf.

Smoke T&B

Use it for pipe satisfaction

Labour can have everything it desires from its associates just as long as the Farmers' corns are not trodded upon. That explains the firemens' bill, and while the City Council does well to formally express its disapproval of the development of the policy of Legislature interference, it is to be feared its protest will fall upon deaf ears. Labour must be placated, and so long as that can be done without the U. F. O. group having to make any concessions injurious to itself, the Farmers will stand behind Labour. The legislation in regard to fire departments is merely a demonstration of that tact and protests from the muicipalities will have little effect. At the same time Ald. Whitehouse's suggestion that the municipalities should have a representative watching the proceedings of the Legislature in their interests is well worth considering. It would at least prevent harmful legislation being slipped through without a battle.

THE SPEED LIMIT.

The members of the Ontario Legislature have seen fit in their wisdom to kill the bill originating from Peterborough which aimed at reducing the speed limit for motor cars in cities, towns and villages to ten miles an hour. The limit named by the bill, introduced by Mr. Tooms at the request of the local Police Commissioners, was perhaps too low and a compromise of fifteen miles an hour would undoubtedly have been more favourably received. But in spite of the action of the Legislature the present limit of twenty miles an hour will be regarded by many citizens as too high. Careful drivers may not take advantage of the latitude and may regard the rights of others, but it opens the way to other motorists who are reckless and indifferent to prove a menace to the safety of the public. Most of the members of the Legislature apparently regarded the measure only from the viewpoint of the car owner; in fact, some of them talked about the necessity of educating pedestrians to observe safety first methods. Admittedly, pedestrians must adhere to the rules of common sense in their own interest, but after all the man who has to depend upon his feet as a means of getting around has some rights to be on the street. Few members of the Legislature seem to have the opinion that the thoroughfares are merely speedways for motor cars and that there should be a speed limit for pedestrians, making it illegal for them to cross the street at a rate less than ten miles an hour or something of that kind.

ADVANCE BUT NOT REVOLUTION.

Once again, this time in South Africa, Labor has demonstrated its essential patriotism. Mr. Smuts made a direct appeal to Labor, and the response was significant and impressive beyond all expectation. The bulk of the workers rejected the program of the Dutch secessionists and joined with the sober, responsible and patriotic elements of the Union to maintain national solidity and the continuance of self-government under a British constitution.

The war and the experiences of the nations in the difficult tasks of reconstruction have produced a new outlook in multitudes of workers. They are finding that the State can be as autocratic as any despot, that communism as illustrated in Russia is tyranny, and that Socialism has more of the attributes of servitude than of freedom. In Great Britain there seems to be less allegiance to the projects of collectivists and a changing attitude towards Nationalism and Direct Action. As it is stated by a writer in The London Times, "The supremacy of the idea of State Socialism in Labor politics passed with the defeat of Germany, for it means multiplication of officials who are hated, growth of expenditure which is undermining the basis of industry and destruction of individual initiative."

It is significant that the American Federation of Labor has just pronounced a sweeping condemnation of Bolshevism in Russia. The "Soviet Savages" are denounced, it is said that "not free labor unions, but compulsory labor, is the backbone of Soviet Communism," it is declared that "when a combination of bribery and compulsion is necessary in order to make propaganda effective we can easily picture the state of mind of the Russian workers," and it is added, "not only have they lost all faith and hope in the Soviet regime, but they are unwilling even to listen to its lying defenders."

We have had and still have too many of these "lying defenders" in Canada. They mouth their madness and hatred at public meetings. They denounce the "capitalist press" which, according to their venomous and ignorant representations is engaged in an organized conspiracy to conceal the true situation in Russia. They defame Parliament and Pulpit and dream of a "new civilization," in which they will eat the bread that other men earn and squander the savings which others have accumulated.

Mr. Gompers never was deceived by the pretensions, hypocrisies, and brutalities of Sovietism, nor has he ever been persuaded that the world will be regenerated even through "public ownership." Those who have feared that Sovietism would sweep over Europe and engulf America may rest easy in their beds. Those who have believed that the State could direct industry, and control production, and invest capital to the general advantage of the people are having their illusions shattered by the actual results that have been produced by the armies of bureaucrats which are consuming the public taxes.—Montreal Star.

Voice Of The People

PURCHASE OF MOTOR TRUCK FLUSHER.

March 8, 1921.

To the Editor:

In order that my position may be made clear in the above matter I beg to submit the following facts:

In the first place, I care not who received the order for the truck, but I certainly object, as a taxpayer, to the expenditure of this amount of money in this way.

We hear from all the Aldermen that they are for economy, and when grants of a few hundred dollars are asked for band concerts, etc., these are voted down, yet we see the same men spending $5,200.00 without batting an eye, let alone asking for tenders.

I certainly contend that the purchase of a machine such as wanted should be preceded by a full investigation of the merits of the machine, the financial standing of the company making same and the assurance that such company will be in business for some time in order that any replacement parts can be procured.

The above precautions were not taken in purchasing this truck, and the only reason given by the Mayor and Ald. Whitehouse were one of haste. Why the haste?

The Mayor does not believe in dilly-dallying.

How about the delay in putting up a memorial to our fallen soldier boys and providing work for the unemployed.

The Aldermen who supported this act will find that the electors will have something to say when the proper time comes.

I thank you, Mr. Editor.

Yours sincerely,

C. R. BANKS.

Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—As a lover of the "movies" and as one who is not ashamed to own it, I write to enter a protest against the lurid character of the serial pictures which from time to time are being exhibited at the theatres. The producers seem to think that so long as they pass the judgment of the censor with regard to the moral character of their pictures, they have done enough to satisfy all requirements. But we are in the hands of the Jews in more ways than one. They are raking in the shekels with their productions and at the expense of a destruction of the morale to the youth of the country which canot be adequately computed. A few nights ago I was present at a performance which was crowded almost to the doors with children of from ten to fifteen or sixteen years of age. The advent of the serial was greeted with storms of aplause and during its progress it was really pitiful to notice the gurgles and gasps of jor or dismay with which the audience showed their appreciation or non-appreciation of the adventures of the heroes and villains of the piece. I believe that the proprietors of the various theatres in this city are doing their best to provide for the comfort and entertainment of their patrons. I know that in some instances at any rate, it is impossible for them to do more than show what is sent to them from central sources. But it is time that some movement was set on foot to put a stop to the showing of nerve-racking and exciting scenes where murder and violence are the prevailing characteristics. Plenty of healthy exitement can be evoked by other means than by a resort to the life of the low cabaret, the thug or the thief. The prevalence of such picture shows, not so much that the public like them as that the producers have more intimate knowledge of low life than they have of any other. Perhaps in the happy days to come when we shall be freed from the ordeal of having to view such pictures as above referrd to, a brighter era will dawn in regard to the manners of many movie frequenters. I am not inclined to be unduly critical, as there are few among us who are perfect in manner or deportment. But most of us have certain prejudices and I am free to confess that amongst mine are an aversion from the smell of peppermint or of chewing gum, and the steady champing of jaws which accompanies the chewing. I also have a dislike, bordering on hatred, for the being who persists in reading out for the benefit of the whole theatre, the script explaining the pictures they appear on the screen. It always causes a feeling of humiliation to permeate my mind, because I feel that the culprit embraces me in the sweep of his colossal conceit as being unable to read as well as he can. Then, there are thegushing girls of immature years, whose audible comments and giggles, especially the comments, spoil the entertainment even if they do occasionally cause hilarity in the audience. On one occasion a damsel was so carried away with the realistic nature of the picture that she actually thought the drama was being enacted by real fies hand blood before her eyes, "Oh, mercy, Sarah," she cried out, clinging to her companion, "I do believe the horrid thing's going to kiss her." "No, he aint, you silly," replied her companion, "why, just think of all the people that's here, looking on."

Well, Mr. Editor, there is a good deal more that could be said in relation to the movies, but I refrain from doing so. I go to them because I can learn a great deal from them and also gain a considerable amount of amusement. They will certainly be counted within a few years as perhaps the highest and most valuable means of educating the young. But at present they are not altogether out of the slough, and they will not be, until better educated, higher principled people write for them.

Yours, etc.,

J. C. BARRINGTON.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out, and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"FLAG AND FLEET"

SHALL CANADIAN SCHOOL CHILDREN BE DENIED THE FACTS AND TRUE PERSPECTIVE OF THE GREAT WAR BECAUSE SOME PEOPLE IN THE U.S. MAY NOT LIKE IT? NO!

(By Rev. Frank Vipond)

The following article is contributed by Rev. Frank Vipond, rector of St. John's Church, Lakefield, and who saw service overseas as captain-chaplain with the expeditionary forces. His vigorous pen condemnation of what appears to be concerted effort in some quarters to deprive school children of ready opportunity for acquiring a clear and acurate knowledge of or instruction in the prosecution of the great world war, comes very timely indeed, and should not be passed over lightly by The Examiner's readers.

Col. Wood's splendid little book, "Flag and Fleet," is the authority questioned by certain people as being a desirable supplementary text-book in Public or High Schools, apparently because it neither ignores nor modifies some cold, actual facts which may not, in British eyes, reflect credit on our American neighbour's attitude during the early years of the war. A text-book, pertaining to history should not be abridged nor any records eliminated so long as it teaches the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, out of consideration for those to whom it may not be pleasant reading. Here is what our soldier and reverend contributor has to say on this subject:

There is being made a persistent attempt to bring about the elimination or amendment of "Flag and Fleet" as a supplementary text book in Public or High schools. The obsession of these to the front in their effort is that "Flag and Fleet" will engender and foster bitter and unfriendly feelings in the hearts and minds of Canadian boys against the United States, and that the feeling will be reciprocated to the great hurt of international neighbor in years to come. The head and shoulders of the offending of the gifted and patriotic author of "Flag and Fleet" would appear to be in his having mentioned incidentally, in a correct record of facts and circumstances attendant upon the Big War and its prolongation, one or two facts which are not palatable to the citizens of the U.S. At least I am not quite right in putting it that way.

The facts are not, will not be and were not at any tme palatable to the true citizen who loved and loves his country and its good name as dearly as any Canadan loves Canada and her reputation.

There is another and not a smart class of citizens of the U.S. to whom the facts are not and were not particularly unpalatable; indeed these are the people through whose agency, active or passive, the unpalatable facts became facts. They did not feel any of the distress or sense of shame which millions of their fellow citizens did over the fact; but the mention of the fact is a true record of incidents and circumstances is another matter.

Different Types.

I have the greatest sympathy and greatest admiration for that type of citizen of the U.S. of whom I met over a score in the Canadian Expeditionary Force long before the Republic finally come in; sympathy for the pain and sense of shame they experienced because of their country's official abstinence from, and admiration for their personal participation in, the great struggle for all that civilization stands for; but neither sympathy nor admiration for those citizens true to the trench and, to the death to the instincts of their and our race, is of such an emasculated and mushy kind as to beget sympathy with or admiration for an attempt to eliminate from "Flag and Fleet" what are facts and what is true, merely because citizens of the U. S. will not like it."

While the facts which are the object of attack are merely mentioned incidetnally, i.e., the object of "Flag and Fleet" is not to give these facts that are unpalatable to the citizens of the U.S. undue and permanent prominence, a knowledge of them is essential to a correct presentation of the story of the war, and particularly to an understanding of the causes that contributed to the prolongation of the war, and the consequently heavy increase in the number of killed and wounded among the British, including Canadian soldiers. To elimiante these facts from the reading of Canadian boys and girls would be to give them a wrong perspective of the war; furthermore it would give the young citzens of the U.S. a wrong perspective of the war; in fact it is not unkind to say they already have a wrong perspective.

Hun Learned His Lesson.

We must remember that there are psychological differences in peoples. The peculiar psychological make-up of the Hun who really thought that by ferocity and barbarous practices he could intimidate and cow the people of Britain needs no comment. The Hun learned at last that each addition to his infamous record of disregard for the humanities merely strengthened the resolve of the Anglo Saxons. I am not suggesting for one moment anything so insulting as a comparison between the U.S. and the Hun, I merely use the Hun's obsession and psychological eccentricity as an illustration ad nauseum. But there is the psychological difference between the Anglo Saxon of this Republic, not to speak of the other races that dwell therein, and the Anglo Saxon of Britain and of the British Empire, to an extent that perhaps is hurtful in a sense, the people of the British Empire are not great advertisers; in matters military and naval it has always been a case of "get the job done"; when the job has been done little attempt has been made to advertise the "firm" that did it. Other firms (nations) might criticize adversely or otherwise alike the job and the way it was done. It did not bother John Bull, he had other jobs to attend to. In contrast, the tendency to the United States in matters military and naval as well as in matters commercial, has been to advertise to such an extent that unless it is well advertised there is not much chance for recognition of the merits of any article in commerce, or of any achievement in military arena. It is not too much to say that it has become almost a national characteristic in the U.S. to believe in a thing in proportion to the degree in which it is advertised. They advertise themselves extravagantly and they believe in themselves correspondingly.

Believe in Self.

A people who did not believe in themselves would not count for much in the world of nations, but a rational belief in oneself in individual or in nation, is a first principle; first principles are taken for granted. Whn there is no vision the people resent. But "a vision" (something imagined to be seen but not real) to save pepole from perishing, must be a vision of something inspiring to be pursued, not an advertisement of one's belief in a vision. To many people in the U.S. the idea is "where there is no advertisement the people perish" and it is owing to this psychological peculiarity that they could not possibly believe that the authorities in Canada would eliminate from a reading book of Canadian boys and girls anything that was true and that by comparison advertised the greater readiness and self-sacrifice of the Canadians in the Big War. They would, and in all sincerity, regard such elimination as an acknowledgment by the Canadian authorities that the eliminated portions were not facts; and so not only would Canadian boys and girls be robbed of their right of knowing the truth, with the consequent increased cherishing of the memory of those who answered the call, but the boys and girls of the U.S. and those adults already that way afflicted, would be robbed of their right of a corrective and so far as the young generations across the line are concerned, they would grow up with the entirely erroneous ideas of the Big War ,and their country's share therein and the share of other countries, including Canada, already held by many of their elders, and helped in that unwholesome growth by the Canadian authorities.

I fail to see that the fruitage of such unwholesome growth would be an increase in friendly and neighborly regard between future generations. The facts and comments which we are told ought to be eliminated are the following:

"So the American and other neutrals trying to trade with the enemy had really nothing to complain of."

"And nothing proves better what a fiendish crime her submarine blockade really was than the fact that it forced even the peace party in the United States to change its mind about the war."

"Of course the pacifists were against all war, even when their refusing to figth on the side of right forced them to help the side of wrong. They had plenty of money, some of it German, and they made almost as much trouble as the Germans and pro-Germans themselves. Then the Germans, pro-Germans, and Pacifists raised the bogey of trouble for the United States at home, where there did not seem to be much danger of getting hurt from abroad. Finally, business was booming as it had never boomed before. The Americans made twelve-and-a-half thousands of millions of dollars out of the war, clear net profit up to the end of 1918."

"It was a glorious moment in world history when British, French and Americans at last stood side by side. The American navy led the way, joining the hunt for German submarines with a keenness whetted by having been held back so long. The army followed, bit by bit, until two million men had gone to Europe, thanks chiefly to the British ships that took them there. The nation backed both army and navy with vast sums of money, which it could so easily afford, and with patriotic work of every kind."

Comparative Losses.

But the war lasted only nineteen months longer; and in that time the Americans were not able to do anything like what the Allies had done before and still were doing. The entire American loss in men (killed, wounded and prisoners) was over one-quarter million. But Canada's loss of over two hundred thousand was ten times as great in proportion; for there are twelve-and-a-half times as many pepole in the U.S. as there are in Canada. In the same way the losses of France and Great Britain were each more than twenty times greater than that of the United Staes. In ships and money the difference is far more striking still. The British alone lost one-and-a half times as many ships as all the rest of the world put together. But the Americans have actually gained, owing to the number of interned German vessels they seized in their ports. As for money ,the British, the French, and all the Allies have spent so much in fighting for the freedom of the world that neither they nor their children, nor their children's children, can ever pay the debt off; while the United States have made, on their own showing, the twelve-and-a-half "billions" mentioned already. These few facts (there are hundreds more) will show you a little of what the Great War means to the world, what the British Navy meant to the war, and what Jutland meant to both the war and the world, by sweeping the German Navy off the face of the sea, and so bringing on the "submarine blockade" that itself forced the American Government to fight in self-defence."

I commend to those, so hypersensitive on behalf of the U.S. who see something unkind or unjust in the foregoing extracts from "Flag and Fleet," and who urge their elimination, the following editorial article from a recent issue of the Minneapolis Journal. These are the views of a leading U.S. paper:

What the War Did for the United States.

"The statement that the United States got nothing out of the war is wholly inadequate. It flatters our sentimental self-esteem, and contrives for our intelligence a dangerous delusion. The war has not given us new territory, as did the Spanish War or the Mexican War. At Paris we put in no claim for damages, and we shall not share in the reparation payments. But the war transformed us from a great debtor nation into an even greater creditor nation.

"All the world owes us money. All our indebtedness to the world has been extinguished. And not only are debts to us from others on the acounts, but we actually have in our vaults a vast accumulation of treasure. The war, in one way and another, hs enriched the United States as the conquest of Mexico and Peru did not Spain, as the conquest of India did not England, as the victories of Bismarck did not Germany. The transformation in our position as a nation is one of the greatest and most sudden that has ever occurred. And as a people we do not yet realise all that has happened to us.

"Great Britain, France, and Italy have secured the territorial spoils and their enemy is overthrown; but the price they have paid is stupendous, and about all that they can do for some time to come will be to lick their wounds. The real spoils of the war, the wealth of Christendom, has flowed to us, and we stand upon an eminence of power, present and potential, such as dazzles the other nations."

As I read of this outcry from certain quarters for the perversion of history for the sake of sparing the feelings of a body of American citizens my mind harks back to a day in April, 1917, when, on duty at a Canadian military hospital near London, I went as officer in charge of a number of convalescent wounded members of the C.E.F. to the service at St. Paul's Catheural commemorating the entry of the United States into the war. The streets leading to St. Paul's were packed, and street vendors did a roaring trade in small Stars and Stripes; from public and other buildings flew larger emblems of the Republic. Seated behind me in my car were two men who had been badly wounded. One of the men exclaimed in a jubilant tone to his comrades, "There she is, Ted! Gee whiz! It is good to see her!" Amused, and thinking the man was referring to some female acquaintance whom he had recognised, I turned round, but the man answered my look with "It is Old Glory up there, sir."

"Are you an American?" I asked.

"Yes, sir, and, thank God, I am not ashamed to say so now."

Right and Justice.

After that never-to-be-forgotten service of dedication, at which the King, Ministers of State, and Ambassadors of all Allied Powers were present, I was a guest with the wounded but convalescent American members of the C.E.F. from several hospitals near London (beteen 50 and 60 all told) of Dr. Page, the U.S. Ambassador and the American colony, at a luncheon. At the close of the luncheon Dr. Page spoke to his fellow-citizens, and sitting within a few feet of the Ambassador, I could detect the tension and condition, experienced diplomat and orator notwithstanding, under which he spoke. As a matter of fact, he referred to this as a reason why he could not, even if he wished to, say very much: 'I cannot look in your faces without a feeling of intense emotion; for one or two years or longer you, citizens of the United States of America, have been showing in your lives, as others of your countrymen did in their deaths, the spirit of true citizens of the United States. You have have been fighting and you have been wounded fighting, for right and justice, but not officially as American citizens. I say I cannot look in your faces without deep emotion, but I thank God I can now look you in the face without shame, and unrestrained by any of the considerations of national courtesies which have hitherto prevented me, as representative in this land of our country, from saying publicly what I can now, and what I do now, say in the name of our President and of our country, 'Thank you! Thank you!'" With a few more words of grateful appreciation and of encouragement, one of the best representatives of the best in thought that the United States ever produced and sent to represent the Republic at the Court of St. James sat down.

Cause to Blush.

In what the Minneapolis Journal says, in what my American comrade in the C.E.F. said in my car, in what the American Ambassador said—all speaking from the fullness of strong national feeling and self-respect—there was and there is 50 times more cause for citizens of the United States to blush than in what appears in "Flag and Fleet." That most commendable and readable book does not set out to belittle the United States, but to tell the facts in an epitomised story of the work of the British Navy.

Would Be Camouflage.

In what the Minneapolis Journal Let us say all the good things of our neighbours that we can, and there are many good things to be said, but do not let us fall behind the Minneapolis Journal in our detestation of cant. The true American citizen—we met and knew him by the scores overseas, in England and in France—would regard with contempt the action of Canadian authorities should they cause to be eliminated from a supplementary reader of the Canadian schools, a few facts necessary to a proper perspective of the story of the war, merely from fear that the record of these facts would be offensive to American citizens; he would regard it as an insulting suggestion that he would be pleased by such camouflage. The true American squirmed and squirms because of the fact, not at the incidental mention of it. As for the other type of American citizen whose susceptibilities were not hurt and whose conscience was not pricked by the fact, but who squirms only at the mention of it: well, the one thing he needs for the good of himself and of his nation and of the world at large is a continuous dose of the truth, until that obliquity of moral vision shall have been corrected. Above all, it is necessary that our Canadian boys and girls should not be misled into believing that truth and history are varying quantities, and so far as publication is concerned, dependent upon their relationship to the susceptibilities of a section of the people of the United States.

If there must be any amendment in "Flag and Fleet," I would suggest that it take the form of an addendum, that the foregoing editorial of the Minneapolis Journal be printed at the back of the book.

RICHARD HALL & SON

"The House of Quality"

ALLEGE THAT DAM FLOODED, ETC.

kind of cedar that can be grown on land adjoining plaintiff's. A tree from which the section would be taken would make two railway ties and one post, he said. The drowned trees he saw apparently would be about half the size of the tree from which the block was taken.

Reduced Claim.

The quantity of wood on the drowned land would have increased four times within the next sixteen years, witness said. Considering all the strange workings of nature, however, witness reduced his claim of increase to three times. The witness judged that in fifteen years the timber would be worth from $50 to $75 an acre. Two-thirds of the land would be worth this, the rest worth $40 to $75. For the whole of 43 acres when he saw it, he would only value it at $15 an acre.

From these figures Mr. Justice Logie fixed future value of 33 acres at $30 an acre at $1,650 and 10 acres at $40 at $400. This would total a value of $2,050. To-day the total 43 acres worth $15 were only valued at $645. The difference, $1,400, His Lordship concluded to be the damages claimed.

Mr. Staples in his cross-examination by Mr. Medd said he took a block of cedar from a tree on Mr. Anderson's property. There were 100 trees as large. He took it as a fair sample of a cedar.

He did not figure the number of cords, he told Mr. Medd. The cedar would only make a few posts, maybe a few ties, but mostly cordwood. It would run ten cords to the acre, he believed. The timber cut seemed to be getting dry and rotten at the core, said witness.

"Have you ever been on this river before you went to see this timber?"

"I never saw it before."

Witness estimated to His Lordship it would cost $25 an acre to clear the land.

The Plaintiff.

John Anderson, the plaintiff, testified, following Mr. Staples.

In 1895 he took possession of the land in question. In 1903 he got the deed. Witness said he only paid $500 to his father for the 162 acres of land, but it was worth $3,000 then and he estimated its value today at $4,000. If the present flooded lands were not flooded, he told Mr. Kerr, the land would be worth $1,000 more. From 1895 to 1903 the land was flooded with Spring freshets. In the Summer there was banks that held the water, but these had been submerged since the Havelock Light and Power Co. had built their dam on the North River. The construction of the dam flooded his land, he stated. Before the dam was built one could walk right down to the water's edge, even with the Spring freshets. The floods had killed the life in his trees. The last five years witness said his trees had died faster than before.

"What particular use would this land be to you?" asked Mr. Kerr.

"It is good for pasturage. It will grow oats."

"Will it grow hay?"

"Yes."

The land was valuable to him, he said. Formerly they could reach the river bank, which gave them a certain amount of pleasure.

In days gone by he had known lumbermen to flood his lands for a three weeks' period at the most, The lumbermen put in "benches" and "slash boards" against the old bridge. After the run of logs they pulled the temporary dam down. To his knowledge there never was a permanent dam where the defendant's dam is to-day.

At 4.45 plaintiff was being examined by Mr. S. T. Medd, solicitor for the Havelock Light and Power Co.

"LIQUOR WITH A 'KICK'"!

SASKATON, Sask., March 9 (Canadian Press). — To give it "a kick" and the "correct colour," wood alcohol and aniline dyes are being freely used for doctoring and diluting liquor handled by some of the export liquor houses in the Province, according to R. E. A. Leech, chairman of the Saskatchewan Liquor Commission.

"Some of the product is little less than rank poison," said Mr. Leech. "The wood alcohol is used to give the drink a 'kick,' and aniline dyes are used to give the dope the requisite colour. The dyes can be skilfully shaded to represent Scotch wrisky or Irish whisky, or almost any other brand of spirit. In adition to these ingredients, instead of distilled water being used for the mixtures, anything that has a semblance of water, whether it be from the pump, a river, or a slough serves the purpose."

THE TERM "CANADIANIZATION"

The term "Canadianization," has been defined by Dr. G. E. Reman, an authority on this subject, "as the process of the absorption of the foreign born into our national life, and the acquisition on the part of the foreigner himself of a general knowledge of and appreciation for our language laws, institutions, and ideals." The scheme suggested to make Canadian citizens of the foreign-born element which comes to our shores is:

1. Give them a working knowledge of English.
2. Teach them what is meant by Canadian citizenship.
3. Incorporate in our national life whatever is valuable in their national life.

In 1918, the Registration Board, which deals only with the male population over 16 years of age, reports 403,221 non-English alien males in our country, of whom 252,977 were not naturalized, or a percentage of 625, more than half, and doubtless a large proportion of these knew very little English. An idea of the distribution in the principal cities of Canada is given, and reveals the fact that in the cities of Port Arthur and Fort William alone, more than every third man one meets is of foreign birth. That the problem of the foreign-born has a wide-spread significance is easily recognizable when one considers their connection with our penal institutions, asylums, general health statistics and the labor situation. The United States Federal Government considers this matter of sufficient importance to have a director of Americanization attached to the Bureau of Education, and has also considered the advisability of setting aside seven and a half million dollars to assist the different States in their Americanization work—this work to be apportioned according to the number of foreigners in each state, and any federal grant to be equalled by a definite state apportioment for this work.

NO DOCTORS FOR ST. BONIFACE.

Suspended Under Manitoba Temperance Act.

ST. BONIFACE, Man., March 9.—As a result of the drastic action of the Manitoba Medical Council in suspending large number of doctors for infractions of the Manitoba Temperance Act, the City of St Boniface is left without medical service, except for one practitioner and the internes of the St. Boniface hospital who are too busy to answer sick calls.

PETER BILLIKEN, VETERAN TROTTING STALLION, SOLD.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 9.—Ned McCarr, local trainer and driver, announced that he had sold the veteran trotting stallion Peter Billiken, 2:05¼, to C. H. Claypool of Muncie, Ind., and that he would be shifted west immediately. The price paid for the son of Peter the Great was not announced, but it is known that McCarr got a good sum for him. Peter Billiken, which formerly held the local track trotting record, broke a leg in the 2:10 trot at the Washington Fair races last Fall. His owner, W. A. Pickering of Pittsburgh, gave him to Driver McCarr, hoping the latter might shape him up for future racing, but, although the leg bone knitted, the big trotter has apparently lost his speed and is to be retired by Mr. Claypool to the stud. He is between 11 and 12 years old and has been one of the most consistent trotters in the country.

TOO MANY ORIENTALS.

VANCOUVER, March 9 (Canadian Press).—Nearly 50 per cent. of the employees in Vancouver restaurants are Orientals, according to a report by the city's medical health office. Sanitary conditions in most of the places are satisfactory, the report states, but in 16 places where they were only fair or where notice requiring improvement had been given, 11 were places where Orientals outnumbered white employees.

RESUME TREASURE SEARCH OFF OBAN.

Operations Discontinued During the War Begun Afresh.

LONDON, March 9.—(Cross Atlantic).—The hunt for treasure off Tobermory is being resumed to-day by the company of which Col. K. M. Foss is at the head. The first attempts to recover some of the relics of the sunken Spanish vessels was undertaken by Col. Foss in 1910, but operations were naturally restricted during the war. Ten of the ships' bronze guns have already been recovered and brought to shore, and as a special inducement, Col. Foss offers a prize of $5,000 to the diver who first locates a treasure ship in addition to the generous pay which the company offers. The operations will continue during the summer, and arrangements have been made with one of the leading tourist companies by which pleasure steamers will cruise from Oban round the treasure hunters during the summer.

OUR FORMAL SHOWING

Newest Fashions for Spring & Easter

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday
March 10th, 11th and 12th

THE NEW SEASON BECKONS. Old winter is backing off the stage. Change, synonym of variety, is the spice of life. Human nature looks forward eagerly to new conditions. The zest of winter is behind us; now every human being longs for the gentle breath of Spring—the warming sunshine, the bursting buds—the whole world dressed again in verdant green.

And the time is almost here! Welcome.

Charming Spring Frocks

As crisp and refreshing as a bundle of new Spring blossoms are these new gowns for semi-dress wear.

Made of multicolored silks and satins, in charming models. Each one seems specially designed for some stylish maid or matron—as though your own clever dressmaker had created it just for you.

Styles are delightfully original. The materials have been chosen with such taste and discrimination. The workmanship and finish are above criticism. Chief charm of all is their becomingness when you try them on.

Welcome As the First Robin—the Handsome Suits for Women

How striking—how stylish—how universally interesting are the new Spring suits that are first seen on the avenue. What a joy to possess and wear them, before the new styles become common.

These are the days when it means so much to the well-dressed women, to appear in the newest mode — to put aside the heavy apparel of winter and step out in the smartly tailored gown of Spring.

An ample collection of the season's most effective models is just here — ready for tasteful women to choose from for the first bright days.

Styles are so different, so individual, so refined. Fabrics have been so cleverly chosen. You'll find one or more just made especially for you.

Millinery to Banish the Thoughts of Winter and Welcome the Budding of the Trees

Like a holiday in the Burmudas will be a visit to our millinery salons to-morrow.

The charming new hats suggest apple blossoms, or pergolas under Southern skies.

And yet, they were designed solely for your wear during these early days of warming Spring. Even with snow on the ground, if there is bright sunshine in the sky, the new flower-bedecked hat will be graciously enjoyed whenever worn. A delightful collection is now here.

The New Spring Coats for Women Are Here!

Believe the ground hog or not, you must recognize the inevitableness of the calendar. Winter is going rapidly now, and the well-dressed woman is eager to lay aside the apparel of winter.

We are early with our aid. The fullest enjoyment of the new Spring coat comes on the first day that it can be comfortably worn.

Like the first robin, or the first arbutus bud, the first Spring coat gives a stimulus to those who see it and a thrill to the wearer.

And the new Spring coats this season are more fascinating than ever—so original in effect; so refreshing in style; so smart and becoming. See them to-morrow.

The Blouse Grows More Aristocratic Each Season

The tissues from which they are made are more lovely; the adornment is more elaborate; the styles are more ornate—and so original. Yet, elegant as they seem and are, the new conditions have created most pleasing moderation in the prices, and you'll find one or more that you just must possess.

To-morrow Is Exhibition Day for the New Spring Dress Fabrics

This is an occasion of most unusual interest.

Not only is it an exceptional presentation of the new dress fabrics of a brilliant season; but it expresses the revival of supreme ambitions on the part of the designers, the weavers, the manufacturers — and a new joy of creation on the part of so many workers who had been listless for years about what they made.

Nothing More Important Than the Gloves

Have you seen the new styles? So many interesting novelties this Spring. There's a snap to the new effects that will give a freshness to the whole outfit — that's why we have chosen so freely in assembling the variety that is now here for your selection.

New Silk Stockings in Fashionable Colorings

So important to have just the right shades for each suit and gown. So pleasing to find qualities so much improved and prices so comfortably moderate.

Best kinds in all good grades and varieties.

Footwear to Make Milady's Foot Comfortable and Fashionable

Oxfords, pumps and strap slippers in shapely lasts and fine leathers; designed to add zest to the new season and give comfort to the wearer.

The makers seemed to have determined to introduce more originality into their goods and they have succeeded very well, indeed, as our smart new models will testify.

DEMANDS FORD DONATE $3,000

YOUTH WROTE THREATENING LETTERS TO MILLIONAIRE DEMANDING $3,000—IS ARRESTED

DETROIT, March 9.—John Robic, 22 years old, thinking Henry Ford could help him in his financial troubles, wrote to the automobile manufacturer demanding under threats that $3,000 be paid in installments of $300 each.

Robic made daily trips to the Eliot street postal station for a reply. A month ago it came, but the clerk, who was to signal E. E. Frazer, Postal Inspector, and another officer, fainted when she gave the letter to Robic, and he got away.

Still Robic could not forget the idea. He wrote Mr. Ford again and asked that the money be sent to 1,470 Kirkby Avenue East, a grocery store. When Mr. Fraser got this letter he had a patrolman put on the beat to watch for Robic.

Robic called last night at the store. He looked through the letters and finally found one he wanted. Just as he was about to open it he was arrested.

In his letters to Mr. Ford, copies if which were found by the police in the prisoner's room, Robic did not say what he would do if the manufacturer failed to comply. He indicated, however, that "something terrible" would happen to Mr. Ford.

Taken before the United States Commissioner to-day, Robic pleaded guilty to attempt at blackmail and was held for trial.

GAVE A LECTURE IN THE LIBRARY

SPECIAL SHOWING OF FAMOUS BIBLE PAINTINGS.

At the Public Library last evening Mr. W. E. Dyer gave a lecture and special showing of famous Tissot Bible Paintings, in connection with the Health and Welfare Campaign in Peterborough. These pictures are really wonderful representations of Bible subjects, painted by a well-known French artist, and flashlight views in the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky and other scenes in California were also shown.

"The Bible is the earliest existing record of welfare work amongst the members of the human race, since history began," said the speaker. "In effect, it is a study of the welfare work of the ages." It is an inspiration for all such work, and for that reason, he has collected this fine collection of paintings, to develop the historical elements of his subject.

These transparent oil-tinted lantern slides, reproducing in color the famous Tissot Bible Paintings, depicted scenes from the familiar Bible stories, giving the martial and the peaceful sides of the existences of those early fathers of the world. The simple, pastoral elements which governed the lives of the early Jewish people colored the whole series of pictures.

Fighting in the time of Gideon was contrasted with the methods in use to-day, the Philistines were shown conferring with Dalilah, probably the first woman of the "vamp" species who ever existed, the story of Joseph's life was pictured in detail, and one of the most beautiful pictures of the series was that of David playing to the storm-ridden king. The accusing form the Prophet Nathan, denouncing King David in his later years, was very life-like, and the King is shown later as an old man, still with his faithful harp, and the glow of a dying sun behind him. The later pictures were just as fine reproductions, but there is a lingering element of romance about the lives of those first people who lived when the world was young, which seems to make details of their daily round more interesting.

MR. BENTLEY'S MEETINGS A GOSPEL HALL

(Contribution)

In spite of the rainfall a very helpful meeting was held again last night.

Mr. Bentley's theme was "The man who saw the King", the Bible lesson being from Isaiah 6.

The man in question was one of the best of his day, but when he "saw the Lord, high and lifted up" and beheld the purity and majesty of that mighty God, he was prostrated before Him, with this confession, "Woe is me, for I am undone." Conviction of sin can come in this way alone Let God, through His word, show you yourself as He sees you. In the white light of His Holiness we are vile; seen there our best is a heap of filthy rags, Isaiah 64:6.

But the man was cleansed by contact with the altar. The great altar of sacrifice is the Cross of Calvary, where Christ Jesus was offered as the "one sacrifice for sin for ever" and personal trust in the rich, atoning blood of Christ brings cleansing from all sin. If all sin is cleansed how much is there left?

That cleansed man was then commissioned to go with God's message of grace to others, Verse 9.

You do not need a college training to tell the sweet and blessed story of Redemption, but you cannot tell that story till you are redeemed yourself.

The sweetest story ever heard is "Redemption through His Blood: the forgiveness of sins". The sinner is dying for want of it, and again, till our glorious Lord comes back to reign.

The Presbytery opened at 9 o'clock, and the first half hour was devotional. A report on Knoxville and Oak Hill church properties was submitted, and by order of the Presbytery the proceeds of sale is to be handed over to the Presbytery Treasurer.

In the judgment of the Presbytery, it was deemed not advisable that a chief executive officer be appointed by the General Board and that the Board should not interfere with the functions of the Presbytery and the Synod.

United Effort.

Mr. Rollins reported on the co-operation of charges in the Presbytery, especially in the Harvey field, where the Methodists and Presbyterians have been united to make a stronger charge.

Mr. McIntosh gave a splendid report on Sabbath schools and was thanked by the Presbytery for the excellence of his report.

It was resolved to hold a conference on Sabbath schools and young people's work at the September meeting.

The Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Lindsay Presbytery, and the Rev. Mr. Extence, of Hamilton Presbytery, were present, and asked to sit and correspond with the Presbytery.

The laymen of the church were asked to take up the matter of a minimum stipend, Mr. Lees, of Peterborough, acting as convener.

The Rev. Mr. Ross, of Peterborough, asked leave to retire from the active duties of the ministry after a pastorate of 30 years. Application is to be made to the proper authorities in the regular way.

A call was disposed of from Thorold to Dr. Lee, of Millbrook, who accepted the same, translation to be granted to take effect on the first Sabbath in April. Mr. McConnachie, of South Monaghan, was appointed Interim Moderator of session.

A call from Uxbridge to the Rev. Mr. Bennie, of Grafton, was considered by the Presbytery and accepted by Mr. Bennie, translation granted to take effect on the 10th day of April, Mr. Brenner, of Cobourg, to act as Interim Moderator of Grafton.

The Commissioners.

It was agreed by motion that the Commissioners to Assembly be appointed by rotation on the roll. Thereupon Messrs. D. A. Thomson, Jas. Skene, R. Pogue and C. F. McIntosh were appointed Commissioners as ministers, and Messrs. J. H. McGill, of Millbrook; J. T. Robson, of Vernonville, and elders from Cobourg and Hastings were appointed Commissioners to the General Assembly.

Rev. R. S. Scott was appointed to represent the Presbytery at the Summer schools.

The next meeting of the Presbytery to be held in Cobourg on the last Tuesday of June, at 10 a.m.

A strong resolution was made to assist in the Referendum vote on the 18th of April next, and the ministers were asked to keep the matter before the people.

Bethany and other stations were reported as self-supporting. Mr. Thompson submitted a report upon stations that showed progress all along the line. Rev. Dr. Ephrain Scott, Editor of the Presbyterian Record, Montreal, was nominated as Moderator of the next General Assembly.

It was agreed that the Colborne congregation be allowed to sell their manse and glebe of $4,500. The sale was approved of on the understanding that the interest accruing therefrom should be added to the minister's stipend until the manse is built, the proceeds in the meantime being held in trust for the building of a manse.

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes:—"I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 35c. and 60c. a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPANISH PREMIER ASSASSINATED.

LONDON, March 9. — (Canadian Press.) — The Spanish Premier Eduardo Data, has been assassinated, according to a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Madrid. Senor Dato was killed by revolver shots as he left the Congress.

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Peasey of London.

London, Ont.—"I suffered with periodic pains, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of remedies and had been treated by physicians, but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it, and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends, and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 200 Rectory Street, London Ont.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

LIQUOR SHIPMENTS ARE RUNNING LIGHT

FEW CASES EACH DAY FLOWING INTO PETERBORO.

With the date for the referendum vote and the exclusion of liquor from Ontario, if the referendum carries, but a few weeks distant, the opinion seems general around the streets that a veritable deluge of "wet goods" is pouring into the city from Quebec. It will be a shock to many citizens to know that the liquor influx is little if anything greater than it was last Summer. License Inspector J. Stewart is authority for this statement.

This morning in a short interview with The Examiner he expressed surprise that the liquor shipments were not greatly increased since the first of the year. He stated that he could not notice any perceptible increase of late, but he expected that the next few weeks would see large quantities of liquor come in from Montreal.

"What would the average daily shipments be by both companies?" The Examiner asked. "About eight or ten cases." Some days there are more, some less. One day last week, Tuesday or Wednesday, there were 50 cases, that is counting both express roads. That is the largest day's shipment in some months. "In how long?" The Examiner queried.

"I could not say without looking up in my books." Mr. Stewart stated that every day he inspected the books of the companies and kept a record of how many cases entered the city.

Week-End Orders.

"Last Saturday there was but eight cases came in," said Mr. Stemart as an example of how few the consignments were some days.

The local License Inspector explained to The Examiner that apparently the patrons of the Montreal firms ordered their liquor at the end of the week, probably on pay day, and on the following Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the shipments reached the city. These are the three "big" days of the week and the liquor tide is at its height. On Saturday it is at ebb.

"Are there many kegs received?" the interviewed asked. "Yes there are," replied Mr. Stewart. Most of the consignments contained whiskies and brandies, he said, but light wines and beers were popular too. An odd shipment of real Scotch whiskey from the land of the heather reached the city, but these cases were few and far between.

The Examiner asked Mr. Stewart to what he attributed the small supply of liquor coming into the city. He replied that he did not think the people could afford to pay the prices demanded by the wholesalers and the general feeling amongst the citizens was "we'll do without it rather than pay so much." Whether Mr. Stewart's theory is right or wrong will be determined on April 18.

MASKED BANDITS BEAT THE GROOM.

Horse Show Winner's Help Attacked.

GREENWICH, Conn., March 9. Thomas McKenna, a groom at the stable of William H. Madison, whose horses have won many show prizes, was held up by three masked men recently and severely beaten.

As McKenna reached Lake Avenue and Glenville Road a bandit wearing a mask stepped from behind a telegraph pole and levelled a revolver at him. At the same instant two other masked men came up from behind and beat the groom with weapons. An oncoming automobile caused the highwaymen to cease their attack and flee. McKenna called to the driver of the car, but he believing some one was attempting to rob him, continued on but reported the incident to the police. Meantime, the groom was found by Patrick J. Sheridan, who removed him to his home.

"KIMG DODO" AT GRAND PROVES A FINE SUCCESS

LOCAL AMATEURS GIVE CLEVER PRODUCTION OF FAVORITE MUSICAL COMEDY—BRIGHT MUSIC AND AMUSING PLOT MAKE PRESENTATION A TREAT.

The performance of the famous old comic opera, "King Dodo," by a large cast of local artists under the auspices of the 57th Chapter of the I.O.D.E., at the Grand last night, was a notable addition to the long list of successful amateur productions Peterboro has had the good fortune to witness. Last night's offering will in fact rank very high in the list for the perfomance was carried through in remarkably clever fashion and with an absence of the stage waits and other contretemps that often mar the effect of a presentation of this kind.

In selecting a vehicle the 57th Chapter was very fortunate in having chosen "King Dodo," for its bright catchy music, amusing plot, and many quaint passages, makes this offering a most entertaining production. The musical score written by Lidders, was also good, and the "Prince of Pilsen" abounds in gems for principals and choruses. The lyrics are bright and clever and the book above the average—the net result being a performance that contains all the ingerdients of an enjoyable evening.

The local presentation is under the direction of Messrs. Al. J. Perrin and Nelson Barr of Toronto, who are to be congratulated upon the results they have secured, while to Mrs. Al. J. Perrin much of the success of the occasion must be credited for the dancing numbers she evolved. Principals and choruses alike acquitted themselves most effectively. The vocal gems with which the opera abounds were given an artistic interpretation while the fun making possibilities of the play were fully developed. In addition the specialties were most cleverly presented while the principles were greatly assisted by a chorus that not only could sing nicely, but that for charm and personality left the average professional organization travelling far in the rear.

The principal roles were all in good hands. Miss Elva McIntyre was a delightful Annette, and her vocal numbers greatly pleased the audience. Miss Myrtle Succee, as Angela, scored both in her songs and in her acting. Mrs. A. A. Perrin showed to great advantage as Piola, a "boy" part, which she acted charmingly, while her singing was a feature of the porduction. Mrs. McKee Bingham showed much histrionic ability as "Owen Lili," and her two vocal numbers were delightfully given. The chief comedy was provided by Mr. R. O. Brown as "King Dodo." Mr. John Smith, as Dr. Fizz, the Court Physician, and Mr. Robert J. Leonard, the Court Historian. The three extracted the last drop of fun out of these amusing roles. Mr. Fred Johnston was effective as Bonnilla, and Mr. J. E. Picard did fine work as Pedro. The other roles were well looked after.

The musical numbers were all so well given that it is difficult to select the hits. However, the audience seemed to enjoy most the Mother Goose number by Miss Succee and chorus, "The Lad Who Leads," by Mrs. Perrin, and the Military Maids, "The Tale of a Bumble Bee," by Miss McIntyre, and the Honey Boys and Girls, and "O'Reilly," by Miss Ruby Quartermaine, and the Colleens. The solos in each number were effectively taken while the work of the chorus was of much assistance.

An enjoyable specialty was the musical number by the Four Hawaiins, Miss Geraldine Glover, Jean Girard, Edna Allin and Betty McDonald.

The production is richly costumtumed and the scenic investiture thoroughly adequate.

A notable feautre was the work of the dancing girls, Misses Rosamond Huycke, Vera Knox, Marquerite Fanning, Esme Aylmer, Clare Mason and Gladys Mulholland.

"King Dodo," will be repeated at the Grand to-night and should be greeted by a capacity audience.

Following is the cast:

Annette, "Daughter of Sancho" ..... Miss E. McIntyre
Mudge, "Court Historian" ..... Mr. Robert J. Leonard
Piola, "A Soldier of Fortune" ..... Mrs. A. A. Perrin
Sancho ..... Mr. S. Whitehouse
Dr. Fizz, "Court Physician" ..... Mr. John Smith
King Dodo, "Of Dodoland" ..... Mr. Robt. O. Brown
Angela, "The King's Ward" ..... Miss Myrtle Succee

THE BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING HELD

have originated from lack of information.

This Board, said Mr. Worth, must be considered as your organization and in criticizing it, first of all consider your own actions on the Board. Criticism is valuable to any organization provided it is of a constructive nature. Mr. Worth expressed pleasure at the increase in the membership this year, making the total two hundred and sixty and he hoped that during the coming year each member would try to bring in another one.

Trade Depression.

Notwithstanding the trade depression that Canada had experienced the retiring leader pointed out that this country was fortunately situated when the state of Europe is considered, Strenuous times have been passed and there are strenuous times ahead, but Mr. Worth declared that organizations like the local Board of Trade would help the business of the country over the rough spots. He considered that Peterborough, because of its diversified interests, had survived the depression better than most cities.

Daylight Saving.

When the Board had enjoyed two well delivered readings by Mr. J. John, a vote was taken on the daylight saving question, after Mr. H. R. H. Kenner and Dr. A. W. McPherson had recommended its adoption in Peterborough on behalf of the Amateur Athletic Association. Mr. Kenner said the association was agitating for the measure, and following him up, Dr. McPherson commended daylight saving to promote sport and healthful recreation. "Those who would not support daylight saving are not the friends or those who work in the dusty factories, shops and offices or clean ones for that matter," he stated. The vote was taken and the ayes outnumbered the nays nine to one. 93 voted for daylight saving and 10 against, the time to be changed May 1 and Oct. 1.

Ex-Mayor of Lindsay Addresses Board.

Ex-Mayor Richard Kylie, of Lindsay, president of the Board of Trade, was a guest at last night's function and spoke principally on the good roads movement and the urgent desirability of a fish hatchery on the Trent waterway. A Lindsay deputation was going to Toronto the following day. He advised the Board to take up with the government the matter of continuing the provincial road from Port Hope to Peterborough on to Lindsay, and he urged that Peterborough send a deputation to Toronto for this purpose. "We believe, and I think I can prove it, that our counties and the government are spending a lot of money on roads and not getting the desired results," he stated. Continuing, he scathingly attacked the government's policy in building macadam roads, and advocated the paved road as the only permanent solution to meet the heavy traffic of to-day. According to the speaker, money spent on dirt, gravel, macadam or any other unpaved roads was practically so much money wasted. He told of the success and economy such roads in the Uited States had been. One of their best features was the freedom from dust. The government's announced policy that they would build concrete roads on the macadam in time was an expensive one, declared the speaker, considering that cheaper road beds for concrete could be built. In Lindsay he told of laying concrete successfully on roads without any preparation. "I have never yet seen a report from Hon. Biggs or his deputy, Hon. McLean, where they spent a cent investigating the experiences of other cities in road making," he said. In conclusion he declared what they needed was a paved road from Peterborough to Lindsay and this they would have if they went after it strong enough.

Chinese Famine.

Gillies Eadie, B.A., of the War Office Emigration Agency, Tsing-Tao, China, who was in the city, took the opportunity offered by last night's meeting to speak on the true causes of the Chinese famine. In commencing he paid tribute to the work of the Chinese coolies in the British armies. When they returned home most of them he said invested in land. Five provinces in the north of China had no rain all last year, and neither the wheat or millet crops developed. The result has been a famine over 100,000 square miles. Thousands have starved to death, but the military Chinese government has not taken any steps to cope with the famine. The speaker painted an impressionate word picture of conditions in China and in concluding said that the other peoples of the world should take the place the Chinese government could, but would not, in relieving the suffering

To the Visitors.

The toast to the visitors was proposed by City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, who spoke of the pleasant relations and close interchange of knowledge between the board and the city government.

H. J. Humphrey, of Toronto, divisional superintendent of the C.P.R., in replying, referred to the progress the Board is making. He mentioned the proposed Union station and declared the C.P.R. were ready to go ahead and the matter depended on the G.T.R. now. If they had not been considering a Union station, the C.P.R would have built a new one some time ago, he said

Retiring Officers.

G. O. Cameron moved the vote of thanks to the retiring officers, to which the president replied. Following this the new president, Mr. J. J. Duffus, was installed amidst a profuse ovation. "May I take it that this ovation is a manifestation of your interest in the Board of Trade for this year?" asked Mr. Duffus. Continuing he declared that this year optimism was needed more than ever. In his address he emphasized Canada's natural resources and prosperity, and its patriotism he said was untarnished. Ontario was the banner province and Peterborough was the star jewel of the province.

Increasing the annual membership fee of the board from $10 to $15 was voted upon last night and the increase was unanimously passed.

Lindsay Visitors.

Mayor J. O'Reilley, Ald. Ferguson and Crown Attorney T. H. Stinson, of Lindsay, were visitors at last night's meeting and before its conclusion, Mayor O'Reilley spoke briefly. Both Peterborough and Lindsay should prosper and grow together. In regard to the power question he regretted the passing of the competitive system. It was a sorry day for this part of the country, he thought, when the Hydro took over the power companies, and the municipalities should oppose the Hydro and bring back the former system. Western Ontario, he felt, was getting the lion's share of good roads and it was time they battled for their rights. His was a pointed speech and thoroughly enjoyed.

Crown Attorney Stinson spoke of the mutual co-operation that should exist between Lindsay and Peterborough and he extended an invitation to representatives of the Peterborough board to attend the Lindsay Board's annual meeting.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE," SAYS TORONTO WOMAN

Mrs. Pinniger Declares Tanlac Has Been the Greatest Blessing She Ever Received--Health Restored.

"I didn't expect to ever get well, but if ever a medicine saved a person's life, I believe Tanlac saved mine," said Mrs. H. A. Pinniger, of 27 Mutual street, Toronto, Ont.

"I had suffered for seven years from stomach trouble, nervousness and rheumatism. I couldn't retain scarcely anything I ate and sometimes even milk and water disagreed with me. I would bloat up dreadfully and there was such a pressure against my heart it almost took my breath away. At times I became dizzy and fainty and would go off into a sinking spell.

"In this run-down condition I took the 'flu' and for three months was in such pain and suffering it seemed that there was little hope for me. I contracted rehumatism in my arms and elbows, and in spite of everything I could do, I was gradually growing worse.

"One day I told my husband to bring me home a bottle of Tanlac and that was a happy day for me, because I began to feel better after the very first few roses. From then on I improved rapidly and now it seems wonderful that I am enjoying such splendid health. I have a fine appetite and just feel that I have unusual strength and energy. Tanlac has been the greatest blessing of my life. It certainly is a wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CENTRAL BALL LEAGUE

PORT HOPE MAY NOT BE IN THE GAME THIS YEAR—ARTHUR KIMMELL, OF COBOURG, IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE ORGANIZATION.

The annual meeting of the Central Ontario Baseball League was held in the Hotel Quinte, Belleville, yesterday afternoon when preparations were made for the coming season. Five of last year's teams will again be in line, but it is doubtful whether Port Hope will be found in the league this year. They will have another week to discuss the situation before the league undertakes to find a sixth team to take their place.

Present at the meeting were Art Kimmell, Cobourg; E. Parsons, Oshawa; J. G. Nott, Oshawa; B. H. C. Higginbottom, Cobourg; W. J. Thompson, Belleville; Wm. Pringle, Belleville; Mayor Hanna, Belleville, Mr. Duff, Belleville; Mr. Hollway, Oshawa.

A telegram was received from the Lindsay club stating that they were unable to send a representative, but to enter their team.

Port Hope were not represented and a 'phone message stated they were unable at present to say definitely that they would have a team this year.

The matter was left open until next Tuesday.

The question of this year's schedule was discussed for some time and the concensus of opinion seemed to favour a double schedule, played in two sections, the winners of each to play off at the end of the season provided the same team does not win both sections. The Executive Committee will meet at Cobourg about the middle of next month to arrange the schedule.

The residence rule of the Central League was left unchanged. Players must be residents of the town for which they are playing before May 15th.

Messrs. J. J. Solomon and J. G. Nott were elected to represent the Central League at the annual meeting of the O.B.A.A.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. Presidents—The Mayor of Lindsay, Peterborough, Cobourg, Oshawa and Belleville.

Past Presidents—Sandy Lockington, of Port Hope; Mr. A. T. Johnston, Peterborough.

President—Art Kimmell, Cobourg.

1st Vice-President—E. Parsons, Oshawa.

2nd Vice-President—W. J. Thompson, Belleville.

Secretary-Treasurer—John Nott, Oshawa.

Councillors—Jake Solomon, Peterborough; Ford Moynes, Lindsay; Thomas Mulhall, Cobourg; Wm. Pringle, Belleville; Geo. Peacock, Oshawa.

Mayor Hanna, of Belleville, welcomed the members of the league executive, remarking that it was an honour to meet the men who had put the C.O.B.L. on the map.

THE SOO GREYHOUNDS WON IN ALLAN CUP ELIMINATION GAME

LOSERS WEAKENED UNDER THE PACE—THE SCORE WAS 4-1.

TORONTO, March 9.— For the second year in succession the O.H.A. intermediate champions have fallen before the N.O.H.A.'s senior winners in the sudden-death game to decide the team which will meet the O.H.A. senior champions in the first of the games of the Allan Cup elimination series. Last year Collingwood was devoured by the Sudbury Wolves. Last night Galt, conquerors of Collingwood, went down to defeat in a hard-fought and gallant struggle before the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds, conquerors of the Wolves. The score was 4 to 1.

Last year the Wolves had a walk-over. Last night the Galt Colts fought their opponents every inch of the way, led them for seventeen minutes of the contest and only went down to defeat when they were no longer able, physically to push home their attack. Four games in seven days proved too much for their stamina tand to that fact more than to anything else, the Soo can attribute the mastery which it assumed over the Western Ontario team in the final period of the game.

Interesting Hockey.

The game was probably one of the most interesting and one of the most curious seen at the Arena this season. It perplexed the fans. The reason simply was that the two teams played an entirely different style of game. It was a case of team work—Galt opposed to the individualism of the Soo. Galt proved itself to be a hard-checking, strongly combining team. The Soo, on the other hand, a team composed of fast-skating, scientific stick handlers who can be depended upon to give a battle to Varsity, who they will meet in the first of the two games to-morrow night. On the play of the night the better team won, but the losers came out of the contest with a great deal of credit.

On the whole the game was a clean one. In the final stages, Galt, worn out by previous hard battles in the past week, bottled up in their own end of the rink by the hard pressing Soo forwards, resorted to the only chance they had of preventing a score being piled up on them. They body-checked hard. Except in one instance, nothing of a deliberate nature was staged, though sturdy knocks were given and received. The one instance was Alex. Watt's attack on Munro, of the Soo. It was uncalled for, as Munro had been playing a very clean game all night and Watt deserved the penalty which he drew upon himself. Up to that time Watt had been the outstanding man on the Galt team, had played a splendid game in the face of the strongest kind of opposition, and it is regrettable that he spoiled it at the last moment. There is no doubt, hower, that in a fashion, the act was excusable, as the high tension under which the players have been traveling for the past ten days, combined with the importance of last night's contest, and their nerves o na jagged edge, whereas the Soo, fresh from a five days' rest, were in the height of condition and able to stand the strain.

NOTES ON THE TORONTO GAME

TORONTO, March 9. — Even though they were stale from the many games which they have had to play in so short a space of time the Galt Colts gave ample evidence at the Arena last night as to why they were returned champions of the Intermediate O. H. A. Percy LeSueur has fashioned a nice hockey machine from quite mediocre material, and there is no doubt that if they had been fresher they would have given the Soo a harder battle. Galt has plenty of reason to be proud of the showing of its team last night, and the very highest credit is due Percy LeSueur.

George McNamaras Soo Greyhounds made a lot of friends by their clean game last night, and there will be many local fans cheering for them when they stack up against Varsity to-morrow night. It is the general consensus of opinion that they did not show their best form against Galt and that when they meet the fast and smooth working Varsity team, they will likely show to much better advantage. Their work last night lacked cohesion at times, and now and then there was a looseness around the defence, which would be fatal against the swift Collegian forard line. The Soo also failed to take full advaneage of the many opportunitigs presented to them by rebounds, their work in that respect being decidedly lax.

It would be unfair to judge them on the one performance. Their supporters declare they are capable of a higher brand of hockey, and little bits of play which they pulled off could be picked out here and there to prove that that contention is right. The Varsity players witnessed the game, and they are also of the opinion that the Greyhounds will make them step to win. There will be no over-confidence in the Blue and White team when it takes the ice to-morrow night.

Betting on last night's game was light, the Galt supporters realising that under the conditions the chances of their team were not very bright. More wagering will be done on the two contests to come. The Soo fans who closed up shop and came to town yesterday brought more than $10,000 with them, and they are all willing to put it up on their team. It looks as if even money will be the popular bet.

"GIVING TO THE POOR"

"Giving to the poor is lending to the Lord," said the wise man, and there seems to be a lot of truth in the old saying. But if you give to the poor you like to be sure that it is deserving charity. There is such a thing as pauperizing and encouraging inaction in people who should be up and doing, instead of depending on someone else for help and sustenance. When charity is connected with children, however, it can never be regarded as useless or futile. These are the inoffensive members of the community who are poor and helpless through no fault of their own, and whose forlorn state cannot but appeal to the hearts and minds of every thinking person. These children, who are wards of society and depend upon kind-hearted philanthropy for existence, do not seem to realize their pitiable condition. They are gay, light-hearted little mortals usually, but to an older intelligence there is always that indefinable something about them, that absence of the protecting aura of home and parents' love, that marks these cheerful little tots as among the forlorn inhabitants of a none too kind world. Perhaps they are lucky to learn lessons of self-reliance and aloneness in their early years, but it seems a pity, all the same.

Institutions for the shelter and care of homeless children are usually pleasant places, but they are obliged sometimes, through lack of funds, to refuse admission to those tiny creatures who look to them to replace, in a measure, their rightful heritage of home and parents. This is not a good thing. Let us remember them for the sake of Him who walked for many years in earthly ways, and whose delight it ever was to be with the children of men.

Don't forget Tag Day on Saturday next for St. Vincent's Orphanage.

POLLUTION OF BAY OF QUINTE WATERS

BELLEVILLE, March 9.—Representations of so grave and insanitary nature have been made from Ottawa to the manager of the Chamber of Commerce that immediate action will probably result. It is asserted that unless the existing pollution of the Trent and Moira Rivers is not stopped in five years the supply of fish in the Bay of Quinte would be seriously depleted, while there would probably not be a single living fish in the bay's upper waters ten years from now. Several hundred people in and near Belleville are dependent upon its fisheries.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently met the heads of two local industries, whose operations, it is alleged, more or less pollute the bay's waters, and both cheerfully agreed to cooperate in any preventive measures that may be introduced to minimize the pollution complained of.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

In the "Girl from Nowhere" F. Stuart-Whyte's big musical comedy which plays at the Grand Saturday March 12 matinee and night, there is what is known theatrically a song "Monif". That is to say the show is linked together by a haunting refrain which it is safe to say will be sung and whistled all over Canada wherevere the show is played. The song was especially written for the play and has the same title. It is one of those popular numbers which soon become classics. The melody is one of the sweetest ever written and while, by no means common is still of the "whistling" kind. If you hear it once you will want to remember it. Once you get it you will find it difficult to forget. For this production Mr. Stuart Whyte is setting an example which might well be followed by others. He has reduced the price of admission for the best seats to $1.50. He is able to do this, however, only through the repeal of the luxury tax What this tax has meant to theatrical managers, can best be understood by stating that Mr. Whyte paid $10,000 under this tax alone last season He had decided to give the Canadian theatre-going public the benefit of the saving, hence the reduction in price.

"The Girl From Nowhere" is a big production and one of the most expensive to tour this country. No effort has been spared to make it something out of the ordinary. Scenery, costumes, lighting effects, and everything connected with it, have been provided on a sumptuous scale. The cast is perhaps Mr. Whyte's strong aggregation of stars and is headed by Miss Zara Clinton Canada's Sweetheart also the Scottish Comedian, Billy Oswald and J. V. Barrett-Lennard, the elongated comic, to mention only a few. There are a bunch of glorious girls each one a beauty. The Stuart Whyte chorus girl is the envy of many a producer. He has a keen eye for beauty and knows what his public likes and he knows how to get it. Altogether this is probably the best musical comedy that has played this theatre this season. It is as pretty as the "Geisha" and funnier than a dozen pantomines. Don't take our word for it. Go and see it. If you miss it you will miss the best show of the season.

AT THE ALLEN.
"GUILTY OF LOVE."

Dorothy Dalton's first picture since the sensational "Aphrodite," in which she scored so emphatically in her debut on the spoken stage, completed its Broadway run, is "Guilty of Love." This photoplay, which was adapted from a stage drama by Avery Hopwood, will be on view at the Allen Theatre, for two days, commencing to-day. It is an appealing story of youth's folly and final retribution. Edward Langford is the leading man, and Harley Knoles directed the picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft.

AT THE ALLEN.
SNOOKY USED HIS GUN TO GET JUST WHAT HE KNEW HE WANTED.

In "A Tray Full of Trouble," the newest of the two reel Chesfer comedies at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow, Snooky, the Humanazee, who has created such a sensation among motion picture goers through the country, wears a regulation cowboy costume, with pistol and all. According to studio officials, Snooky likes a certain sort of melon for his dessert and one of the days when it was not forthcoming the monk almost scared the Chinese cook out of his life by pointing the "prop" pistol at him and waiting until he got just the right piece of melon that he did want. Snooky is said to show more than ever that he really has the mind of a human by the work that he does in this picture.

AT THE EMPIRE
KERRIGAN'S NEW BRUNTON PRODUCTION IS EXCITING

J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton production, "The Green Flame," a mystery play by the eminent playwright and novelist, Raymond G. Hill, has been released through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation and will be shown Thursday at the Empire Theatre.

In "The Green Flame" Kerrigan plays the part of a clever private detective who subverts the desperate plan of a notorious crook ring to steal a priceless emerald. The star is supported in this picture by a well rounded cast, headed by Fritzi Brunette, his talented leading lady. The direction is by Ernest C. Warde and Jack Cunningham wrote the continuity.

AT THE REGENT
PEARL WHITE IN BIG BERNSTEIN SUCCESS

Popular Pearl White will open next Thursday at the Regent Theatre in the big William Fox production, "The Thief," based on Henri Bernstein's greatest play.

Miss White has added to her fame since she joined the William Fox forces and abandoned her serial career. Her dramatic features have been picked with care. These new pictures have in them real Pearl White thrills, that are just as enjoyable—and sometimes as breath taking—as the "continued-next-week" serials.

"The Thief" is full of mystery. Until the end of the play no one can tell who the culprit is.

It is understood that William Fox disregarded the expense element in his aim to give Miss White the best picture she has yet made. The scenario was written by Max Marcin and Paul H. Sloane, and Charles Giblyn directed the picture.

OVER THE FENCE FOR BABE RUTH

SHREVEPORT, La., March 9. — The natives here are now convinced that Babe Ruth is the king swatter. The bambino knocked the ball out of the park nine times in one afternoon. He played first base in a practice game and knocked a triple. Ping Bodie, McMillan and Letbetter also poled one out of the park.

RAPP DOING WELL.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 9.—Manager McGraw and the Giant coaches, are enthusiastic over the form shown by Goldie Rapp, the American Association infielder. Rapp is being tried at third base with Frisch on second. The combination has worked fine. Dave Bancroft has arrived but is not well enough to do any hard work.

BROOKLYNS BUSY.

NEW ORLEANS, La., aMrch 9. — The Brooklyn National League champions started real training work here to-day. Manager Robinson had the squad out yesterday but he would not allow them to do anything more than limber up. Mitchell, Pfeffer, Mamoux, Miljus and Mohart served them up to the batters. Grimes and Wheat, most prominent of the hold-outs, have not reported.

LANDIS' DECISIONS.

CHICAGO, March 9. — Players Miller and Brottem, formerly of the Little Rock Club, who had been claimed by both Washington and Pittsburgh were awarded to the Senators in a decision by Judge K. M. Landis

EVERS PLEASED.

PASADENA, Cal., March 9. — Johnny Evers declared that he was greatly pleased with the pep and enthusiasm shown by his pet Cubs in their first workout. Johnny Kelleher was hit in the eye by a hard hit ball, and will be out for several days.

DOUBLE WORK OUT FOR SOX.

WAXAHECHIE, Texas, March 9. — The Sox were scheduled for a double work out to-day, both morning and afternoon. Their muscles were stiff and sore from the first day's training. Dick Kerr and Ray Schalk surprived Kid Gleason by showing up for the first work out.

A PHILADELPHIA HOLD-OUT.

MARIETTA, Ohio, March 9. — Earle "Greasy" Neale, recently acquired by Philadelphia from the Cincinnati Reds, laid over here as a holdout. Neale stated that there was $3000 difference between the salary offered him and what he wanted, and that he would not play professional baseball unless his demands were met.

TWENTY-SIX IN CAMP.

DETROIT, Mich., March 9. — The training camp of the Detroit Americans at San Antonio, now includes 26 of the 31 players on the club's roster, according to the despatches received here. The absentees are Eddie Ainsmith, Dutch Leonard, Bobby Veach, Bobby Jones and Chick Shorten. They are expected to report to-day.

So far Manager Cobb has put the men through only the lightest of practice, following his theory that they should reach top form at the beginning of the playing season, rather than in the playing camp. Batting and infield drills have made up the major portion of the work.

Bernie Boland declares he will be able to take his turn in the box for the Tigers this season, his arm having completely recovered, and Cobb's injured knee has thus far given him no trouble.

WITH THE BIG LEAGUERS

Of all the news that has permeated baseball circles since the close of last season none has been more welcome or more cheering to local fandom than the announement that J. Franklin Baker would lend his bludgeon to the Yankees' cause this season. While the presence of Baker in Huggins's line-up will not add to the speed of the club, it certainly should add materially to the punch of the team. Incidentally, the return of Baker helps the Yankee manager to solve a problem that has been puzzling him for the greater portion of the Winter.

Baker undoubtedly will play third base. This releases Ward, and he can be switched to second base. This in turn releases Chick Fewster for outfield duty. Huggins has been seeking another outfielder ever since the close of the last campaign. He openly admitted that the Yankees needed bolstering in the garden, and Baker's comeback seems to have settled the question.

There is much speculation at this time in baseball circles as to whether Baker will be able to attain the form that was his before he retired from the diamond for a year. Baker no longer has youth on his side of the argument, with the laws of nature, as those laws are measured in sport. A year's respite from active duty cannot possibly have done Baker any good. It is question whether his playing ability—whether the lay-off has not dimmed his once keen batting eye. The fact that Baker has spent much of his time in the open air on his farm no doubt will stand him in good stead in his attempt to come back. If he can attain anything like his old form the Yankees will have one of the most powerful clubs on offense in the big leagues this season.

The Yankees now have completed their first week of Spring training, and the Giants have turned into almost as much time. The result of the work of the players in rounding into condition has been extremely satisfactory. As much progress has been made as could be expected and the next week or so should be productive of a fairly definite line on the true ability of the players who are assembled under McGraw and Huggins. The youngsters, naturally, have claimed the greatest attention thus far. Some of the veterans of both clubs are not yet in the camps, and those there are not as prone to cut loose as the youngsters who are striving for recognition. The veterans invariably take more time in ironing out the Winter's kinks. But they are coming along at a satisfactory pace, and before the end of this week they will undoubtedly be working at top speed. Then will begin the real battle for the regular berths on the two clubs.

MAN O' WAR WELL AND HAPPY IN OLD KENTUCKY HOME.

Famous Horse Down Among the Blue Grass of Kentucky.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Henry B. King writes in The Herald: Man o' War has gone home—back to Lexington, where the grass is blue and the most famous of the famed on the American turf have run, stood and been buried. Close to the spot where he was foaled, little more than four years ago, the cyclonic son of Fair Play, is standing, his racing days over, but his utility to the turf hardly beyond the primary stage. Man o' War's stiring deeds, record wrecking performances, repeated victories, did wonder for racing in this country, but greater wonders, still, no doubt, will be wrought by the horse's presence in the stud at Hayland's.

Four years ago Man o' War, a colt of unknown possibilities of a famous sire but out of a rather ordinary dam, Mahubah, frisked about the pasture of the nursery farm of August Belmont. To-day he stands in the blue grass of Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield's farm. The great Man o' War is not as frisky as he was when he first saw the dawn of Spring over the soft pasture land of Kentucky, but he is still full of fire, in the vigor of his prime. Most horses are sent to the stud down there when their days of racing are over, when they no longer can compete with the speed, power and sturdiness of the younger opposition. But Man o' War has come a rather peculiar distinction. He still is king of them all, still the fastest horse in the world, still the champion of champions. Men say he is the greatest horse which ever ran on any track. If he were that last season when he swept away all opposition, he still is that. For Man o' War has gone to the stud not because he is through as a racer, but, paradoxical as it may seem, because he still retains all of his speed.

Still a Winner.

Samuel Riddle, the Philadelphia sportsman who owns Man o' War, could win thousands of dollars by keeping his famous horse in training. He could earn world-wide fame for himself and his horse by taking him over to England, there without doubt to win the historic Ascot Cup, as great a trophy for four-year-olds as the Derby for three-year-olds. Mr. Riddle has been criticised for taking from the turf in the fulness of his prime the horse of horses. But he has a reason. He wants more Man o' Wars.

As Louis Feustal, the young trainer who developed the great colt's speed and stamina and kept him on racing edge from early Spring to late Autumn for two years, was an expert in his line to Miss Daingerfield in her field. Few are the men in this country or any other who know more about the thoroughbred than she. A woman well in the forties, she has studied the horse since she was in swaddling clothes.

When Major Daingerfield died there was great speculation among breeders and horsemen and sportsmen as well as to who would take his place as master of Castleton. But there was no doubt in Mr. Keene's mind. Miss Daingerfield took charge of the extensive plant while her father was ill. She did everything the Major would have done and did it well. Mr. Keene knew it and didn't hesitate about retaining her. And there she remained until long after the death of Mr. Keene, when Price McKinney disposed of the entire farm and stock at auction five years ago.

Miss Daingerfield's favorite horse among the Castleton stock was Ultimas. When he was offered for sale she bid all she owned and more that she borrowed from friends to keen him. But her funds were not sufficient. Price Headley, a wealthy sportsman of Lexington, outbid her. When she could bid no more and the famous sire was knocked down to Mr. Headley Miss Elizabeth wept like a child. The new owner sympathized with her and agreed to give her the stallion's services for a small sum. With his services and a few high-class mares she bred some of the fastest horses in the country. Last year Step Lightly, one of Ultimas's daughters, which she bred, raised and sent to the auction block as a yearling, won the historic Futurity and $34,000 for Walter J. Salmon, who bought her for $6,000.

Almost every week on the metropolitan turf, and even at the Winter tracks at New Orleans and Havana, a horse of her breeding wins a purse.

Except for racing, Man o' War's mode of living will not be changed materially. He will have almost the same feed he had while in training for Louis Feusttl. His oats, bran and barley mash will be the best and he will have lots of carrots, and in season will have all the fine blue grass he wants.

His exercise will not be qdite as strenuous as when he was in training, but he will have to don his saddle and canter or breeze at least an hour a day. Because of the cold eather in Lexington he has not been turned out yet, but as soon as the weather opens he will have a three-acre paddock to himself. The paddock is larger than that turned over to most stallions, but it doesn't differ in any other respect.

It is made of oak plans and neither the posts nor the planks are padded. With him is his old friend, Major Treat. The Major is a veteran show horse, a high jumper of note a few years ago. Since Man o' War entered the Riddle Farm at Berlin, Md., as a yearling the Major, which stands nearly seventeen hands, has been his pal and companion. He is exceedingly fond of Man o' War and the champion is fond of him. They look for each other every day, and if one is kept away from the other for any length of time there is whinnying by both.

The great colt hasn't lost his desire to run. Every time he is brought out of his stable he wants to be off, and it is with difficulty he is held in restraint. In the stable he is as playful as a kitten, and for Frank Loftus, the lad who attended him during his racing career, he will do anything.

TWO MORE HOLD OUT.

Casey Stengel and Mack Wheat Return Contracts Unsigned.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—When the Phillies departed for their Spring training quarters at Gainesville, Fla., two new holdouts were added to the list. The latest ones are Casey Stengel, outfielder, and Mack Wheat, catcher. Stengel and Wheat, who are residing in Kansas City, sent word unless President Baker meets their demands they will not go South. They have returned their contracts. Outfielder Nagle, who was obtained from Cincinnati in the Rixey trade, is also a holdout.

SPRING BASEBALL SOON UNDER WAY.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Inter-League Spring exhibition games between the clubs of the major circuits will be in full swing within the next few days, giving baseball fans their first opportunity to compare the relative strength of the rival pennant combinations. The development of this feature of the southland training expeditions has made marked advance during recent seasons. The schedules show that a big percentage of the sixteen clubs, composing the National and American Leagues, will play such contests previous to the opening of the 1921 pennant races.

A study of the ante-season dates of the major league teams indicates a list of more than seventy such games scheduled and with favorable weather conditions during March and the early part of April, fully two-thirds of these contests will probably be played. A large majority are carded for the south and southwest, although several of the clubs will complete their Spring training with a series of home games just before the opening of the regular season.

The exhibition schedule opened with contest between the Philadelphia Americans and the St. Louis Nationals at Houston, Tex., and for the next five weeks, one or more such events are scheduled for decision each day. Two city series are involved for the St. Louis and the Philadelphia Clubs and each will figure in games on their home grounds just before the opening of the pennant chases.

CANADA TO ENTER TEAM.

Will Compete in International Golf Match at Southampton.

TORONTO, March 9.—The Royal Canadian Golf Association decided to hold the open championship of Canada over the course of the Toronto Golf Club, June 23 and 24.

It was voted not to hold an international match between Canada and the United States this year, as a large number of American players are expected to visit England for the British championships, and the United States has issued an invitation to all nations to compete in an international team match at Southampton, L. I., in September, in which Canada will enter a team.

THROWING BALL GAMES TO BE MADE FELONY IN THIS STATE.

ALBANY, N.Y., March 9.—Baseball players in New York State will have to "play the game straight" or face jail on a felony charge. Baseball gamblers, who hereafter try to profit by offering bribes to influence a player to "throw a game," will also face jail on a felony charge.

This was decided when the Assembly passed the bill introduced by Senator Kavanaugh of Saratoga. The measure has already passed the upper house and now goes to Governor Miller, who will approve it.

A similar measure introduced by Assemblyman Merrigan of Albany, which, however, would make bribe offering to or accentance by a baseball player a misdemeanor, will be killed.

Police Constable Hutchinson, of Plumbland, Cumberland, England, who is retiring, has served for 38 years withcut a day's sickness.

FINE JUNIOR LEAGUE

BRANTFORD, March 9.—Five teams have definitely entered in the Brantford and District Junior Soccer League, St. Jude's Industrial Boys' Club and West Brantford from the city, and Paris and Simcoe, Galt dropping out. The schedule was drafted on Saturday, when the teams had their first workout.

KITCHENER BALL CLUB WARMING UP.

KITCHENER, March 9.—Victoria Park Athletic Grounds have been leased for the season by the Kitchener Baseball Club of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League, and a number of improvements will be made in the grounds. The bleacher accommodation will be increased. It is proposed to make the ball grounds here one of the best in the M.-O. League circuit.

HOOPER REPORTED DISSATISFIELD AT WHITE SOX DEAL—MAY QUIT.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 9.—Harry Hooper, outfielder of the Boston American League Club, may not join the Chicago White Sox, to whom he was traded last week in exchange for John Collins and Leibold, he told friends here during a visit from his ranch near Marysville. Hooper was quoted as saying that he had expected to return to the Red Sox, but that he had not been consulted as to the White Sox deal, and therefore would demand a larger salary from the Chicago Club. Hooper also was said to have declared he would remain out of baseball unless he was entirely satisfied with his arrangements with the Chicago Americans.

RUTH IS PRIZE SUBJECT FOR SHREVEPORT CAMERA FIENDS.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 9. — Babe Ruth had to do considerable posing for amateur photographers at Gasser Park when he engaged in his first workouts with the Yankees. A Shreveport optician advertised in the local morning paper that he would give a prize of $5 for the best snapshot of the home-run king, and the camera fiends answered in numbers. Babe was as obliging as ever in posing upon request, and the optician will have to pass on numerous exhibits before deciding where he is to place the five-spot.

LIVING OFF PUBLIC

SIMCOE, March 9.—Two young married men who are cousins, John H. and George Smith, have been each given an undetermined sentence of not less than six months nor more than 18 months, for practically living off the public by means of a succession of petty thefts. They have been before the court for some years, more or less. John Smith began a career of theft when nineteen years of after he broke jail once deserted from th military service, and wound up by running off with a fifteen-year-old girl, whom he married when arrested. George Smith pleaded guilty on nine charges of theft.

FIRST TO GO OVER FALLS AND LIVE.

Woman Now Lies Dying in Poorhouse.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Without a friend and nearly blind, Mrs. Edson Taylor, the first person to go over the Niagara Falls and survive lies dying in a poor house in Lockport, N.Y. The woman performed the feat to raise funds with which to pay off the mortgage on her home and keep the wolf from her door.

POSSESS GOOD HEALTH BY LOOKING AFTER THE BOWELS

A free motion of the bowels, once or twice a day, should be the rule of every one, as half the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition.

When the bowels are allowed to become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, and the liver does not do its work properly on account of holding back the bile so that it does not pass through the bowels, but is allowed to get into the blood, thus causing a poisoning of the whole system.

If you would escape constipation, sick and bilious headaches, heartburn, floating specks before the eeys, coated tongue, foul breath, the nasty irritating, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, you should keep your liver stirred up by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

These pills, being purely vegetable, keep your liver working actively, helping it to resume its proper functions, and thereby removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the whole system.

Mrs. H. Barrows, Enfield, N. S., writes:—"I was troubled with sick headaches and constipation. One day a friend told me of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I got two vials, and found they did me a world of good. I therefore have great faith in them."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limied, Toronto, Ont.

FINEST BULLDOG IN CANADA DEAD.

MONTREAL, March 9. —(Canadian Press.) — Lowwood Topper, probably the finest English bulldog in Canada, so far as show specimens are concerned, is dead here. The dog has been unwell for some time, but died suddenly from congestion.

Lowwood Topper was owned by W. W. Marshall and S. Alman, being imported about a year ago. Shown twice, he was awarded winners on both occasions, at Ottawa and at the winter show of the English Bulldog Club of Canada. Topper was one of the best-headed specimens of the breed ever seen here, with tremendous underjaw, large flat skull, splendid lay-back and well-broken up face. He leaves behind him a number of promising litters, notably one ex W. W. Marshall's Realmont Blaze, seven of which are living. Lowwood Topper was valued at $2,000.

Another good local dog which has passed out is Mrs. A. I. Dunn's black Pomeranian bitch. Dunnaris Sunshine, a very consistent bench winner.

TRINITY MISSION CIRCLE HELD AN OPEN MEETING

At the open meeting of the Trinity Mission Circle in Reid street Hall last evening, Mrs. N. D. Seaton, Frederick Avenue, gave an exceptionally interesting talk on the opera, "Il Trovatore". Starting with a brief sketch of the composer's life, she passed on to a synopsis of the opera itself, which is one of the most attractive and best known of Verdi's works. The outstanding solos and duets as they were mentioned by the speaker, were accompanied by phonograph selections, a combination which made the address very pleasing, the "Anvil Chorus" especially being rendered with a fine effect.

A social half-hour was then spent in talk and refreshments. A very substantial sum was realized for the work of the Mission Circle.

OBITUARY

EDWARD CAVANAGH.

After a lingering illness, Mr. Edward ("Ted") Cavanagh passed away at his home at 12.30 this morning. The deceased was 82 years old, was born in Ireland, in Fernoy, County of Cork, but had lived for nearly eighty years in Peterborough.

He kept hotel in this city for forty years, in the old Stewart House, on the corner of Hunter and Water Streets, now occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in the Ontario House, where the Post Office now stands, in the old American House on Hunter Street, in the National Hotel, and was for ten years proprietor of the Cavanagh House on Simcoe Street. He was engaged in lumbering since his retirement from the hotel business, and was also active in the buying of horses. He had a host of friends and acquaintances in the city itself, and also in the Province of Quebec, where he was well-known for many years in connection with lumbering interests.

The survivors are his wife, Ellen Sheehan, whom he married 53 years ago, one son Roy, with his wife and two children, and Mrs. H. Lush, of Peterborough, is also a granddaughter. Four sons — James, Charles, Richard, Harry, and one daughter, Kate—predeceased him.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning, at 9 o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral and Cemetery.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 9.—(Canadian Press).—Stock market was extremely apathetic at the opening of to-day's session with an irregularly lower trend of prices. Selling pressure again focussed in shippings, food and copper shares. United Fruit soon lost 1 1-2 points and Atlantic Gulf and Crucible steel forfeited one point each. American Sugar reacted, evidently in anticipation of the adverse annual statement soon to be issued. The only noteworthy gain was the one point rally in Sheffield. Rails were hesitant, Reading's moderate rise being offset by the heaviness of minor issues, including New Orleans, Texas and Mexico.

Leaders and specialties added to their declines during the morning. Nova Scotia Steel lost two points, and Beet Sugar, Invincible Oil, Remington Typewriters and Otis Elevator eased. Transcontinental Rails were dull and generally lower. Northern Pacific and Western Pacific losing one and two points respectively. Shippings rallied, United Fruit retrieving its loss, and Atlantic Gulf Common and Preferred rising a point over yesterday's final prices. Royal Dutch and Tobaccos were responsive to support, but prices shaded again before noon when the secondary rails became heavy.

Rails of the better class and several of the equipment shares were under pressure at midday, Canadian Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Baltimore and Ohio and Reading first preferred showed losses of 1 and 1 1-2 points. Pullman and American Smelting preferred also were heavy with local utilities.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, March 9.—(Canadian Press). — The local Stock Exchange was quiet during this morning's session, and very little worth mentioning transpired. Abitibi went up half a point to 37, while Atlantic Sugar and Brizilian remained unchanged at 30 and 33 respectively.

Brompton opened at 35 and sold off to 34¼. National Breweries closed at 41 3-4. Spanish River was unchanged throughout the morning at 70½.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, March 9.—(Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange strong; demand 3.87 5-8; Canadian dollars 12 5-8 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 9.—(Canadian Press). — Fresh set-backs in the price of wheat resulted to-day from the U. S. Government report showing much larger reserves than had been looked for.

On the down-turn, however, bears displayed caution, as with the Government report out of the way, the market might respond quickly to any bad crop news. Besides, there were signs that some export business had been brought about by the drop in values. Opening quotations with March 1.69 to 1.69½ and May 1.55½ to 1.57, were followed by a moderate rally from the initial bottom figures.

Corn took the same course as wheat. After opening 5-8c to 1¼c lower, the market recovered little. Oats were weak, with cereals starting ½ to 7-8 to 1 cent down, but then re-acted somewhat. Despite high quotations on hogs, provisions reflected the decline in the price of grain.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 9.—(Canadian Press).—Acute weakness in Dominion Steel Corporation and Canadian General Electric had a depressing influence on practically every stock traded in on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning, and with one or two exceptions the noon close quotations were below those of last night. With no definite reason established, Steel Corporation was liquidated freely after a weak opening at 39, three points below yesterday's close. Six hundred shares changed hands, and the noon quotation of 37¼ indicated a loss of 4 3-4 points. There were no rallies and the closing figure was the lowest level of the morning. Twenty shares of General Electric sold at 108½, a loss of 4 points, but the bid later firmed up to 111 5-8. Winnipeg Railway lost 2 points at 42. Fractional declines were established by C.P.R., Toronto Railway, Brompton and Canada Steamships. Spanish River was slightly firmer.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, March 9.—(Canadian Press). — Cattle receipts medium; trade fairly active. Heavy beef steers $10 to $11; choice butcher steers $9 to $10; butcher cows, medium, $5 to $7.50; calves, $14 to $16; lambs, $12 to $13.50; hogs, fed and watered, selects, $15 to $15.25.

PETTY THIEVING.

LINDSAY, March 9.—Citizens in the north ward are suffering from a wave of petty thieving, of a nature and from places which indicate the work of adults and not juveniles.

POLICE BUSINESS.

LINDSAY, March 9.—The police department here has reported to the Town Council its operations for February as follows: Number of cases, 4; fines and costs imposed, $67.30; Town Treasurer, $65.80; Police Magistrate for certificates, $1.50; dog licenses $51; cab licenses $10; junk licenses $20 — total $146.80.

CALDER MAY TALK TO CIVIL SERVICE SERVANTS

OTTAWA, March 9.—Hon. J. A. Calder will, it is said, make his first public appearance since appointed to deal with Civil Service questions, when attending the Civil Service Federation dinner here. This event is slated for March 16th, at the Chateau Laurier, and Mr. Calder is to be the principal speaker. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen being prevented by a previous engagement from attending.

SUPERINTENDENT WAS OUT OF HE CITY

In yesterday's Police Court news the aftermath of a Sunday game of poker was recorded. The report of those present included the superintendent of the construction company building the new theatre on George street. It was stated today that the superintendent was out of the city over the week end and was not a party to the affair in question.

NO MAY DAY TROUBLE EXPECTED IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, March 9.—While all is not harmony among the building trades and although some unions have applied for wage increases ranging from 10 to 25 per cent., the union executives are said to stand in opposition to urging their enforcement.

It is conceded that there will be no consideration of a general increase in the pay of building trades' workers this spring, and contractors do not expect trouble on May first over wage demands.

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY PETERBORO TO LINDSAY

LINDSAY, March 9. — Council has decided to act in conjunction with Peterborough and Victoria counties relative to a provincial highway between Peterborough and Lindsay. They have appointed a committee to join a deputation from the other municipalities interested and wait upon the Minister of Highways on this question.

DROPPED $3,500 IN STREET MAIL BOX.

OTTAWA, March 9.—An Ottawa man has discovered that a street mail box is quite a safe receptacle in which to deposit money. By mistake, while mailing a bunch of business letters, he let drop in the box his bank deposit of $3,500 in cash and cheques, enclosed in an unaddressed envelope with his deposit slip. Seeing a blank faced envelope on the table in the post office, one of the employees opened it, and finding the money and deposit slip, at once returned them to their owner.

ALLIED MILITARY HEADQUARTERS-NEUSSE, March 10. —(Canadian Press.) — The Allied forces have virtually completed the occupation of the Rhine ports of the Ruhr district, all that remains to be done being the seizure of a few villages and important cross-roads. As yet the commanding officers have not arranged for the division of occupied territory between the British, Belgian and French gathered along the eastern side of the Rhine.

REPORTED FORD SOLD CANADIAN COMPANY

NEW YORK, March 10. — The Dow-Jones Financial News Service carried the following yesterday:

"Detroit. — It is reported Ford Motor Company officials are conferring on what steps shall be taken towards financing and whether the plant shall be closed pending completion of these arrangements. The officials of the Ford Motor Company of Canada admitted that they had heard a report that Henry Ford had sold his interest in the Canadian company but that no actual transfer of stock had taken place. The transaction is said to involve approximately $4,000,000 and with the sale goes the rights to do business in all British possessions except England, Scotland and Wales.

"The formation of a new motor company is announced by Frank L. Klingensmith, former vice-president and general manager of the Ford Motor Company, who will be president. The company is to be known as the Gray Motors Coboration. It expects to get into production this summer or early fall."

DETROIT, Mich., March 10. — E. G. Liebold, secretary to Henry Ford, said that he had not heard anything about the report that Ford had sold or would sell his Canadian interests, and that he had "absolutely nothing to say."

THREE BRIGADES OF BOLSHEVIK TROOPS IN MOSCOW DESERT TO THE INSURGENTS.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

RIGA, March 10. — (Canadian Press).—Three brigades of Bolshevik soldiers in Moscow have joined the revolutionary soldiers, it is said in advices reaching here. Their action was prompted by the very acute food situation at the Soviet capital. Reports generally regarding the revolution against the Soviet regime are conflicting. It is now reported that the fate of Petrograd is still in the balance, and that the revolutionary troops occupy three-quarters of the city.

ORGANIZE FOR REFERENENDUM

The temperance people of Omemee and Emily are asked to attend a meeting in the Methodist Church, Omemee, at 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 16, for the purpose of organizing the municipalities of Omemee and Emily for the coming prohibition referendum.—Rev. H. B. Herrington, Chairman for Emily Township.

THE BENTLEY MISSION.

The growing interest in the evangelistic meetings at the Gospel Hall was evidenced by the largest attendance last night.

The audience gave rapt attention as Mr. Bentley again dwelt upon the great theme of "Salvation."

After introducing the subject from the words, "Behold, God is my salvation. I will trust and not be afraid"—Isaiah xii., 2, the preacher proceeded to show that if God Himself is our salvation, then our salvation must be like God. God was omnipotent. Nothing is too hard for Him, therefore no sinner on earth is too far gone for Him to save if that soul really trusts Him for deliverance through His sin-bearing son.

God is also unchangeable. "I am the Lord, I change not." This cannot be said of any individual, for our feelings change, our health is changing, our circumstances and prospects are often as changeful as the weather, but "Thou art the same." So, whoever has fled for refuge, the mighty Saviour has as an immovable foundation beneath their feet the Rock of Ages. God is eternal. "He inhabiteth eternity." While in ourselves we have not the slightest claim to it, and but for the word of God would never dare to profess it, yet, according to its teaching and upon its sole authority, the believer in Jesus knows he has eternal life. 1st John v., 13. Where, on earth, is there a sinner, conscious of his deep need, who wouldn't take a gift like that? Don't shiver out there in the biting frost of your sin. The Father's house is warm and bright, and the door is swung wide. Come in and taste the warmth and joy of His loving heart.—Com.

STRIKE MAY BE PROTEST OF GERMANS

VAGUE HINTS THAT GENERAL STRIKE MAY OCCUR IN RUHR DISTRICT, OCCUPIED BY ALLIES.

BUT RUMORS DISCOUNTED

DUEISBURG, March 10.—(Canadian Press). — Vague hints that work throughout the Ruhr district of Germany will cease within a few days as the immediate result of the Allied occupation of German territory and the seizure of Customs were made by German operators, civil officials and others last night.

There seemed to be little unrest among the working men last evening after they had finished the day's work, however, and thousands gathered to watch curiously the French sentries and to inspect the machine guns and tanks. They showed no resentment at the presence of the Allied troops. Well informed Allied officials declared they did not believe there would be a strike, one assenting.

"The people do not intend to strike. The Communists are pointing towards Russia as Germany's salvation, but the working men already have repudiated that. The indemnity will repudiate it again. Business is not at a standstill here, and I think it never will be."

STRENGTHEN IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS

CABINET CONSIDERING THE MATTER AND MORE BARS MAY BE PUT UP.

OTTAWA, March 10.—(Canadian Press.)—Some striking changes in the regulations governing the admission of immigrants to Canada are reported to be under consideration by the Cabinet. It is expected these will be passed within a few days and will, it is stated, maintain or increase the money regulations at present in force and will admit only bonafide farm workers and domestic help. Immigration from Britain, France and the United States, it is reported, will not be hindered by the new regulations, but the bars will be kept up against Ceentral European immigrants. It is not expected that the regulations, although fairly stringent, will affect persons coming to engage in farm work.

THE COMING CONCERT OF THE PETERBOROUGH MALE VOICE CHOIR.

The Peterborough Male Voice Choir had the usual "work-out" on Tuesday evening last, with 46 present. The music practised was "In Vocal Combat," "Estudiantina," "Martyrs of the Arena," "Goodnight, Beloved," and "Let the Hills Resound." and it could safely be said a better interpretation was given to all numbers than has yet been given. The tone is reaching that big, round consistency so much inquired for by the conductor, Mr. J. H. Renwick.

The members are more enthusiastic than ever, and from 8 until 10 o'clock the closest attention is paid to instructions.

The exchange tickets for the concert were distributed to the members at the close of the practice, and can now be had, giving patrons the privilege of choosing seats on 1st April, one day ahead of the general three-day booking period. It is suggested that these tickets — $1.00 and 75c—be purchased as soon as possible, and allow the executive of the choir having the seat sale practically taken up early on the 1st of April, or on the Saturday. There is not a doubt regarding a bumper house—when the citizens consider the music to be presented by the choir and the reputation of the artistes, Miss Pearl Newton, elocutionist, and Boris Hambourg, 'cellist, there is sure to be a Grand Opera House with every seat occupied.

CONVICTED, HE TURNS KING'S EVIDENCE NOW

DENTON GARFIELD RECITES STORY OF MURDER AT TRIAL OF HIS BROTHER.

A DRAMATIC SCENE

WOODSTOCK, March 10. — (Canadian Press.) — A dramatic scene was enacted this morning in the court here when Denton Garfield turned King's evidence against his brother, whose trial on the charge of murdering Benjamin Johnston, Woodstock confectioner, on January 20 was commenced before Justice Kelly. Shortly before eleven Norman Garfield was placed in the dock and pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder.

Denton Garfield was the first witness and after receiving a slight smile from his brother in the dock, he proceeded, without any apparent emotion, to tell how he and his brother had stolen a car in London, went to their rooms in the same city, secured guns and then motored to Woodstock. Denton then recited the story of the tragedy, substantially the same as the evidence he gave yesterday in the confession.

Crown Prosecutor Ball opened the trial by reviewing the murder, practically in the same manner as yesterday. The mother and wife of Norman Garfield are again in court to-day.

HON. MR. BIGGS GAVE LOCAL DEPUTATION A FAVOURABLE HEARING.

A petition that the road between Lindsay and Peterboro be made a provincial highway was presented to the Hon. Mr. Biggs yesterday by a deputation from the two municipalities. Peterboro was represented by Mayor McIntyre and Aldermen Whitehouse and Jones. The Minister of Highways reminded the deputation that the province was now committed to a comprehensive road building scheme including the completion of the highway from Port Hope to Peterboro. He promised to give the request for the continuation of the phovincial highway to Lindsay every consideration, but could not say when it would be assumed by the Department. Mr T. Tooms and Mr. E. McDonald of West and East Peterboro joined the deputation in Toronto.

BIG FARM SALE, STOCK AND IMPLEMENTS

R. C. GRANDY, OF CAVAN, WILL HAVE A BIG CLEAN-UP SALE ON TUESDAY, MARCH 22ND—HAS SOLD HIS FARM.

Probably the largest auction sale of farm stock and implements held in this district in some years will take place on the farm of Mr. R. C. Grandy, Lot 20, Con. 10, Cavan, one mile west of Springville, on Tuesday, March 22nd.

The stock includes pure-bred Clydesdales, and in all 11 horses will be sold. Pure-bred cattle, shorthorns and 5 Durham cows, together with other cattle, a total of 17 head will be sold.

All the poultry is pure-bred. In the sheep and hogs, 6 Shropshire sheep and 5 store hogs will be sold. The most complete list of implements to be found on an up-to-date farm, together with vehicles and harness, is also to be auctioned off.

The hay, oats and roots are also included in the list.

The sale commences at 1 o'clock sharp, on Tuesday, March 22nd, and the morning train from the east will be met at Kendry, together with the noon train from the west, which will be met at Cavan, and take prospective buyers to the sale.

Mr. Grandy has sold his farm, and it is a real clean-up sale. Large posters, giving particulars of the biggest farm implement and stock list of any sale in this district for some time are out, and anyone in need of farm stock or implements will do well to take in this sale.

MOTOR SHOW HERE STILL HANGS FIRE

MEETING OF HEALTH ASSOCIATION AND RED CROSS ADVISORY BOARD CONSIDERED IT YESTERDAY.

MUST NOT BE DROPPED

At a meeting of the Peterborough Health Association held yesterday afternoon, at which members of the Advisory Board of the Red Cross Society and representatives of the local motor car dealers were asked to attend for the purpose of conferring regarding the holding of a Motor Show, the following were present: Mrs. Jas. Kendry, Mrs. B. Gardiner, Mrs. J. A. Aylmer, Mrs. A. E. Coulthard, Mrs. A. W. Turner, Miss Archer, Rev. C. J. Phelan, Dr. G. S. Cameron and Messrs. G. Macdonald, G. O. Cameron, A. Brown, H. Rush, Jos. J. Duffus, E. J. H. Vanston, R. H. Turner, G. H. Thompson and G. A. Campbell.

Mr. Macdonald expressed himself as in favor of holding the Motor Show under the same management as heretofore, and the automobile dealers present were called upon for opinions. Mr. Duffus was not very favorable to the project, remarking that it entailed considerable expenditure and the necessity of maintaining a double staff of assistants, but would not commit himself with regard to the opinion of other motor dealers in the city. Mr. Brown concurred with Mr. Duffus in his statement, saying that the show was not of great financial benefit to the motor dealers, but as it was held for such a good cause he would be willing to co-operate in any manner possible.

The opinions of other members of the deputation being solicited, Mr. R. H. Turner said he would regard it as a black eye for Peterborough if the Motor Show were allowed to drop out of existence; Mr. G. O. Cameron promised to do everything possible to encourage the welfare of the city, which he considered was not regarded as much as it deserved in Peterborough, and Mr. Vanston, while personally willing to assist in any way, considered it important to get the views of the motor dealers of the city in this regard, they being the principal factors in the successful carrying-out of the Motor Show. Mr. G. H. Thompsin and Mr. Macdonald both agreed with this view, and Mr. A. Brown promised to arrange a meeting for to-morrow morning and ascertain the attitude of the dealers in the matter, results to be reported to Mr. G. H. Thompson, Secretary of the Advisory Board of the Red Cross Society.

Some discussion arose over the date of the Motor Show, Mr. Duffus advocating an early date and Mr. Brown remarking that in such case the Armories building would be too cold for the purpose and the roads would be in bad condition for driving the cars from the factories.

Health Association.

The meeting of the Health Association was then proceeded with, the principal business of which was the election of officers for the coming year, which finally resulted as follows:

President—Rev. C. J. Phelan.
1st Vice-President—Mr. W. R. Breyfogle.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. A. E. Coulthard.
Treasurer—Mr. G. A. Campbell.
Secretary—Dr. G. S. Cameron.
Chairman Finance Committee — Mr. E. J. H. Vanston.
Chairman Nurses' Supervision Committee—Mrs. Jas. Kendry.

Rev. Father Phelan recommended that the meetings of the society be held oftener than once a year, predicting better results from more frequent gatherings, and it was decided to hold general meetings every three months, the next to take place on the first Tuesday in June, and Executive meetings will take place once a month hereafter.

REVIVAL — CHURCH OF GOD MISSION.

Rev. George P. Tasker, for several years missionary to India, who is now spending a few months in this country on furlough, gave a splendid discourse at the Mission last night on the subject, "Primitive Christianity and Christianity To-day." Going back to the primitive Christians, Mr. Tasker said that while there were some things about them which we might not care to emulate, there was also that real sense of God with them and in them which inspired their hearts and made them such living witnesses for Him. This, Mr. Tasker declared, is the great need to-day: Christ in the believer, not historically but as a vital power energizing and controlling his whole life and conduct. A present Christ, a real Christ, whom some of them had seen and with whom they had associated, and who when he was taken away from them in person sent His Spirit to be in them, still so real was what made the early Christians so fruitful for God. To-night Mr. Tasker has announced as his subject: "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ in Christian Experience."

C.M.A. Opposed to General Election, Says McKinnon

J. S. McKINNON,

President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who declared at the banquet to the visiting C.M.A. delegates here last night that the Association was opposed to a general election.

AT BANQUET LAST NIGHT PRESIDENT OF C.M.A. DECLARED THE CANADIAN TARIFF NOT AN EXCESSIVE ONE.

WANT END OF GROUPS

Through cooperation, and cooperation alone, backed by an optimistic spirit, can the Canadian Manufacturers do their part in bringing about the desired trade stability, was the one thought President J. S. McKinnon of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, wished to leave with the Peterboro branch last night at the dinner tendered the touring party of C.M.A. members now concluding their East Ontario itinerary. President McKinnon headed the party of twenty-two which reached Peterboro on the 5:35 train after visiting Brockville, Kingston and Belleville, and which leaves to-day for Oshawa, the last town to be visited.

A Presentation.

The C. M. A. party was met at the station by representatives of the Peterboro branch, and at seven-thirty o'clock some sixty men sat down to dinner.

Toasts, excepting to the King and chairman, Mr. W. A. Richardson, of the local branch, were dispensed with for the occasion, and Mr. Richardson spoke briefly, introducing the President. He welcomed the visitors to Peterboro and commended the value of membership in the C.M.A. Mr. Richardson, on behalf of the Peterboro branch, presented Mr. McKinnon, with a large key inscribed on one side, "Welcome," the other side, "Peterborough," a handsome example of the work turned out by the Peterboro Lock Co.

"It is not the key to the city of Peterborough—it is the key to the industries of Peterborough, which are an important part of Peterborough," said Mr. Richardson in making the presentation.

Mr. McKinnon's Reply.

"I can assure you this memento is appreciated more than I can tell," President McKinnon said in reply. "It will be a delightful remembrance of a pleasant evening spent in Peterborough." In passing, Mr. McKinnon congratulated the Peterborough branch on its membership of one hundred per cent, which was only equalled in Canada by Medicine Hat.

Not in Politics.

"The C.M.A. is not in politics, but as business men we are intensely interested in the growth of Canada and the industries of the country," he said in opening an address of exceeding interest. "During the past months we all realize the stagnation that has taken place in business, due to causes over which we had no control. We are not through the difficulties yet, but all are hoping for the best. Business conditions were never more difficult than at the present time but many optimistic notes are heard and we all look forward with confidence.

Poignant Memories.

We want no unnecessary difficulties placed in our way. We remember the Board of Commerce—the Luxury Tax—which fartunately have been done away with. We realize the war must be paid for but it must be upon a just and equitable basis. We are in Canada going through what might be termed an experimental period. Remember, the C. M. A. is not in politics, but, as mentioned, we are bound up with this country. The manufacturers have at stake 3 1-2 billions of dollars and what we desire is stability during the next eighteen months or two years. I said a few minutes ago we are going through an experimental stage. At one time we had in Canada two old-line parties. One in favour of high taxation for Canadian industries; the other in favour (in theory) of a low tariff. In practice they were about the same. We now find the Federal House split wtih a number of groups, with the possibility of still more groups putting in their appearance.

The Outlook.

"What is the outlook for the future? Does the outlook tend to stability?" he asked. "In the face of the present business conditions, I ask you, gentlemen, if you want to

ALTERATIONS TO BUILDING

BANK OF TORONTO AND LeBRUN PROPERTIES TO BE RECONSTRUCTED—CONTRACT LET.

TO TAKE SIX MONTHS

The general contract for the reconstruction of the Bank of Toronto and H. LeBrun Company properties on the corner of Hunter and George street, has been let to Messrs. Archibald Holmes, of Toronto. The plans include the retention of the present bank building and the inclusion of that part of the H. LeBrun property which lies directly behind it on Hunter street, to form new offices for the Bank of Toronto, and the re-shaping of the LeBrun property on George street as a store building, which means that practically the whole building will be reconstructed, to give the Bank of Toronto just about double the space that it now occupies.

The front and side will be of grey stone, with trim of blue limestone, and there will still be a corner entrance to the Bank, with doors on both the Hunter and George street sides

The interior will give much better accommodation for customers, and larger offices for the manager and staff. The present vault will be removed entirely, and two vaults built in, one for securities, and one for books. The Bank of Toronto, which opened in Peterboro in 1856, has occupied its present quarters for the last thirty years.

The contractors expect to start operations about April 15th, and anticipate completion in the space of six or seven months. The bank will be accommodated temporarily in the Peterboro Club, in the same offices occupied by the Dominion Bank at the time of the Neill fire.

AN ELECTION NOW OPPOSED BY INDUSTRY

J. S. M'KINNON, PRESIDENT OF CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION, CRITICIZES GROUP SYSTEM.

NOT IN POLITICS

Twenty-two members of the Ontario Section of the Canadian Manufacturers Association were the guests last evening of the Peterboro branch of the C.M.A., Mr. W. A. Richardson, chairman of the local branch presented the visitors with a large engraved key which he aptly described as the "key to the situation". Chief among the visitors was Mr. J. S. McKinnon, President of the Canadian Manufacturers Association. For the benefit of those who receive the noon edicion of the Examiner a summary of Mr. McKinnon's speech is given below. A complete report of the meeting will appear in the regular afternoon issue.

Not in Politics.

In his opening remarks Mr. McKinnon said the Canadian manufacturers were not in politics but as business men they were intensely interested in the development of Canada.

Referring to the period of stagnation through which the country is passing, the speaker said "we are not through our difficulties yet but are looking forward o the future with confidence The manufacturers of this country have at stake three and a half billion dollars. What we want during the next eighteen months is stability.

We remember the Board of Commerce and the luxury tax, continued Mr. McKinnon, fortunately both are done away with. Formerly we had two political parties in Canada. One represented high tariff and the other low tariff. Theoretically both were the same. Now we have the untried group system. In face of the general unstability we do not want to see the country committed to a general election The speaker said the tariff was not excessive when compared with other countries. He predicted less talk of free trade in the future The pendulum which once was swinging toward free trade is now back.

"We are living in an industrial age, said Mr. McKinnon. Labour and the industries themselves are equally important. The exchange rate with the United States is out of all proportion. We want to do business with the United States but it should be done on a dollar for dollar basis.

The purposes of these tours are to bring the members of the Association together, to study industrial conditions in each of the cities visited, to meet customers, and to exchange views and information in regard to manufacturing.

The deputation visited a number of the local factories this morning

KAPUSKASING LEGISLATION IS EXPLAINED

WILL BE MODEL TOWN FOR NORTH COUNTRY AND PROVINCE WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO LOSS, SAYS DRURY.

BUDGET DEBATE DRAGS

TORONTO, March 10. — (Canadian Press.) — Premier Drury in the Legislature yesterday gave an explanation of his bill to incorporate the town of Kapuskasing, and to ratify the agreement entered into by the Government with the Spruce Falls Company.

The government, he explained, has decided that they would not authorize the creation of a company town and consequently brought down the present legislation for the incorporation of Kapuskasing. The new town would have its bonds guaranteed by the government up to two hundred thousand dollars for local improvements and four hundred thousand for housing purposes. It was hoped that the new town would serve as a model town for the North Country.

The location of the town has been criticized. The Dominion Government Experimental Farm property might have afforded a better site,but the Ottawa authorities could not be brought to time and the idea had to be abandoned. However, the site finally selected on the peninsula jutting out into the river, might, perhaps, turn out to be a better one after all. It had an area of 2100 acres and its location made it particularly safe from fire. It would comfortably house three thousand people, and provision had been made for future developments. The whole proposal was in the nature of an experiment which the Premier thought would turn out successfully. In any event the government would not be liable for any loss. They held among other things a first mortgage on the Spruce Falls Company's assets.

The debate on the budget continues to drag along. It was resumed at last night's sitting and the contributors were Major A. W. Gray (Conseral), Sturgeon Falls; and Rev. Edgar Watson, (Liberal), of North Victoria. The Premier and two Opposition leaders are, it is understood, the only three left who will speak, so that the end of a long drawn out discussion is at last in sight.

Movement Against Embargo is Taken Into the Commons

HON. RUDOLPH LEMIEUX INTRODUCES RESOLUTION TO HAVE GOVERNMENT TRY TO HAVE CATTLE EMBARGO RAISED—PRIME MINISTER QUIBBLES.

OPPOSITION RAISED

OTTAWA, March 10.—(Canadian Press.)— The British embargo on Canadian cattle and the translation of French speeches in the House of Commons into English were the two items which held attention in the House yesterday. The cattle embargo question provided an interesting discussion, W. Smith (South Ontario) fathered a resolution which favored no change from present conditions. At the same time there was a resolution on the order paper in the name of Hon. R. Lemieux, urging the government to use all its efforts to have the embargo removed.

Mr. Smith claimed that it would be of infinitely greater benefit to the cattle raising industry and Canadian labor if the embargo remained in force and the government built an abbattoir at Halifax, where the cattle could be slaughtered and the carcasses chilled for shipment.

Several members opposed the maintenance of the embargo on the ground that it placed an undeserved stigma on Canadian cattle which had been given a clean bill of health.

I. B. Pedlow (South Renfrew), moved an amendment declaring "that if government of Canada should make a strong protest against the reason assigned by the government of Great Britain that Canadian cattle are diseased, as an excuse for placing an embargo on live cattle going into the United Kingdom.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, regretted that the matter had been taken up in the way it had by certain men from Canada. He believed they were seriously endangering the chances of getting the embargo removed.

Th Prime Minister further reminded the House that there had been to effect. Mr. Pedlow's amendment ment since the embargo was put into effct. Mr. Pedlow's amendment gave the impression such had not been the case. Canada rested her case on the promise given to Sir Robert Borden in 1917 that the embargo would be removed at the end of the war. The Prime Minister thought it was not proper for the House to launch a propaganda campaign against the policy followed by the British government.

Denton Garfield Is Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

CHARGE OF MURDERING BEN JOHNSON AT WOODSTOCK REDUCED TO MANSLAUGHTER —SENTENCE LATER.

CONFESSED FIRST

WOODSTOCK, March 10.—(Canadian Press—Denton Garfield of Toronto, charged jointly with his brother Norman of having murdered Bernard Johnston on January 20, while robbing his place of business in this city was placed on trial before Justice Kelly, it having been decided to try the two prisoners separately in view of the confession made by Denton Garfield.

In a statement he said his brother Norman was guilty of shooting Johnston Denton claimed to be in another part of the store when the shot was fired.

The Jury at 1.40 o'clock this morning found Denton Garfield guilty, reducing the charge to manslaughter. Justice Kelly will sentence the prisoner later.

CAMPBELLFORD GIRL INJURED IN TORNTO

CAMPBELLFORD, March. 10.—Miss Sarah Nevins while in Toronto attending the funeral of the late W. H Hawley fell from a street car and fractured her leg. She was removed to the hospital and is reported to be resting comfortably.

TRIPLET CALVES BORN TO DURHAM COW

SPRINGHILL MINES, N. S., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—A Durham cow with a good family tree, belonging to Rupert S. Boss, dairyman and milk dealer of Rodney, has given birth to triplets, and agricultural circles in this neighborhood are quite excited over the event. All three calves are doing well and the experts are of the opinion that they will live to a ripe old age.

Mr. Boss intends to rear the calves for breeding purposes. The question which veterinaries raise is, will the three young heifers repeat and follow their mother's example in a practical demonstration against race suicide.

The calves' sire, whom they will never see, was the Holstein bull, Marsence Poche Canary. He was turned into beef several months ago.

Bread with Raisins is a Better Food

Forget, for a moment, the delicious flavor of raisin bread and think of its value as a food.

Raisins furnish 1560 units of energizing nutriment per pound, as well as natural iron which brings the rose tint to women's and children's cheeks.

The raisin's pure fruit sugar is in practically predigested form, so it is almost immediately assimilated. This fruit-food value added to the nourishment of wheat, forms an almost ideal food.

Send 'round the corner or telephone to your grocer or bake shop for a loaf of Sun-Maid Raisin Bread or bake a loaf at home according to the recipe at the right.

The raisin flavor permeates the bread. Try the bread plain, with or without butter. Learn what delicious toast it makes. Serve at least twice a week to break the monotony of plain bread.

Every first-class baker sells Sun-Maid Raisin Bread

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins in all your cooking, for they are the finest grown. Made from tender, juicy, thin-skinned California table grapes.

Packed in an immaculate plant in California. Clean, sweet, wholesome American raisins—the kind you know are good.

Three varieties: Sun-Maid seeded (seeds removed); Sun-Maid seedless (grown without seeds); Sun-Maid Clusters (on the stem). All dealers. Insist upon the Sun-Maid brand.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

By a vote of 93 to 10 the Peterborough Board of Trade has expressed its approval of daylight saving for Peterborough from May 1st to October 1st, and the City Council will be asked to adopt the system locally for the period named. Last year, to the regret of many citizens and in the face of a census taken by the manufacturers that showed a strong majority in favour of the new time, the Council declined to put the daylight saving system into effect in Peterborough. Dr. McPherson in his address to the Board of Trade the other night declared that those who objected to daylight saving were no friends of the people who had to work in factories, stores and offices, and that opinion will be shared by many other citizens The extra hour of daylight at the end of the working daf provides an opportunity for recreation for the workers—an opportunity that is considerably restricted under standard time. There are minor inconveniences in connection with the operation of daylight saving, but they fade into insignificance alongside the benefits that are derived from the system. It is to be hoped that this year's Council will deal more kindly with the request than did last year's aldermen.

THE NEED OF ECONOMY.

If the chairmen of the various committees of the City Council and their fellow members need any warning as to the necessity of exercising rigid economy in their carrying out of civic business during the present year they will find it in the fact that the spread between the estimated expenditure and the revenue that can be raised by the 36.3 mills rate decided upon by the Council is approximately only $50. The prospects of an over-draft at the end of the year is therefore too likely to be ignored. The various civic departments must confine their expenditures rigidly within the estimates if an overdraft of a half mill or so is not to be handed over to next year's Council. The time to practise economy is now and not in the last few weeks of the year, and each chairman should make up his mind that so far as his committee is concerned its work shall be kept within the limits. City Councils are usually troubled with a surplus of economical ideas during the week or two in which the rate is being considered and with an utter disregard of any saving methods during the balance of the year. But the fear of an over-draft—which can only be avoided by a conscientious effort on the part of the Council not to exceed their appropriations—should be sufficient to make the local aldermen resolve that economy shall be the watchward in civic circles in 1921.

THE STRIKE WEAPON.

A measure has been introduced in the Quebec Legislature to prevent strikes among municipal employees, especially in the fire and police departments and among the employees of the waterworks department. There will be a large measure of popular approval behind this bill, which is designed, of course, to prevent a reflection of the Winnipeg strike and to protect the public against the danger of public utilities being demoralized as a result of disagreements between municipalities and their employees. It is singular that this legislation should have originated in Quebec, which of all the Provinces is perhaps the most free from labour troubles, but that does not, of course, detract from the principle of the measure, which will impress the fair-minded citizen as logical and just. The public should not be at the mercy of the civic employees; if there are grievances among the police or the firemen or others in the public service adequate machinery should be provided for investigating the complaints and remedying the conditions if found desirable. But the strike weapon should be taken from the hands of all public servants; a whole community should not be demoralized because of some trivial misunderstanding that could be and should be easily adjusted without a disruption of the whole system of public utilities.

A MINIMUM WAGE.

The discussion in Toronto over the question of a minimum wage for labourers on city work is of general interest, for the same situation is likely to arise in other Ontario cities. The labour organizations have asked the Council to fix a minimum wage of 60c per hour in all civic contracts. On the other hand representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Board of Trade and the Builders' Exchange declare that such a rate is too high in view of the present depression and that the decision of the City of Toronto to fix a 60c-an-hour rate would have its reflection upon every industry in the city. Undoubtedly there are many factors entering into the situation that should be carefully considered before a final decision is reached. Many of the Canadian industries are suffering from the effects of the present unhealthy condition of trade; they are working only part time in many cases, and some of them are keeping their plants running to provide work for their employees. To fix a rate for city work that is considerably higher than many private firms are able to pay and meet the competition of manufacturers in other countries might be a handicap that would add to the unemployment crisis. There are some cases where half a loaf is better than no bread.

QUEBEC'S POLITICAL STATUS.

The more examination is made into the settled convictions of the people of the Province of Quebec the more is it apparent that the vast majority of the French-Canadians have the sane, moderate and conservative opinions which could be expected of them, but which, unfortunately, for some years were not heard to the extent they might have been by the other Provinces because of a small but noisy minority of reactionaries. But "Great is the Truth and it will Prevail." If people would only take trouble to study Quebec a little more they would see how the characteristics of French-Canadians make them opposed to anything which leads to the upsetting of law and order and the peace, prosperity and progress of the country. They are essentially a conservative race, in the meaning that while ready to adopt changes they will not do so till they are satisfied of their wisdom.

A very good instance of the truth of this is contained in the following words of L'Evenement:

"'I was born, and I hope to die, a British subject,' declared Sir Charles Fitzpatrick before an assembly of eminent business men who had come from all parts of the country to study present-day problems of trade and commerce. We hope that the generations of French-Canadians who live after us will enjoy the same large measure of national, religious and political liverty which has been our strength and pride. And it is because that future of peace, prosperity and expansion would be compromised by any change in our political status that we fear the inflamed appeals of the Utopian visionaries and Anglophobes are likely to conduct our people towards aims that are vague and dangerous."

These words are worth studying; and the more so because they show that French-Canadians are fully aware of where the few clever but absolutely ill-informed and mischievious agitators would lead them. In time the mighty power of the French-Canadian common sense will put a quietus upon the remaining few agitators.—Kingston Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our apologies are due to Major G. C. Power, M.P. of Quebec, whose name was twisted around in an editorial in these columns yesterday to read "Poiner." The printer probably thought the later name sounded more like Quebec.

The Provincial Government must be promoting inquiries and appointing commissions as a method of dealing with the unemployment situation.

About all the Dunnville inquiry has accomplished so far is to show that some prominent citizens of that town have taken no chances of a "dry" spell. And an official investigation was hardly necessary to prove that fact.

The Legislature seems to have more time to discuss what newspapers and individuals say about the members than they have to carry on public business.

SUBWAY BENEATH RAILWAY TRACKS?

BELLEVILLE, March 10.—The re-opening of Frank Street across the G. T. R. tracks is a vexed question with the City Council this year. It has now, however, taken the shape of a proposal for a subway beneath the tracks, and Superintendent McMillan of the G. T. R. has asked for a conference with a committee of the Council.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

As the number of our contribs has increased, the number of rejections has increased proportionally. The disposition of these had become such a problem that we finally put an order through the business office for the purchase of a goat.

The goat which we managed to secure is a most intelligent and intellectual animal, and we at once christened it Hellene, a name which conjures in our imagination pictures of bobbed hair, horn-rimmed spectacles, and other appurtenances of feminine intellectualism.

Hellene will be fed upon the morsels of wit which are too bright for our gloomy column. Anything which she refuses to masticate will have to go into the column, but anything which she signifies her intention of desiring she will get.

Whereupon we suppose someone will remark upon our meekness, docility, and potential domesticity. Wes, we admit that we would make an ideal husband, admit it frankly, and have done so before. But we still pay a poll tax. Such is the contrariness of woman.

Hellene will be hitched to the interrogation point of our typewriter, which, as we use it frequently, should provide her with plenty of exercise. Exercise is necessary even to intellectual goats, we understand, although many human intellectuals do not seem to think so.

Hellene has been on the job only one day, but already has shown abnormal adaptability to her new surroundings, and the signs of intelligence and a sense of humour. In fact, she is a glutton as far as humour is concerned, and gulps down every bit of it in the morning mail, almost without chewing it.

Which is just what we desired, for we hate to think that we are the means of making any one laugh or feel in better spirits than we do. Sometimes we have had to introduce humour into the column when we could not manufacture sufficient gloom. Now Hellene will see that nothing frivolous or foolish passes us.

Thus, you see, jokes when they die go to Hellene.

There is a bond of sympathy developing between Hellene and ourself. We seem to understand Hellene and Hellene seems to understand us. Which is as it should be, and as it should be expected to be, for in our experience we have acted the part of the goat quite frequently.

We have asked Hellene to communicate some of her thoughts upon what she has digested to us, and allow us to use them. But Hellene is modest and refused to do so. We fear she will be peeved when she sees the proof of to-day's column. However, we may be able to give you some communications from Hellene soon.

Police Broke Up "Prep." Fraternity Initiation.

STAMFORD, Conn., March 10.—The local police broke up a "prep" school fraternity initiation here recently, when they escorted Jerome A. Kaufman of 210 West Ninetieth Street, New York, and Mairo Villalba of Havana, Cuba, students at the Massee School, to police headquarters and forced them to discard female attire they had on over their street clothes.

The boys were masquerading as girls with two other Massee students. Edward M. Hirschler of Norfolk, Va., and Alfred Fears of Jonesboro, Ark., as their escorts. The "girls" wore evening attire and one had on a "Harding blue" hat.

SOCIETY WOMAN IN POLICE COURT.

Neighbors Complain That Her Musicales Are Noisy.

NEW YORK, March 9. — Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, sister-in-law of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, is to answer in the Police Court a charge of disorderly conduct laid by Francis Newton(who occupies an apartment beneath the studio in which Mrs. Wilson and her guests enjoyed frequent musical evenings.

Mrs. Wilson is fond of music and at most of her entertainments has had prominent singers and musicians entertain her guests. Mr. Newton and Childe Hassam, the artist, fellow tenants, have objected to the sound of 'cello and violin after midnight. Mr. Hassam, in particular, has been upset about Mrs. Wilson's musical inclinations, and on several occasions has either sent or caused to be sent by an officer of the co-operative association which owns the apartment, notes asking Mrs. Wilson not to do it again.

On Sunday these complaints reached a climax, when in the midst of a musicale attended by prominent social people, two policemen put in an appearance and insisted on the musicians restraining their fervour.

After the constables left, however, and subsequently, it seems, the nuisance complained of was and has been renewed, and now Mrs. Wilson is indignant at being summoned to the Court. She says some one was peevish, and thinks it hardly seemed necessary to drag her into the Police Court when effective protest could have been otherwise made.

BACK TO WILD AND WOOLY DAYS.

Threatened by Moderation League in B. C.

STANLEY, B. C., March 10. — Canadian Press).—The Cariboo Observer carries the report of a Moderation League meeting recently and records the passing of a resolution reminiscent of the wild and woolly West as described by Mark Twain and Bret Harte. Asserting that the prohibition movement is a campaign promoted by "puritanical sectarians" against the liberties of the individual, the resolution urger a counter-attack by developing the idea that church property be not exempt from taxation. If that proves ineffective, it goes one, an amusement tax should be paid for admission to any place of public worship, on the grounds that "until the privileges of the clergy be in question respect for the liberty of the layman will never obtain."

The anti-prohibition forces explain the necessity for aggressive action by declaring that they are in general agreement with the contention of Caesar in his commentaries, "O.K.'d by Napoleon and U.S. Grant" that no position is defensible from which an attack cannot be launched.

The Situation

Shall the importation and the bringing of intoxicating liquors into the province be forbidden?

1. Nearly all the provinces of the Dominion have voted against the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.
2. Five of the provinces have already applied through their legislatures for Dominion legislation prohibiting importation. Federal legislation was granted, subject to referendum.
3. Four provinces have already held such a referendum and carried prohibition of importation.
4. Ontario will vote on this question April 18.
5. Absolute control of the distribution of liquor within the province will rest with the people, if the majority vote "Yes" on April 18.

SECRET HISTORY WILSON REGIME.

Will Shortly Be Revealed to the World.

WASHINGTON, March 9. — The book of reminiscences written by Robert Lansing, former Secretary of State, will be published this month, and will probably be followed by other contributions to recent history by men who served under former President Wilson. And with the ending of the Wilson administration it is expected that considerable of the hidden history of that eight-year period which closed March 4th will be made public.

Ray Stannard Baker, who was in charge of the press section of the American Peace Commission at the Paris Conference, is in Washington collecting material for a book that will reflect the Wilson side of the happenings at Paris and the subsequent battle between the White House and the Senate over the treaty of Versailles. Apparentely it was the intention of Mr. Wilson to undertake the writing of the story of this phase of his career, but for some reason Mr. Baker was chosen to be the historian or found a sympathetic response from Mr. Wilson to the suggestion that he present to the world the Wilson views of the whole peace period.

Mr. Baker's historical account of the peace episode is understood here to be intended as an answer to criticisms that the ex-President's friends expect to see in Mr. Lansing's forthcoming book. One bit of history that seems to have been unwritten hitherto—and its immediate writing in book form is not contemplated—concerns the manner in which the Government was conducted during the critical stage of Mr. Wilson's illness. His life was despaired of for a time and it was the general belief among those who knew intimately of his condition that he would never be sufficiently strong to perform the duties of his office with his former activity.

Mr. Wilson was unconscious for days, and at one time consideration was given to the question of asking Vice-President Marshall to assume the office of Acting President. The full story of this period of anxiety and depression will, it is said, shortly be told.

INCREASE IN LABOR TROUBLES.

Worst Year in History of Great Britain.

LONDON, March 8.—(Canadian Press).—There was a greater number of labor disputes, causing stoppages of work, in Great Britain in 1920 than in any previous year in the country's history, according to an official report which has just been issued through the Labor Gazette.

No less than 1,715 labor disputes began in 1920. The total number of workpeople involved in these disputes (including those thrown out of work at the establishments where the disputes occurred) was about 1,930,000 and a further 90,000 were involved in disputes in progress in 1920 which began in 1919. The aggregate loss of working days in all disputes in 1920 was about 27,000,000.

"These totals are smaller than those for 1919," the Gazette explains, "but the number of workpeople invalved is greater than that for any year prior to 1919, and the aggregate loss of working time shown is greater than in any year year except 1912 and 1919."

Wage increase accorded to 7,600,000 workers in 1920 amounted to 4,693,000 pounds per week—a record for 1919 the corresponding figures were 6,160,000 workers and 2,432,000 pounds.

In 1918 some 6,500,000 workpeople received increases amounting to about 3,200,000. In this connection the Gazette remarks.

"The increase in numbers in 1920 as compared with 1918 is partly accounted for by the rise in the numbers employe d in various industries as a result of demobilization and by the fact that, owing to the improvement in the numerical strength of the workers' organizations, larger numbers are affected by the changes in wages negotiated by suvh organizations, which from the great bulk of the changes recorded by the Ministry of Labor. But, even when due allowance has ben made for these two factors, it is evident, from the great rise in the aggregate amount of increase recorded, that 1920 was a year of unprecedented advance in money rates of wages. It should be observed, however, that owing to the serious decline in employment in the closing months of the year actual weekly earnings in many industries were considerably lower at the end of 1920 than at the beginning of the year."

Following on the large reduction in 1919 in the hours of the working week, there was a further fall of 2,085,000 hours in 1920, the changes affecting 560,000 workpeople whose recoginzed full-time working week was reduced by an average of 3.7 hours. No outstanding reductions resulted by the adoption of a 44-hour week in the building trades in those districts in which it was not already in force, and of a 48-hour week for the workpeople in the wholesale clothing industry.

NEARLY CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

No rest day or night for those who are afflicted with that terrible skin disease, eczema, or as it is often called, salt rheum.

With its unbearable burning, itching and torturing, relief is gladly welcomed.

There is no remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters for giving relief to such sufferers; no remedy that has done, or can do more for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Apply it externally and it takes out the stinging, itching and burning, and proomtes a healthy healing.

Take it internally and it gets at the source of the disease in the blood,—for eczema is a blood disease—and drives it out of the system.

Miss L. M. Boutilier, 89 Victoria Ioad, Halifax, N.S., writes:—"I have suffered for years from eczema. I could not rest day or night. I suffered great agony, and was nearly crazy with the itching and burning. I used all kinds of salves, but nothing seemed to help me. I saw Burdlock Blood Bitters advertised, and was advised to try a bottle. I found great relief, and I really cannot recommend it highly enough for what it has done for me."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The funeral took place at Wimbledon, near London, England, of Mrs. E. A. Finn, aged 97, a Zionist, whose husband was British Consul in Jerusalem in 1845.

THE OTTAWA MINT USEFUL IN WAR.

LONDON, March 9 (Canadian Press).—In a paper on "The Mint and Precious Metals of Canada," read before the Royal Statistical Society, J. Bonar, LL.D., lately Deputy Master of the Ottawa Mint, said that although the Ottawa Mint was originally expected to do little but turn out small change, it had proved unexpectedly useful during the war. The Bank of England sent South African gold to Ottawa to be turned into fine bars, which were sent to Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan at New York, to pay British debts. Gold from South America and Borneo worth £72,000,000 at the mint price, was treated in the same way, the dangers of transmission to London being thus avoided.

The mint also turned out 11,389 dial sights, and 20,198 brackets of eye pieces for large guns, and supplied 6,000,000 shilling blanks when the home mint was hard pressed.

William Tait, a laborer, was fined $25 at Jedburgh Court, England, for hanging a dog to a tree and leaving it there till it died.

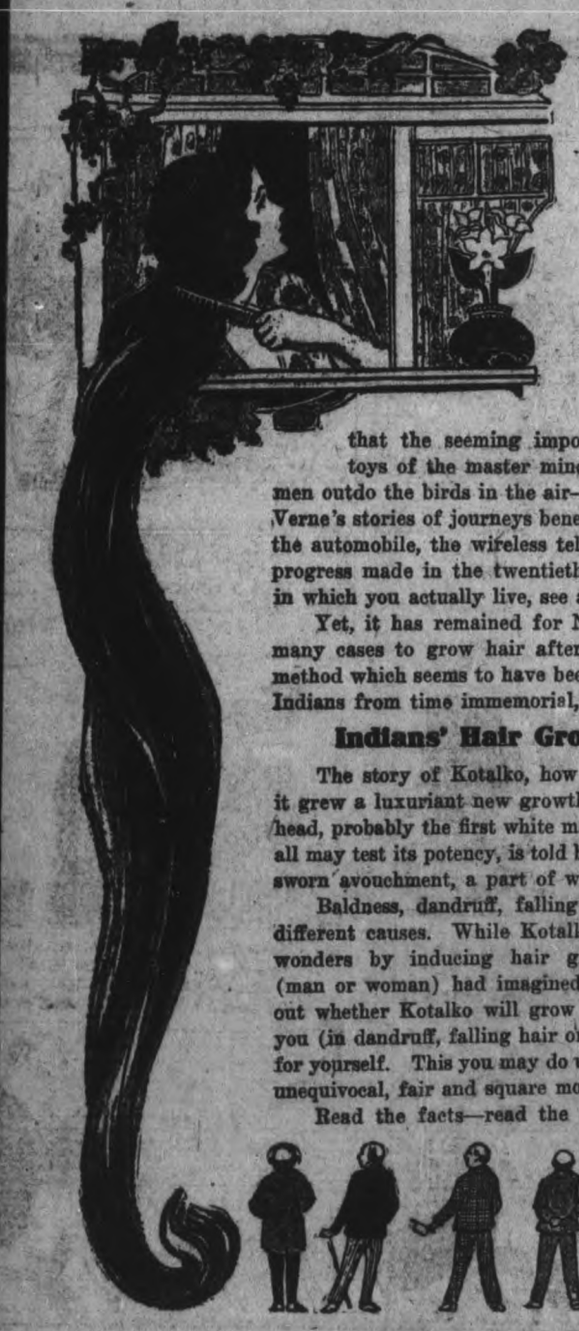
HAS SECRET OF AGES BEEN UNEARTHED AT LAST?

Unquestionable Affidavits show New Hair Growth after Baldness!

Remarkable Preparation was Known to Indians—How Long?—No white Man seems to Know! Contains genuine Bear Oil and other Potent Ingredients from Three Kingdoms of Nature



FOR ages man has sought the secret of growing hair on human heads after it had fallen out from one cause or another. Many theories have been advanced as to the best means for preserving the hair, for increasing its growth, and for the prevention of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. Yet scientists have come and gone, leaving behind them the task of solving one of Nature's greatest problems.

Has it at last been solved?

Has Nature herself opened her portals to the wonderful secret? Your own observation in recent years proves that the seeming impossibilities of yesterday are but mere toys of the master minds of today. The aeroplane, in which men outdo the birds in the air—the submarine, which has made Jules Verne's stories of journeys beneath the sea come true. The telephone, the automobile, the wireless telegraph, all go to show the marvelous progress made in the twentieth century—that history-making period in which you actually live, see and understand.

Yet, it has remained for Nature herself to show us the way in many cases to grow hair after baldness. And this simple, natural method which seems to have been known to certain tribes of American Indians from time immemorial, can now be yours.

Indians' Hair Growing Secret Revealed

The story of Kotalko, how the Indians' secret was obtained, how it grew a luxuriant new growth of hair on John Hart Brittain's bald head, probably the first white man to try it, how it is now obtainable so all may test its potency, is told by Mr. Brittain in his own words, under sworn avouchment, a part of which is printed in the next column.

Baldness, dandruff, falling hair and grayness, each have several different causes. While Kotalko cannot create papillae, it has done wonders by inducing hair growth when the baldheaded person (man or woman) had imagined there was no hope. The way to find out whether Kotalko will grow hair in your case or otherwise benefit you (in dandruff, falling hair or grayness) is to make a test of Kotalko for yourself. This you may do under the $300 guarantee—an absolutely unequivocal, fair and square money-refunding offer.

Read the facts—read the additional overwhelmingly convincing evidence of the success of Kotalko submitted by men, women and children who have tried this hair elixir. Decide to have new hair, make the test for yourself. Don't stand and doubt. Use Kotalko now!

A Fortunate Discovery

The Cherokee promised that Mr. Brittain's hair might be grown again if he used a certain exiir.

"WHILE traveling on business (in the old Indian territory, near Tahlequah) I came in contact with an Indian 'medicine man' of the Cherokee tribe, who told me that my hair could be grown again if I used a certain peculiar salve.

"If you have had any experience with American Indians you know that every tribe has one or more men who understand healing, surgery, etc., in a primitive way, yet they often achieve astonishing cures. The scope of these 'wizards' also includes the ability to improve the appearance and welfare of their tribesmen.

"Although I had foresworn any more speculation in hair-growing lotions or the like, as probably you, the reader of this narrative, have done several times, already, the picturesqueness of this old Indian sage and the rather peculiar odor of his ointment fascinated me. I agreed to use it."

Applied it to His Scalp

"Faithfully I applied the pomade to my bare, shiny pate. It became even more shiny. That was easy enough to understand. Nevertheless, I persisted.

"Quiet perseverance is a very valuable factor in life sometimes. So it proved in this test, for after a little while a light fuzz, or down, became visible upon my scalp.

"This pleased me. It gave me encouragement.

"Thereafter I watched the top of my head in the mirror as persistently as a scientist observes the development of anything under his microscope.

"Slowly the fuzz changed into real hairs and they actually grew. Yet, they grew and grew.

"It seems almost ridiculous to tell it, but I felt unusually good—I was mighty happy.

"Finally there was enough hair for me to apply my brush upon!

"What joy!

"I could actually part my hair! Think of it! This was after complete baldness and after being told that the hair roots were dead."

No Trace of Baldness

"My hair today is as luxuriant as anyone could ever wish.

"Explain, if you can, why a certain mixture of animal, mineral and vegetable components, compounded in a special manner, can induce hair growth when all else fails.

"Even the old Cherokee could only say that the recipe came to him through his predecessors. He was wont to remark that among the real—the full-blooded—Indians of most of the big tribes there was never any baldness."

Traded Rifle For Secret

"I must now tell a most important fact of my experience—one which will interest you.

"I came into possession of the Cherokee wizard's secret. That of Ko-tal-ko—which I now call Kotalko.

"It contains three potential classes of components—animal, vegetable and mineral. These are combined in certain proportions and compounded in a certain manner. I am neither a chemist, doctor of medicine nor scientific theorist. I don't pretend to give any reason for the peculiar action of this pomade.

"The primitive men of our country did not have the advantage of our modern scientific chemistry. They operated upon elementary principles. For example, if an Indian was given to attacks of billousness, the 'medicine man' made a decoction of selected herbs and surrounded the delivery of it with mysterious incantations. The patient was soon well.

"And so with this hair ointment. It was easy for me to prove to the wizard of the forest that I had no thought of entering into competition with him. Consequently, by the giving of a valuable rifle, I obtained the principle of the compound and was taught just how to prepare it, and since then it has been improved by the processes of practical chemistry."

Victory Over Baldness

"When the old Indian gave me this recipe—with considerable ceremony—he asseverated to me that the most important feature was the combination of the animal, vegetable and mineral elements. He allowed that even his formula could be modified and improved (which has been done), so long as these kingdoms were represented. He gave me specimens of the ingredients that he employed.

"I had given most of the contents of my jars to men who were bald and to ladies who were distressed because of the thinness of their hair. The reports which I received were so convincing that I was positive of having found at last just what the world needed."

NOTE: Although Mr. Brittain for many years kept the secret of his victory over baldness to himself, Kotalko is now obtainable at druggists' everywhere. Or get a proof box, postpaid, with book on hair and many testimonials by sending 10 cents to KotalCompany, Limited, 356-H Adelaide Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Reports in Legions of Cases Now Prove Astonishing Results in Hair Growth Almost Beyond Belief. Voluntary Statements from Men and Women of All Ages Causing Wide-Spread Demand for Kotalko

Above are from Photographs of John Hart Brittain Before using Kotalko, and After

REPORTS: An endless quantity of reports on Kotalko, because they are constantly coming in. Full addresses and sworn avouchments on file at our offices. Here are excerpts:

WILLIAM SHAW: "My looking glass is ample proof that Kotalko will grow hair. I had a bald spot over 12 years that has become covered. I am sure that Kotalko will become the most famous hair preparation in the world."

MISS MARY FERREIRA: "When I began to use Kotalko my hair had nearly all fallen out. Then the hair grew again."

GEO. M. SCHWANK: "Even after the second application of Kotalko I could see a difference, for the hair stopped falling out. When I had used two full boxes my hair growth was as good as ever."

LOUISE A. GRAY: "My head is the surest proof that Kotalko is all that it is claimed to be. After a few months of Kotalko my hair is twice as thick and long as it was."

G. K. SKINNER: "I had bald spots on my head for a number of years, and they are now entirely covered with a new growth of hair. Kotalko is what did it."

C. F. HEISER: "I had a large bald spot. Kotalko has developed real, healthy hair all over my head."

AFFIDAVIT re HAIR GROWTH

While completely bald on the top of my head as shown in my photograph which I accompanying this affidavit, I adopted a hair cosmetic and formula given me by an old Cherokee Indian. Within six months my head was covered with a new and luxuriant growth of hair. I now supply Ko-tal-ko, a pomade prepared according to the original formula which resulted in my own hair growth. The statements in my advertisement are true and my photographs are correct.

John Hart Brittain

Personally appeared before me, John Hart Brittain, this fifth day of June, 1917, who signed the foregoing in my presence and who being duly sworn, attested that same is true.

QUEER DOINGS

Must Be Improving.

MOSCOW.—Nicolai Lenine, who was assassinated recently and died last week of pneumonia, is now ill. So, all things considered, he must be improving.

All Work.

WARSAW.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, recently Premier of Poland, will visit America in February and probably will play the piano. All work and no play makes Jan a poor boy.

Fight With Cold Water.

WARSAW.—The Polish Government has completed all plans to repel the threatened invasion by the Red troops in the Spring. Several lines of fire hose have been laid out from Warsaw toward the Russian frontier, and when the Red advance clean, cold water will be pumped at them. To the Bolsheviki mind this is fiendish warfare, but the Poles must resort to strong measures.

Too Many Wives.

TEHERAN.—The Shah of Persia is anxious to abdicate and is only prevented from doing so by the fact that he could not support his 27 wives if his salary should be stopped. The Shah acquired these wives when the upkeep was not what it is now.

The First Time.

TEHERAN.—A rug dealer started for America yesterday with a genuine Persian rug. It is believed this is the first time this has happened since Omar Khayam got drunk on the jug of wine.

Was Fooled Once.

ATHENS.—King Constantine has received from America a gallon of famous cement glue with which he has painted the seat of the royal throne. He is determined not to be fooled again.

TREES FOR HEALTH.

Convinced that trees are an important factor in public health, the New York Medical Society passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, that one of the most effective means of combating the intense heat of Summer months and diminishing the death rate among children is the cultivation of an adequate number of trees in the streets."

GIVES AWAY HIS SURPLUS WEALTH.

Thomas Mitten Says Too Much Money Bad Thing.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10. — Thomas Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, believing that too much money is a bad thing, gives away his no inconsiderable surplus at the end of each year after defraying all his expenses. "I have no desire to pile up a great amount of money," he declares.

Mr. Mitten said the idea of accumulating just so much money and then giving all the surplus away was suggested to him by his experience with a New York banker, Nelson Robinson. Mr. Mitten said he was in close contact with the banker who followed a belief that it was wrong to accumulate money after he had enough to take care of his needs. Mr. Robinson impressed him, Mr. Mitten said, by distributing and giving away money with no thought of return.

"I watched the pleasure he got by giving away money, and then and there I set a sum that I thought would suffice me," Mr. Mitten said. "I do not wish to deprive my son, Dr. A. A. Mitten, of any of the pleasures of life or of making money —therefore I will not leave him any when I die."

Mr. Mitten refused to discuss the manner in which he distributes his money, but it is understood he pays the men he employs in the Mitten Operating Company, which he has formed out of his personal account. That procedure effectually consumes much of his surplus each year.

(Aids to Beauty)

Here is a home treatment for removing hairs that is quick, painless, and inexpensive: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to thickly cover the objectionable hairs, apply, and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin, and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This treatment will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be careful to get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.

FAIR BOARD CONTEMPLATES NEW BUILDING PROGRAMME

CATTLE BUILDING AND ADDITION TO THE GRAND STAND PROPOSED FOR THIS YEAR AND DIRECTORS SHOW ENTHUSIASM FOR PRESIDENT DENNE'S PLANS —FIX DATES FOR THIS YEAR'S EXHIBITION.

WHAT THE FAIR BOARD DID.

Fixed the dates for this year's Exhibition from September 14th to 17th inclusive.

Practically decided to proceed with the erection of an addition to the grand stand and also a new cattle building.

Increased the prize list by more than $1,000.

Decided to rent the Exhibition Park on a percentage basis for race meets, picnics and other such purposes.

"We have never failed in anything we have undertaken and if we wish to continue the progress we have made I believe we should seriously consider building a cattle barn and an addition to the grand stand this year," said Roland Denne, president of the Peterborough Exhibition at the directors' meetng last night.

"Now is the time we have got to decide what we are going to do," he pursued. "We set out to get a horse barn and we got that; we needed a poultry building and we got that ,and we also secured the Manufacturers' building and new lavatories. The question now before the directors is whether they are in favour of going ahead. We can't expect to get the big stock men to come here unless we have proper accommodation for their cattle. And we can't expect the County Council and our farmer friends to help us unless we show them that we are extending our accommodation for live stock exhibits."

Need Farmers' Help.

Mr. Denne stated that the directors who lived in the city would do their utmost to raise by subscriptions as much money as last year. Mr. W. G. Morrow had promised the same grant as last year, and other citizens have expressed their readiness to support the directors in their plans for expansion. The question was whether the farmers would not be foud wanting. Mr. C. E. Moore, John Gillespie, Smith Milburn and others also spoke of the needs of better facilities for exhibiting prize cattle. In the resultant discussion it was agreed that the members should open the subscriptions lists at once, and endeavour to roll up as much funds as possible in the next two weeks.

"And carry it right on up to June," Mr. Gillespie added.

Mr. Denne found the directorate unanimously in accord with the programme he had outlined. Forty of the members were present last night, with both rural and urban groups well represented. The spirit of the meeting was keen for a fresh drive to secure money enough to encourage the Board to proceed with the larger plans for this year.

May Spend $12,000.

Mr. Denne mentioned the proposal that the cattle barn might be used in winter as a curling rink, but this idea was not developed. "We spent $11,000 last year," he said, "and it looks like another $11,000 or $12,000 this year."

The extent of this undertaking and the responsibility it involved did not daunt the directors. They have not finally committed themselves to the programme, but the present enthusiasm should carry their operations just as far and as successfully as similar schemes in recent years.

THE SPARROW

By JEANNETTE

The bird that comes in sunny hours
And begs for crumbs again
Is the same wee mite, with eye so bright,
That came in the driving rain.

He does not sing as the robins sing,
A chirp is his only note,
No splash of red on his tiny head
Or sombre-tinted coat.

But when he comes a-calling
With his bright and buoyant air,
He seems to say on the dreariest day—
"The sun is shining somewhere."

CALEDONIAN CLUB'S SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

INSTRUMENTAL AND DANCING WERE THE FEATURE OF THE EVENING.

A large number of Scots people turned out last night to the Caledonian Club ladies' night concert in the Woodmen of World Hall.

The first item on the programme was a song rendered by Miss J. Petterson that brought back memories of the homeland in "My Ain Wee Hoose," and responded with one of Scotland's favourites.

Scotch readings given by Miss R. Service were very appropriate, and her recitation "Tae a Daisy," one of Robert Burns' poems, appealed to the audience.

Mr. J. Gaul sang "Thora" and "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining" in a nice baritone voice.

The two piano and 'cello selections were masterpieces of Miss Gillespie and Mr. T. Smith.

Peterborough's Harry Lauder, Mr. William Thompson, entertained the company with his inimitable comic songs.

The treat of the evening was the dancing of the Misses Hardies to the accompaniment of Mrs. Hyde on the piano, in "Highland Fling and Sword Dance." Mr. David Grant played the bagpipes for the dance. "Seann Tribhas."

An excellent selection of banjo pieces were played by Mr. Joe Parkins and Alf. Parkins that seemed to not satisfy the company, even after the encores.

Two of Scotland's favorites, "Bonnie Lass of Ballochmyle" and "Lass of Dumblane" were rendered in a nice, sweet tenor voice by Mr. B. Mitchell.

Concertino selection of dance music by Mr. W. Dunsmore made the company feel as if they could dance but were told that the football club would hold a dance in G.W.V.A. hall on Friday evening, March 25th.

Misses Pickles and Taylor at the piano and violin respectively, played with excellent precision and harmony.

During the evening Mr. Neill Hurry and Mr. David Grant played the "Barren Rocks of Aden" on the bagpipes, and received a great ovation.

A number of tunes were played by the Pipe Band at the end of the concert.

COST OF EDUCATION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VICTORIA, B. C., March 10. — (Canadian Press).—It cost about $70 to educate each pupil in the Public schools of British Columbia last year, and of the total cost of education the Provincial Government contributed approximately forty per cent. Nearly three-quarters of the teachers in British Columbia are women. These are some of the features of the annual report presented in the Legislature by the Minister of Edcation.

The New Twenty-year Capital Return Policy

(Issued by The Canada Life)

A Young Man and His Future

He takes his first step in business affairs, is examined by the doctor, and creates an estate of $5,000.

He improves the shining hour and impresses upon an important person that he is in possession of an "estate."

His tendency to save and invest is noted by his employers.

He finds his savings of great assistance in buying a home.—

And as time goes on he is enabled to enjoy many of the good things of life.

Absolutely guarantees the return at the end of twenty years of all annual deposits, with accumulated profits, after giving you insurance protection for twenty years.

Easily Understood :

1st. Deposits are made yearly. This is what you are saving, and at the end of 20 years the Canada Life guarantees the return of every dollar paid in.

2nd. Your life is insured from the day you make the first deposit,—for $5,000, or whatever amount you decide.

3rd. Dividends are paid at stated intervals in addition to the return of all deposits at the end of 20 years.

4th. These dividends may be used to reduce the amount of your yearly deposits, or be allowed to accumulate at interest for 20 years.

5th. The cash value of Policy and Dividends represents a valuable asset, useful in business, and your "estate" is protected by the insurance.

6th. At the end of Twenty Years you can draw out all you have paid in, along with the accrued dividends—

---or--- you can draw a Special Cash Guarantee, together with the Accumulated Dividends, making a substantial sum, and leave the $5,000 Policy fully paid for and continuing to earn Dividends as long as you live—this Special Cash Guarantee may be applied to increase the amount of your policy to more than $7500.

---or---

An Immediate Estate

The great advantage over any other form of investment is that a small percentage paid yearly creates immediately an estate of $5,000, or more.

These active, progressive years of life in which you are earning the most money are the years in which premiums can be more easily met.

MAY YET HAVE WOMEN POLICE MAGISTRATES

LEGISLATION INTRODUCED BY HON. W. E. RANEY PROVIDES FOR SUCH IN CITIES OVER HUNDRED THOUSAND.

IF CITIES SO DESIRE

TORONTO, March 10.— (Canadian Press.)—Municipalities of more than a hundred thousand population are to have women police magistrates if they want them. Legislation to that effect was introduced in the House last night by Hon. W. E. Raney. Appointment is provided for by requisition of the Municipal Council.

CHEESE FACTORY IN FULL SWING WOULD BE ASSET TO APSLEY

CREAM SHIPPED TO CITIES IN LARGE QUANTITY -- LUMBERING OPERATIONS CEASE -- GENERAL NEWS.

APSLEY, March 10.—The building used for the Post Office at Apsley was last week moved about a hundred yards west, bringing it closer into the village and making it more convenient for pedestrians, especially at night time. The work of removing it was superintended by Mr. Charles Hawkes. Five teams were required to supply the motive power. The proceedings were watched with great interest by the inhabitants. house moving on such a scale being quite a novelty in this country, where it is generally considered cheaper to build than to take one's house along when moving to a new location.

Eight Below.

On Friday morning it was eight degrees below zero, and on Saturday evening early the best skating of the year was to be had, and a large party availed themselves of what is likely to be the last skating outing this season, for later in the evening rain fell, and continued to fall heavily all night.

Lumbering Stops.

The thaw has stopped all lumbering operations, and men are arriving home from the camps. In contrast to Peterborough, which has had only 10 days' good sleighing, according to The Examiner weather man. Apsley, only two hours' motor ride from that city, has had 110 days' good sleighing — starting on 17th November and ending on Sunday, 7th March, though cutters are still being used on some roads in this vicinity.

Signs of Spring.

Signs of spring are everywhere. The woodchuck has been seen for a couple of weeks, and creamery cans are being delivered to the farmers. With a good, indeed a first-class, cheese factory in the village, it seems a pity to see the cream being shipped to the cities. A cheese factory in full swing would be an asset to the village. "Support home industries' is evidently not a pet slogan locally.

Miss Dolly Church has been appointed teacher at the Owenbrook School, and commenced her duties this week.

Mr. Fred Bullied was in the village last week, and conducted the sale at the Laplante's home at Chandos. No high prices were realised.

Mrs. Joseph Roberts went to Peterborough on Friday last, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Everett, to undergo an operation in Nicholls Hospital.

LATE MR. CAVANAGH A FRIEND IN NEED

During a Long Life He Made a Host of Friends in and Around Peterborough.

In a book published in 1895, entitled "Up to Date, or the Life of a Lumberman," by Capt. Geo. S. Thompson, there appears a picture of the late "Ted" Cavanagh, inscribed beneath as "A friend in need is a friend indeed," and the writer, in referring to a visit to Peterborough at that time, remarks:

"On the occasion referred to, I put up at the Cavanagh Hotel, kept by my old friend, 'Ted' Cavanagh. 'Ted' and his dear wife took me in and had me put to bed, a doctor sent for, who said that I had a bad attack of fever. I got the best attention and nursing, and at the end of about two months I was sufficiently recovered to go to work. 'Ted' then got me a position with one of the leading lumber firms of Peterborough. . . . ."

INCENDIARY FIRES ON FARMS ON BOTH SIDES OF THE MERSEY

LIVEROOL, March 10 (Canadian Press).—Fires yesterday on farms on both sides of the River Mersey are ascribed to incendiaries. The farms set on fire are situated in Wallon, Hooton, Childwall, Wavertree, Gatacre, and Crosby. There was an outbreak at Bootle.

Five men were arrested at Crosby, where a large quantity of inflammable spirits was found. In other cases fuses are believed to have been inserted in hay ricks.

For a large, cold-looking interior, warm tones should be chosen in brown, terracotta or old gld, fr a small room, grey is admirable or the cool shades in blue and green. A gloomy room can be made immeasurably more attractive by the use of paper which radiates light and cheer, containing gleams of tan, yellow or rose, and unless you are the lucky possessor of good eyesight, never, never employ a wall-covering that boasts one of those never-ending, spiral or tubeiform effects, which are so irritating in their endless reiteration. If you wish to hang many pictures in a particular room get a plain paper. A riot of colors or massed effects in a background will spoil the prettiest landscape ever painted. Just now, there is a fad for gorgeous colors and patterns, and some of the advertisements mention peacocks, enlarged sunflowers and such like extravagant fancies, which would fill the eye of the beholder with fantastic ideas, and destroy the primary idea of a successful papering, which is to form a pleasant background for the furnishings of a room.

Questionable Films

The members of the National Association of the Moving Picture Industry in New York have announced that they have agreed upon "a definite and concrete plan which will ensure against the production of questionable films, and will prevent also the exploitation of pictures in a manner offensive to good taste." This association, the aim of which is to make the screen "clean and wholesome," represents about 90 per cent. of the motion picture production, and under its ban have been placed exaggerated sex plays, white slavery and commercialised vice, themes that make virtue odious and vice attractive, plays that would make drunkenness, gambling, drugs, or other vices attractive; themes that tend to weaken the authority of the law; stories that might offend any person's religious beliefs; and "stories and scenes which may instruct the morally feeble in methods of committing crime or by cumulative processes emphasise crime and the commission of crime."

It was also decided that "this association record its intention to aid and assist the properly constituted authorities in the criminal prosecution of any producer, distributor, or exhibitor of motion pictures, who shall produce, distribute, or exhibit any obscene, salacious, or immoral motion picture in violation of the law, to the end that the recognised public good accomplished by the motion picture shall be preserved and advanced."

The Spring Hat

The idea this spring is to get a hat that will frame the face, and we will have to furbish up our complexions considerably to look our best in some of these off-the-face creations in bright and giddy colours. But there is always the scarf or veil to help us out, and if the latter be of lace, that fashionable material, we will be absolutely in the mode. There are very few entire straw hats show, the spring ideas leaning toward taffeta, satin, and crepe de chine, and flowers, feathers, ribbon, or the new lustrous cellophane braid are used for trimming. The exotic colours just now fashionable for spring millinery are rusty reds and coral pinks, peacock, turquoise, ocean, jade, Chinese orange and royal blue, but in the quieter tones a light silvery grey predominates, with caramel, beige, black, and navy. A colour extremely popular in New York just now is a sort of cornflower blue, named Florence Harding.

Woman Custom Officer

The recent visit of Mrs. White, of the Ottawa Customs Department, to the Sarnia Ferry Dock caused quite a little flurry among the fair sex who had been engaged in a shopping trip to Port Huron, with the result that many paid an unexpected duty on their purchases.

The idea of a woman as a customs officer may seem surprising, but it is a very logical one. The fluffy blonde with the baby stare would find it rather difficult to vamp a white-haired little lady in spectacles, and the grand dame with the overpowering air might strike an uncompromising snag in the same determined personage. And a lady would have no hesitancy whatever in exploring the secret recesses of a trunk or bag. Feminine attire also, with its voluminous draperies for concealing small contraband articles, would have no terrors for them. Of course, in the years when the female form takes the shape of an elongated yard-stick, opportunities for disposing of dutiable goods are not so numerous, but when we have the balloon silhouette and its varieties, many yards of material may walk over the border under pleats and overskirts. The good old days of the bustle and the waterfall were the fine times. A tale is told of a lady who favored the former mode of conveyance. She purchased an alarm clock on the wrong side of the river, which had been set by the mischievous clerk to go off at a time corresponding with her arrival at the point of examination, and, being a good make, it worked according to schedule.

A Sermon for Curlers

Peterborough ladies who are interested in curling might glean some ideas from the sermon recently preached in Fredericton, N.B., by the Rev. G. M. Young, chaplain of the Curling Club, at the Methodist church, when he took for his text, "Chosen men, left-handed; everyone could sling stones at an hair breadth and not miss."

The reverend gentleman maintained that the curler's play became a record of his personal character and an index to his soul. Luck, although apparently mentioned as figuring in curling, is used to discount other people's successes. The qualities of a good curler are acquired by patient and persistent training in moral terms, self-denial and self-discipline, any pre-occupation takes the curler off his play, and any ungovernable rage is shown in the throwing of a wild stone. One man, he said, had told him that a squabble at the supper table had put him away off his game for that evening.

RECIPIES

Beans are said to be rich in those vitamens which are so necessary to the good health of the individal, and in the spring, when the eating of meat in large quantities is not advisable, they have an added food value. Here is a very appetizing way of preparing them, en casserole. Combine a pint of kidney or lima beans soaked and cooked in salted water until tender, with two carrots finely chopped and two onions thinly sliced. Heat with one pint of canned tomato for about ten minutes and season with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, and one tablespoonful of sugar. Lay in the bottom of a butterd casserole one cupful of diced, left-over beef or lamb, sprinkle it with salt and pepper, and pour over it the combined vegetables. Dot with butter, using two tablespoonfuls, cover and cook in a brisk oven until vegetables are tender.

The following is a method of making a delicious confection from grape-fruit peel: Boil one or two large skins in salted water for an hour, changing the salted water two or three times during the process, scrape thoroughly, and wash in cold water to remove all traces of brine. Make a thick syrup of white sugar and cut the skins into strips. Boil in the syrup for about twenty minutes, and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

In Lent, when fish is in great demand, a little variation in methods of preparing it is in order. For those who like finnan haddie, the following should prove appetizing: Take 1-4 cup cut green pepper, wash, remove seeds and white portion, cut in small pieces and cook one minute in 3 tablespoons butter. Add 3 tablespoons flour, stir until smooth, add gradually 1 1-2 cups milk; and cook until thickened. Remove skin and bones from 2 cups cooked finnan haddie, and separate into flakes or cut in neat pieces. Add to sauce, season to taste, and serve in a border of boiled or steamed rice. Any left-over boiled, baked or steamed fish may be used in the same way.

Old friends of Red Rose Tea who have used it for many years find it the same good tea to-day as it was all during the war and for many years before.

VICES AND VIRTUES

A virtue is but a vice that raises instead of lowering itself; and a good quality is but a defect that has turned itself to use. How should she have the necessary energy if she were deprived of ambition and pride. How could she thrust aside unjust obstacles if she did not possess a reserve of selfishness proportionate to the lawful exigencies of life? How should she be kind if she were not a little weak? How should she be beautiful if she knew not mirrors and did not seek to please? How should she be generous if she were not a little improvident?

"Portrait of a Lady", by Maeterlinsk.

Washing only makes them prettier

Whoever thought that the time would come when silks, satins, chiffons and laces could actually be washed in soap and water!

And that this washing not only wouldn't harm them but would renew them, keeping both color and fabric as fresh and attractive as the day they came from the shop.

Because modern manufacturing science has perfected special soap for washing dainty materials.

Introducing Princess Flakes

This superfine soap is as pure and mild as the finest toilet soap.

It is snowy white soap, flaked into crisp wafers.

It is de luxe soap with a dash of perfume as the final refining touch.

It dissolves like magic into the richest and thickest of creamy lather.

These soft suds in turn gently dissolve all soil from fragile georgette frocks and blouses, delicate crepe and silk underwear and all the laces and chiffons of your wardrobe.

Sheer voiles and batistes, frail in fabric, delicate in color, need as careful handling as silk.

Brilliant ginghams, dazzling cretonnes — everything that is in the least likely to fade —wash all these fancy cottons with Princess Flakes and protect their beauty.

For everything of wool

Princess Flakes are the ideal soap for washing all woolen things. It doesn't shrink them, it keeps them soft. No danger of boardlike sweaters or underwear, or little caps and leggings stiff and hard.

The dirt just falls out of blankets washed with Princess Flakes. And how soft and warm they seem!

Cheaper than buying new clothes

If you used Princess Flakes for all laundry work you would be practising real economy. First, because they are all soap and go much farther. Next, because it is cheaper to buy pure fine soap than it is to be continually replacing worn-out clothes.

For you mustn't blame broken threads and thin places which dissolve into holes to poor material. This is due to the rotting of the fabric by the destructive ingredients of average laundry soap.

Princess Flakes give splendid satisfaction in washing machines.

In packages for convenience.
In bulk for economy

Princess Flakes cost 15 cents a package, or 25 cents for two. You may also buy them by the pound.

They are packed for the dealer in 25 pound boxes. Many users buy them in this quantity to take advantage of the big saving. We recommend it to you.

"SOMEWHERE IN NEW JERSEY" FOR BIG FIGHT," SAYS RICKARD—PROMISES SENSATION WHEN DETAILS ARRANGED.

NEW YORK, March 10. — Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will meet for the world's heavyweight championship "some place in New Jersey."

Without disclosing the source of information, this can be said authoritatively.

Offers from Montreal, London and other places are not being entertained by Tex Rickard and never have been.

New York was first considered as the only place, and when objections arose to the contest here, Rickard sought and has selected the place nearest to New York.

Rickard said to-day he had decided on the site and would make the official announcement to the principals and the public on March 15.

The exact location of the site in New Jersey is a matter of conjecture, but it is understood that Atlantic City is out of the running. Either Newark or New Jersey, with the probability of a site between the two, seems most likely.

C. F. Graham and the four Montreal men who were to have held their second conference with Rickard yesterday afternoon, did not appear. It was understood they learned from Rickard that the Canadian metropolis didn't have a chance.

Work preliminary to the construction of the arena will probably be started before the end of the month, as Rickard plans to use it for other contests that will be started as soon as the weather becomes settled.

The stand will be built to seat 60,000 spectators. It will be constructed to permit additions up to 100,000 if the demand for seats reaches that proportion.

"I learned a lot of things at Toledo. I can build a much better stadium now for $25,000 less," Richard said.

Prices of from $5 to $40 will prevail, according to the present plan of the promoter.

"I'm going to pull the biggest sensation in the history of boxing when I announce the details of the bout," Rickard said.

He would neithr give or hint at the details, but it is reported that he is trying to arrange three other championship bouts as preliminaries.

STRATFORD TIES QUEEN'S SEXTET

FIRST GAME OF JUNIOR FINALS ON SLUSHY KINGSTON ICE.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 10.—Queen's University and Stratford Juniors tied in the first of the O. H. A. finals here last night, each team scoring three goals. The game was witnessed by only six hundred people, as the condition of the ice all this week prevented anything like good hockey being expected or played.

The play last night showed the teams to be about equal in strength. Stratford appeared able to stand the pace better towards the end, although the play lagged considerably as the ice became slushy.

Some Minor Accidents.

Shortly after the game began Richards of Stratford broke his skate, and was handicapped afterward owing to using a strange skate. In the second period Nickle of Queen's received a cut on the nose, and was out of the game for some time while a surgeon put a couple of stitches into the cut. The lad pluckily returned and finished the game. Word was received from Stratford that the final game would likely have to be played at the Toronto Arena, as the ice in the Classic City was practically gone. The teams were:

Queen's—Goal, Quinn; defence, Reynolds and McKelvey; centre, McDonald; wings, Gibson and Nickle; subs., Johnston and Emery.

Stratford—Goal, Ruston; defence, Robson and Richards; centre, Morenz; wings, Carson and Roth; subs. Pratt and Swanson.

Referee—Tom Munroe, London.

SUDBURY EASY FOR THE PORT

"Wolves" Lose Both Games to the Port Colborne Team.

PORT COLBORNE, March 10.—The much "press-agented" Wolves of the North from Sudbury were treated to another walloping by the Port Colborne intermediates here last night, the second defeat administered to the Sudbury sextet in two consecutive nights. The score last night was 7 to 5 and Tuesday night 5 to 3. Both games were played on fast artificial ice in the big local arena.

Port Colborne played some very clever combination in both games, and had no difficulty in getting through the Sudbury defence. "The Port" would now like to take on the Soo team which trimmed the so-called Wolves, and an effort may be made to have the Soo team play here before returning to the north, if they do not survive the University of Toronto series. In Tuesday night's game Pete German received a bad cut on the face by a shot from Boucher, and "Shorty" Green had to be taken out of the game.

Langlois and Rothschild were the stars of the losing team, while for the home team "Red" Green and Kilpatrick were always prominent.

For last night's game Sudbury switched their line-up, but it made no difference to Port Colborne. "Shorty" Green was moved back to the defence and Rothschild went to centre, with McKinnon on the wing.

Port Colborne—Goal, Moore; defence, Kilpatrick and Shay; centre, Green; wings, Reid and Sills; subs., German and Irwin.

Sudbury—Goal, Smith; defence, Langlois and Boucher; centre, McKinnon; wings, Berthiaume and "Shorty" Breen; subs., Rothschild and Hennessy.

Referee—McLeod of Welland.

WATERLOO SENIORS TO PLAY IN O.H.A.

KITCHENER, March 10.—It was reported in Kitchener yesterday that a group of Waterloo lovers of hockey are contemplating the erection of an arena in that town this summer, and that a team would be entered in either the O.H.A. senior series or in a new professional league to be organized composed of teams to be formed in towns and cities west of Toronto.

An effort was made to secure the names of the promoters of the new arena proposition, but they were not obtainable.

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says We Must Make Kidneys Clean the Blood and Pimples Disappear.

Pimples, sores, and boils usually result from toxins, poisons, and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood, and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts, and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear cleanses the blood, and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Wonderful Picture Coming to Grand on Monday—"PASSERS BY." Also Harold Lloyd in "Number Please."

Herbert Rawlinson Star of "Passers By."

Herbert Rawlinson makes his first appearance in a J. Stuart Blackton picture, on the Pathe program, in "Passers By." This is a photo-dramatization of the famous stage play by C. Haddon Chambers and is at the Grand Theatre Monday.

Mr. Rawlinson is one of the screen's most popular male stars, and has the honor of playing before the camera the role that Gerald du Maurier created on the London stage, and Charles Cherry and Richard Bennett enacted in the United States.

The added feature coming to complete this extra fine program in the screen's greatest comedian, Harold Lloyd in the third of his $100,000 contract pictures, "Number Please," proclaimed by press and public everywhere to eclipse either "High and Dizzie" or "Get Out and Get Under."

AT THE EMPIRE.

Be A Pal To Your Children, Says Kerrigan to Parents.

J. Warren Kerrigan, who is showing this week at the Empire Theatre in "The Green Flame," the latest Hodkinson release, is very fond of children. In a recent talk with him at the studio, when in a little rest period he found time to romp with some children who were playing around the building, he paused for a moment and said, "Oh! if the parents of to-day would only realize that the greatest thing they could do for their children, the one thing that would do more to wipe out all the evil influence that confront the young folks to-day, than anything I know of, Is To Be A Pal To Them.

"Why did we as youngsters tell some things to our boy or girl friend that we would not tell to our parents; why did we enjoy going out with the gang more than taking a day's trip off with the folks simply because Father forgot that he was a boy and Mother a girl and could never get the twinkle of their 'prank' days back into their eyes. I have seen so many boys and girls, full of life, hungry for parent companionship from parents who had forgotton how to give it in the youthful spirit, turn to those channels where they thought they could obtain it, only to find, in many cases, that it led to misery. Parents, get that age 16 spirit back in your hearts again. Let sons and daughters see it, then watch the fun."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"KING DODO."

The performance of "King Dodo" by local talent was repeated in the Grand Opera House last evening before a good-sized audience, and was presented with as much successful attention to detail as on the opening night. The vocal solos, choruses and dances were very effective, and received loud applause. Beautiful bouquets of roses and carnations were presented to Mrs. W. M. Bingham, Mrs. A. A. Perrin, Miss Ruby Quartermaine and Miss Elva McIntyre.

After the performance, the cast was entertained most delightfully by the 57th Chapter of the I.O.D.E. to a delicious luncheon at Hooper's Palm Room, where a merry hour was spent in songs and speeches.

AT THE GRAND.

It has become a truism in things theatrical to say "a laugh is worth a hundred dollars." If this is true then "The Girl from Nowhere" must be an exceedingly valuable property. It is as full of laughs as a Ford is full of rattles Imagine a meek little man endeavoring to interview a big, husky, heavyweight prize fighter, who will persist in showing what will happen when he gets the other guy in the ring, and illustrating the punch with which he will rock "the big cheese to sleep." There are two of these fighting men, Bearcat O'Brien and Eat-'em-alive Dumpsey. Their training camps are adjacent and both are certain of knocking the other so flat you could play him on a gramaphone. The big fellows are making moving pictures for rival firms, and their meetings are full of vituperative remarks, which cause endless amusement. All these things are so neatly done, however, that they bear not the slightest resemblance to what is known as a burlesque show. Then "Silly Ass" for a suit of clothes sells stockings to the young lady and gets himself hopelessly involved in the process. There are dozens of mirth-provoking situations in which the detective finds himself. That sterling comedian, Billie Oswald, plays the detective and the part fits him like a glove. His idea of a detective's duties probably would not recommend him to the Chief of Police, but it is a thing of joy to the audience.

"The Girl from Nowhere," Stuart Whyte's latest and greatest and up-to-datest musical comedy, will be at the Grand Theatre, matinee and night, Saturday, March 12th.

The cast also contains such internationally famous names as J. V. Barrett-Lennard. the immaculate English Johnny, and a host of others. The title role is played by Canada's own comedienne in her own inimitable manner. Around a dozen girls who besides being as pretty as the proverbial picture, can sing and dance, complete the cast. To use a colloquialism it is "some" show.

AT THE ALLEN. DOROTHY DALTON PLEASES.

"Guilty of Love," which opened a two days' run at the Allen Theatre last evening, with Dorothy Dalton as the star, is an appealing love story. It was adapted from Avery Hopwood's early success, "This Woman—This Man." Miss Dalton has the role of a New England girl, who, involved in an unfortunate affair with a young man, marries him at the pistol point. Dramatic events later bring about their happiness. Edward Langford has the leading male role and Harley Knoles directed. The picture is a Paramount Artcraft release.

STAR LIKES NETS.

Enid Bennett Is Converted To Them by "Hairpins."

Enid Bennett, the pretty screen star, has been converted to hairnets. "Hairpins," her latest Thomas H. Ince picture, coming to the Allen Theatre Friday did the trick. In the pitcure, Miss Bennett is a young wife with slovenly habits. Losing hairpins is just an outward sign of her laxness about her personal appearance. However, her eyes are soon opened, and a dramatic transformation takes place that brings calm to her troubled matrimonial waters.

"Every young woman tends to become more or less careless about herself after she is married," said Miss Bennett recently. "There's so much to do about the house. There are times when dressing for dinner, after a hard day's work, is a tremendous task. Yet you can't blame a husband for not wishing to come home from his own work to find a messy wife awaiting him. And one of the worst possible offences is for a woman to have straggly hair. 'Hairpins' has taught me that lesson. And, though I've never worn them before and my husband insists that I don't need them at all, I've been converted to hair-nets."

"HAIRPINS" COMING.

Enid Bennett has another of those wistful young wife roles which she made popular in "Stepping Out" in her latest Thomas H. Ince picture, "Hairpins," coming to the Allen Theatre Friday. Matt Moore is the leading man and Fred Niblo directed the picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft. It is the appealing story of ar household drudge who took a lesson from her husband's stenographer ad blossomed out as a drawing room favorite. G. Gardiner Sullivan wrote the story.

AT THE REGENT.

"The Thief" is Translated Into Many Languages.

Henri Bernstein's greatest drama, 'The Thief," which, translated into many languages, has been interpreted by the world's most celebrated actors, is to be seen as a motion picture at the Regent Theatre, beginning to-day, with Pearl White as the star. It is said to be the best thing Miss White has done since she left serial work and began to make feature-length pictures for William Fox.

There is no doubt that Miss White has made good as a feature star. She has kept the enormous following she had made in serials, and has won a large new circle of admirers. Her very first dramatic feature, Frank L. Packard's "The White Moll," revealed her talent as an emotional actress.

Her long experience is has been to her what stock ence is to stage players. only has given her a wid but has made her a versa finished artist.

In "The Thief" she has of Mary (Marie-Louise in t anl French version), who ness for dress and love husband lead her into te This role, created for the stage by Margaret Illington of the most coveted in drama. Miss White her long cherished the desire Marie-Louise, but not until came a William Fox dram was she able to realize th tion.

The cast includes Char dron, Wallace McCutcheon Howard, Dorothy Cumm Featherstone, Sidney Herb Anthony Merlo.

C.M.A. OPPPOSED TO GENERAL ELECTION NOW, SAYS M'KINNON

see this country in the throes of a general election at the present time. The C.M.A. is not as interested in any group or groups as it is in the stability of the country as a whole. We may have trying times ahead but let us not add to the load the citizens of this country are carrying by a general election. If we had a general election to-morrow we would still have the group system which is on trial in Ontario and Manitoba, and it may take more than one appeal to the people before we pass through this experiment, but at the present time let us do nothing that will add to the difficulties of the present.

Interests Interwoven.

In reply to the allegations that the tariff was only for the benefit of the few, the President declared there were 700,000 employees in Canadian factories, with their dependents, making a total of 2,000,000. "If you strike at the factories you strike at the cities and the towns," he said, "and indirectly the country. Without industries agriculture would not prosper, and vice versa. What I am trying to make out is that in these industries and in agriculture what we do not want is segregation and group consciousness but cooperation for the beffefit and the prosperity of all.'

Referring to the tariff, the speaker declared that the present average duty of 22.5 per cent on all dutiable importations, and the average rate of duty of 14.66 per cent. on all importations dutiable and free, constituted a moderate tariff.

In the future, the speaker predicted, less would be heard of free trade. The per capita customs tariff tax was during the fiscal year of 1919 in England $16, while in Canada, supposed to be a high tariff country, it was but $19.50. Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Spain, Roumania and the Balkan States have made general increases in their tariffs, and the speaker said he felt the pendulum, formerly swinging towards free trade was now swinging towards protection. The test of efficiency of a fiscal system is the country's all-round development. The best way to determine if Canada has prospered under a protective tariff is to study the fiscal trade figures. Figures were produced by Mr. McKinnon showing that since 1879 Canada's trade has increased sixteen times.

Exchange Situation.

Touching on the adverse exchange situation with the United States the speaker said it seems out of all proportion. We want to do business with the United States but it should be on a dollar-dollar basis. The intricacy and interdependency of trade and business to-day were emphasized by the speaker in driving home the uregncy of cooperation. There should be no strife between classes in this country. As to which was the most important, labour, management or industry, he declared one might as well ask which leg of a three-legged stool was the most important. Each is necessary, and in Russia, the speaker said ,an example is given of what should not be done.

General Manager.

General Manager J. E. Walsh spoke principally of the activities at head office, and dealt with the work of the various committees. He told how the Association had grown from a few hundred members until to-day it had a membership of 4,100.

Legal Secretary.

Mr. H. Macdonald, of Toronto, legal secretary of the C. M. A., described the legislation he had watched to safeguard the manuacturing interests and said that there were 187 Bills in the Provincial House examined by him last year.

W. H. Shapley, of Toronto, member of the executive committee, spoke on fire prevention and fire insurance, and Mr. R. L. McIntyre on accident prevention.

Major L. L. Anthes, of Toronto, gave a particularly bright address, dwelling on the Association's broadening out during the past few years. Formerly it was practically localised in Toronto. He appealed for individual interest in every meeting.

Restrict Immigration.

Immigration into this country should be restricted, he declared. The United States has seen fit to restrict immigration to only allow 500,000 immigrants this year, and Canada should also adopt more restrictive measures. Speaking from a political viewpoint, he said that practically all bodies but the manufacturers were represented in the Governments, and he believed it was time to take the offensive, or they would be submerged by the other groups.

The Local Branch.

For the local branch, Mr. E. G. Patterson and Mr. W. R. Breyfogle were the spokesmen. Both referred to Peterborough as a growing industrial centre, and welcomed the visitors' inspection of their factories. Mr. Breyfogle dwelt on the benefit his company derived from membership in the C. M. A., and said that every manufacturer should be a member.

The toast to the chairman, Mr. Richardson, was proposed by the president, and replied to briefly by Mr. Richardson.

During the evening solos and a duet by Mr. Douglas Carlisle and Mr. Maurice Park were much enjoyed.

The Personnel.

The personnel of the party was as follows: J. S. McKinnon (president), W. H. Shapley (chairman), W. A. Craik (secretary), J. E. Walsh, Toronto, general manager, C.M.A. J. F. Mackay, Ingersoll; R.H. Kayser, Toronto; I. Johnson, Toronto; George Gilchrist, Toronto; G. E. Silyester, Toronto· C. E. Macdonald, Toronto; R. J. Wallace, Toronto; M. Ryan, Port Hope; R. G. Nicholson, Toronto; B. J. RAISINS FOR HEALTH A GROWING DEMAND

THE CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATED RAISIN CO. TO LAUNCH BIGGEST ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN EVER SEEN IN AMERICA.

To fight the invasion of low-grade foreign currants which threatens to flood this country in coming months the California Associated Raisin Company, a cooperative body of ten thousand California growers, has launched the biggest raisin advertising campaign ever seen in American newspapers, it was announced today.

The food value and healthfulness of the clean luscious sanitarily packed California raisins will be told to every American housewife from coast to coast, according to the company.

California raisins are shipped from the sun-lit airy Sun-Maid packing plants in the beautiful San Joaquin valley every day in the year.

The growing demand for raisins as an everyday food to give "iron" to the blood caused the California growers to cooperate and organize their own marketing facilities several years ago to distribute their raisins nationally without loss due to speculations.

Thousands of Canadian women eat raisins daily because their tonic effect on the blood promotes beauty as well as health.

DO NOT GIVE UP HOPE OF HEALTH

OFTEN ALL THAT IS NEEDED IS A TONIC TO BUILD UP THE BLOOD.

There are many women who have been invalids or semi-invalids so long that they accept their condition as a life burden. They have endured broken sleep, stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and weakness so long that they have given up hope of enjoying good health. In most of these cases a well chosen diet, fresh air, and a tonic to build up the blood would do wonders. To all run-down women the story of Mrs. M. S. Alward, Stevens' Settlement, N. B., will prove interesting. She says: "Some years ago I began to feel all tired out. I could not stand work, and my head ached almost all the time. I would grow dizzy and everything would turn dark and specks seemed to float before my eyes. My feet would swell and my back ached almost constantly. I tried several medicines but they did not do me a bit of good. Then one day, seeing an advertisement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I made up my mind to try them. I first got two boxes and by the time I had used them I felt a little better. Then I got six more boxes, and thanks to these my good health returned. I am now a well and rugged woman, and have had no need for medicine since that time."

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Voice Of The People

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—In your last night's edition, you published an article dealing with the Council and Major Miller. I think the Council ought to be ashamed of themselves to give such scant attention to such a gallant and honourable gentleman.

Nothing you can say in praise of Major Miller's conduct during the war can be exaggerated. Five times was he wounded and brought back to England, yet Armistice still found him fighting for his country. He holds decorations that Peterborough ought to be proud of, namely the D.S.O., M.C. and bar, and four times was he mentioned for bravery in action by Sir Douglas Haig.

Such men as this have made Canada's name taste good in the mouth of the whole world, and we should not forget it. Why, then, treat him in such a manner?

A short time ago he proposed to put on four Sunday concerts to raise funds for his newly organised band, immediately there was a hue and cry after him, but he succeeded in filling his seats both times, and I trust will again at his next. All the more power to him; he evidently is not afraid of his own convictons. Of the new Machine Gun unit, Peterborough may be also proud; they are recruited up to full strength; every officer is an overseas man; and eight of them have been decorated by the King. Their company sergeant is a "King's Sergeant," created by the King as such for "conspicuous gallantry in action," wearing on his breast the ribbons of the D.C.M. and bar and the M.M.

Now, I ask you, people of Peterborough, can a man who is responsible for the recruiting of a unit like this, apart from his own personal achievements, be treated in such a manner as he has been?

Any man who has fought for Canada as he has would not put on four Sunday concerts if he thought it would damage the morals of the people he had helped to fight for.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for the space and time.—Yours, etc.,

H. M. Sanderson.

SUNDAY BAND CONCERTS

To the citizens:—

"About three or four days previous to the first Sunday night Band Concert the Relieving Officer was called on the telephone in regard to accepting a donation for the relief of the unemployed. He strongly approved the idea and was willing to accept the donation.

In the afternoon of Sunday the 27th instant he was again called on the telephone and expressed himself as unable to attend, also that he did not know of any one whom he could call upon at that late hour to represent him

"On the following Monday afternoon a cheque for $27.50 was offered which was declined by the relieving Officer who stated that it was decided by the Relief Committee that it could not be accepted, that the Dominion, Ontario and City Council contributed towards this object and therefore it was not consistent to accept private subscriptions; and that a statement was being made in Examiner that afternoon.

"A statement was then made by me to the Examiner to the effect that if the sum were not accepted before the following Saturday I should consider myself at liberty to denote the same on the first Tag Day.

"On the afternoon of Thursday the 3rd instant Ald. Phelan telephoned me and requested that I forward the cheque to the City Council as they were the proper body to receive it. During the conversation he stated that no meeting of the Relief Committee had taken place for at least two weeks; that he himself was the chairman and had been out of town; that the Relieving Officer had no authority to accept the cheque; that it was his (the R.O.) duty to have directed me where to take the cheque and not to turn it down or make such a statement to the paper."

The above are the simple facts of the case as stated by me in the Grand Theatre on Sunday evening 6th instant and to the City Council on the evening of the 7th instant on which occasion I was invited to be present by Alderman Phelan. My intention in giving was solely for the purpose of learning the action to be taken by the Council. However, a statement was asked for and I gave it

Ladies and gentlemen you will appreciate the correctness of my action. I endeavoured before hand to be assured that the donation would be received in the spirit in which it was offered. Even in the eleventh hour I was led to believe the donation would still be acceptable when offered.

It is not for me to offer any reason why I should have been misled in believing the donation would be acceptable, nor is it for me to explain to you why the Relieving Officer should state the Relief Committee had decided not to accept the cheque when Alderman Phelan says there had been no meeting of the Relief Committee.

I may say that I was quite content to let the matter drop at that having no desire to force the donation on any organization. My reason for announcing it in the paper was to protect myself in donating it to another charity other than which it was subscribed to.

"I cannot appreciate Ald. Phelan's point in raising the question again, and in asking that the cheque be forwarded to the City Council when evidently intended to vote against its acceptance unless it was for the express purpose of permitting his fellow members of the Council to deal another blow at Sunday Band Concerts. How readily they grasped the opportunity will be seen in last night's report of their action on the matter.

In the Mail and Empire of the 8th instant the Military Bands of Kitchener, Guelph, Galt, Waterloo and Preston have arranged for an interchange of Sunday Band Concerts with massed bands for tattoos later

A splendid idea and worthy of adoption in my opinion.

Sunday Band Concerts are a recognized institution even in the city of Peterborough They have been supported in the past by grants by the City Council. In principle it makes no difference be they held in a theatre or in the Park.

Not only are the City Council in opposition to the wishes of a great many of the citizens of Peterborough but they have denounced their former policy of supporting Sunday Band Concerts. They are also discouraging the policy of the military units in this city as well as that of the authorities at Ottawa.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Canadian Press).—High-grade or investment rails were subjected to renewed pressure at the opening of today's stock market. The selling of those issues at an average decline of one point was doubtless prompted by indications of a country-wide revision of wages and salaries to meet prevailing economic conditions. Shippings also were lower. Atlantic Gulf Preferred soon declined to 33½, a new low record. European oils were conspicuously strong, however, Shell Trading and Royal Dutch rising one and two points respectively.

Selling of rails continued with little interruption during the active forenoon, involving every division of that group. Great Northern, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, New York Central, Delaware and Hudson, Norfolk and Western, St. Paul and Preferred shares of the Rock Island and St. Louis South-Western systems fell one to 2½ points. Among the industrials and specialties losses of one to two points were featured by Republic and United States steels, Anaconda Copper General, Asphalt Preferred and Sears Roebuck, the latter declining to 75½, a new low price for the year. Call money was unchanged at 7 per cent., although the supply seemed less plentiful.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, March 10.—(Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts light; trade brisk. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $10 to $11; butcher steers, choice, $9 to $10; butcher cows, medium, $5 to $7.50; calves, $14 to $16; lambs, $11.50 to $12.50; hogs, fed and watered, selects, $14.75.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 10.— (Canadian Press.)—Further weakness developed with increased activity among stocks on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Traction and Steels being particularly vulnerable.

Bearish operations in rails on the New York market had a further effect on C.P.R., the price falling to 127 1-2, a loss of 1 1-2 points since last night. The noon close was 1-4 above its lowest level of the morning. Quebec Railway was weak at 26 1-2. Sales in Dominion Steel Corporation approximated one thousand, and after ranging 38 1-2 and 37 1-2 throughout the session, 38 1-2 was registered at the noon close, a gain of 1-2. Steel of Canada continued to decline, dropping as low as 56 1-2 and closing 1-2 points higher, a loss of one point.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, March 10.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling Exchange strong, demand 3.90 3-8. Canadian dollars 12 3-8 per cent discount.

CHICAGO—GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 10.—(Canadian Press)—Reported crop damage by green bugs in the South West States led to moderate up turns today in the price of wheat. It was said also that seaboard exporters were inquiring for cash wheat in the West and that country offerings were small. On other hand the disturbed industrial conditions tended to unsettle the market. Opening, quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1c lower were followed by slight further setbacks and then by an advance all around to above yesterday's finish. The continued export call gave steadiness to corn. After opening 3-8 off to 1-4 higher the market scored slight general gains. Oats were a trifle easier owing to the dullness, starting 1-4c lower to a shade advance, then sagging somewhat. Provisions had an upward slant influenced by higher prices for hogs and by talk of a widespread strike in the packing houses.

SLIGHTLY INJURED.

Mr. Robt. Symonds, McDonnel Street, an employee of the Peterborough Lock Works, sustained a few slight burns yesterday afternoon when throwing a piece of brass in the melting-pot.

IN MEMORIAM.

HARPER—In loving memory of my dear husband, Alvin Harper, who passed away, March 10, 1918:

Years may come and spring's sweet flowers,
Will bloom on hill and plain,
But never in this world of ours,
Will Alvin return again.
We think of him in silence,
And his name we oft recall,
There is nothing left to answer now
But his photo on the wall.
—Sadly missed by wife and little children.

IN MEMORIAM.

HARPER—In loving memory of my son, Elvin, who passed away March 10, 1918.

The world may change from year to year,
Our friends from day to day,
But never shall the one we love
From memory fall away.

TO PROTEST CONTINUING OF EMBARGO

COMMONS CARRIES SUB-AMENDMENT AND DECISION WILL BE CABLED TO GREAT BRITAIN AT ONCE.

DOHERTY CRITICISED

OTTAWA, March 11.—(Canadian Press.)— The sub-amendment supporting the attitude of the present and previous Canadian governments in protesting against the implication of disease in Canadian cattle contained in the embargo against such cattle as now maintained by Great Britain, carried without a division in the House last night, thus disposing of a somewhat lengthy debate on the question of the British embargo against entry of live cattle to their ports. The Prime Minister stated in answer to a question that he would see that the decision of the Canadian Parliament was cabled to Great Britain. The original resolution was that "it was not in the interests of Canada" that the embargo should be removed by Great Britain.

The sub-amendment received generous support from speakers on both sides of the chamber. Hon. Arthur Meighen supporting it, said if the British government wished to protect that country's cattle industry it should not do so under the provisions of the embargo which had been enforced thirty-four years ago on the suspicion that one or two animals were diseased.

In moving his sub-amendment Dr. Michael Steel criticized Hon. Manning Doherty, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, for going to Britain on the matter. The Ontario Minister, Dr. Steele declared, would do down into history branded as a "meddlesome manny or man who interfered in Federal matters when he had no right to do so."

F. H. Keefer's resolution urging investigation of the deep waterway system from the head of the lakes to the St. Lawrence was again debated and finally withdrawn by Mr. Keefer.

PARTICIPATION OF TURKEY PROPOSED

LONDON, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — The basis of the new settlement regarding Turkey, according to a French source, will include in addition to the evacuation of Constantinople, and to a large extent the relinquishment of Turkish control of the Straits, the internationalization of Thrace, the Greek control of Gallipoli, and an autonomous regime in Smyrna, with a certain Greek preponderance in the administration while the port of Smyrna will be free to Turkish commerce.

SEARCH SEWER FOR BODY BUT NO RESULT YET

SECOND TIME PERSON HAS FALLEN INTO MONTREAL SEWER THROUGH OPEN MANHOLE.

TO BE INVESTIGATED

MONTREAL, March 11.—(Canadian Press.)— After an all night search the boy of little Lilly Manning, who fell down a manhole into a sewer on St. James street yesterday, had not been found this morning. The work of the searchers was made quite dangerous through the tremendous amount of boiling water draining into the sewer from factories. The distance to the river from the manhole is two miles.

It was announced this morning by the Works Department that the manhole was left open so that snow could be dumped into it. An investigation has been ordered, This is the second fatal accident in which this particular sewer has played a part. Some months ago a man tumbled down another manhole into it. His body was found against the grating where the sewer runs into the St. Lawrence.

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE IN TO EMBARGO

IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT WILL INSTITUTE INQUIRY AND REPORT TO EMPIRE CONFERENCE.

ADMIT REAL ISSUE

LONDON, March 11.—(Canadian Press).—The Imperial Government will institute an inquiry into the whole question of the importation of live cattle both in its imperial and international aspects, according to information given to Canadian Associat ed Press. It is intended to rush the enquiry and have the report ready to be laid before the meeting of empire premiers to be held here in June

The Daily News, Free Trade organ, declares to-day that the only object in maintaining the embargo is as the Ex-Minister of Agriculture admitted to safeguard British Breeders from the inconvenience of free competition. The Liberal organ adds that the resolution, will soon be abolished as public opinion is becoming more and more articulate in the matter.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Marc h11. — (Canadian Press.) — Liquidation of railroad shares made further perceptible progress at the active and heavy opening of to-day's stock market. Atchison and Southern Railway preferred forfeited one point or more in the first few transactions. Leading industrials also continued to react, especially Steels and equipments, shipping, motors, and their accessories, and food and leather specialties were moderately heavy. Royal Dutch was again the only marked exception to the lower trend, gaining liberal fractions.

Trading during the morning was on the most comprehensive scale of any session so far this year, the first hour's dealings approximating 350,000 shares. An unusual feature was the frequent sale of low priced rails, coppers, motors and specialties, in lots of a thousand shares or more. Oils made extreme losses of 1 to 2 points. Steels, coppers and equipments fell 1 to 3 and secondary or cheap rails were 1 to 1 1-2 points lower. Delaware, Lackawana and Western was the weakest of the investments transportations, losing 5½ points; shippings, tobaccos and miscellaneous specialties were offered moderately in a wider movement. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 7 per cent. but demand was light.

Prices fell again in the afternoon after a brief pause. New features of the weakness were found in American Car, Pressed Steel Car, Mercantile Marine Preferred, Stromberg Carburetor and Sumatra Tobacco, which lost 2 1-2 to four points. Consolidated Cigar fell eight points and the decline in Delaware, Lackawana and Western extended to nine points.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — Prices declined in the wheat market to-day as the result of General Commission House selling based largely on disturbed industrial conditions. Bears put some stress also on the official figures showing that the total stocks of wheat in the United States on Mar. 1st were ten millions in excess of the private estimates. The bulls failed to make much headway with assertions that the most critical period of the growing wheat crop was coming on. Initial prices of wheat ranging from 3-4 to 1 3-4 were followed by a moderate set back an dthen something of a rally.

Corn descended with wheat; after opening 3- 8to 7-8 off, the market continued to sag.

Oats were governed by the action of other grains, starting 1-8 to 1-4 to 3-4 lower, and then weakening still more. Provisions lacked support.

Close: Wheat. Marcn 121-4, May 153 1-2; Corn, May 69 1-4, July 71 5-8; Oats, May 43 3-8, July 44 1-2.

No important rally took place, although export demand was evident. The market closed unsettled 7-8 to 1 1-4 net lower, with May 69 1-4 to 69 3-8 to 69 1-2.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — Sterling Exchange heavy demand, $3.89½. Canadian dollars 12 3-8 per cent. discount.

TORONTO, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — Moving contrary to the trend of affairs on the New York market, the Toronto Stock Exchange recorded a firmer tendency in the trading this morning.

General Electric once again sprung into prominence and under its lead paper stocks pushed their way towards higher prices. General Electric moved up quickly to 115 1-4 and pressure later in the morning sent the price back to 114 1-2 for a net gain of 1 1-2 points since last night. Abitibi was active and advanced 3-4 to 40 while Brompton was firmer around 35. C. P. R. was a half point higher at 128.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, March 11.—(Canadian Press).—Trading throughout the morning on the Stock Exchange was dull and closing prices were not particularly interesting. Abitibi lost the half point it gained earlier in the morning and closed at 39½. Atlantic Sugar and Brazilian remained unchanged, closing at their opening quotations at 30 and 30½ respectively. Brompton weakened fractionally to 38 5-8, while Dominion Steel sagged a point from its opening figure at 39 to 38. Laurentide was steady at 83.

DROP IN NEWSPRINT.

OTTAWA, March 11.—(Canadian Press.—J. R. Booth has announced that the price of his company's newsprint from April to December this year will be five cents a pound, or a drop of one and a half cents per pound.

SLAYER OF STOCKBROKER IS FOUND TO BE INSANE.

MONTREAL, March 11.—(Canadian Press).—Major Robert W. Griffith, self-confessed slayer of William A. Holland, Montreal stockbroker, who was shot and mortally wounded on January 14 in the office of MacDougall Brothers, 18 St. Sacrament Street, of which firm he was manager, was found to be unfit by reason of insanity to stand trial for the murder, and will therefore be confined until instructions as to his future are received from the Lieutenant-Governor.

WORKMEN OF GERMANY TO STAY QUIET

RUMORS OF STRIKE PROTEST OFFSET BY DELEGATION TO ALLIED HEADQUARTERS AT DUISBERG.

OCCUPATION NOT HOSTILE

PARIS, March 11. — (Canadian Press.)— Representatives of workers' unions having a membership of sixty thousand, have appeared before the Allied authorities at Duisburg and declared that they did not consider the occupation of that city, Duisburg, and Ruhrort, a hostile act, says a despatch to the Echo De Paris. They are quoted as saying that the occupation of the district was necessary against the attempts by German capital to evade payment of just reparations. The delegates were assured, it was said, that all public liberties would be scrupulously respected.

CANADIAN SOLDIER UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH FOR MURDER OF SISTER-IN-LAW IN LONDON.

HAVE NEW EVIDENCE

PRISONERS ON VIEW FOR IDENTIFICATION

DUNDAS ST. BUTCHER AND OTHERS SCRUTINIZE SUSPECTS AT CITY HALL.

TORONTO, March 11.—A small army of citizens who within the last two months have been held up and robbed by bandits, visited detective headquarters yesterday afternoon to look over and, if possible, identify the two Conley boys, Roy Hotrum and Wm. McFadden, who were brought at 3.30 from the jail to the city hall.

The prisoners were lined up on one side of the room, with a detective between each, while the citizens, a few at a time, under the supervision of Detective Cronin, were admitted to the room.

The prisoners appeared quite unconcerned over the procedure. John Conley, a fair-haired youth, who is charged with murder, yawned nonchalantly now and again, while his brother, Arthur Conley, cooly smoked a cigarette. William McFadden appeared to be the most affected of all.

"Right turn,' commanded Detective Cronin, and the four boys and four officers turned to the right, almost with military precision.

"March across the room a few paces." And the prisoners and their escort did the march past before a squad of detectives and a few citizen-spectators.

One of the citizens who came up to identify the lads was I. Shoot, of I. Shoot and Company, who on January 29th last, after being brutally assaulted and rendered unconscious, was robbed of between $7,000 and $8,000 at his jewelry store on Queen street west. He was not able to place any of the accused as being his assailants. Neither was S. Nesbitt, of the Nesbitt Leather Store able to identfy them. His robbery occurred about five week ago when about $800 was taken.

OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED

CHICAGO, March 11—(Canadian Press).—Steps to bring about reductions in the wages of skilled em ployees probably will be taken by many railroads throughout the United States as soon as adjustment can be made in the way of unskilled workers, according to officials of the Association of railway executives. The general move by er statements from lines that have al move by the railroads of the United States to cut war time wage scales, long forecast by rail officials appeared to be in full swing today and there are indications that Canadian roads may follow suit. Further statements from lines that have not yet announced cuts were predicted to-day

Officials of the various lines are arranging terms with employees in an effort to reach agreements on proposed reductions. The present plans affect only the unskilled and semi-skilled labor. The men engaged in actual operation of trains, telegraphers and station agents are not included.

HELP IS SOUGHT IN DUFRESNE CASE

A. A. U. of C. Asked to Provide Funds for Quebec Branch Defence.

MONTREAL, March 11.—It is estimated that the trial of the members of the Province of Quebec Registration Board of the Amateur Hockey Association of Canada now going on in connection with the Dufresne case will cost thousands of dollars, it being figured out with four lawyers, one of whom gets at least $100 a day, at a cost of at least five hundred dollars a day.

It is said that the committee members have called upon Norton H. Crow, of Toronto, the power behind the throne of the A.A.U. of C., to help them out, and he is expected here as a witness to-day.

MUST SELL FOWL BY WEIGHT IN BELLEVILLE.

City Council Takes Action to Enforce This Rule.

BELLEVILLE, March 10.—"A fowl is a fowl. whether large or small," said Ald. Ballinger in support of a proposition that all fowl be sold by weight. "Any old price is asked to-day."

Considerable discussion on this question resulted in the carrying of a resolution that all poultry offered for sale in Belleville be sold by weight, and that an enforcement by-law be prepared.

SITE FOR KINGSTON'S MOTION PICTURE CO.

KINGSTON, March 11.—The Dominion Motion Pictures, Limited, about to locate here, in a conference with the civic industries, asked for a site of about three hundred feet at the corner of James and Montreal streets, and exemption from taxation. The land is part of the large area the city purchased for industries, and there is no doubt but what the city council will meet the wishes of the company.

LINDSAY, March 11.—In connection with the dedication of the new Queen Street Methodist Church here on Thursday, six memorial windows will be unveiled, to Rev. Mr. Frederick, Mr. McWatters, who was a prominent church worker; Douglas Mullen, a former Boy Scout; Mrs. Stevens, and a memorial window for farmer members of the congregation who fell in the great war.

MOTION PICTURES.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 11. — Pictures in a motion picture news weekly showing an airplane crashing into a flock of wild ducks, and which were taken near Colusa last October, resulted in the filing of criminal proceedings here against Louis Hutt, photographer; Lieut. Harry Halverson of San Francisco, J. M. Fetters, commercial aviator, and Richard Done.

The complaint was filed by Charles S. Hauser, chief of the Government division in charge of violations of the Migratory Bird Act, and charges the men hunted ducks in airplanes in violation of this act.

Letters protesting against this method of hunting were forwarded to Washington and an agent was sent to California to investigate.

DYNAMITE BADLY INJURES CHILD

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Alex. Nicholson, aged 8 years, had two fingers on his left hand and one on his right amputated yesterday at Belleville Hospital, his hands having been so badly mangled by an explosion of a dynamite cap with which he was playing. He had found some caps, and with his sister and brother, was in the workshop playing with them. The explosion nearly cost the sister her eyesight and Alex. had his face badly torn. While he will recover he will be scarred for life.

INFORMATION WITHHELD IS GOV'T CHARGE

COUNSEL FOR DOMINION ALLEGES G.T.R. HAMPERING HIM —RAILWAY DENIES THIS.

ARBITRATION PROCEEDS

MONTREAL, March 11.—(Canadian Press).—Charges were made by W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for the Dominion Government, that he and his assistants were being prevented from having access to the necessary books and documents when the Grand Trunk arbitration was resumed this morning. He said that under the statute which authorized the Government to acquire the stock of the company after valuation by the Arbitration Commission, all books and documents should at all times be open to the Dominion counsel.

Counsel representing the company repudiated the suggestion of Mr. Tilley, and on behalf of the railway officials said that the Government demanded all sorts of information and papers which sometimes took weeks to obtain.

"WHAT SHALL I EAT?" WORRIES CUSTOMERS.

Hungry Patrons Waste Time Deciding on Dishes.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11. — The majority of people work, sleep, and particularly eat in indecision, according to the manager of a lunchroom located in the financial district here.

He figures that at the end of the present year he will have handed over his counters one million lunches. But he deplores the fact that many of his patrons obstruct the way for other customers by taking on an average of a "minute and a half" to decide what they want to eat.

"It takes longer," the manager said, "for my counterman to assist the average customer to make up his mind than to actually serve him.

"It costs me money," he said, regretfully. "Persons who are otherwise prospective patrons do not come in to my restaurant because they can see through the windows that all the chairs are occupied and the counter lined with 'doubtfuls.'

"I cannot suggest 'please make up your mind before you approach the counter'; that would be poor business."

Efforts have been made to cope with this problem, the manager said. Attractive and suggestive signs were suspended from the ceiling to catch the eye of the patron. "Our sirloin of beef is particularly fine to-day," one sign read. Another announced that the special order of the day was "Calf's brain omelet.' Other signs under the heading "What to eat to-day" were stuck on the windows where they could be glanced at from the outside.

"But this only seems to add to the luncher's doubt,' the manager said.

INSURGENTS ASK REDS TO CAPITULATE

ANTI-BOLSHEVIK MOVEMENT SPREADS AND REDS IN PETROGRAD ARE SENT AN ULTIMATUM.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS

LONDON, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — Revolutionary authorities at the Kronstadt fortress have sent an ultimatum to the Soviet authorities in Petrograd demanding the surrender of the city before March 25. If the city is not given up, the ultimatum declares there will be a general bombardment, it is asserted in a special despatch to the London Times. Wholesale arrests and executions of workmen are said to have occurred at Cranienbaum, Systerbak and Petrograd.

Kronstandt last night sent a wireless despatch denying the Bolshevik statements that the fortress was without food, says a Stockholm telegram. To the contrary, there is plenty of food and ammunition, a message says.

A great anti-Bolhseviki movement in the vicinity of Minsk, White Russia, is reported in a Helsingfors despatch. The Soviet troops are reported to have mutined and murdered the Bolshevik commissaries. Another despatch mentions street fighting between the Bolsheviki and the anti-Soviet units in Kiev.

FALSE RUMOURS OF BANK ROBBERIES

REPORTED THAT THREE BELLEVILLE BANKS HAD BEEN RELIEVED OF CONSIDERABLE SUMS

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—Officials of local banks are much disturbed over unfounded rumors that one or more banks here had been robbed. They hesitated to believe that the lying rumour was started maliciously, but it was evidently the work of some irresponsible, unbalanced fool, who could not appreciate the potential harm and mischief such a tale, told as the solemn truth, might do.

Three different banking institutions were named as victims, and the loss involved was given at various figures, up to $30,000.

The police are hot on the trail of a man or men who started those false reports.

Yesterday afternoon, after inspecting the Belleville High School cadets, Brig.-General King urged upon the youths the need of physical and military training for the welfare of the country, and to impress upon immigrants the thought that Canadian laws are to be obeyed. The corps paraded 111 strong.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While grey, faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor, of the Examiner

Dear Sir,—On reading last night's edition of your paper I noticed in the report of the Exhibition Board that the Football teams were using the Exhibition Park without the sanction of the Board.

The statement made by Mr. Turner places the Football Executive as overstepping their duty.

Both Mr. Denne and Mr. Turner were approached by myself and other officials of the various clubs, who play on these grounds as long ago as last Aug when our Schedule of Games commenced and finished on June 30 21.

Both gentlemen willingly consented and gave us the privilege of using the Park.

We shall be pleased to meet the delegation of the Ground Committee at our next meeting on Monday evening next in the G.W.V.A. Hall and satisfactory adjust matters.

In closing I wish to publicly thank the Exhibition Board for the favors shown in granting us the use of the grounds in the past.

Yours respectfully,

On behalf of the Peterboro Football Association.

FRED SUTCLIFFE,
Secretary.

PRICF THREE CENTS — PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1921 — PRICE THREE CENTS

Norman Garfield Guilty of Murder of Ben Johnston

SENTENCE WILL BE PASSED TO-DAY ON MAN WHOSE BROTHER WAS YESTERDAY CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

OBJECT OF SYMPATHY

WOODSTOCK, March 16.—(Canadian Press.)—The jury, which has been deliberating on the Norman Garfield case last night, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder on the charge of killing Ben Johnston here on the night of January 20th. Sentence will be passed to-day.

All day long the court room had been crowded. The prisoner, his young wife and mother turned their eyes towards the door from which they entered, evidently trying to penetrate the findings of the men who they thought the one last ray of hope for husband and brother.

The foreman announced that the "jury had reached a unanimous verdict of murder." The words fell on the audience with a pall. The man in the box, a stranger to all in the large court room, had been found guilty of murder of one of the city's best known men, still the sympathy that seemed to flow out to the doomed man, his young wife of seventeen and his brother was unmistakable. Women surged around the girl wife, extending sympathy, while others shook hands with the convicted man.

FEAR CHILD WAS DROWNED IN SEWER

MONTREAL, March 11.—(Canadian Press.) — Squads of men are at work in the sewers of this city searching for the body of Lilly Manning, eight years of age, who yesterday with her mother, stumbled and fell into the open manhole on St. James street. The mother shouted down the manhole but could hear nothing except the rush of water below which runs to a depth of four feet at this point. A man rushed after the accident, and without waiting for a ladder, jumped into the manhole next to the open one and waited fifteen minutes for the body to apear. He saw nothing.

HAMON MURDER TRIAL OPENED

CLARA SMITH TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER OF REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN AND OIL MAGNATE.

ELIDE SOME EVIDENCE

ARDMORE, Okla., March 11.—All the principal figures in the trial of Clara Smith Hamon, charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, oil and railroad millionaire and Republican National Committee man for Oklahoma, were in readiness for the opening of the trial at nine o'clock yesterday morning.

Counsel for both sides agreed that the length of the trial depended upon the tactics adopted in examining veniremen for jury service. Both said they would be content with handling the case on its merits as a murder case without "resorting to grand-standing."

Speaking for the State, P. Freeling, Attorney-General of Oklahoma, said that an effort would be made to have the court rule that no evidence might be introduced regarding the alleged relations between Hamon and the defendant further back than 20 minutes before the shooting occurred and in another statement. William P. McLean and Walter Scott, of counsel for the defence, expressed similar views.

Mrs. Hamon, widow of the oil magnate, has announced her intention of appearing as a witness for the State and attending all sessions of the trial, and a seat has been provided for her. In a final statement before the trial Mrs. Hamon said she regretted she had not taken action years ago while Clara Smith Hamon was still Clara Smith, to end her association with Hamon. Clara Smith obtained the name Hamon by marriage to Frank Hamon, nephew of the man she is accused of killing.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER AFTER A CONVICTION

JUDGE WEIR ARRAIGNS MALADMINISTRATION OF MONTREAL POLICE DEPARTMENT AT MONTREAL.

WERE TO BE HANGED

MONTREAL, March 11. — Although William Boycal and Feodor Belan, charged with the murder of Peter Schulen on October 29, 1919, and sentenced to hang by Judge Desy sitting in King's Bench a year ago, were acquitted by the jury yesterday in their second trial, ordered after the first conviction had been quashed by the Court of Appeal on November 20 last, the liberation was obtained because the evidence given by the chief Crown witness could not be corroborated. This was pointed out by Mr. Justice Weir in his address to each.

"Boycal," said the presiding Judge, "you had guilty knowledge of this plan to foully murder a man who was returning to his native land, perhaps to defend it. You took no means to prevent it. Although you are free on a technicality, you leave with a stain on your name that will mark you forever."

Belan was also stigmatized by the court in the following terms: "You, Belan, were there that night. I believe it has been shown that you were there with the intent of participating in this atrocious crime. I am obliged to let you go because there is no corroborative evidence. You will live under the utter detestation of all respectable men."

The case had lasted all day, and the court awaited anxiously the hearing of a new witness who had just been handed over to the Crown in the morning, Mike Robi, a young lad 18 years of age. When placed in the box he knew absolutely nothing pertaining to the case. Here the Judge made a denunciation of the police and detective forces for their inability to produce witnesses who knew something about the case.

"We have wasted the whole day in examining people who know nothing about the crime. It is a shame that the time of the court should be taken up with such trashy witnesses. Of course, I am not blaming you, Mr. Crown Prosecutor; you had to use the witnesses furnished by the police."

The Crown here stated that as the witnesses at hand would be the same as at the first trial, there was no use proceeding further, and that the case, as far as the Crown was concerned, was finished.

The Court of Appeal had ordered a new trial on the grounds that the testimony of Frank Parrick had to be corroborated, as he has been suspected of complicity. Referring to his evidence, the Judge said that his testimony had been straightforward and that of an honest man, but would have to be corroborated to prove the case against the accused.

"There is no corroboration of his evidence. It is extremely sad to see that in this twentieth century, when detective methods are so advanced, that we in Montreal are helpless and the Crown has not the required assistance. It is your duty," addressing the jury, "to acquit the prisoners and add another judiciary scandal to the list of police maladministrations in the city."

Without leaving the room the jury declared the prisoners not guilty.

CAPTAIN SAVES LIVES OF 100

BRITISH SHIP CAPTAIN DIVES INTO A BOILING SEA.

HONG KONG, March 11.—Diving headlong into a boiling sea, Captain E. R. Evans, of the British cruiser Carlisle, personally saved the lives of 100 Chinamen, imperilled in the wreck of the Hongmoh.

The story of the captain's heroism was made public to-day when the Carlisle docked with 200 survivors of the passenger boat. Despite all efforts, 80 were lost when the vessel buckled near Swatu, China, last Thursday.

Because of the heavy sea, it was impossible for the Carlisle's crew to draw a motor launch alongside. Evans refused to order any of his crew over the side into what looked like certain death. Knotting a life-line about his soldiers, he himself battled his way to the sinking boat.

One by one the passengers were taken aboard the launch, which made several trips. The little launch bobbed back and forth between the larger boats, Evans frequently dropping overboard to free the launch propeller from wreckage which had fouled it. He also leaped over the side several times to rescue passengers who were too exhausted to cling to the life-line and dropped into the sea.

SHOOTS MAN, KILLS SELF

FLEES FROM CROWD OF 500 PURSUERS AFTER CRIME AND, DRIVEN TO BAY, COMMITS SUICIDE.

HUNDREDS JOIN CHASE

NEW YORK, March 11.—An unidentified man, well dressed and about 30 years old, shot and killed Morris Bealkin, proprietor of a men's furnishing store at 26 Greenwick Street, late yesterday afternoon, fled from a crowd of 500 or more persons who pursued him, exchanged shots with a policeman, and then, driven to bay in a telephone booth in a Battery Place cigar store, killed himself with a shot in the brain.

The motive for the murder and suicide had not been definitely established by the police last night, but it was believed that Mr. Bealkin's assailant had attempted a robbery, and shot the haberdasher when the latter tried to resist him, and had killed himself when he saw that he could not escape. Three cents in money was found in the suicide's possession, and it was the police theory that he was probably trying his first hold-up. A more experienced robber, they explained, would have thrown down his revolver and have thrown up his hands the moment he found himself cornered.

Homegoing crowds that filled Battery Place and the nearby streets were startled to hear two revolver shots just after five o'clock. Fifty persons walking south in Greenwich Street saw a young man run from the door of Bealkin's store with a revolver in his hand, and saw the proprietor fall face downward just inside the open doorway.

Hundreds Join Chase.

Led by Joseph Sharp, of 78 Grafton Street, Brooklyn, a hundred men started in pursuit of the murderer. This number was augmented fivefold in a few seconds, as the fugitive, hard pressed, turned the corner and darted into a cigar store kept by Solomon Eppstein at 4 Battery Place.

"Hide me," the fugitive begged Eppstein. "A thousand men with guns are chasing me."

"You can't come in here," said Eppstein, as the fugitive attempted to force his way behind the small counter. The latter then turned to a telephone booth and was just about to enter it when the first of his pursuers appeared.

There is a bootblack stand at 2 Battery Place, adjoining Eppstein's cigar store. In the chair, having new laces put in his boots, was Policeman William Kramer, of the Old Slip Station. Standing by him in conversation was Policeman Leo S. Moore of the same station. Both had recently finished a tour of duty and were in civilian clothes.

"What's the matter?" called Kramer, as the chase came around the corner.

"He just shot a man in Greenwich Street," replied Sharp.

The two policeman, drawing their automatic pistols, entered the cigar store ahead of the crowd.

Fires at Pursuers.

The fugitive fired a shot which went wild, on their entrance. Kramer returned his fire. The bullet struck the fugitive in the leg, just as he tried to get in the telephone booth, and was embededd in the door.

Bealkin's assailant, who was holding his revolver in his left hand, put the muzzle to his left temple and pressed the trigger, before either of the policemen could reach him. He sank unconscious in a huddle on the uoor of the telephone booth.

Other policemen had in the meantime sent in a call for ambulance. Dr. Harrison took Bealkn to the Broad Street Hospital, where he died about an hour later. Bealkin had been shot twice through the abdomen, and either of the wounds would have proved fatal.

Bealkin's assailant lived for nearly two hours after he had been taken to the Volunteer Hospital, but did not recover consciousness. The police found little to aid in identification. The laundry mark on his linen, "16-X," and the initial "E" on a belt buckle and a woman's handkerchief found in a pocket were the only clues discovered.

Drury Government Hotly Attacked by United Opposition

LIBERALS AND CONSERVATIVES SCORE GOVERNMENT ON GROUND OF EXCESSIVE EXTRAVAGANCE AND ARE TOLD THAT EXPENDITURES WERE JUSTIFIED.

DEWART DELIVERS A MASTERLY SPEECH

TORONTO, March 11.—(Canadian Press.)— Swept with broadsides from both the Liberal and Conservative forces, which for once presented a united front, the Drury government in the Legislature last night was subjected to the severest criticism, principally on the grounds of extravagance, that has yet been meted out to it. But it withstood the ordeal and told the Opposition that it had no apologies to make for its admittedly heavy expenditures, which were more than justified under the prevailing abnormal conditions. At the same time a promise was held out that economics of a far-reaching nature would be effected from now on and that the legacy of debts the present administration had inherited would soon be wiped off.

The discussion was on the budget; it was expected that a division would take place and the galleries and floor of the House were packed. An amendment to the usual motion that the "Speaker do not have the chair and that the House resolve itself into a committee of supply" was proposed by Liberal Leader Dewart, which amounted to a vote of want of confidence in the government. But instead of dividing, the House accepted the Speaker's observation, "In my opinion the amendment is lost." The onslought on the government was opened by R. Cooper, Liberal member for Welland, who was followed by H. H. Dewart.

Mr. Dewart dealt for the greater part of his speech with the province's financial affairs and delivered what was generally conceded to be one of the most masterly reviews ever heard in the House.

Conservative leader, Hon. G. H. Ferguson declared that the present administration had enormously increased the public debt and had thrown all pre-election pledges to the winds. His followers, joined by the Liberals, cheered him to the echo.

Premier Drury and the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Peter Smith, came valiantly to the defence of the administration. The former frankly admitted that the government had spent enormous sums of money but the expenditures were justified and called for no apologies. It was thoroughly a fighting speech, neither asking nor giving qaurter and roused his followers to great enthusiasm.

PROBABILITIES.

Southerly winds, mostly fair and mild.

PARTY CANADIAN TEACHERS MEET KING AND QUEEN

CAROLINE BALFOUR, OF OMEMEE, DESCRIBES RIDE OF THEIR MAJESTIES OF ENGLAND TO OPEN BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

OMEMEE, March 11.—The following letter from an old Omemee school girl, Miss Caroline Balfour, now in England on the Teachers Exchange written to her sister here will be of interest to a good many readers:

"41 St. Georges' Square
I. W. I.

"London, Feb. 16, 1921

"Dear Annie:— 'I fancy it is time for me to write you again. We've had no snow here since early in December and hardly any rain. The climate this winter has been very mild and except for an occasional fog, has been quite pleasant.

"Well, we saw the King and Queen, Feb. 15th was the opening day of Parliament. The King sent word to Mrs. Ord Marshall that he would be pleased to see us inside the gate of Buckingham Palace. Of course we took the morning off from school and all met at Victoria Station. From there we proceeded to the Palace, twenty strong, and were admitted by pass into the outer quadrangle. Here, we were placed behind some crippled soldiers, sitsitting on chairs. In a few moments the band of the House hold Guards (Cavalry) rode in and filled one side of the quadrangle. They wore helmets, steel breast

FRIDAY, MARCH 11TH, 1921.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Well known Peterborough citizens are co-operating with the local Salvation Army in a drive next week to riase $3,000 in connection with the Self Denial Fund of the Army. Three teams will canvass the manufacturing establishments and the business section of the city, and the appeal is expected to be received in a sympathetic and kindly spirit. Without detracting in any way from the work carried on by the churches and social service organizations it is generally admitted that the Salvation Army covers a field of endeavour that is not reached by any other agency. It knows no limitations of creed or class, but aims at helping wherever help is needed; that a person is in need is all that the Army needs to know about him. And no one asks in vain. The public knows this end of the Army's work and honours the Salvationists for what they have done and are doing. But there are other angles to the service of the Salvation Army that are, from the very nature of them, not so well known. They are not discussed in the press or from the platform, but nevertheless many people have had, because of them, reason to thank the Salvation Army for a fresh grip on life, a new start towards better things. Peterborough is asked to contribute $3,000 towards carrying on these works of mercy, and the response should be immediate and hearty. The city could not invest that amount in any better manner, for the results will be apparent in the coming year.

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

The announcement from Ottawa of what amounts to an embargo on immigration into Canada, except of farm labourers, will be received with general satisfaction. The industrial conditions are such as to make necessary the barring out of those who might prove to be a burden upon the country. With the unemployed total running into many thousands, it would be folly to allow the situation to be aggravated by an influx of immigrants for whom no work could be found and the government is taking the proper course in refusing to throw the doors wide open to all of Europe's unemployed who care to try their luck in Canada. Farm labourers and immigrants who want to engage in farming for themselves are not included in the embargo. Canada has need of this type of new citizens and no obstacles should be put in the way of their coming, although of course there is always the chance of them becoming dissatisfied with farming and drifting into the cities to add to the glut of unemployed there. But that is a risk that the country can well afford to take so long as the bars are rigidly maintained against general immigration until the conditions improve sufficiently to permit of a different policy.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

The Legislature, which seems to be able to find time for everything except getting ahead with the important business of the session, has spent an afternoon discussing the question of proportional representation. Premier Drury and many of the U.F.O. members have announced themselves as favouring the principle as applied to municipal and provincial elections. On the other hand members of the old parties expressed their opposition to the scheme and Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal member for Parry Sound, contributed a rather pointed jolt to the discussion when he remarked that if the United Farmers were asked to explain their conception of the meaninging of proportional representation not a half dozen would give the same answer. However that may be, there are many more important things that the Legislature could deal with than this question, for apparently there is no more public demand for the inauguration of a system of proportional representation than there is for the installation of moving sidewalks, or the return of the luxury tax. The bill that precipitated the discussion, however, can do no harm for it merely confers upon municipalities the right to adopt proportional representation in their municipal elections if the electors so desire. Very few municipalities will be inclined to try the experiment after the results in Winnipeg, where the confusion over the system was so great that the number of spoiled ballots ran into four figures.

CO-OPERATION.

The plea of Mr. J. S. McKinnon, President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in his address here on Wednesday night for a better understanding and a more effective spirit of co-operation between the different interests and classes in Canada, is one that should strike a responsive chord. Group consciousness is not a basis upon which any country can expect to grow and prosper. No one class is independent of the other classes in the country, for, as Mr. McKinnon pointed out, "if you strike at the factories you strike at the cities and towns, and indirectly at the country." The President of the C. M. A. is quite sound in taking that position, for the farmers of Canada could not get along without the cities and their industries any more than could the latter do without the farming interests. Strife between the different classses is unnecessary and foolish. Manufacturers and farmers, employers and employees, should be able to reach a common ground of understanding and co-operation and decide upon policies that would be for the mutual benefit of all classes. There is a place for every class and they are so interdependent upon each other that group warfare and antagonism seem not only unnecessary but disastrous. Addresses like that delivered by Mr. McKinnon should be more often heard, for they point the way to a better spirit and more harmonious relations.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Salvation Army challenge to Peterborough must be met by the subscription of the $3,000 asked for.

Football practises are announced for to-morrow. And the rink is still open. That must be a record for Peterborough.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directors are inaugurating a new building programme and have increased the prize lists by $1,000. That is the spirit that wins through to success.

Running railways in Canada will soon be as expensive as running a war.

The Hydro Radial inquiry has halted again. If there are as many delays in the service given by the Radials when they get under way the public will have something to say.

EVERYONE WANTS TO GO ARMED.

"Everyone wants to keep armed these days," said Brantford's chief of police in reporting that the authorities are awaiting an explanation of the latest addition to the criminal code referring to the ownership of firearms. He declares that he would need a whole staff of clerks to issue sufficient licenses to all who apply. There has to be a license for every weapon opened by a private citizen, and there are apparently thousands of guns in the city.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Hellene, our rejection-eating goat, is rapidly absorbing the atmosphere of a newspaper editorial office, but it does not seem to interfere with her appetite. She still devours greedily all the humor in the mail and the proof of the column and leaves the morsels of gloom for use.

She has discovered that self-effacement and a retiring nature are out of place on the city staff, at least, and has observed that it is the initiative which the irrepressible ones show in nosing about and rooting up copy that brings the light of delight to the eye of the city editor.

Taking her cue from this she has dropped her cloak of bashfulness and this morning essayed to tickle the keys of our typewriter. She cannot work the shift yet to bring the capitals into play and her punctuation is not of the best, but the thoughts are there nevertheless.

Here is one of her observations:

peterborough has received from sir richard winfrey photos of public buildings in peterborough england among which is the city hall there it would hardly be good advertising for us to reciprocate.

Since she has landed on the job the efforts of the contribs have rapidly disappeared but we still have one or two which we are going to slip in while Hellene is looking the other way. Otherwise our space limit won't be reached. Some of them she has bitten but they are not seriously damaged.

HALF MILLION POUNDS FISH EVERY WEEK

Taken From Atlantic and Discharged at Halifax Wharves.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 10 (Canadian Press).—A good deal of the fish—fresh and salt—that Canada, east of Winnipeg, eats during Lent, say about half a million pounds a week, is pulled out of the cold waters of the Atlantic by Bluenose fishermen and brought to Halifax for distribution. At least four big steam trawlers disgorge their finny cargoes at Halifax wharves every ten or twelve days.

Swinging in huge baskets from the holds of the vessels, the scaly denizens of the deep are caught by the skillful hands of waiting cleaners, cut open with a single slash of a big knife, cleaned, packed in ice in boxes or barrels, shoved aboard motor trucks, rushed to the railway station, and off they go to the hungry observers of Lent in Quebec, Ontario, and even Manitoba. The fish that are to be smoked are pickled before being hung up in the great smoke rooms of the National Fish, Leonard Fisheries, or other big companies here. Some of these erstwhile inhabitants of the Atlantic take the long trip to British Columbia to satisfy the epicurean palates of Vancouver and Victoria.

In the summer time the trawlers ply in and out of Port Hawkesbury and Canso nearer their fishing grounds, but winter brings them back to Halifax, where they are seen from December to May outting their great catches ashore.

Some of the fish men here say they are bringing too much fish in this season. The dealers in Upper Canada on account of the great quantity of ish on the market, are able to make their own prices, it is said in Halifax, and these are tight times for the producers. Competition is keen, and occasionally dealers call in their trawlers by wireless to catch a rush order.

ARRESTED IN HIS PULPIT.

Sensational Finish to Revivalist's Prayer.

SPRINGFIELD, N. B., March 10.—As he concluded a fervent prayer in a revival service which he was conducting, Charles Steeves, Pentecostal preacher, was placed under arrest here, on Saturday night, charged with a most serious crime against a fifteen-year-old girl.

The prisoner, who belongs to Steeves mountain, Albert County, says he is a cousin of Gaius Steeves, now on trial charged with the murder of his wife, who with five of their children perished when their home at Coverdale, Albert County, was burned.

A warrant for the arrest of Steeves was issued by stipendiary Magistrate Noble, of Bristol, Carleton County, and Sheriff A. R. Foster and Deputy Sheriff Moore set out in search for the preacher. He was located at Springfield, York County, on Saturday evening, where the officers found him conducting a revival service. At the time they entered the hall, Steeves was engaged in prayer and the officers waited until he had concluded and the last Amen had died away. Then they marched to the platform and placed the preacher under arrest, while the congregation sat dumbfounded.

CLEAN SPEECH, CLEAN LIVING, CLEAN ATHLETICS

"Three C's" Campaign Has Been Brought to a Successful Close — 240 Sign Cards.

Last Sunday in George Street Methodist Sunday School the "Three C's" campaign was brought to a successful close, the result being that two hundred and forty signed the "3 C's" cards.

The "3 C's" campaign has been organized and carried on by the members of the boys' classes of the Sunday School. The members organized a series of speeches, which were delivered the past three Sundays. The first subject, "Clean Speech," was taken by Mr. E. E. Ingall, of the Normal School; the second, "Clean Sports," by Mr. H. B. Cowan, manager of the Rural Publishing Co.; the third, "Clean Habits," by Rev. W. H. Young, pastor of the church.

The "3 C's" card presented the following declaration:

"I hereby purpose to throw my weight, whether it be an ounce or a ton, in favour of clean speech, clean living and clean athletics."

The "3 C's" campaign is part of the work being carried out by the members of the boys' classes of the Sunday School, as set out in the Canadian standard efficiency training programme. Five boys' classes are actively applying this programme in their Sunday and mid-week meetings, while others are preparing to take it up as soon as possible.

The Canadian standard efficiency programme is based upon the life and teachings of Christ and the New Testament, Luke 2, 52nd verse: "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man."

This training is based upon the idea that human development should be four-fold and also that the four general lines along which growth should take place are: Intellectual, physical, devotional and social.

WITHDRAWAL OF OLD BRITISH COINS

Expected Because of Money With Increased Alloy.

The automatic operation of Gresham's law will result in the gradual and complete withdrawal of the older British silver coins, if the new coinage put into circulation last December, and which contains a very materially increased percentage of alloy, is issued in sufficient quantities, according to a writer in a London Trade Department bulletin.

"During the period when the price of silver was ruling at a level rendering the value of the silver in British coins greater than the face value, the Treasury passed a bill providing for the minting of coins with a very materially increased percentage of alloy. These coins were minted and have during December been put into circulation. There is a noticeable difference in the appearance and feel of the coins, but the design remains unchanged. It is not at present known how extensively the new coins are designed ultimately to replace the old, but if issued in sufficient quantities the automatic operation of Gresham's law will result in the gradual and complete withdrawal of the old coins.

The principle of political economy which has come to be known all over the world simply as Gresham's law was formulated in the sixteenth century by the distinguished merchant and financier, Sir Thomas Gresham. Briefly stated, this law affirms that in a mometary circulation bad money drives out good. If the currency in circulation be worn, mutilated or depreciated coinage, upon new full-weight coins being minted and put into circulation, the latter disappear, being exported, hoarded away or finding their way into the melting pot, while the worn-out coins continue to circulate as money.

SAYS SLAYING WAS JUSTIFIED.

Not Murder to Hasten Death Where No Hope.

BRUSSELS, March 10.—(Associated Press).—The question whether one person is guilty of a crime in hastening the death of another who is suffering from a mortal wound has been decided in the negative here in the case of a married man who shot and killed a girl who had attempted to commit suicide. His plea was that she was dying and that he killed her rather than to watch her suffer. He was arrested but acquitted of the charge of murder by the Brabant Court of Assizes.

The man in the case was Jerome Hermans, 32 years old, and the girl was Coline Vandyck, age 18. They had a love affair and the attempt at suicide resulted. The shooting occurred in the Bois de Cambre, Brussels' largest public park.

"Coline ran from the path into a thicket," said Hermans. "I heard a shot and ran after her. She had shot herself in the temple, but was still alive. I could not see her suffer and I took her revolver and shot her in the neck. Then she was still, and I shot myself."

Hermans recovered from his wound and was in prison for eight months until acquitted. Medical testimony given at the trial was to the effect that the girl's suicidal wound ultimately would have been fatal.

NEW YORK GOLD.

NEW YORK, March 10. — Gold worth approximately $1,200,000 was received here from Paris by Lasard Freres. This shipment, they announced, brought their total gold receipts here to $23,000,000 since the movement began last fall. Kuhn, Loeb, and Company, bankers, announced receipt of $1,900,000 in gold from London, bringing their total receipts to about $115,000,000 during the current movement.

MUSICIAN'S WIFE TAKES OWN LIFE.

Was Despondent — Husband Accused of Pro-Germanism.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Mrs. Matilda Steindel, wife of Bruno Steindel, former cellist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, who resigned in 1918 after being accused of pro-German activities, committed suicide by leaping into Lake Michigan from the foot of Farwell Street. Mrs. Steindel was an accomplished musician and acted as accompanist for her husband.

The police found Mrs. Steindel's automobile with lights still ablaze. Her fur coat, which she had cast off before jumping into the lake, was lying on the pier. The body was recovered after a search.

A short note, written on a piece of brown wrapping paper, was found in the tonneau of the car, saying:

"I am going to end it all—they have been unkind to me. I prefer death to an asylum."

Members of the family said Mrs. Steindel had acted strangely since her husband resigned from the orchestra. The recent illness of Mrs. Steindel's thirteen-year-old daughter, Eleanor, also had caused her great mental suffering.

Mrs. Steindel, who was 48 years old, was placed in a sanitarium in Milwaukee a year ago. After she had dropped many notes from a window begging her relatives to take her from the place she was returned home.

SUGAR CROPS ARE PLENTIFUL.

Increased Yields of Both Cane and Beet Products.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Beet sugar production in 1920 exceeded the former record of 1915 by 27 per cent. and reached the high figure of 2,219,200,000 pounds, according to a preliminary estimate of the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the Department of Agriculture. The increased yield was the result of a combination of large acreage and favorable weather conditions. Production of cane sugar is estimated to have been 385,974,000 pounds, so that the total estimated sugar crop for the United States was 2,605,174,000 pounds. This was 15 per cent. above the record sugar production for the United States in 1916, and 33 per cent. above that of 1910. Beet sugar has been gaining on cane sugar production for many years, taking the lead as early as 1906.

A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had used two bottles, my cough was all gone, and gone for good. I have not coughed since."

POOR SEASON N. B. FISHERIES.

Not So Successful As They Usually Are.

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—The fisheries of New Brunswick have not been as successful this Winter as they usually are. A open season is partly to blame for the small size of the take, and the decline in the fish market is another important factor.

In the Grand Manan district there has been a decided falling off in the quantity of lobster taken, while the low price of herring has discouraged the fishermen and resulted in a good proportion of them deserting their business. The lobster feeding grounds are reported to have been abandoned by the long-tailed crustacean.

There is a report from all parts of the northern shores that smelt are less numerous this season than usual. In some places in which they are expected to be present in great quantities hardly any are taken. Their scarcity is attributed to the mild Winter which most of the Province has enjoyed.

Says Phosphate Is What Thin, Nervous People Need.

The organic phosphate (discovered by Pelouz, the French scientist(which is known to druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate and which is safe to take as well as inexpensive, is now being highly recommended by many phyiscians as a real strength builder and for nervousness and general run down conditions. Scores of people all over the country have been benefitted by this remedy. McDermid & Jury and all good druggists keep a supply of Bitro-Phosphate. Try it if you are not feeling up to good form.

NATIONS' LEAGUE CANNOT STOP FUTURE WARS.

'Tis All Nonsense to Think So, Says Sir Percy Scott.

NEW YORK, March 10.—"Nonsense, sir, damned nonsense. The idea that the League of Nations can stop naval warfare is a Utopian dream."

So said Sir Percy Scott, the famous British naval officer, in an interview at his house in South Audley Street. He is a small, agressive little man, with white hair and a florid face. As he paced up and down the room he rattled off his sentences as though he was giving orders from the quarter deck.

The centre of a storm of controversy over the big battleship problem, Sir Percy has had abuse and praise freely showered on his head.

"Sir Percy," he was asked, "if the League can't stop naval warfare, what is going to stop it?"

He replied: "In the first place, naval men want to fight. That's what we're here for—to find our enemies and to beat 'em. At the same time I'll say this:

"As regards the next naval war, I believe that it will be fought under entirely different conditions to those which obtained during the late war.

Every Imaginable Stunt.

"Every nation will probably have their important ports protected from aggression by submarines varying in pattern and size according to the duty they have to perform, their harbors concealed and bomb proof.

"In addition to the submarines they will have for the purpose of guarding their harbors scouting airplanes, fighting airplanes, airplanes dropping bombs, airplanes dropping tornedoes, light aircraft carrying torpedoes.

"They will have barrages of poison gas, mines, nets, listening stations, a surface craft to drop torpedoes, wireless telegraph stations and aerodromes.

"The best way to stop naval warfare is to make aggression by sea more difficult, or perhaps impossible, and I think that in a few years' time if all nations are defended in the manner that I have described, aggression by sea will be very difficult, if not impossible, and therefore, if aggression by sea becomes impossible naval warfare must cease."

"MY GRACE IS SUFFICIENT FOR THEE."

For my Strength is Made Perfect in Weakness."—Cor. 12:9.

Though stern trials and temptations,
Beset us here below,
And we must to the bitter dregs,
Drain the deep cup of woe;
While not one ray of sunshine gleams,
Across life's leaden sky;
And blighted by misfortune's blast
Hope's fairest flowers lie.

Filled with distracting worries, cares
Our weary lot may be,
Grim want, bereavement, loneliness,
By Heaven's all-wise decree;
Yet wherefore should we fear, or faint,
Though ills on ills befall,
Jesus will all our burdens bear,
And lead us safe through all.

His grace in time of need, will prove
An all-sufficient aid;
For perfect is His loving power,
In human frailty made;
Oh, overflowing, full and free,
The stream of mercy flows,
With solace sweet for all our pain,
Nor diminution knows.

Although obscured by darksome doubt,
His eye will guide us right,
Through trouble's chilly cheerless vale,
Up to joy's sunny height,
These sufferings only will our souls
From earthly dross refine;
For His bright diadem, make meet,
As polished gems, to shine.

TRADE CONFERENCE IN MEXICO CITY.

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—(Canadian Press).—A Pan-American Trade Conference is to be held in Mexico City for four days, beginning June 12. A delegation from the Confederation of Chambers of Commerce, embracing every branch of commercial organization in Mexico, has left for the United States on a tour covering every principal city in an endeavor to interest large American concerns to be represented at the conference.

Dearest Marie,
Tragedy! Tragedy! Black, black tragedy! Jack has sprained his ankle!! I just late tobogganing anyway. He snowshoed over to the slides too, and you should have seen him standing on his head, frantically waggling those clumsy snowshoes in the air! He never misses a trick, that boy!

It was frightfully cold though, and my lips all cracked, and my hands got chapped—oh I was a terrible looking wreck—but after I had rubbed on some soothing Campana's Italian Balm all the fever and roughness disappeared, and then of course I could smile again.

My dear, you've simply got to write soon. As ever,
Peggy.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching; if what you eat sours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate, which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast.

THE BENTLEY MISSION.

Interest is increasing in the nightly meetings at the Gospel Hall. A most attentive congregation listened to Mr. Bentley last night. Opening his address, the speaker showed how God "who spoke in time past by the prophets, has in these last days spoken to us by His Son." When Christ came, died, and rose again it was God's way of speaking in plainest language of His concern and compassion for us. But even so, there are many who refuse to listen. Taking drastic measures we find that God will sometimes speak to us through dreams. Job. 33, 13-16; and through sickness, verses 19-22. And all for one great purpose, "To keep back his soul from the pit," to make men see that "He has found a ransom." God cannot show His love at the expense of His justice. His law expressed His righteous requirements from man, and could not, consistently with his character, be ignored or set aside. Yet He loved men—yearned over them. So did His Son; and on wings of love came down; undertook to redeem man, and when at Calvary the gathering storm broke He received the stripes that bring our healing. That law was honoured. And now God justifies the man who believes in Jesus—not merely on the ground of mercy, but justly. God's law has no further claim on the believer, because in Christ, his substitute, all its claims were met and satisfied. Come and hear this blessed Gospel praclaimed.

BROWN'S BAIL NOW $12,500; TELLER SIGNS STATEMENT.

TORONTO, March 11. — The Bank of Montreal, through their solicitors, have obtained a signed statement from Edgar M. Bromn, the teller, now awaiting trial on charge of defalcation of bank maneys, that he disposed of the $5,000 legal tender note by tearing it up and disposing of it in the lavatory of the bank. It is understood the statement will be used in obtaining a similar note from the government.

Fletcher Kerr, solicitor for Brown, stated that the bail had been reduced to $12,500 and that it was likely Brown's father would return soon with the necessary securities and that Brown would be on bail following his next appearance in the police court prior to going up for trial by jury.

WEAPONS LISTED POLICE STATION

OVER FIVE HUNDRED NOW ON LOCAL POLICE REGISTER.

The list of registered weapons at the Police Headquarters continues to swell and there are now in the neighborhood of five hundred weapons listed on the sheets. The bulk of the work has been performed by Sergeant James Reid, day sergeant, and Patrol Sergeant J. Deannard on the desk at night. The applications have poured in and the police station has been crowded night and day with folks seeking licenses. To save any exercise many citizens have tried the telephone, but Serget. Reid cannot get the names right over the 'phone and the citizens are asked to visit the station personally or send an ambassador. Despite the advices of the sergeant the applicants forget the most important details of description of the weapon. However, this morning some hope still lingered in his heart that the persisting, aggresive hosts armed with fowling pieces and dirty bayonets and evil smelling stilettos would some day melt away and he would be able to recline in undisturbed peace in his easy chair. Sergeant of Detectives William Meagher relieved the sergeant while inspecting the beats today. An estimable lady who lives in the north end of the city, but who is afflicted with deafness, hove in sight with a young lady guide seeking a permit and in the course of events the following dialogue took place:

"I want to see about a rifle my husband left me."

"Yes. What kind is it?"

"Eh! An Enfield."

"Is it a Lee-Enfield?"

"Oh, dear me! I don't know. It's very old."

"Do you know the number?"

"Eh! Oh, I don't think it has a number."

"Is it a "32?"

"I don't know whether it is thirty-two years old or not."

"I didn't mean how old it was. I meant the size of the bullet. Have you any bullets? gesticulating to show what a bullet was.

"Oh, no. I don't think I have any bullets."

"Is that all the weapons you've got. Yes."

"We'll let you know through the press when you can get a permit."

"Thank you very much. Am I through now? Well, good-bye."

Sergeant of Detectives William Meagher scratched his head and smiled.

This was a fair example of the dialogue with almost every applicant.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, dgestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

HERO WORTHY OF G. A. HENTY.

Is Slight Newfoundlander Named Rickardo.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10. —"There were twenty of us in the party and we each had a rifle and our ammunition supply was 2,000 rounds each; we had three Lewis guns and 5,000 rounds for each. The occasion was a trip made by twenty Britishers from Archangel to Tomsk in the days of the North-Russian expedition. We stood off 210 'Bolos' enroute for three days."

The hero of this and many other exciting adventures worthy of the best efforts of G. A. Henty or Mayne Reid is a slight Newfoundlander named J. L. Rickards, who arrived here recently. Rickards was at school in England when war was declared, and was only 14 years old. He promptly ran away from school and joined the Fourth Devons, went to France with them in the 33rd Division, and was wounded at Nieuport Dunes in 1915.

He got back to "Blightie" and his mother, as he explained, found out where he was and obtained his discharge as he was under age. Nothing daunted Rickards enlisted again, this time in the Royal Navy. He was a wireless operator on the battle cruiser Tiger at the Battle of Jutland, and was later on one of the famous "mystery" ships.

LIFE WAS BURDEN TO HIM, HE SAYS

GAINS FOURTEEN POUNDS AND IS RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I am now enjoying splendid health for the first time in years, and I owe it all to Tanlac," declared Edwin J. Cleeve, 164 Market Street, Hamilton, Ont.

"Tanlac has built me up fourteen pounds in weight," said Mr. Cleeve, "and has relieved me of a combination of troubles that made my life a burden. Nine years ago my stomach went back on me completely. After meals I had a distressed feeling of fulness, intense pains in the pit of my stomach, and an awful feeling of suffocation.

"I never dared eat an apple, and there were lots of other things I couldn't eat without suffering agonies afterwards. I suffered from constipation and headaches and my nervousness and misery often kept me awake all night long. I took enough medicine to have set up a little drug store of my own, but nothing reached my case until I got Tanlac.

"But Tanlac acted different from any other medicine I ever saw. By the time I had finished the second bottle I could eat solid food without any after distress and now I can eat just anything I please, and never feel a touch of indigestion. I am as good a man physically as I ever was in my life and never have an ache or a pain of any kind. Tanlac is simply a world beater."

Tanlac is sold by The Warne Drug Company, Ltd.

SELF-DENIAL FUND OF SALVATION ARMY

Campaign to Raise $3,000 Locally—Worthy Cause.

The local branch of the Salvation Army is appealing to the citizens to support the proposition now before the public that the claim of the Army in their Self-Denial $3,000.00 Fund be recognized and helped. The Army has to rely on its own efforts to get its revenue. It is ever diligent both in getting and more so in expending.

Besides from the very situation in which the people of the Army find themselves from day to day, they cannot find time and opportunity to do for themselves the things that are needed to be done. Occupations and earnings have to be considered. So it worthily falls to the public, sympathetic with the great work of the Army, to catch hold and lift.

That is the object of the campaign, which is now in course of preparation, to be carried out during next week. A number of very earnest men, knowing the situation, have come along and will help. In addition others are needed. So at an executive meeting, to be held in the Patriotic Fund Room on Friday evening at eight o'clock, all who can lend a hand are asked to be present. Men not fully occupied can assist. Men who feel that on them rests a certain responsibility to assist in doing good are wanted. The getting of the money follows on the thorough organization. It is hoped that the very careful arrangements being made will make the campaign a vivid success.

Leaflets, literature, informative circulars, appeals to employers are being circulated. All as a sort of preparation of the ground for the impending harvest, which is sure and must follow. So it is not worth while, here, to go at length into the aims and objects. The fact that the money is needed is the pertinent matter. Besides, the local branch of the Army feels that it should and must hold up its end. It cannot be behind in the list of successful campaigns, for the effort now being made is Dominion-wide. It emanates from headquarters, as a martial call that must be obeyed. So Peterborough branch has to be up and doing.

Come to the meeting. You will be welcome. Many hands make lighter the work. The enterprise can never have so many assisting that people will get in each other's way. Lots of territory in the city to be looked after. Who will spare a few hours to do tangible good?

Mothers! Keep Syrup Pepsin Handy

An absolute household necessity, a wonderful emergency remedy for constipation. Someone may need it any minute!

ALL in the family look to the mother for guidance and advice in the multitude of little disorders that arise almost daily. Chief of the minor ailments are those that precede or follow constipation. The experienced mother will tell this one to exercise more and that one to cut down on certain binding foods, but when these cautions fail she has to advise medicine.

Modern people are getting away from the notion that simple constipation, a headache, biliousness, colds, feverishness, indigestion, require a drastic, weakening drug. They take a teaspoonful or less of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is but a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The full formula is on every package. It is a mild, gentle remedy that does not gripe or weaken. The taste is syrupy and pleasant, and as it is free from narcotics and mercurials, mothers have for thirty years past felt safe in giving it to infants. A sixty-cent bottle will last a family months, and it is guaranteed to produce the results claimed or your money will be refunded.

You will find nothing better for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels than this same Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Every member of the family can use it with safety and feel sure of results. Many thousands of families are never without a bottle in the house, and last year over eight million bottles were sold in drug stores, the largest sale of its kind in the world.

These believers in Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin no longer take calomel or castor oil, salt waters, physics or purgatives even if made into a sugar-coated pill, for they have learned that they can get better, safer and more agreeable results with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. If you will once bring a sixty-cent bottle into your home and take a teaspoonful the next time you feel constipated you will never thereafter be without it.

Try It FREE

There are heads of families who will want to prove to their own satisfaction that my Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as effective in constipation, as mild and gentle in action, as pleasant-tasting and safe as I claim. Let such write me for a free sample. It will be sent postpaid. Simply say "Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont.: Send a free trial bottle of your Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin to—" and give your name and address. I will see that the rest is attended to promptly.

STORING SALE BARGAINS

By MARGERY STREETE
(Staff Correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

Many a sale bargain loses its lustre long before the purchaser wears it. Quantities of things bought now will be consigned to cupboards and drawers for next Spring, Summer or Autumn, and improper storing soon takes the freshness from them.

Quite one of the best devices for suits or frocks is a cretonne bag, made in the shape of a mammoth pillow case, with a row of brass rings running along the aperture's top and a flap to close the whole in and prevent dust penetrating. Hung squarewise along the back of the wardrobe or closet, skirts and coats, jumpers and blouses on hangers can be put in at will.

Old newspapers keep moths at bay. Furs or woollen materials should be laid flat on the paper, a few tufts of wadding soaked in oil of pennyroyal dotted around, and the whole rolled up and the edges sealed.

For clothes where the troublesome creatures have already penetrated, smoke them out with the aid of a sulphur cone, obtainable, with full directions for use, from any chemist. Of course, the sulphur scent lingers in the clothes for a little while, but fresh air soon removes this odor.

With gold or silver tissue-trimmed frocks laid by, the embroidery soon tarnishes. If a cloth is placed over the trimming and a warm iron passed gently up and down for a few minutes, the brightness quickly returns.

Never store waterproof articles in too warm an atmosphere. Almost any article of this kind likes a cold climate.

One seldom finds men's clothing moth eaten. This is because moths dislike the smell of tobacco. It is a good plan to sprinkle tobacco juice along the floor of a cupboard, or in the lining of a drawer containing clothing, for the odor drives them away.

Materials purchased by the yard should be laid out as flat as possible in drawers and boxes, or, where possible, rolled. Otherwise the folds are likely to become permanent, and are very difficult to eradicate.

A splendid contrivance for keeping millinery fresh is to make your men folk line an old sugar box with shelves and fix a door on hinges at the side. Then paint it white inside yourself, and cover outside with gay chintz or cretonne. The surface makes a good tabe for bed-room trifles, or can be used as an extra seat. Certainly it is never in the way.

MILLION MUSKRATS AT RONDEAU PARK.

Men Engaged on Salary to Trap.

George Goldworthy, park ranger at the Rondeau Government Park, has engaged two men to carry on muskrat trapping. They are on a salary, and must turn in each week the pelts secured, and must make good to retain the job. There will be a large catch, as from the best information it is believed there must be in the neighborhood of a million rats in the marshes. No trapping was allowed last year, and as the animals multiply very fast they are there in great numbers. With pelts worth around $2 each, a large amount of money should be realized from the next few weeks of trapping. The ranger is anxious that the park should be a better bird paradise than it is at present. The large number of deer running in the forest, estimated at over 400, has kept the young saplings from growing, as young deer feed mostly by browsing. The consequence is that there is not the growth of small shrubs and sapling there should be. He is recommending that many of the deer be removed from the forest, and that most of those kept be placed in an inclosure. Here they could be seen to much better advantage by the visitors at the park. At present a visitor can seldom see the deer.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

plate, white breeches with sheepskin "chaps" to the knee, long leath er boots. The drummer sat on a cream coloured pony. Two drums were fastened to the saddle, one on each side, and it was most interesting to us to watch, the drummer. Later, we were placed outside the gates in order that we might see the procession better. The bands played and entertained us. Their instruments were very sweet toned.

"The crowds were held back by the police and then the Life Guards dressed in red coats and those big fur bonnets—"busbees"—(I don't know how to spell it—but it sounds like that) lined each side of the street.

"Soon a courier in red coat and on horse-back rode out and said to the soldiers "Be Ready" and everybody stood at attention.

First, came quaint old fashioned coaches drawn by four horses. The coaches were red and gold. A man rode on one horse of the front team dressed in a dark blue jockey cap, red and gold coat, white breeches, etc. There were two or three carriages like this carrying people of the court. Then the band struck up "God Save the King", and there they were, riding in a wonderful old-fashioned state carriage of gilt and glass Their carriage was drawn by six horses, all with wonderful harness, a postillion on the right-hand horse of each team. The driver wore a most wonderful three-cornered hat with feathers on it. A man ran along beside each horse.

"Inside were the King and Queen. Her Majesty was wearing an ermine cloak and her crown, while the King wore red coat uniform and carried his hat. They bowed to the people and Queen Mary is just like every other faithful wife, there are times when she has to give George a nudge. She did this just as they were passing, for she thought he was going to forget to bow to the wounded soldiers. The body guard closed in and on they went. We were then told if we would wait until they returned from the Parliament Houses, that the king would speak to us.

We were taken into the inner quadrangle —the private quadrangle of the palace—and told to stand on the steps of the Palace This we did and after waiting an hour their majesties returned. As the Queen descended from the carriage, she came over to us and bowed and smiled and said "She was pleased to see us." She also told Mrs. Marshall she would pa down the line, only she was in evening dress. Her dress was a gold tissue, with gold coloured shoes. Over that was her ermine cloak. She is very fine looking with blue eyes, lovely clear skin and her hair is pure white. The King in the meantime was reviewing the Life Guards. He stood over at one side and they marched past him, Then he came over to us, and I was as close to him as one is when shaking hands with another He said, "We are pleased to see you here"; "How long have you been over"; "You will have made many friends in London by this time, we hope you will come to visit us again and take back pleasant memories with you, good-bye." He did not shake hands or tell us to come on in for lunch, etc., but we appreciated what he did do, since we've done nothing to deserve this honour. At least we can say we've been presented at Bucking ham Palace, not mentioning, of course, that it was out on the steps. The King was very genial and friendly and spoke to us as if we were his friends. He has rather a high-pitched voice for an Englishman; they all seem to use the Qxon ian accent, excepting the Cockney.

The Saturday previous, we went through Lambeth Palace, the home of the Archbishop of Canterbury, who has the same rank in the Anglican Church as the Pope has in the Roman Catholic Church. Next Saturday, we go to Canterbury, and will be shown about by the Mayor of that Cathedral City.

We were out for tea and dinner on Saturday, at the home of one of the teachers—Miss Ping — whose sister is coming to Canada next year on the Teacher's Exchange. Her friend, Miss Rush is coming also, and wanted to know how often the trains ran across Canada per day. She was told there was one or perhaps two through trains a day. "Why", she exclaimed, "I thought they would run every ten minutes like they do in Lohdon.

"Well, I must close. I'm sending you each a magazine showing the Overseas party as they waited for their Majesties.

BOYS TOUR THE CARPET FACTORY

SECOND OF Y.M.C.A. FACTORY TOURS AT BRINTON PLANT YESTERDAY.

Through the courtesy of the superintendent, Mr. Charles H. Thompson, the second of the Y. M. C. A. factory observation tours was held at the plant of the Brinton Carpet Company on Wednesday afternoon. To many of the boys, who are even in the higher grades of the Collegiate, this tour was a revelation in the matter of showing more clearly just what Peterborough produces.

There were shown the wool in its natural color, just as it comes from the Canadian Woollens, following through the processes of dying, winding, etc., to the finished rug wrapped ready for shipment. The operators of machines were only too anxious that the boys should comprehend thoroughly each stage of the manufacture—stopping their machines and often times turning of by hand that the minute details might not be missed.

Through Axminster, Brussels and Wilton the party passed hurriedly but none the less thoroughly. There are in the Brinton Carpet Company's plant two huge machines which makes a seamless rug three yards wide, and at these the party hovered with interest.

After seeing the factory with its many mechanical processes a stay was made in the designing room and the nearby departments, where young ladies make the patterns from the designs. Stitching, steaming, cleaning and kindred forms of finishing, each tended to open the eyes of the uninitiated into the carpet making world.

Those in charge desire to make mention of their appreciation to the management of this company in permitting the party to visit the factory.

On Friday night a further treat is in store for the boys of the membership. Mr. W. E. Dyer will, in connection with the Metropolitan Health and Welfare Campaign in Peterborough, give an illustrated address and will also show a selection of oil tinted lantern slides, reproducing the famous Tissot Bible paintings. Any boy who has not received his invitation should call round and get it.

On Saturday night the rivalry of an entire season between the Young Men's Club and the Collegiate Institute will terminate in a sudden death basketball game. Interest is running high, and with the preliminary game of two senior teams from the Y.W.C.A., a full evening's enoyment is assured all those who attend.

REVIVAL — CHURCH OF GOD MISSION.

As previously announced, Rev .G. P. Tasker preached at the Mission last night on the subject: "Jesus Christ in Christian Experience."

The address was scholarly and comprehensive and dealt with the importance and the necessity of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

At the close of his talk the preacher introduced the beautiful thought that when Jesus arose He took with Him His humanity. All He left behind in the tomb was the grave clothes. The very body which received the spear thrusts was resurrected and has gone on before us, glorified; and because Jesus Christ, possesses our essential humanity, he understands us, sympathises with us, and is a merciful High Priest in things pertaining to God. Hebrews 2:17.

Mr. Tasker has spent nine years in India in active missionary work, where he also served as Y. M. C. A. Secretary among British and Indian troops.

To-night he will speak on "Man, his present and future." Everybody welcome. At corner of Hunter and George streets, over the Royal Bank, Entrance in the rear on Hunter St. Time of meeting, 7:45.

CHURCH PARADE AT MILLBROOK SUNDAY

MILLBROOK, March 11.—Major the Rev. W. B Caswell of Toronto, will address C Company Durham Battery at the evening service in the Methodist Church next Sunday. The military band will head the parade. Rev. Mr. Caswell saw active service overseas with Winnipeg Battery. His father preached in Cavan 77 years ago, and was pastor of the Methodist Church here 57 years ago

How many hairs are there in a cat's tail? None; they are all on the outside.

UPHOLDS SPLENDID TRADITIONS OF CHURCH.

Rev. F. Elliott-Baker To Preach at St. Luke's on Sunday.

The Rev. F. Elliott-Baker, M. A., B.Sc., has accepted the invitation of the Church Wardens of St. Luke's Church, to preach at both services in that church next Sunday, March 13th.

Those who attended St. Luke's Church last Sunday are unanimous in their opinion that this clerical visitor is an eloquent preacher of high order and sound reasoning ability, possessing the rare quality of presenting the fundamentals of Christianity as real and living things not only of the past but of and for the to-day.

His morning sermon which concerned itself with the problem of human suffering, was one which showed a remarkably uncommon view of and deep insight into, those things with which the material and spiritual life of every man has to do. Few could fail to be moved by some of the deeper passages of this discourse, containing as it did, such thought for spiritual reflection as will be difficult to forget.

In looking over the list of the former rectors of St. Luke's Church it cannot but be noticed that among them are men of very out-standing abilities who have in later days ranked among the Church's statesmen of both this and other dioceses, and it would appear from Mr. Elliott-Baker's record in the world of science and ecclesiastics, that the Wardens have exercised very clear-sightedness in securing, in their visitoh, a man who contains such promise of upholding the splendid traditions of that church.

Mr Elliott-Baker was educated in England, France and Germany, and is the son of an English Squire and French noble-woman, facts which probably account for his breadth of sympathetic tolerance and understanding of the various and different views existing among the Christian bodies of the present age.

The reverend gentleman enjoys the distinction of having, on more thas one occasion, received the invitation to preach before the royalty of England in the King's chapel, an honour enjoyed by only a few.

During the week-end, Mr. Elliott-Baker will be the guest of H. Perry Esquire, warden of St. Luke's church.

It is hoped in many quarters that this clerical gentleman will become more than a mere visitor —in fact a permanent resident here—and he is extended a warm welcome to Peterborough City.

HASTINGS MADE DENIAL OF SIX OF THE CHARGES

DENIES FAVORITISM ALLEGATION AND ANTI-PROHIBITIONIST CHARGE.

CAYUGA, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — Resuming his evidence at the Dunnville law and order inquiry this morning Magistrate David Hastings testified that he knew nothing of any town ring and had never favored any group or any individual in the discharge of his duties. He resented the charge that he was an anti-prohibitionist—a term which he thought could be interpreted in many ways. He was not a prohibitionist but he was not opposed to the O. T. A., although there were two clauses in the act he considered too drastic. He favored temperance rather than prohibition and by temperance he meant self control. Although he was a total abstainer he would not force total abstinence on people by law. He thought a better system of restricted sale of liquor rather than that now in force could be established. His explanations were in connection with denials of charges two, three, four, five, six and seven. Witness said he had taken no part in party politics since he was appointed magistrate.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN SPRACKLIN APPEAL

WINDSOR INSPECTOR GOES TO THE APPELATE COURT FROM TRIAL JUDGE.

TORONTO, March 11.—Judgment was reserved yesterday in Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin's appeal from the $500 trespass damages awarded Oscar E. Fleming by Mr. Justice Middleton, following the search made of Mr. Fleming's yacht in the Detroit River.

Mr. Spracklin's interests were in the hands of J. H. Rodd, of Windsor, and D. L. McCarthy, K.C., appeared for Mr. Fleming.

The case was heard before the Second Divisional Court in Osgoode Hall, and elicited considerable judicial comment on Mr. Spracklin's alleged "inexperience" and "unwisdom." Lengthy arguments also transpired on the definition of a "vehicle," and when it was suggested that a vehicle was a carriage, Chief Justice Meredith at once queried, "Would anyone in Windsor designate the yacht in question as a vehicle?"

The right to search great boats was a question much debated, and Chief Justice Meredith held that all boats on the St. Lawrence must obey the Canadian liquor laws. Mr. Justice Lennox replied that Muskoka has inland waters, and liquor is being carried on both large and small boats.

Following the debate on the meaning of "vehicle" under the Ontario Temperance Act, Mr. Justice Lennox gave it as his view that navigable waters were highways.

Piled high before Mr. Rodd were dictionaries, books of words and phrases, etc. After the "vehicle" and "highway" argument, Mr. Rodd went on to show why Rev. Mr. Spracklin and his men had boarded the Fleming yacht. Mr. Rodd found fault with the trial judge's so-called findings of fact.

Spracklin's counsel contended that there was no menace in the display of guns before the young ladies. The young people were interested and were shown how the guns were carried.

Mr. Justice Ferguson and Mr. Rodd could not see through the same glasses that clause in the O. T. A., requiring "belief" before an inspector made a search for liquor, His Lordship contending that "suspicion" was not enough warrant.

Mr. Justice Latchford and Mr. Rodd measured swords over the question of damages for the alleged trespass by Spracklin, after which the judges announces that they would read the evidence.

The great things of life will not stand for ever knocking at the door of unwilling hearts; it is we who must do the knocking, the asking, and the seeking, and we will be importunate if we really desire those things very much.

WILL MRS. ETHEL BARRYMORE COLT SUE FOR A DIVORCE?

NEW YORK, March 10.—No confirmation can be obtained of the published report that Mrs. Ethel Barrymore Colt was about to sue for a separation or divorce from her husband, Russell Griswold Colt. Mrs. Colt is in Flower Hospital, following an operation for removal of her tonsils, and it was said that orders had been given to refer all inquiries to her counsel, William Nelson Cromwell.

At the home of Mr. Cromwell it was said that he could not see any one, but that he would be at his office this afternoon. John Barrymore, her brother, was also inaccessible. Mr. Colt cannot be found in New York, and it was said that he is in Florida, although he could not be located at Palm Beach, where he was reported to be staying.

Rumors of disagreement between Miss Barrymore and her husband have been current for some time among their friends. She was married to Mr. Colt in Boston in March, 1909, while playing in "Lady Frederick." There are three children, Samuel, Ethel Barrymore Colt and John Drew Colt, named for Miss Barrymore's actor uncle.

CAN GERMANY PAY?

(By Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, Former Premier of Great Britain.)

Editor's Note. — The following article merely represents the personal views of the Right Hon. Mr. Asquith on this matter.

(By Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

The arrangement come to in Paris by the Supreme Council, fixing the amount of reparation payable by Germany is a complete revision and reversal of the Treaty of Versailles. The burden now placed upon Germany is substantially lighter.

We have not yet had an explanaton of the new scheme, but I feel bound to say of it, in the clearest, most ambiguous, and most emphatic terms, that it fills me with the most disquieting scepticism as to its suitability for the purpose in view. I have no sentiment about extracting from Germany anything that Germany can pay. The question is, can it be done, and is this the way to do it?

I dismiss from view the expediency, or even the practical possibility of demanding now, for more than the lifetime of a generation, that German industry is to be subject to a mortgage of a progressively increasing amount. I say nothing, too, about the 12 per cent. tax, but the reparation must be made by German export of goods.

There has recently been a deficit of German exports as compared with her imports. She has to get her raw material from abroad, and pay for it. Even if a development in her export trade were possible, what would be the effect upon the industries, and trade of our own and other countries. There is already an outcry against the dumping of German goods. We are even promised an Anti-Dumping Bill as the principal measure of next session. Before many months are over you will find the loudest demands from all the interested quarters for a protective duty to prevent the importation of dumped German goods.

You will be in the paradoxical situation that, with the payment of the German tribute for reparation which you can oly have in the form of German imports, you will at the same time be asked to protect the British manufacturers against dumping, by imposing a duty on the German goods which come in.

COAL DISCOVERED IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA, Sask., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—A coal discovery, which may prove to be one of the most valuable in Saskatchewan, is reported from Ardill on the Moose Jaw-Assiniboia line, by J. F. Irvin, a farmer.

At the present time Mr. Irvin is considering an offer of a quarter of a million dollars for his coal mine.

The discovery was made last Fall when Mr. Irvin was digging for water. He came on a seam of coal at a depth of 27 feet below the surface after passing through a bed of quicksand. He kept his discovery very quiet and during the Winter sunk a shaft to the coal deposit. A quantity of coal has been taken out, which is somewhat similar to the Western bituminous coal.

THE GRADING OF CANADIAN TOBACCO

Plants at Blenheim, Rodney, and Simcoe.

BLENHEIM, March 10.—President Coghill, of the Canadian Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Company, Kingston, has closed an agreement for the lease of the Cox implement building, to be used for the grading of tobacco from growers here, who wish to market their product on the co-operative plan.

Mr. Coghill also went to Rodney and it is the intention of the company to start a grading plant there and probably one at Simcoe.

So far, only a slight fraction of the 1920 crop of Burley tobacco has been bought, and all of that by one company, the Imperial. Only the pick of the crop has yet been taken, the top price being 15 cents. The co-operative way is to process the tobacco and market it, giving the growers the proceeds.

JUNE 20 FOR SASK. ELECTION.

Word Quietly Circulated in Some Quarters.

SASKATOON, Sask., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—A Provincial election in June is the word chiefly circulating among the politicians of the Province, according to a recent story published in the Saskatoon Star, which declares: "It is generally predicted that the date will be June 20—almost precisely four years since the Provincial election of June, 1917.

"The big question or issue in the campaign will come into being through the report of the Grain Commission, consisting of James Stewart and F. W. Riddell, on the subject of Provincial policy in wheat marketing. It is quite possible that the Government will announce a policy of government backing for a Provincial wheat pool, to be conducted through the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, Ltd., and will go to the country on this programme.

"The conditions are propitious. The Grain Growers' convention at Moose Jaw decided to stay out of politics for another year, at least, but there was sufficient indication of a desire to get into the Provincial arena to make the Government worry about what might happen at the next convention. No serious criticism of the Government's policy has been offered for several years, so that it may consider its administrative record almost unchallenged.

"The three cities, Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, will have two members each in the next Legislature instead of one as at present. One nominating convention has already been held, the Labor party having decided to place Alderman Harry Perry, of Regina, a Labor man of moderate views, in the field for one of the Regina seats. It is generally anticipated that there will be many independent candidates in the field."

NEW YORK, March 10.—Three members of the 23rd Infantry Regiment, New York National Guard, are suffering from wounds inflicted late Tuesday night by one bullet, discharged from a service rifle in the regimental armory.

The bullet first struck James Golder, passed through his body and seared the shoulder of Daniel Bornsdheim; striking the wall it ricochetted, inflicting a slight wound in another mans left hand.

A fourth member of the regiment was detained by police pending an investigation.

WELLESLEY GIRLS LIKE HASH AND PRUNES.

WELLESLEY, Mass.—Hash and prunes—made famous by boarding houses—are among the favorite dishes of the girls at Wellesley College.

Mrs. Charlotte S. Whiton, who buys the food for the college dining halls, declares that if the girls were given a choice between hash and fancy salads, they would choose hash every time. And then, to add to this, Mrs. Whiton declared the girls are over-fond of prunes.

BRITAIN'S MANDATE FOR PALESTINE

LONDON, March 10.—(Cross-Atlantic).—The terms of the mandate under which Great Britain becomes responsible for the foundation of a national home for the Jews in Palestine are very comprehensive and add further heavy burdens to the world responsibilities assumed by England since the war.

In many respects the mandate follows the lines of that for Mesopotamia—Britain being responsible for controlling foreign relations and guaranteeing religious, racial and educational equality. There is, also, to be no trade discrimination against foreigners.

In particular, Britain has to supervise the close settlement of Jewish immigrants on the land, and to control the holy places.

The Zionist Organization is to cooperate in the work of developing the country's resources.

Briefly summarized, the main articles of the mandate are:

Britain to have all the powers inherent in the government of a sovereign State subject to any limitation by the terms of the mandate itself.

Britain to be responsible for placing the country under such political, administrative and economic condition as will secure the establishment of the Jewish national home and the development of self-governing institutions; and also for safeguarding the civil and religious rights of all the inhabitants of Palestine, irrespective of race and religion.

The Zionist Organization is to be recognized as a public body for the purpose of advising and co-operating with the administrator of Palestine and of securing the co-operation of all Jews willing to assist in the establishment of a Jewish national home.

A land system to be introduced promoting close settlement and intensive cultivation.

The administration may arrange with the Zionist Organization to construct or operate, on fair and equitable terms, any public works, services and utilities, and to develop any of the natural resources of the country.

Britain to be entrusted with the control of the foreign relations of Palestine and the right to issue exequaturs to consuls appointed by foreign powers, and to afford diplomatic and consular protection to citizens of Palestine when outside its territorial limits.

All responsibility in connecton with the holy places and religious buildings or sites in Palestine and the free exercise of worship to be assumed by Britain, who will be responsible solely to the League of Nations in all matters connected therewith.

Britain to appoint as soon as possible a special commission to ensure that certain holy places, religious buildings or sites, regarded with special veneration by the adherents of one particular religion, are entrusted to the permanent control of suitable bodies representing the adherents of the religion concerned.

Britain to see that complete freedom of conscience and the free exercise of all forms of worship, subject only to the maintenance of public order and morals, is ensured to all.

The right of each community to maintain its own schools for the education of its own members in its own language shall not be denied or impaired.

The administration may organize on a voluntary basis the forces necessary for the preservation of peace and order, and also for the defense of the country, subject, however, to the supervision of the mandatory.

They shall not be used for purposes other than those above specified, save with the consent of the administration of Palestine, and, except for such purposes, no military, naval or air forces shall be raised or maintained by the administration.

Britain to see that there is no discrimination against the nationals of any of the States, members of the League of Nations (including companies incorporated under their laws) as compared with those of Britain or of any foreign State in matters concerning taxation, commerce or navigation, the exercise of industries or professions, or in the treatment of ships or aircraft.

English, Arabic and Hebrew to be the official languages of Palestine. Any statement or inscriptions in Arabic on stamps or money in Palestine shall be repeated in Hebrew, and any statement or inscriptions in Hebrew shall be repeated in Arabic.

An annual report on measures taken during the year to be made to the League of Nations Council by Britain.

Voice Of The People

March 1th.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—In reading Mr. Sanderson's letter in to-night's Examiner, we are left in no doubt that military matters take precedence in his review of the Miller-Council affair, and in presenting his case for public comment and debate, he has given plenty of evidence to win respect for the military achievements of this fearless soldier. But there is one passage in his letter, which anyone wishing to be just in his arguments can not overlook. He writes of Major Miller, 'All the more power to him. He evidently is not afraid of his own convictions.' Now why shouldn't this passage be applied to the Council, if it has enobled Major Miller to hold his convictions. Would we think it wise or prudent that the City Fathers should alter their decision. Having thus decided, not altogether of their own will, but voicing the desire of those who are in a high measure responsible for the city's moral well-being. We know that Major Miller passed over the will of the Council. He won out in his determination to hold the concerts, therefore we might ask, is this victory not enough? Without wishing to crush the individual spirit or collective dignity or the Council, I wonder how many citizens have pictured in their minds this little city drama being carried out in military life. The officer in authority orders the private to comply with some order and the private says, nothing doin gmate, and having gone in direct opposition to his supervisor's commands he is also righteously indignant that the officer cannot see his viewpoint and apologize. No, leave us a little of warm human nature for the Council. We are apt to forget in the annals of military glory the plain, everyday tasks of the ones chosen to look after the city's welfare. Yes, and it is well they have the courage of their convictions, having, I believe, no desire while carrying out their duties, to be discourteous to Major Miller or anyone who may serve his country well.

Yours,
JOSEPH GRIERSON.

NOT ENOUGH PUBLICITY.

The Editor of the Examiner, —

Your newspaper report of the Speed Limit Bill of the Police Commisson of Peterboro, is a very unfair report, so far as getting scant consideration. While there certainly was great opposition to the Bill Premier Drury, Hon. T. Crawford, Hon. Walter Rollo, Mr. Calder, all spoke in favour of the Bill going to committee, and personally I think had the speed been 15 miles instead of 10 it would have gone through. Of course the Motor League oposed the Bill, and the Hon. T. Crawford said the Motor League could be speed fiends like any other set of human beings.

The Bill has much merit and at least has drawn the attention of the Government to the need of more protection for the Pedestrian. "I have seen many bills get less consideration this session." In fact I believe it was discussed more on the floor of the House than any other private member's Bill, except P. R. for municipalities.—T. TOOMS.

1 Pill a Laxative,
2 Pills a Cathartic,
3 Pills a Purgative,

This is the Way Millburn's Laxa-Liver Pills Work.

You will never use any of the old griping, nauseating, sickening, purging pills, containing as they do calomel and other drastic mineral ingredients, once you use Milburn's Laxa-Liver, a pill that is purely vegetable.

Owing to the great care used in procuring the highest grade of drugs from which they are manufactured, they are as near perfect as it is possible to get a laxative remedy.

They work gently and effectively, without a gripe or pain.

If you are troubled with constipation, biliousness; driven to distraction with sick headaches, if your tongue is coated, your breath bad, your complexion muddy, your eyes yellow, have floating specks before the eyes, jaundice, itching, bleeding, or protruding piles, stir up your sluggish liver with a few doses of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

Mrs. Roy Mackie, Orillia, Ont., writes: "I desire to express my thanks for the relief I have had by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I had been suffering for some time from constipation and bad headaches. I tried all sorts of cures, which did me no good, until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after taking only a few doses."

RUSSIAN NOBILITY EARN OWN LIVING.

About 30,000 Members of Aristocracy Forced to Work at Anything.

(By Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

PARIS, March 11.—About 30,000 Russian emigrants, most of them members of society under the Tsar's Government, are now living in France. Hundreds of them bear names which were known throughout Europe. There is Count Ignatieff, who before Lenin's advent never dreamt that he would make a living as dairyman. His helpers are members of his own class, who are not ashamed to milk the cows and clean out the stables. A Prince Kondatsheff is another working dairy farmer in the Gironde.

There is a taxicab driver in Paris whose appearance does not show that once wore the glitterjng uniform of a Russian general. On Boulevard Flandrin the Countess Bobrinski, in partnership with three other ladies of rank, has opened a dressmaking business where they employ 300 hands, half of them ladies of the high Russian aristocracy. The payroll of this establishment reads like an extract from the Almanac de Gotha.

The wife of a former imperial aide-de-camp does needlework; her sister, a Countess, knits hosiery; the wife of a nobleman, who was a Minister under the two last Tsars, turns out underwear. When the daughter of a former Court Chamberlain arrived in Paris, the Refugee Committee had to provide her with a dress—she was quite destitute. She is now a saleswoman in a Boulevard shop.

A former admiral makes fancy boxes, his wife makes blouses; a high officer of the Guards works sewing machine; a maid of honour of the late Tsarina embroiders. A Princess is selling perfumery and soap.

All over Paris one meets men and women formerly in Court circles, earning their livelihood by menial labour. Their lot is comparatively easy compared with the suffering of Russian emigrants in Constantinople where, according to the statement of a traveller, one hears more Russian than Turkish in the streets.

HOW WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

May Escape the Dreaded Sufferings of That Period by Taking Mrs. Block's Advice

Hopkins, Minn.—"During Change of Life I had hot flashes and suffered for two years. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and got good results from taking it. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish this fact as a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT BLOCK, Box 542, Hopkins, Minn.

It has been said that not one woman in a thousand passes this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sinking spells, spots before the eyes, dizzy spells, nervousness, are only a few of the symptoms. Every woman at this age should profit by Mrs. Block's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., about your health.

STUNNING BLOW DEALT TO PARIS.

Purchasing Power of Franc Dwindles and With it "Gros Lot."

PARIS, March 11.—(Cross-Atlantic.)—Paris day have a live sensation on her hands but Paris remains unperturbed. Except that there were a few more soldiers in the streets and at the railway stations owing to the fact that the youngest class have been called up for service just across the Rhine there was no solemn leave taking and little or no cheering. Paris goes its way unperturbed save for one thing—an announcement was made yesterday that came like a stunning blow to thousands of French men and women that the "Gros Lot" which it is every ambitious man or woman's hope he will win will not no longer be the little fortune that it was for the Gros Lot or first prize of the Paris lotery had dwindled owing to the fall in the purchasing power of the franc and what is worse still in the share which the State takes as its percentage. Thus the winner of the million franc first prize prize in the "Credit National" would receive not more than half this amount, nearly $400,000 being taken in taxes. In the case of the Ville de Paris loan shares in which are now being sold in Canada the winnner of the "Gros Lot" would get scarcely $500,000.

CHAIN OF 12 WIRELESS POSTS.

To Be Established in Northern Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—The establishment of a chain of twelve wireless stations in Northern Manitoba, at an estimated cost of $55,000, is recommended by Professor R. C. Wallace, Commissioner for the North Country, in his annual departmental report.

Commissioner Wallace is of the opinion that such a system of wireless communication is highly desirable for the successful development of the north country. The mining possibilities depend very largely on the ability of people in the country to keep in constant communication with the outside world, the Commissioner states, especially during the between-season periods while the Spring break-up and the Fall freeze-up are in process each year.

A large station is already situated at The Pas and Commissioner Wallace recommends that another be built at Piquiconei and ten smaller ones at intermediate points.

OSHAWA WILL NOT FORCE PASTEURIZATION

OSHAWA, March 11.—Although two or three dealers have already adopted the pasteurization of milk, this method of treating milk it not to be made compulsory by civic legislation, as reported. Such was the Council's decision when considering the Board of Health's recommendation in favour of pasteurization.

REFUSES TO GIVE AWAY THEIR TRADE SECRETS

Hence, Parts of Agricultural Machinery Cannot Be Standardized in Canada.

OTTAWA, March 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Manufacturers of farm machinery in Canada have shown no sympathy toward the proposal for standardization of machinery parts and claim that any such step would be backward, Dr. J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, informed the house committee on agriculture. A sub-committee of members with Dr. Grisdale, had met the farm machine manufacturers and had been told that the machinery manufacturers could not help the committee in its attempt to secure standardization of machinery. Manufacturers objected to giving away their trade secrets.

Dr. Grisdale told of the conference with a group of the Canadian manufacturers held at Toronto, on the standardization of farm machinery. The conference had come to an abrupt conclusion when the manufacturers had flatly refused to concur with the standardization scheme.

From an economic viewpoint the manufacturers argued the change might involve great alterations in plant equipment.

E PETERBORO MILLINERY OPENINGS ROVIDE WIDE RANGE OF NEW STYLES

TRIP AROUND THE STORES REVEALS A TEMPTING DISPLAY OF NEW HEADGEAR—FEATHERS STILL IN USE—PRETTY SHAPES.

(By Jeannette.)

A youthful effect seems to be the redominating note in the hats hown in the spring openings this ear. No one is old any more, anyway, so it is quite proper that we shouldn't wear old-looking headgear. The colors are startling, some of them, but very beautiful for those who can wear them. Rusty reds, henna, which has had such a long run and seems as poplar as ever, the fascinating jade green, turquoise, coral, flame, burnt orange, orchid, that wonderful purplish-pink, exquisite French blue, are all most enticing, and, for the quiet-minded, there is a lovely silvery grey, with many offerings in the good standard navy, and a number of browns. Black is seen everywhere, in all-over effects, in color combinations and in a black and white, French-looking model with scalloped edge and tiny button trimming.

Pretty Shapes.

The shapes are pretty this season and comprise both large and small, with the latter in the majority. Pokes and off-the-face effects, and the serviceable sailor are much in evidence, but there are all sorts of screwed up, jounty little affairs in bright and dark colors.

Very few of the hats are fashioned entirely of straw. They arrive in georgette and cellophane, that new shiny straw braid that is so popular (and which comes in solid columns or twisted iridescent tints); in satin and chenille braid; in the new chenille cloth, like one Oriental-looking affair in rust red with tiny beaded trimming; in mohair with narrow cellophane traceries; in the soft heather braid with crown of cellophane ribbon, that stiff material which looks like spun glass. Batavai cloth is another new arrival, and one gorgeous little grey hat of this material was garnished with flowers in flaming tints.

Diveristy of Trimming.

A larger black mohair shape with cellophane motifs, was very stunning ,and a poke of the same material with band of dark henna georgette and tiny moss rose-buds was lovely. A small affair of satin with lisere facing and small flatly-laid velvet flowers, all in henna, was noticed, with a creation in grey heather braid, orchid georgette crown and Dresden flowers. A small French sailor was fashioned of peach georgette with grapes in blue, green and red, and one with silver-grey brim of cellophane had a crown of tightly-folded French blue petals, with softly-moving tiny ostrich feather strands. A small close-fitting hat in grey taffeta was adorned with tiny bunches of grey and purple grapes, which are noticeable as trimmings this year, in natural size and in tiny miniature bunches combined with flowers, or in huge clusters dangling down to the shoulder. The narrow corded ribbons in bright colors with metallic edges are particularly dainty. They twine in and out of foliage or fall in festoons from the brims, like one small creation of black with yellow flowers, and tiny yellow ribbon with black and silver edging. Scarfs are seen everywhere, twisted over brim as in a big black shape with startling green drape, or in pendant folds in on immense hat of henna georgette with black and henna cellophane band and long henna georgette scarf. Lace is very good this year and is used in entire hats, in trimming and as a veiling for massed flowers. A close fitting litle black hat in lisere braid had an entire facing of pink roses veiled with black lace and terminating in an alluring lace scarf.

Feathers Still in Use.

Feathers are shown on a great many of the black hats, and a small navy affair with grey tips was very jaunty. A large capeline shape in black mohair with cellophane ribbon and tracing was ornamented with glycerined ostrich and a very becomng shepherdess shape with jade taffeta crown had a wreath of feathery-looking navy pompons, which proved on examination, however, to be composed of the ubiquitous cellophane. An entire hat of this same material in ribbon was noticed, with a tiny coral ribbon lacing.

The windows are very attractive this season. They seem to agree with the hats that an early spring should be celebrated in a fitting manner, and have burst forth in dresses of fashionable hues. One big window is done in brown and cream, another in brown with gold lattice-work, ad a third is a vernal symphony in grey and mauve, with exquisite foliage in tall standards.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY HELD AT LAKEFIELD

MURRAY ST. YOUNG PEOPLE SPENT HAPPY EVENING AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. HIGGANS.

The N. B. I. Class of Murray Street Baptist Church held a very delightful party at the nome of Mr. and Mrs. Higgans, of Lakefield, last evening. The entertainment consisted of different games. STRAY SHOTS OF LOCAL SPORT

Plans and prospects for outdoor sports were discussed at a meeting of department heads and employees of the Canadian General Electric Co., in the Echo Club-rooms. The Generals appear to be steering toward the formation of an Athletic Association that will embrace all branches of sport in which the employees of the big plant participate. Baseball came in for a good deal of consideration last night, and a team will be organized, and entered in the City Baseball League.

The Peterborough Y.M.C.A. basketball team, winners of the Eastern Ontario group, will play Toronto Centrals in Toronto to-morrow night. It is a semi-final game in the intermediate series of the O. A. B. A. Toronto Centrals will play the return game here next week. Total points on the two games will decide which team enters the finals. The local squad make a well-balanced team, and every player is giving his best efforts.

Followers of hockey and baseball are busy welcoming "Lefty" McElroy to town. McElroy has been a prominent figure in the winter and summer sports in Lindsay, and he was with the Lindsay Intermediate O. H. A. team during the season just closed. He will likely be found with the C. G. E. ball team this summer.

Mr. J. P. Bond occupied the chair. Matters of importance to the club and its members were discussed, and the report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. H. Walkey, showing a most successful year, was read. It is hoped that the coming season will surpass that of 1920, if possible.

STILL DANGLING THE MONEY BAGS

PROMOTING FIRM WILL HAVE A BUSY TIME DIVIDING THE IRON MEN.

TORONTO, March 11.—The purse of half a million dollars offered for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight still holds good. Tex Rickard said he had put no proposition to the principals officially to work on a percentage basis. "When Carpentier comes to this country I will talk it over with him and may offer it as a suggestion," Rickard said. The Frenchman probably will not return to America until the first of May, as the agreement requires both principals to be on the scene sixty days before the bout. Carpentier is now in Sweden on a tour of the Scandinavian countries that will take him also into Norway and Denmark. He is to return to Paris to appear in a benefit exhibition on March 23, for the families of boxers who fell in the war. He will then take another swing through England and will finish his tour with a trip to Africa. A syndicate of Algiers sportsmen is to introduce the light-heavyweight champion to the French North African colony, where he will give four exhibitions early in April. He will return to Paris then and rest until time for his departure to America. According to English papers, Carpentier and Descamps, his manager, are a little worried over the manoeuvres of the promoters. At a long distance, they haven't understood the motives of Cochrane and Brady in withdrawing from the promoting firm. Frank Moran is still hounding the Frenchman for a match and there is a lot of sentiment over there in his favor since he took the step to pugilist greatness—on the prostrate neck of Joe Beckett. "If the uncertainty over the 'big match' continues we will give Moran a fight," Descamps said.

GAME WILL BE PLAYED OFF AT BROCK STREET TO-NIGHT.

Wednesday evening at Brock street rink, St. Peter's crack senior team played to a draw with the Junior Bankers, in the return game the score being 1-1. For St. Peter's N. Collins scored the only tally, while McCabe made an effective goal-keeper. Hardill and Thirnbeck starred for the Bankers, and Flinn as goalkeeper, did some good work. If the weather permits, the tie game will be played off to-day. The line-up for the two teams was as follows:

GOSSIP OF THE TRAINING CAMPS

BOSTON, March 11.— Manager Hugh Duffy, of the Boston Red Sox, put his team through a brisk workout at the training camp at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday. Local fans were commenting on an infield combination tried at the practice, which put John Collins, lately of the Chicago Americans, at first base, Cliff Brady at second, Everett Scott at shortstop, and Oscar Vittak at third. This line, despatches said, would be continued for the present. Light batting and fielding practice, with short work-outs by several pitchers, constituted yesterday's drill.

Rapp at Third Base.

SAN ATONIO, Tex., March 11.—Goldie Rapp, graduate of the American Association, has won Manager McGraw's approval and will occupy third base for the Giants this summer. The rookie pitchers, Bill Ryan and Pat Shea, also will be retained, according to present plans. McGraw and Hughey Jennings are now tuning up the team for the games at Dallas with the Cleveland Indians, March 19 and 20.

Three Regulars Missing.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 11.—Peckingpaugh, Collins and Meusel were the only Yankee regulars missing when Manager Huggins worked out his squad to-day. "If they are holding out they can keep holding," Col. Huston, part owner of the club, said. Red Wingo, young brother of Ivy Wingo ,has made quite an impression on Manager Huggins. He used Babe Ruth's bat yesterday and knocked one out of the park.

Bill Taxing Race Tracks Not Opposed at Hearing

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—Proposal for a State tax of 12 per cent. on the gross gate receipts of running and trotting races was furthered, when no opposition was expressed, at a hearing on the bill of Assemblyman Charles H. Betts of Wayne, sending enactment in the Legislature. One result of the hearing was the announcement by Assemblyman Betts that the bill would be amended to provide exemption from taxation of the harness racing meets conducted at Goshen, Monroe and Middletown, as requested by Pierre Lorillard of Tuxedo, who appeared at the hearing. These events, Mr. Lorillard told members of the Assembly Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment, were held solely to encourage breeding of horses.

LAWN BOWLERS TOOK TWO FROM THE GROCERS

Last night at the Water street Alleys the Lawn Bowlers took two out of the three from the Grocers For the Lawn Bowlers, Maynard was high man with 594, Pratt next with 491. For the Grocers, Routly was high with 554, Solomon next with 542

SKATING RINK SOLD

PICTON, March 11.—The skating rink here has been purchased by Messrs. John Hubbs and W. H. Benson, from the late owner, John W Whattam, who bought it from G. E. Boulter two years ago. The price was $6,500 and it is thought the Curling Club may acquire the premises.

STOLE TOBACCO.

LINDSAY, March 10.—Gaining entrance through a fastened sliding door at the rear of the Farmers' Co-operative Store, a thief, or thieves, Tuesday night stole six caddies of smoking tobacco. No other goods are missing.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

REFEREES' MEETING MONDAY NIGHT—TEAM PRACTICE SATURDAY AFTERNOON—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A special meeting of the Peterobrough Football Association will be held in G.W.V.A. Rooms on Monday evening, March 14th, at 8 p.m. Any person who is desirous of becoming a "Knight of the Whistle," will receive a hearty welcome from the executive. All last year's official referees are requested to be present.

The C.G.E. Football Club team will practice on Saturday, weather permitting. at the Exhibition Grounds, starting at 2.30 p.m.

Local clubs will have to notice the new ruling in regard to players being registered are limited to twenty-five persons. Teams having more than that number must cancel some of the previous registrations.

All football players interested in the welfare of the Caledonian Football Club are invited to come along to the practice game on Saturday afternoon, west end, at the Exhibition Grounds. Boby Hannah will have the ball down at the field by 2.30 p.m.

A large number of football enthusiasts attended the G.W.V.A. Football Club meeting on Tuesday evening last and decided to complete organisation for coming season. A special committee, composed of Mr. Sid Whatley, chairman, Harold Burrows, Alex. Rorrison. J. Crowe, Geo. Coleman, and J. Hurrell, were appointed to take care of the arrangements for coming season.

The Comrades' executive are very anxious to sign up any player that has not associated himself with any other club. in local football circles, and will be out in full force for the first practice game on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds.

For making progress you have got to hand it to the Canadian Woollen because they have got an excellent team together for the coming season. They will practice on their new ground, on Saturday afternoon, Bonner-Worth Athletic Field. starting at 2.30 prompt.

Players—Please bring uniforms on Saturday afternoon.

The Scotsmen have bought a new complete outfit of sweaters this week. They are still sticking to the light blue colours, with the goalkeepers sweater in pure white bearing two blue stripes across. The Caleys are holding a dance on Friday, March 25th, in G.W.V.A. Hall, so as to accumulate some finances to cover club's expenditure.

The captain of the C.G.E. football team will not be chosen until the first official game when all the players will be given an opportunity to pick the most suitable players.

Some enthusiasts do not understand a "throw-in" properly, from the touch-line, and causes great arguments. So long as a player has any part of both feet on the line at the moment of throwing-in, he is at liberty to stand on his toes—or heels, for that matter.

A player offside in his opponent's half of the ground cannot put himself outside by running back into his own half before playing the ball. If spectators would only remember this the referee's task would be made easier.

A referee must use his own discretion in giving penalties. Dangerous play, as distinct from dangerous charging, in the penalty area by one of the defending side should be penalised by a free-kick—not a penalty see Law 13).

DOWN EAST" COMING TO E GRAND FOR THREE NIGHTS APRIL.

terborough people will be interd in knowing that D. W. Grifs film masterpiece, "Way Down t" is to be seen at the Grand pera House on April 14, 15 and 16, e entire production, including a mphony orchestra, now appearing the Royal Alexandra, Toronto, to isit this city. The picture is being held over for a third week at the Royal Alexandra and the seats are already sold out until next Thursday. It will be the film sensation of the year.

AT THE GRAND.

Miss Zara Clinton, who plays the title role in "The Girl from Nowhere," F. Stuart Whyte's latest musical comedy sensation, which will be the attraction at the Grand Theatre, matinee and night, Saturday, 12th March, possesses in a superlative degree what we call for want of a better word "charm." There are hundreds of clever actresses of undoubted talent, but they all lack this greatest attribute to a finished and artistic performance. From her first appearance to the last curtain, you feel that this "poor little girl who came from Nowhere," to quote a line from the show, is your personal friend. You laugh when she is joyful and feel sad when she feels sad. In a word, she makes it all seem real and true and you go home feeling you have made a new friend, and feeling happy because she is happy. It is charm that does it. There are funny comedians and a round score of pretty girls, beautiful and unusual scenic effects and all the other things that go to make a successful musical comedy. The outstanding feature, however, is Miss Clinton's charm.

THE "PASSERS BY"

What the Toronto "Globe" Had to Say About "Passers By."

"Passers By" Is Great Blackton Photoplay.

If J. Stuart Blackton has ever produced a better picture than "Passers By," it has slipped our memory. "Passers By" presents Herbert Rawlinson in the leading role, but it is more than a one star picture, for every member of the cast measures up perfectly to the requirements put upon them. In fact, seldom have we seen better character portrayals than those of William J. Ferguson, Dick Lee and Tom Lewis. The production is the acme of artistry.

C. Haddon Chambers, the playWright with nothing but success to his credit, wrote "Passers By," which enjoyed great success on the English and American stages. It's a story of real people—of varied types and philosophies; of kindly deeds; of everlasting loves and of noble sacrifices.

Mr. Blackton's direction shows a mastery of his subject. The thought behind "Passers By" has been developed with virility; the pathos is tender and exquisite; the humanity of it is heart-touching; the humor is fresh and bubbling; the romance is true and steadfast, and the villainy, thank heavens, is far in the background.

This wonderful picture will be shown at the Grand 3 days only, starting Monday next.

"NUMBER, PLEASE?" HAILED AS GREATEST COMEDY

Enthusiastic Praise from New York Press.

The reception accorded Harold Lloyd's latest triumph, "Number Please?" was the same wave of approval which has marked each of his releases—only more so.

The New York newspapers were more than liberal with praise. For example, the Morning World said, "Quite the funniest comedy along Broadway this' week is Harold Lloyd's 'Number, Please?' It is shown at the Capitol and Strand. This young man with the horn-rimmed spectacles is a comparatively young comedian of the films and one of the most popular of them all at this time. Situation after situation each one carrying with it a scream of laughter come piling out in 'Number, Please ' Charlie Chaplin, in his best days, has not appeared in a funnier play."

The New York Times said, "Number, Please?" is meant to make people laugh and it does—without making them ashamed of themselves for enjoying its comicalities."

This great comedy, which is the third of Harold Lloyd's $100,000. contract, will be the added feature at the Grand for 3 nights starting Monday matinee. Don't miss it.

AT THE ALLEN.

ENID BENNETT'S NEW PICTURE, "HAIRPINS", LESSON TO HUSBANDS

Old-Fashioned Wife in this fine Photoplay Proves Real Treasure

Husbands who blame their wives for remaining old-fashioned and disinterested in the hilarity of life are taught a lesson by Hairpins," the latest Thomas H. Ince Paramount Artcraft picture starring Enid Bennett, which will be shown ginning to-day .

Rex. Rossmore had a wife who cared more about getting a reduction on the purchase of a dozen smoked hams than she did about the Faust opera and insofar as permanent waving of her hair was concerned, she never thought of it But Rex didn't like her domesticity and that's why his stenographer appealed to him so strongly.

But When Rex's wife discovered the true state of affairs, she got busy and it wasn't long before she was considered the most up-to-date woman in New York .In fact, she was so much up-to-date that Rex was made to realize how wonderful she really was. That's why he begged her to return to her former ways of living and found real happiness in domesticity

Miss Bennett never had a more fitting role than that which she portrays in "Hairpins." Matt Moore is seen in the role of her husband. The picture was directed by Fred Niblo under the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince. The supporting company is excellent.

AT THE ALLEN

NO "MOUSE MANIA" FOR JUANITA HANSEN

"Cavorting around with wild animals is one of the best cures I know of for 'Mouse Mania' " stated Juanita Hansen, starring in the Pathe serial "The Phantom Foe" appearing to-day at the Allen Theatre.

"Girls as a rule fear mice because they do not realize there own strength. If we only knew our power as compared to that of a little mouse, our fear would vanish and we would never more be troubled with 'Mouse Manie.' I recently played in a serial where lions, tigers, elephants, and many other wild animals were my playmates. I am sure that after this experience I will never have any fear for animals especially the harmless little mouse."

AT THE REGENT.

CLEVER PEARL WHITE IN CLEVER PICTURE

Pearl White is just as clever and entertaining in dramatic productions as she is in serials. She pleased big audiences yesterday at the Regent Theatre where she appeared in the fine William Fox production, "The Thief," based on the celebrated stage success by Henri Bernstein.

"The Thief" is peculairly adapted as a starring vehicle for Miss White and she thrilled her audiences during the many big scenes and won applause at the stirring finish.

"In "The Thief" Miss White is the wife of a man who has not sufficient wealth to keep her in fine clothes. Soon, however, she has fine clothes. The change causes the other woman in her iercle to cater to her and stirs the men to making love.

But there is a thief in this circle. Suspicion narrows down to one of the men who has been making love to Miss White. This situation leads up to a big climax.

SENATORS WIN BY FIVE GOALS

More Effective in Play-off Than in Second Half of Schedule.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 11—Playing with the old-time dash and determination which took them through the first half of the National League schedule to win with several games to spare, the Senators blanked the St. Patrick's here last night in the first of the post-season games to determine who will defend the Stanley Cup, by a score of 5 to 0.

SIX OF QUEEN'S JUNIORS ARE KINGSTON BOYS

KINGSTON, March 11.—Six out of the eight players on Queen's Junior O.H.A. team are Kingston boys. Thtey are Quinn, the net guardian, "Red" McKelvey; Gibson, the wing man; Captain Donald Mickle, Johnston ,one of the most promising players in the University, "Jack" Emery defence.

TORONTO UNIVERSITY LOOK LIKE ALLAN CUP CONTENDERS

DEFEATED THE SOO TEAM LAST EVENING—SCORE WAS 5-2.

TORONTO, March 11.— It'll be University of Toronto to represent the East in the Allan Cup games against Brandon, unless the Soo Grey hounds show a wonderful reversal of form in the next contest with the students, to-morrow night. Last evening before a crowd that packed the Arena to its capacity the O.H.A senior champions beat the Soo by 5 to 2 in a game that was not decided until the last two minutes of play, when Carson and Olsen scored two goals within forty-five seconds and gave the locals a lead that should prove sufficient to make them winner of the series.

The Greyhounds were not expected to beat the Collegians, and the inability of the latter to secure a commanding lead long before the final period proved a surprise. The Soo, however, were playing in much better form than they did against Galt and they caught the Queen's Parkers unprepared. The locals scored three goals in a row in the first thirty minutes, but, led by Cook, their clever right wing, the Northerners staged a 'comeback' and cut the lead down to one. But when prospects appeared bright that they would hold the Collegians in check, Carson slipped through to score, and in less than a minute Olsen repeated, and Soo's chances to win the Allan Cup just about faded away.

Soo Outskated.

The University team did not appear to be playing as well as in the game against Granites, but the style of play of their opponents had a lot to do with this failure. The Soo forwards are, with the exception of Desjardins, no speed merchants, but they are clever checkers, and they made life miserable for the ultimate winners Phillips, at centre, Cook, at right wing, and Munro, defence were their most dependable players but Donnelly, hailed as the best man on the team, failed to shine. He is a good stick handler, but did not use speed, and was weak in checking.

Desjardins at times showed the fans some dazzling speed, but he had no sense of direction, and nearly all of his rushes ended in the corners. He may be as fast as 'Stan' Brown, but as a hockey player there is no comparison between the two—Brown stands supreme. He skates "like the wind" and he knows what path to take. The Soo checkers were baffled again and again as the North Bay wonder speeded on his way.

The Real Fans.

Long before the game was scheduled to commence the first of the fans who were forced to get into line to secure admission arrived at the Arena, and when the doors opened the good natured crowd began to slowly wend its way towards the entrance. Here and there could be seen a member of the fair sex, but these courageous fanettes were few and far between. And the great majority of those who trusted to the "fortunes of war" to get into the Arena were rewarded.

Had the Soo been able to secure the lead at some stage of the game it would probably have been regarded as a thrilling battle, but, barring their "comeback" near the last of the second period and during the greater part of the third, the Soo were not equal to the task of making the U. of T. supporters believe that their team was in danger of losing. Only when Cook went through to land the second goal did the local team show any sign of wavering, but their lapse was only momentary and they came back stronger than ever.

U. of T. —Goal, Langtry; defense Ramsay and Brown; centre, Carson left wing, Sullivan; right wing, Wright; subs Westman and Olsen.

FORD WORKMEN DEFRAUD COMPANY.

Charged With Using Bogus Charge Slips.

DETROIT, March 11.—Employes of the Ford Motor Company have defrauded the company's retail store of more than $30,000 in one month. Thomas Kelley, an investigator, has asserted. John Zukowski and Frank Sokol, employes, and Kektor Podlowskowski, a printer, are held on charges of larceny, but Kelley asserts several others are implicated.

Counterfeit charge slips were used in recording purchases, and Zukowski and Podlowskowski, it is charged, evolved the plan, the latter printing the tickets. At the Ford store each purchaser receives a ticket on which is indorsed the value and description of his purchases. He takes this ticket to a cashier, where his purchase is charged. The counterfeit tickets, showing small purchases, would be presented to the cashier, it is alleged, instead of the real ticket, showing a much larger amount.

THIRTY-FIVE BIDS FOR NEW $2,000,000 HOTEL AT WINDSOR.

WINDSOR, Ont., March 11. — Thirty-five bids for work on the proposed $2,000,000 hotel, which it is planned to build here, have been opened by the special hotel committee of business men who incorporated to construct the hotel.

The lowest bid was for $1,700,000, and efforts will be made to reduce tenders to about $1,500,000. Unless such reduction can be made the company will have to incorporate again, since the articles for incorporation provide only for $1,500,000.

LIFTING OF EMBARGO AS STIMULANT

PRESIDENT OF WILLIAM DAVIES COMPANY DECLARES THE REMOVAL WOULD BE BOON TO CATTLE INDUSTRY.

BREEDING STIMULANT

TORONTO, March 12. —(Canadian Press.)—E. C. Fox, President and General Manager of the William Davies Company, last night told a gathering of prominent live stock salesmen and breeders from different parts of the Dominion that he would like to see the British embargo against Canadian cattle removed because it would prove a great stimulant to the breeding of butcher cattle in Canada. Western shippers and producers would share to a much larger extent than Ontario shipers owing to the fact that a much better class of butcher cattle and stockers were available in the western provinces for export.

PERMANENT FORCE AT FREDERICTON.

Movement to Get Unit of Canadian Troops.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 10.—(Canadian Press).—A movement is on foot to secure for the City of Fredericton a unit of the Canadian permanent military forces. There is no unit east of Montreal, and it is claimed here that expenses in connection with the upkeep of the forces might be cut down by quartering some of the soldiers in Fredericton.

R. B. Hanson, K.C., has just returned from Ottawa where he interviewed the Federal Government with regard to the proposition and secured the promise of Hon. Hugh Guthrie to investigate the matter when he comes here in connection with the York-Sunbury bye-election campaign. Mr. Hanson is quite confident that before long Fredericton will hear the bugles of a regular force in barracks here.

207 CHILDREN SOLD IN THE FAMINE AREA

NEW YORK, March 12 (Canadian Press).—Two hundred and seven children have been sold, three abandoned, and one killed by the famine-stricken parents in the Province of Chi-Li, Northern China, according to a despatch received here to-day by the American Committee for the China Famine Fund.

These figures, the report said, were the result of a famine survey made in 77 villages of the Province, where more than ten thousand persons were found to be destitute.

OIL REFINING IS EXPLAINED

ADDRESS TO ENGINEERING INSTITUTE BY CLAYTON D. DEAN, OF THE IMPERIAL OIL COMPANY.

THOROUGH DISCUSSION

Last night's meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada was well attended. The speaker was Clayton D. Dean of the Imperial Oil Company, who gave an address on General Oil Refining Practice.

Mr. Dean traced the development of oil products from the well to the consumer and discussed the economics of the refining practice.

A thing impressed on the audience was the large amount of steam used to heat the various stills for producing the different kinds of oils, etc. About 500 boiler horse power per 1000 barrels of crude is used daily in refining plants and altogether 1-3 of the total amount of the crude received is burned to make steam.

Mr. Dean described the pumping of the oil for long distances and explained that the high pressure used, 1000 lbs. per square inch, was necessitated by the excessive friction of oil on the sides of the pipe.

Mr. Dean exhibited two reels of moving pictures of the Imperial Oil Company's refineries at Sarnia and explained the various important features.

The discussion which closed the meeting was very interesting, and brought out many points.

Mr. Dean answered several questions regarding the Fort Norman field and said that it would be many years before the field would yield oil in quantities. A great deal depended on whether the crude oil had such characteristics as to permit of pumping it during the winter to the point where it could be transported by rail or boat.

Prior to the address, Messrs. R. B. Rogers, R. H. Parsons and C. E. Sisson were elected a nominating committee to nominate the officers of the branch for the coming annual election in May.

HELD UP AND ROBBED $1,400.

BRANTFORD, March 12.—Two fellow countrymen are alleged to have double-crossed Paul Zulovski, a foreigner living here, when he was attacked in an automobile and robbed of $1,400. Zulkovski declared he was enticed into a taxi and taken out on the Cockshutt road at an early hour this morning. He claimed the men grabbed him and took away his money. The taxi driver, George Merrall, also claimed he was robbed but the police apprehended him as a material witness. Two others were later arrested.

Zulkovski told the police that a man had come to his house at 174 George Street and asked for four men to go to work on a farm. Early this morning the man returned in a taxi but would only take Zulkovski, saying that he now only needed one man. There was another man in the car, and out beyond the city limits on the Cockshutt Road, one man was reported to turn on Zulkovski and the other on the taxi driver, Murrell. No weapons were used, but the victim was seized by the throat and half choked. When he came to his senses his money, said to be $1,400, was missing. The taxi driver declared that he had lost $41 and his watch. They immediately returned to the city and informed the police. The bandits were described and police investigation commenced.

Eventually two suspects were located by a farmer on the Cockshutt Road, outside the city; he notified the police by 'phone, who motored to the spot and effected the arrest of two men subsequently identified as Rafaela Utla and Raffaside Russo.

Commencing Saturday, March 12th, we are discontinuing the Saturday afternoon delivery, and the drivers will be around Sunday morning as previously. Do not forget to have bottles out Sunday morning.

REMORSE FOR HIS TURNING ON BROTHER

DENTON GARFIELD, IN LETTER TO WIFE, CALLS HIMSELF "COWARD" FOR TURNING KING'S EVIDENCE.

WIFE TELLS THE STORY

LONDON, Ont., March 12.—(Canadian Press).—Denton Garfield, who turned King's evidence on his brother, Norman Garfield, sentenced to the gallows for the murder of Benjamin Johnston, of Woodstock, is apparently suffering from remorse, judging by a letter he wrote to his wife, and which she revealed yesterday when she passed through London on her way to her home in Sarnia, where she is known as Trixie Harkness.

"If I only had that piece of paper now," he wrote. "I am a coward for doing it. Coward, that is a hard thing to say, dearest. To think that I wrote these words about my brother. At the time I thought it would help us both."

The woman maintained that she had no part in making her husband give evidence against his brother. Before leaving Woodstock, Denton's wife told the reporters that when the Garfield brothers began their series of hold-ups fear beset her. She was terrified that their nightly forays would end in disaster, and her nervous condition became so acute that she resolved to quit unless they ceased. Two nights before the murder she left a note for her husband, to find upon his return, saying: "Go out with Norman after Wednesday night and I am through, so help me." The note was found by the police, and would have been introduced at the trial had the chain of evidence against the two brothers not been so complete.

FEW CHANGES IN MARKET PRICES

BUTTER REMAINS HIGH IN PRICE WITH PROSPECTS OF DROP.

Prices on to-day's market showed few changes from last week. Eggs and butter were plentiful, dressed chickens were scarce, but there were lots of live fowl outside. Eggs sold generally at 45 and 44 cents, but a drop to 40 cents would not have been surprising after 11 o'clock. Butter remains well up in the high price ring at 65 cents.

Outside Market.

The outside market was as dead as a last year's birdnest. Potatoes brought $1.00 bag. Apples were scarce; and there was not much interest around the pork wagons. Meat will soon be off the market. Pork to-day sold at 23 to 25 cents.

Young pigs were $15 a pair. Plymouth rock roosters were in one farmer's crate. He wanted $2 each.

Over on the auction, mart there was a husky looking gander and a crate of white wyandottes and a crate of Plymouth rocks to be sold by auction.

Neither open nor basket markets were large to-day, probably on account of the poor roads in the country.

SERIOUS FIRE ON BELLEVILLE FARM

BELLEVILLE, March 12 (Canadian Press.—Tobias Ellis, a farmer residing near Glen Miller, was awakened this morning by fire which had started in his barn.

So rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible to rescue the live stock, including horses and cattle, or save any of the machinery, or grain and hay.

Only one waggon was pulled from the building.

Mr. Ellis did not have any insurance. The loss will be heavy.

AN ADDRESS ON MARSHAL FOCH

MR. V. J. M'ELDERRY LECTURED LAST NIGHT ON LIFE OF GREAT FRENCHMAN.

A CAPACITY AUDIENCE

The hall of the Sacre Heart Church was packed last night to hear Mr. V. J. McElderry on "Marshal Foch," and the rapt attention which was paid the speaker was sufficient evidence of the interest taken in the subject and its masterly presentation. Mr. McElderry excelled himself in his delineation of the character, purposes and aims of the great Frenchman, whose noble life was a preparation for service to his country.

Noble Ideal.

The speaker dwelt on the outstanding characteristic of Ferdinand Foch, which was his idea of life. He has said:

"Without a high ideal, without a spiritual conception of life, it is not possible to rise above feebleness and discouragement," and his own life really bespeaks this motto.

Sketch of Life.

Born in the little town of Tarbes, in Southern France, where the foothills of the Pyrennes begin, his youth was passed in this quiet but romantic environment. At the age of 18, he was sent to the Jesuit College at Metz, where in 1870, his studies were interrupted by the Franco-Prussian war. He had a share in the struggle, and on returning to college he found the Germans in occupation of part of it, where in common with the rest of France they remained for three years until the last sou of their indemnity was paid.

Military Training.

After this we find him entering one of the schools of war in Paris, then at the school of artillery at Fontainebleau, then in the infantry and the Grenadiers. For years he went from one part of France to another familiarizing himself with the different units of the army, and particularly with the nature of the men who composed them, and the topography of the country itself. He reamined for 13 years as captain but in 1896 was made a colonel and a professor in the greatest school of war in France, the Polytechnique, where he successfully imbued the students with the ardour of his own love for France and desire to serve it, one of his teachings being: "Victory comes to those who merit it, by the greatest strength of will and intelligence."

Victorious Tactics.

When the war broke out in 1914, Foch was stationed at Nancy, close to the frontier of German Lorraine, and it was the 20th division under his command which broke through the Bavarian Guard, penetrated some 15 miles into the middle of the on-rushing German hordes, and delayed Von Kluck's progress in the days when the "red trousers were again marching in French Lorraine."

They were of course compelled to retreat later, but had accomplished their purpose in retarding the German advance, and it was Foch who opposed Von Buelow's famous Prussian Guards in the awful battle of the Marne, where Joffre's order to the French army was to "advance or be slain where it stands." When the road to Paris lay open before the victorious Huns, it was Foch, with the immortal 42nd division, who blocked the way, in an unexpected triumph of military strategy, bringing to bear in these dreadful days all the wisdom and knowledge and endurance learned in his 40 years of preparation.

In March of 1918, the terrible situation which confronted the allies led them again to call on Foch, and while holding the Germans off as well as possible he consolidated that great reserve of power behind him which finally won the day.

Mr. McElderry was warmly thanked for his exceptionally good address on the character and life of the wonderful Frenchman who through modesty had effectively effaced himself for so many years until the call to service came, and a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered the speaker by the audience. Mr. E. J. McAuliffe was chairman for the meeting.

PETROGRAD FALLS; REDS HOLD MINSK

WIRELESS SAYS BOLSHEVIKS DRIVEN FROM PETROGRAD AND FIVE-HOUR BATTLE FOUGHT FOR MINSK.

MANY SOVIETS KILLED

WARSAW, March 12.—(Canadian Press).—Petrograd is in the hands of the revolutionary forces, and the Bolsheviki have been ousted, it was declared in a wireless message received here to-day. The message, which was confused and disconnected owing to the weakness of the sending station, is believed to have been sent out from Petrograd.

A despatch from Vilna says anti-Bolshevik forces fought their way into Minsk and held control of the city for five hours, but were later driven out by Soviet forces. While occupying the city, the revolutionists killed many local Communists, it is said, and when the Bolsheviki reentered the town they executed more than two hundred persons, many of whom were Poles, who were accused of sympathizing with the insurgents.

BACK FROM TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY

ALD. TURNER AND G. A. GILLESPIE RETURNED THIS MORNING.

Alderman J. J. Turner and Mr. George A. Gillespie arrived home this morning from England, where they have been on a business trip since the last week in January. To the Examiner Ald. Turner stated that he had found a strong underlying confidence in the outlook of British manufacturers and large dealers. At the present time, demand for goods is confined to necessities. The hand to mouth buying is apparently universal. It exists in the biggest markets of the world as well as in the smallest. The difference is only a matter of degree. But business men in the Old Country are quietly optimistic that conditions will soon become more soundly established and will revive to their fullest extent without any further serious interruption. Mr. Gillespie and Ald. Turner visited Sir Richard and Lady Winfrey at their home in Peterborough, England and were most hospitably received. They also managed to spend a week end in France, where they motored over nearly 150 miles of the battle lines, including the Somme and the towns of Albert, Bapaume, Amiens and others. The restoration of the devastated areas is proceeding slowly, but in most of that section the wounds of war have not yet healed.

This was Mr. Gillespie's first trip to the Old Country. It made an indelible impression upon him, especially London. He met the heads of the firms to which the Peterborough Milk Products Company have been exporting condensed milk for three years. While on the brief visit in France he sought out Canadian cemeteries, and fulfilling the request of parents and other relatives here, took photographs of the graves of a few of Peterborough's dead whose last resting place on the field of honor he succeeded in finding.

LEAGUE ASKS DISARMAMENT

GENEVA, March 12 (Canadian Press).—The Governments have been asked to enter into an agreement not to exceed, during the next two fiscal years, the total military expenditures provided for the present year, in a letter sent to the members of the League of Nations by the secretary of that organisation.

Another letter sent to the members of the League concerns the convention relative to the control of traffic in arms and munitions in order that regions "not well civilised" may not receive stocks of arms which accumulated during the war.

Governments have been asked to make known their attitude to the League by 1st May, and the letters emphasise the urgency that all enter into these agreements.

ASSOCIATION HAD "BIRD" EVENING

INTERESTING STUDY FOR QUEEN MARY SCHOOL PUPILS.

The meeting of the Queen Mary Home and School Association, held last night, took the form of a Bird Evening, which seems particularly applicable at this time of the year. After routine business was finished, the programme was opened by a bird alphabet by the pupils of Mr. Clarke, the Principal of the school, his room being the guests of the association last evening. The song, "The Robin's Egg," was then sung by Master Kenneth McCannon, followed by a talk on the migration of birds, given by Mr. V. R. Henry, of the Collegiate Institute staff. This interesting subject was well handled by the speaker, who divided the bird family into different classes, according to the term of their residence with us; the permanent variety, the summer sojourner, the winter resident, and the transient visitors. A short time was devoted to the cause of migration, which is really a matter of food supply, and an idea was given of the ground covered by the feathered family in their annual jaunts, the longest distance being that covered by the Arctic tern, which goes 11,000 miles in its journey from the Arctic to the Antarctic circle. The method of migration was explained, and also the courses taken, those most familiar to us being the course via Detroit, one by way of the St. Lawrence, and one through the Niagara district. The farm of Jack Miner, which the birds used as a stopping-place on their annual migration, was mentioned.

This talk was followed by a very attractive little charade, in four acts, on the name of the "Whiskey Jack," the Canadian jay christened in this way by the lumbermen, which was enacted very prettily by the pupils of Mr. Clarke's room, also an athletic bird contest by the same children, the prize for which was a Bird Guide.

Altogether, this evening was one of the most successful ever held by the association, and the enthusiasm displayed by the children themselves and by the large audience which witnessed their efforts and listened to Mr. Henry's very interesting talk was an evidence of the interest taken in subjects of this nature, which are both education and attractive when properly handled.

GERMANS TO CO-OPERATE AFTER THIS

GERMAN POLICE IN OCCUPIED CITIES TO CO-OPERATE WITH ALLIES AND HAVE APOLOGIZED.

NO AGITATION EVIDENT

DUSSELDORF, March 12.—(Canadian Press.)—Co-operation between the German security police here and the Allied troops has been effected as a result of German initiative. German officers yesterday made a formal apology for the refusal on the part of German policemen to salute Allied officers. For a time this incident threatened considerable tension. The security police seemed willing to salute, but seemed unable to distinguish between officers and privates.

On virtually all streets of the city, security police are more numerous than Allied soldiers, who generally remain in their barracks. Restaurants, cabarets and theatres are cheerfully catering to a record patronage, crowds thronging the streets until midnight apparently in the best of spirits.

The population of the occupied district is gradually coming to believe that no further advance is intended by the Allies, and the only agitation noticeable is in commercial circles over the uncertainty of the Allied decisions regarding customs imports and exports, regarding which the wildest rumors are in circulation.

REMEMBER THE ORPHANS TO-DAY---TAG DAY

YOUR GIFTS WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED AND HELP SOME UNFORTUNATE CHILD.

To be left alone in the world without father or mother is a sad and serious handicap for any little boy or girl with their life ahead of them.

In Peterborough the institutions that have been taking care of the little orphaned children have done remarkable work. They feed, clothe, educate and train the children, and as there are over forty little ones in St. Vincent's Orphanage at the present time receiving all the above advantages, it can be readily seen that the hearty co-operation of the public of this city and vicinity is necessary in this great work.

Young ladies will be on hand this afternoon and evening to receive the amounts you feel disposed to give to this fund. The thanks and prayers of the little orphaned ones who are taken care of through the kindness of others will all be yours. Peterborough citizens have always responded heartily to this and similar causes and to-day's collection should be a record one.

Campbellford High School Concert and Commencement

OPERA HOUSE CROWDED LAST NIGHT AND MANY TURNED AWAY FROM THE ANNUAL EXERCISES—LENGTHY BUT VARIED PROGRAMME WAS PRESENTED TO CAPACITY HOUSE.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND MEDALS AWARDED

CAMPBELLFORD, March 12.—The Opera House was crowded last night for the annual High School concert and commencement exercis. es. Many persons were turned away and not a few who had bought rush tickets failed to gain admittance. They had to be content with the refund of their money. The rather lengthy but varied programme moved smoothly before the capacity audience of bright-eyed happy students, of graduates sharing the pleasure of an hour that was once truly their own, of proud parents and other solid citizens, men and women, acording to the new order, who are anxious that Campbellford's High School shall maintain the prestige it has acquired throughout this district.

Mr. J A. Stewart, manager of the Standard Bank, fulfilled exactly the duties of an ideal chairman. His opening address was brief but pointed. He congratulated the students upon the year of progress just closed and wished for those who were making their commencement into the world of affairs or in higher spheres of learning the realization of their hopes and studies in the preparatory school.

Last night's event partook somewhat of a farewell. The sense of the inexorable passing of time and perhaps a little restlessness in the vague feeling that something had gone with those radiant years that would never return, these were underlying currents that made no surface showing but pervaded the assembly especially affecting those who not so long ago had stood before a table of diplomas. The colours of "Campbellford High", red, orange and black formed the back ground of the stage, and fluttered in the lapels of the boys and on the dresses of the co-eds" who this winter have more than upheld the honors of the school.

Mr. Harold Jarvis.

A feature of the evening was the presence of Mr Harold Jarvis. He accepted four of the twenty-one numbers, was warmly encored each time and on occasion was recalled twice. That well known baritone retains fullness of those qualities that have gained for Mr. Jarvis an exceedingly extensive reputation. His selections were decidedly appropriate to the evening's entertainment. They were not of recital order but were light, lyric and sweet ly melodious. They were "Friend O' Mine" by Sanderson; "Somewhere a Voice is calling" (by request); "After Water"; "No Night There"; by Darwin, and his encores "Your Eyes Have old Me So"; "Up from Somerset"; "A Kiss"; by Guyon and "I Hear A Voice".

Musical numbers by the students were a piano duet by Misses R. Diamond and I. Davidson; vocal solo "Love of the Shamsock" by Lonard O'Brien and "The Veteran by James Benor.

Drills and Calisthenics

The rest of the programme comprised drills by various classes of the students They were executed with a precision that reflected the care spent in their training and the aptitude of the students themselves.

These numbers were a drill by sixteen girls under the direction of Miss Kathleen O'Shaughnessy, boys' physical culture directed by Mr. Harry Moran, girls' dumb bell drill under the direction of Miss W. Armstrong, and a costume drill by twelve girls under Miss O'Shaughnessy.

The accompanists were Miss Ruth Diamond and Miss Helen Wood. Miss Hawley accompanied Mr. Jarvis.

Scholarships and Medals

In presenting the medals and scholarships Mr. George A. Kingston said that two of the winners had not only made high intellectual achievements but they had also excelled in the sphere of athletics. Miss Helen Carnahan had won the Dr. S. A. Peake medal for the highest standing in the middle school.

Dr Peake is a graduate of the Campbellford High School who has gained prominence in St. Louis but has not forgotten the home of his early training. Mr. Kingston also pointed to Miss Carnahan's ability as a hockey player on C. H.S. ladies team which, it was said, had put Campbellford on the map. Mr. Kington remarked that the girls' hockey team had merited tangible recognition of their victories.

For the highest standing in the Upper School Miss Kathleen Connor was awarded the medal given by the staff of the High School. It was received by her brother. Classed with Miss Carnahan for both intellectual gifts and athletic prowess was Ralph Stanbury, who, Mr. Kingston recalled, had carried off prizes at the Boy Scouts camp at Peterboro last summer. He won the Board of Education's scholarship for the highest standing in the lower school and Miss Leeta Chaplin got the scholarship for being second highest

Mr. Kingston also presented the Board's first year scholarships to Clifford Carter and Mary Manley.

Won Marathon Cup

The Thanksgiving Day road race cup was won by James Dickson and presented to him by Mr. S. A. Maguire. It is a handsome silver trophy dopated by some seventy-five citizens of Campbellford who subscribed to the fund. Mr. Dickson is one of Campbellford's returned soldiers. He enlisted with the Cobourg Heavy Battery and was transferred in France. to the eighth Seige Gun Brigade Mr. Dickson made a neat speach of acceptance to Mr. Maguire's congratulations.

Field Day Cups.

The winners of the Field Day Cups presented by Dr. O. C. Watson were: Senior boys, James Dickson; Senior Girls, Evelyn Weston; Junior Boys, Arthur Loucks; Junior Girls, Clyta Sarginson.

I. O. D. E. Entrance Prizes.

PATRONAGE IS ADVOCATED BY SIR SAM NOW

ECHOES OF OLD BATTLES OVER PATRONAGE RANGED THROUGH THE HOUSE LAST NIGHT.

OPPOSITION ATTACK

OTTAWA, March 12.—(Canadian Press.)—Echoes of old battles over patronage ranged through the House last night. It was Sir Sam Hughes, frank advocate of the methods in vogue before the Civil Service Commission was created, who raised the issue in a motion that the interests of Canada and its people would be served by the system of political patronage.

Wherein appointments to and promotions both outside the civil service and inside the civil service, could be brought under specific consideration and recommnedation of members of Parliament, or defeated candidtaes of the party in power.

Sir Sam, who had a warm welcome from both sides of the House, spoke but briefly. He advocated the appointment of a Parliamentary committee to look into the work of the Civil Service Commission and civil service work generally. He argued that under patronage the responsibility was placed on the members of Parliament who in turn were responsible to the people.

But the feature of the da'ys proceeding lay in the opportunity for attack given to the Opposition. For the coming Dominion census twenty-four thousand enumerators will be employed and a number of members from Liberal ranks (with the production of much correspondence) claimed that appointments were being made by patronage. "What of canker and dry rot," exclaimed Hon. W. B. Fielding, citing words once used by Sir George Foster, Miniser of Trade and Commerce.

Sir George replied that the Civil Service Commission had been consulted but had not cared to handle the appointments of enumerators. "The burden of Atlas," Sir George rejoined, "as holiday time as compared with the burden of a member under patronage."

PETERBORO WON IN CAMPBELLFORD

SCORE OF EXHIBITION GAME LAST NIGHT WAS 3 TO 0.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 12.—On ice that was worn through to the gravel in spots, a strong Peterborough team defeated Campbellford last night by the score of 3 to 0. It was a hastily arranged match and some of the locals boy who would have strengthened the team, Weston, Kerr and others, were absent from the line-up. The visitors had Micky Murray, Collins ad Ranger of their O.H.A. teams, and in spite of the slush, put up one of the fastest games seen here this winter. The personnel was:

Refree—W. Hatrick.

The first period was a blank. Ranger broke through and went right in on the gaol, but Stewart made a great stop. Ranger, Collins and Graham combined well and often in the first two periods Collins got the first goal and Graham the second, and the only goal of the third period was notched by Collins. Campbellford had a big share of the play, but they couldn't beat Murray. Many of their shots were from outside and were easily handled. Hill, Lebrash and Johnson turned in a first rate game and Stewart in goal made some clever saves. Hatrick was impartial as referee and the crowd was more than satisfied with his decisoins. The game this afternoon between the Peterborough and Campbellford girls' teams will likely wind up the season. Thursday night the local "Bearcats" trimmed a Peterboorugh junior team, including one or two O.H.A. men, by 14 to 11.

FAILED TO GIVE SIGNAL TO DRIVER

CAMPBELLFORD MAN ASSESSED $20 FOR BREACH OF TRAFFIC LAW.

CAMPELLFORD, March 12. — Charged with a breach of the Motor Vehicle Act, committed on Sunday, February 27, Robert Cleugh, a Seymour township farmer, was fined $3 and $17.10 costs yesterday afternoon by Magistrate G. A. Payne. The specific accusation was that Cleugh neglected to give a warning when passing the buggy driven by J. N. Kent, of Campbellford, who was driving in the same direction and had no chance to turn out. Mr. Ira A. Humphries appeared for the defendant and Mr. D. J. Lynch for the plaintiff.

Mr. Cleugh, who was driving to church with his family that Sunday morning, stated that he had not passed anyone and did not exceed the rate of fifteen miles on the way from his home. Mr. Kent gave evidence to the effect that he didn't know who was in the car when it passed, but following it into town, ascertained who was driving. The car was going at a speed of from 20 to 30 miles, he said.

Business Picking Up.

Fines imposed by Magistrate Payne this year for infractions on the Ontario Temperance Act already total $925, of which $700 was collected this week.

AN IMPROMPTU DEBATE GIVEN

HON. G. H. FERGUSON ATTACKS ATTORNEY-GENERAL RANEY ON ATTITUDE TOWARD MAGISTRATES.

ECHOES OF DUNNVILLE

TORONTO, March 12. — (Canadian Press.) — The Legislature sat for little more than an hour yesterday and practically the whole of that time wsa taken up in an impromptu debate over the Dunnville investigation, provoked by an attack Hon. G. Howard Ferguson made upon Hon. W. E. Raney for his attempt to treat the magistrates of the province as simpl yofficials of his department and as such subject to his dictation.

The Conservative leader's criticism of the Attorney General was based uon an interview in the press in which Mr. Raney claimed that "any letter written by me to an offcial of my department with regard to departmental affairs, is a private letter and any officer who gives out a letter of that kind without authority from the government commits an impropriety."

This interview was Mr. Raney's reply to the declaration of Police Magiatrate Hastings that if the Attorney General declared the letter suspending him was a private letter, he was speaking an untruth.

Hon. Mr. Raney defended his course. He stated that he had simply written to Magistrate Hastings stating that charges had been made against him and that until they were investigated he was under suspension.

The magistrate had at once made the matter public. The Attorney-General admitted that the letter was not a private one in the sense of being marked "private" or "confidential" but it should be treated as private being a matter within the department.

Norman Garfield Sentenced to be Hanged June 2

"LOVE" WILL BEGIN IN MONDAY'S ISSUE

"Love," The Examiner's new serial, will begin in Monday's issue. This is one of the best "married' life stories The Examiner has ever given to its readers and will be followed by a number of other serials, in pursuance of The Examiner's new policy of publishing the best available newspaper fiction.

"Love" is by Katherine Moore and merits its position as the first of the series of nevels. It tells of the greatness of a woman's love which enabled her to look beyond the act of her husband's infidelity and see the man as she still believed him to be.

HIS BROTHER DENTON GETS TWENTY YEARS IN PENITENTIARY ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

CLEMENCY NOT LIKELY

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 12.—(Canadian Press.) — Norman Garfield and Denton Garfield appeared before Justice Kelly yesterday afternoon and received their sentences for the killing of Ben Johnston here on the night of January 20th. Norman Garfield, found guilty of murder, was sentenced to be hanged on June 2nd, while Denton Garfield, found guilty of manslaughter, was sentenced to twenty years in the penitenary.

Norman Garfield was brought into court first. His Lordship addressing the prisoner asked him if he had anything to say. "Only to say, your Honor, that I never had any intention of shooting Johnston."

Justice Kelly, in passing sentence, said, "You case has now gone so far, that as far as this court is concerned there can be no discretion. There can be no fault to find with the jury's verdict, as the evidence against you was very strong. I do not want to say anything that will add to your agony, but only to say a few things that might be of service to you. You will have a very substantial time for preparation and will not be hurried out of this world." His Honor could not hold out any hope for clemency from the executive and hoped the prisoner would make the best of his time to repent for his act.

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY.

The decision of the Canadian Red Cross Society to "carry on" on a peace-time basis and to use the splendid enthusiasm and esprit de corps of its organisation in a continued campaign towards a higher standard of health in Canada, in conformity with the efforts of the League of Red Cross Societies, is one that should mean much to this country. The people of Peterborough know what work was done by the local branch of the Red Cross during the war, and the men overseas had an opportunity to view that work at first hand and to appreciate it from personal experience. There is, therefore, every reason for confidence in the ability of the society to accomplish much along the lines upon which it has set out, of developing public opinion on the matter of better health standards, and of calling attention to the needs of the country.

"We do not want," remarked the Duke of Devonshire at the annual meeting, "and we never shall have, if the Red Cross has anything to do with it, a nation of cranks or quacks or faddists; but we do want to have a nation of men and women with a closer appreciation than now exists of what is really necessary to bring about a strong, healthy, vigorous nation."

That the Red Cross can go a long way towards realising that desire, record of efficiency and accomplishments during the years of the war, is a guarantee that cannot be denied.

A RIGHT STEP.

Before announcing his Budget, Sir Henry Drayton has called a conference of representatives of the manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers of Canada with a view of hearing recommendations as to the methods of taxation that would be most favourably considered by them. Undoubtedly the disturbance caused by the imposition of the income tax last year and by the changes the Finance Minister had to make from time to time in his schedules is responsible for the present conference, which seems a step in the right direction if it avoids the upset conditions that last year's taxation proposals were responsible for. Of course, no matter what methods of raising revenue may be adopted by the Government, there will be complaints, but by getting the views of the business men, who will unquestionably be deeply concerned in the matter, Sir Henry Drayton should be in a much better position to formulate a policy than he would be in practically "going it blind." It is certain that the revenue from customs taxation will have to be very considerably augmented in some manner to meet the estimated expenditure this year. It may be that a sales or turnover tax will be the plan decided upon, but in any case the Finance Minister is acting wisely in consulting the manufacturers and merchants, upon whom the burden of collecting the tax is likely to be laid.

RAILWAY WAGES.

The figures given by Hon. J. D. Reid in the House of Commons the other day as to the deficit of Canada's National Railways have staggered the country. The enormous cost of operating these transportation lines is a burden upon the people of Canada, from which there will be difficulty in escaping unless some plan of placing the railways upon a sound basis is evolved. An outstanding feature is the fact that by far the biggest item of expenditure is the pay roll. The Minister of Railways was quite frank in his dealing with this portion of the expenditure, and there is every reason for thinking that the adoption of the McAdoo schedule by the Canadian railways has placed an almost impossible strain upon the railways, increased passenger and freight rates failing to meet the situation.

In the United States the conditions are the same. The New York Herald declares that "as the railways have been heading recently, 90 cents out of every dollar taken in by them goes into operating expenses, leaving only 10 cents to pay interest and to provide extensions, betterments, and futures, not to speak of return on the capital investment."

It is obvious that the railways across the border or in Canada cannot stand up under any such conditions, and the decision of several of the most important American lines, including the Erie, Pennsylvania, and New York Central systems, to revise their wages schedules downwards, is an inevitable result of the present situation. There will have to be a similar revision in Canada if the Canadian roads are to be brought something near a normal basis, and however unpalatable such a reduction would be to the employees, the necessity of a return to a more reasonable standard cannot fail to impress itself upon the people generally.

BONUSES TO MANUFACTURING.

The Peterborough Examiner agrees with The Star that the principle that municipalities should not bonus manufacturing is unassailable, but thinks that "as long as other provinces permit the practice. Ontario cannot voluntarily handicap herself."

From this view we dissent. It is undesirable that municipalities within the same province should compete with one another in offering cash inducements to industries as well as undesirable for provinces to bid against one another. The practice lends itself to gross abuses and has led to the perpetration of many frauds upon the people. Quebec is a part of Canada, and while we prefer that industries should locate in this province we do not begrudge prosperity to other parts of the Dominion. Ontario is the most attractive of all the provinces as a home in which to rear a family, and it offers industrial advantages which will bring industries as rapidly as in consonant with her welfare.

The Crockett Bill to prohibit municipalities bonusing manufacturing was introduced by a Labour member who ought to be as concerned as anyone about employment in Ontario. His proposal should be given earnest consideration.

We must confess to remain unconvinced, albeit The Star's statement after principle involved is undoubtedly sound. Were Mr. Crockett's Bill a Federal measure affecting municipalities in every province, then The Examiner would have no hesitation in supporting the proposal. But there is no sentiment in business, and while Ontario, in passing such a measure, might have the moral satisfaction of knowing that a sound stand had been taken on a matter of principle, it is doubtful whether that satisfaction would be a sufficient recompense for the capture of important industries by other provinces not so conscientious in their business methods. If the Ontario Legislature would put itself on record as opposed to the principle of bonusing manufacturers, and endeavour to secure the co-operation of the other provinces in banning the practice, the plan would be feasible — otherwise the province in abolishing bonuses on its own initiative would be merely putting itself at a disadvantage. That, at least, is our view—it may be parochial; but as an Ontario newspaper we confess that we are not anxious to build up the industries of other provinces at a loss to our own.

MAKING A FARCE COMEDY.

A blackfaced comedian once made a great hit with a pathetic ballad enttiled, "The Wild, Wild Women Are Making a Wild Man of Me."

Attorney-General Raney is more farcical than comic when he takes sides in a small town political feud and appoints a Royal Commission to investigate chatter of a minority faction which would decapitate the local magistrate on the strength of such "evidence" as was given by a Dunnville witness that "whiskey and wild women have been the ruination of me. I may as well say that, as it won't hurt my reputation any."

Yet what a wealth of comedy lies in the "investigation" of Magistrate Hastings. How typical of a hundred other Dunnvilles the two rival sets that want to run the town! Up the hill to the meeting house—surely the meeting house is perched on a hill just past the big house with the paintless picket fence — the reformers sedately walk on the far side of the street from the hotel where the unregenerate brew their wicked plots. And in that hotel, though the Wednesday evening bells toll their loudest, the other faction, seated in red plush chairs, is talking over old times and narrowly missng the cuspidor between reminiscences.

They say that gossip is the leading recreation of Dunnville. So it is in a hundred other Dunnvilles. There are better forms of amateur sport; but so long as even a game of gossip is played on the home grounds and before a home gallery no great harm is done. But when the solemn majesty of the Ontario Government steps in and makes a gladiatorial contest out of a petty tiff, there is the very devil to pay, for no man wants to be made a laughing stock in the eyes of the world. And every man—no less than every woman — has repeated gossip which was not intended for the ears of any Royal Commission.

Unfortunately, the Attorney-General of Ontario is an odd sort of sportsman. He simply had to start a cat-and-dog fight. Dunnville is like so many other places in that it has two parties in its politics. Why not set them at each other's throats? If the Conservative member of Parliament has his differences with one of the local ministers, so much the better. Neither can profit and both may lose. So Hon. W. E. Raney arranges the bout, hires a hall and sends down his own referee. The result is the undignified burlesque now being performed before Commissioner J. A. Paterson, K.C.

When Hon. W. E. Raney first heard of the affairs of Dunnville there is one native of Ontario whom he should have summoned to his counsel. That is Professor Stephen Leacock. The author of "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town" would have found material for a splendid sequel. Instead of that, the humorless Attorney-General of Ontario made a poor farce of a delightful comedy by treating it seriously.—Toronto Telegram.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Is the Salvation Army work worth $3,000 in Peterborough? The answer undoubtedly would be in the affirmative. Let the response to next week's appeal be equally as emphatic.

"Revisions and votes may spill my oats, But words will never hurt me" is Premier Drury's new version of the old jingle of childhood days.

The Canadian Club should send Rudyard Kipling a record of this winter's weather in order that he may have a chance to change his mind about "My Lady of the Snows."

Under the new regulations of the Ontario Censorship Board, about the only thing that will be left of the average present-day film will be the anme of the camera man.

What a fine plot for a musical comedy Gilbert and Sullivan would have found in the Dunnville inquiry!

It is a quiet day in the Legislature when somebody doesn't take a crack at the Attorney-General.

Will Hon. Manning Doherty be able to put the "go" in embargo?

Montreal has adopted daylight saving from 1st May to 1st October. If the system is good for Montreal, why not for Peterborough?

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Now that almost every other organisation has taken steps to have legislation which it desires enacted, it is about time that the Ancient Order of Docile Goats came forward and pressed for a Bill to regulate the quality of cigars handed out by salesmen, politicians, and press-agents.

In fact, it is a wonder that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has not already taken the matter up. The only people who profit by the present order are the members of the medical profession, and surely they can find other sources for the extraction of bones (speaking financially, not anatomically).

Why some salesmen hand out the brands of cigars that they do is a mystery whose solution is as far distant as ever. Perhaps they fondly hope that the cigar will have an immediate effect, and that they will be able to get the victim's signature to the order while he is helpless.

Politicians are supposed to be astute, but the cigars which some politicians give away lead to a suspicion that they are more asinine than astute, unless it is that they give these brands only to those who appear to be hopelessly converted to their opponents' cause and they wish to put them out of danger of voting.

As for the press-agents, well—any newspaperman knows from experience that a press-agent could be guilty of almost any excess. Consequently, why ponder the reason for their eccentricity as regards treating to smokes when there is urgent need to ponder how to put them out of the office most expeditiously.

The cigar has always been looked upon as an indication of affluence. It seems the appropriate form of tobacco for the man of means to indulge in. It carries with it that indefinable thing which some people term "an air." But the air around the cigars we refer to is beyond endurance.

The practice of giving away such vile smokes is degenerating the cigar. It is pulling it down from its former high plane. In many men it is instilling a fear which almost causes nausea at the very sight of a cigar. It is killing the cigar, in fact.

We can well understand why so many men are joining the anti-tobacco movement when they have been treated to smokes by some salesman, politicians, and press-agents, who attempt to keep down their cigar expenses in order to introduce more personal items into their expense accounts without stretching the accounts to unreasonable proportions.

As the war on the cigarette is gaining such headway, we hate to think what would happen to the ubiquitous fag should the gentlemen we referred to above start giving away cigarettes instead of cigars. Probably the only reason that they have not done so already is that, to our knowledge, there is no brand of cigarettes quite vile enough for their purposes.

TOURIST OFFICER FOR BIG LINERS.

Give Passengers Information About Europe.

PARIS, March 11.—Every French trans-atlantc liner will soon have a tourists' information and booking bureau, by the aid of which visitors to Europe can beguile the tedium of the sea passage and save their time ashore. Such is, at least, the latest scheme of the French National Touring Office, which will first be put into effect on the new liner Paris of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. Everything in the way of information is to be provided, and a library of guide books will be carried which will explain not only what places are best worth visiting, but how the tourists' time can best be saved. The bureau will also give personal advice about hotels and routes and will take orders and make reservations by wireless. Even railway tickets will be sold and automobiles may be hired in mid-atlantic, so that when the travelers disembark they will find every detail arranged for them as comfortably as if they had sent a courier in advance.

The service of these bureaus will be free, as is all the information at the National Touring Office, which has French Government backing and is being run to encourage touring in France and at the same time improve conditions for tourists.

DECENNIAL CENSUS ON JUNE FIRST.

OTTAWA, March 10.—With the appointment within the present or coming week of census commissioners throughout Canada, the way will be paved for taking the decennial census on June 1. The commissioners—one for each electoral division—will select the enumerators and the total will be about fifteen thousand. Everything will be recorded as at June 1, though the enumeration will extend to varying periods. Births after June 1 will not be counted, nor will deaths be deducted. The initial tabulation to be announced in October will deal only with population. The figures available then would furnish the base for redistribution of parliamentary representation at a Fall session if one were held for that purpose.

NEXT TO LUMBERING FUR TRADING NORTH'S GREAT INDUSTRY

THE PAS, Man., March 11.—Northern Manitoba still lives largely by the fur trade Trapping licenses were issued last year to 700 persons exclusive of Indians who require no license and who form the most important section of the fur trappers. The value of the northern Manitoba fur catch for the year ending Nov 30 was approximately $1,000,000 surpassed only by the lumbering industry. Fur royalties collected through The Pas alone in January, 1921, totalled $1,315.

The trapper's life is not a soft one His winter's work is to show a satisfactory profit he must make the rounds about once a week of his trapline, which may be 20 to 60 miles in length. It is no through trip, either. It is a series of chilling stops to examine the traps, probably well over 50 in number; to remove the catch, if any; reset the trap and leave the spot appearing in nocent as possible of designs on the life of furry beasts.

The trapper is lonely if he has no wife. She is lonely if he has. Few even of the married trappers have their wives with them at the hunting ground. Some trappers have married squaws and stories are told of white men, even university graduates, whose homes in the northern wilds are conducted in no proper fashion known to white man or Indian, meals being eaten off the floor and meat seized by the fingers from a common dish.

Here's Hard Side of Life.

That is the hard side of the life. It has its fascinations of variety, outdoor activitiy and goodly profit, some trappers making as much as $3,000 last year when prices were exceptionally high. About $2,000 is considered a fair average.

As for the home life of the trapper, it may have its disadvantages from the standpoint of the family man, but it is full of examples of quiet friendship between partners, who actually seem to like each other after year upon year of the familiarity which is supposed to breed contempt.

On the subject of intermarriage it is only fair to say that it is impossible to go anywhere in the north without meeting families, the backbone of the country, that are descendants of fine white men who married fine Indian women and made homes that set up high standards in the wilderness where others would reap much of the benefit.

It is expected that the fur catch this winter will be much less in value than last year. Fur-bearing animals are plentiful as ever, but lower prices are being received for those caught and the catch may be smaller as the cash inducement is diminished.

Principal Fur-Bearers.

Commissioner R. C. Wallace in his report on the fur industry in northern Manitoba names as the principal fur-bearing animals, beaver, otter, muskrat, ermine, fisher, marten, mink, fox (red, cross, silver white black) wolf, skunk, lynx, wolverine and bear (black and polar). "The white fox and the white or polar bear are found on the shores of Hudson Bay," he says. "The muskrat inhabits the swamps on the lower Saskatchewan river from Cumberland House to Lake Winnipeg—probably the greatest muskrat preserve on this continent. Beaver are sought particularly on the Churchill basin and in the Oxford House teritory in northeastern Manitoba. Marten and fisher are numerous from Oxford to Island Lake, but are well distributed throughout northern Manitoba. Marten are even trapped in the fringe of timber along the Hudson Bay coast. Mink are plentiful on the northern waterways. Otter are not so numerous, but still may be reckoned among the northern fur. Lynx and to a lesser extent fox, follow the periodic variations of the rabbit. Wolves follow the barrenland caribou in their winter migrations and are therefore most numerous north of the Churchill river. Their pelts are heavy and trapping is unprofitable at any great distance from the railway line. The wolverine, or glutton, is a not infrequent and always unwelcome visit or to the traps in the whole teriory, but particularly in the more northern sections."

Under a new system introduced last year the Game act is enforced by the provincial constables who report to the inspector of police and also at intervals to the chief game warden of northern Manitoba who is Frank Hogan, of The Pas. Two special constables, mainly to do Game act work, were appointed for the winter one in the Oxford House, God's Lake, and Island Lake country, south of the Hudson Bay railway, and the other for the belt north of the railway.

Many Parts are Intricate.

There are more things in the Game act than city men have dreamt in their philosoophies. There are intricacies of trappers' and licenses, of closed and open seasons and of proper and improper ways to end the life of any given animal Read this from the daily diary forwarded to headquarters by a special constable:

"I examined muskrat skins at all the trading posts and did not find any speared skins." As for poison, it is forbidden entirely.

Another constable reports that he seized at one camp 314 rats trapped out of season. Rats seem to cause the most trouble. Again he searched a place and seized a number of rats and one mink which he "considered were unprime." It is all in the Game act, if a person only can find the place. It takes an expert to do that so when a constable encounters a man wih a rifle at a time or place that does not call for rifles, he hands him a copy of the Manitoba Game laws open at the page which fits the case. That knocks the man's last excuse from under him.

Provincial constables vigorously are carrying on the campaign of education mentioned by Commissioner Wallace in his report. As they go about on their necessary patols they talk to the trappers on the game laws. One constable reported that from October 18 to January 11 he travelled 820 miles on patrol visited 27 trapping camps and 9 trading posts and talked on the Game laws to more than 200 trappers.

Both trappers and constables report wolves on the increase, travelling in bands of several hundreds and destroying much game and many fur-bearing animals. The Community Club of Norway House suggested action by the government to exterminate wolves.

As the fur comes from the trapper it is stretched and has still to be tanned or dressed.

WAS SUFFERING FROM INDIGESTION NO FEAR OF PAINS NOW

Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble, and many people suffer terribly after every meal they eat. The rising and souring of the food, pains in the stomach, heartburn, water brash, belching of wind ,vomiting shortly after eating, etc., are some of the symptoms.

There is no need for any person to be troubled with indiegstion, dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble if they would only take Burdock Blood Bitters, which contains a combination of nature's roots, herbs, barks and berries; a combination that cannot help but put the stomach right.

Mr. H. H. Collins, Norton, N.B., writes:—"I was with the overseas forces for four years and two months, and in October, 1916, I was unfortunate enough to be wounded and taken prisoner. I was a prisoner for 2 1-2 years, and the food they gave us was not good, at times, and after a few months I found I was suffering from indigestion. When I came home in July, 1919, I was nearly a wreck. I was told to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and found great relief, and can now eat without fear of pains and sickness. I would recommend B.B.B. to all who suffer from indigestion."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has made a reputation second to none for relieving all stomach troubles. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Signs of Spring.

The signs of an early spring are everywhere apparent, and unless Mother Nature is playing a premature April fool joke, the budding of the shrubs and softer varieties of trees indicate that spring is upon us. PHYSICIAN TO HARDING A GENERAL SOON.

Dr. Charles E. Savage Will Be Assigned to White House.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Dr. Charles E. Savage of Marion, Ohio, the Harding family physician, will be appointed a Brigadier-General in the Army Reserve Corps and assigned to active duty at the White House as personal physician to President Harding, it was announced to-day by Secretary of War Weeks.

It will be necessary to send the nomination of Dr. Sawyer as a Brigadier General of the Reserve to the Senate for confirmation, but his assignment to active duty is an act within the province of the President alone. Through this assignment to active duty, Dr. Sawyer will be able to draw the pay and allowances of a Brigadier General of the army. The pay amounts to $6,000 a year and the allowances, which are for quarters, light and fuel, will increase his emoluments to $7,512.

Observers here expect a spirited time in the Senate when the nomination is transmitted by President Harding. The memory of Republican opposition to the promotion of Rear Admiral Grayson, President Wilson's physician, is too fresh in the minds of Democratic Senators to permit them to overlook the opportunity of having fun with the Republican President and perhaps make some political capital. In Rear Admiral Grayson's case, President Wilson had the advantage of the fact that Dr. Grayson was already an officer of the Medical Corps of the navy, with a service of thirteen years. The opposition to the confirmation of his nomination as a Rear Admiral was based on the ground that he was too young to receive such marked advancement, that his promotion was a case of personal preference on the part of President Wilson and that by promoting him officers who were his senior in rank were debarred from advancement to Rear Admiral, the highest rank in the Medical Corps.

Has Sanitarium at Marion.

Dr. Sawyer is 62 years old. He is the proprietor of a private sanitarium at Marion for the treatment of mental, nervous and alcoholic cases. He has been a lifelong friend of President Harding and is his family physician.

Dr. Sawyer has not had previous military service. His son, Dr. Carl Sawyer, served in the Army Medical Corps in the World War. As a Brigadier General in the Reserve Dr. Sawyer will not be entitled to pay and allowances, but these emoluments will come to him when he is assigned to duty at the White House by the President's order. He is to serve as the physician of President Harding and it is expected that he also will be designated as the military aid to the President, dual functions which were performed by Rear Admiral Grayson. Under the present war-time regulations he must wear the uniform of a Brigadier General while in active service.

1870 STANFIELD'S Unshrinkable UNDERWEAR 1921

A Canadian Industry Built on an Ideal

1921 is the Jubilee of Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear. It is a far cry to the magnificent mills at Truro—models of modern equipment and efficiency—from the tiny building in Prince Edward Island where the late Mr. C. E. Stanfield began the evolution of an ideal in 1856.

The late Mr. C. E. Stanfield learned the woollen trade in his uncle's mill in Bradford, England, then as now a center of the woollen industry. But the pride he took in his work developed ambition. He wanted to start out for himself. Canada was much talked about in the Old Country and he decided to come to the new world across the Atlantic.

He built his first mill at Tryon, P.E.I., in 1856. So successful was he that a wider field was sought and he chose Truro, Nova Scotia, locating there in 1870, moving from the original mill to a larger one, and finally in 1882, constructing a new plant on the bank of the Salmon River, the site of Stanfield's Limited, and beginning the nucleus of the present Stanfield mills.

In 1896, the late Mr. C. E. Stanfield decided to retire and sold out the growing business to his two sons, John and Frank, who are now President and Vice-President of Stanfield's Limited, a corporate company.

Stanfield and woollens are synonymous. A hundred years ago, Charles Stanfield was a woollen manufacturer in Bradford, England. He taught the business to a nephew, the late C. E. Stanfield, who made the first Cardigan jackets and Bannockburn tweeds in Canada. He, in turn handed down his knowledge to his sons, John and Frank, the active heads of the business to-day. Thus, Stanfields are carrying out the best of the old British traditions of trade—one generation following another in the same line of endeavour—adding knowledge and experience, building on the old foundations, broadening and strengthening, making the family name synonymous with all that is best in the trade.

That this vocational tradition is a good thing for business and for the world at large, is proven in the case of the Stanfield family, for it was due to the efforts of John and Frank Stanfield that Unshrinkable Underwear was made possible. These two experts, born in the business and absorbing the best traditions of the trade, evolved a process that took the shrink out of wool before the garments were woven, giving Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear to the world and making it the outstanding feature of the Stanfield products.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear was manufactured first for men who work outdoors—farmers, fishermen, trainmen. As towns developed into cities and the cities into worlds within themselves, Stanfields began to make finer underwear, in weights suited to men who worked indoors and were not so much exposed to the rigors of winter. Then came the addition of silk-and-wool and extra fine woollen underwear for women; and finally, Stanfield's Adjustable Underwear for children. To-day Stanfield's Underwear is a family affair both from the standpoint of wearers as well as makers.

Stanfields have steadily held to the original idea behind the business—to avoid fads and to make underwear of a quality demanded by the majority of the Canadian people, with quality kept up to a standard and prices kept down to a minimum consistent with quality.

It is this unswerving adherence to an ideal of quality that has built up a market for Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear that more than equals the supply, and has given a reputation to the name "Stanfield" that is an asset which cannot be valued in mere dollars and cents.

The Jubilee of Stanfield's Limited crowns with success the achievement of a Canadian institution which occupies its present proud position because of a rigid adherence to the fundamentals of sound business—making an essential article, making it better and keeping the price right.

DIRECTORS ORDER CUT

PENNSYLVANIA ROAD TO REDUCE ALL PAY—SUBMIT QUESTION.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—By action of the Board of Directors the Pennsylvania Railroad have taken steps to put in force a cut in pay to every one of its employes, from President down.

The per cent. of cut will vary in accordance with pay in other lines for similar work, the skill required and hazard of occupation, and the ratio of wages paid to the cost of living in the locality.

After the wage cut plans have been worked out in detail, which is to be as quickly as possible, they will be submitted to the employes for approval. In the event of disapproval, the company will appeal to the Railroad Labor Board for permission to make the cuts in spite of the men's objection.

This resolution was adopted by the Directors, outlining the plan and stating the reasons for the action taken:

"In view of changed economic conditions it is a manifest obligation to the public generally, and especially to shippers, passengers, investors and stockholders, that railroad expenses be reduced.

"The management of the Pennsylvania railroad has already made a reduction of over 70,000 men in its personnel, seriously curtailing maintenance of roadway and equipment, consolidated divisional organizations, and has stopped all expenditures on new work.

"Even with such economies as have already been enforced, it takes almost the whole of current earnings merely to pay current operating expenses. It is evident that the requirements of the Transportation Act that railroads shall be administered in an efficient and economical manner, cannot be satisfied without still further reductions in expenses.

"In February 70 per cent. of all Pennsylvania System operating earnings were absorbed by charges for labor, against a normal charge for labor of less than 50 per cent. of earnings.

Declares Adjustment Necessary.

"A foundation for the restoration of normal business cannot be laid until there has been a frank recognition of the real situation and a readjustment of wages to meet the altered conditions. The more promptly an adjustment to the inexorable facts is made, the more promptly can those who are now idle be re-employed, on a basis established for renewed prosperity. In making a readjustment of salaries and wages, it is but fair and proper that the burden should be borne by all officers as well as employes. It is accordingly resolved that the executive officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are directed to give as promptly as possible notice that it is the intention of this company to reduce the salaries and wages of officers and employes to accord with economic conditions.

CUT THIS OUT Don't Use Drugs For Constipation

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

Advertise in the Examiner

The Case for Daily Newspaper Advertising

The question has been asked: What are the Advantages of Daily Newspaper Advertising by contrast with all other forms of advertising?

In setting out these advantages, Daily Newspaper Publishers do not discount supplementary forms of publicity. But the area of Canada and its distribution of population are such, that Daily Newspaper Advertising has been and must be the basis of all the pointedly successful Canadian advertising campaigns.

1. UNIVERSAL APPEAL.

(a) Enters the home intimately.
The newspaper enters the home and has a more intimate appeal to all members of the family than any other reading matter.

(b) Reaches all classes.
The newspaper appeals to all literate members of the community, without distinction of race, class, creed, sex, income or occupation.

(c) Thorough distribution.
The newspaper finds its readers, whether they are at home or not; if they are not at home, it reaches them when travelling, on trains and cars, in hotels, clubs and libraries.

(d) Reaches the business man.
The newspaper is to the business executive the most necessary medium of information.

(e) Minimum duplication.
Because of the completeness of the service of each newspaper, there is a minimum of duplication between newspapers.

2. IMMEDIATE APPEARANCE.

(a) Impulse to immediate action.
Because the newspaper deals with the immediate fact and the opinion of the day, its columns give an impulse to immediate action; results are often felt even before the presses are silent.

(b) Quick insertion.
Through the newspaper the reader may be reached within a few hours after copy is prepared.

(c) Quick change.
Advertisements in a newspaper may be changed or even cancelled up to a few hours before going to press.

(d) Quick repetition.
A newspaper advertisement which proves successful can be repeated promptly before the conditions favoring success have altered.

(e) Timely copy.
Newspaper copy can be adapted to the day on which it appears, or to current events, and can avoid untimely references.

3. FREQUENCY OF APPEARANCE.

(a) The choice of the day.
The newspaper advertiser has his choice of the precise day of the week most suitable to his advertising.

(b) Intensive campaigns.
Newspaper advertising permits any intensity desired, up to daily insertions.

(c) Serial campaigns.
In the newspaper it is possible to use serial copy with any desired interval between insertions.

(d) Cumulative effect.
A newspaper campaign may be planned to obtain a maximum cumulative effect, through the flexibility of space and intervals.

4. LOCALIZED CIRCULATION.

(a) Close to place of purchase.
The reader of a newspaper advertisement can go directly to the place where the article advertised is on sale.

(b) Spotty distribution.
The advertiser with spotty distribution can, by using newspapers, advertise exclusively where his goods are on sale.

(c) Concentrated territory.
The newspaper offers the maximum concentration of circulation in any community.

(d) Strengthening weak territory.
The newspaper may be used to strengthen weak spots in the distribution with the exact degree of force desired.

(e) Progressive zone advertising.
Newspaper advertising may be extended progressively by zones, hand-in-hand with and aiding the extension of distribution.

(f) Seasonable by territory.
Seasonable variations in the demand in different territories may be taken into account in newspaper advertising.

(g) Price variations.
When necessary, different prices may be quoted in different territories through newspaper advertising.

(h) Localized copy.
Newspaper copy and illustrations may be made to meet precisely, and take advantage of, local conditions.

(i) Traceability.
The effect of newspaper advertising may be traced by observing the course of sales in each community.

(j) Try-out and test campaigns.
At low cost, tests may be made of the medium, the product, the selling plan or the copy approach at typical points before embarking on a costly general campaign.

The Daily Newspaper is the medium of the moment—the axis of opportunity; flexible, powerful and instantaneous in its ability to create Sales.

Advice as to the best ways and means of using it will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

THE TRUE CASE FOR THE UNIONIST

(By G. K. CHESTERTON)

(Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

A very indignant Unionist, writing me about Amritsar and Ireland, actually quotes my remark that the peril of Prussia was real, and then says I insinuate that the peril at Amritsar was not real. It is certainly a very artful way of insinuating something to say most positively the exact opposite. And as for saying there was no danger at Amritsar, it may not be a damnable lie to say it, but it is certainly the very opposite of what I said. Obviously my whole argument was based on the assumption of the reality of British peril. That was the only possible meaning of the parallel about Prussian peril. It is so simple that I can hardly conceve anyone getting it so tail-foremost. "How can we be excused even if we were endangered when Prussia is condemned, although she was undoubtedly endangered?" I have some difficulty in imagining what my correspondent does think we think, but the only inference from his strange phrases, would be that we insinuate that Prussia is superior to England, and that the English are to be execrated but the Prussians excused. Does our general tone about Prussia leave him with that impression?

Our argument, in short, was entirely based so far as it went on the assumption that the Amritsar affair was as dangerous as the strongest supporters of General Dyer can declare it to be. Whether it actually was so dangerous as that is quite another question, and it is a question of technical fact and not in the least of moral sentiment. How such a technical point can be turned into a test of loyalty I cannot imagine. Surely it is simply comic to say that every good patriot is not only bound to believe that the Empire is collapsing but bound to believe that it was collapsing at a particular place and time. It is odd enough in any case to make a faith in imperial instability the chief mark of an imperialist. It seems a strange thing at best to call a man a traitor merely because he considers the Indian Government popular or strong, and to make it the first duty of a patriot to consider it unpopular or weak. But it passes the limits of the preposterous that a man should be judged a good or bad Englishman by his impression of certain local conditions and proportions in the heart of Asia, of which ninety-nine Englishmen out of a hundred are necessarily and totally ignorant. I decline, therefore, to treat any man as a bad Englishman because he says either that there was or that there was not danger at Amritsar, though I shall think him the most sensible sort of Englishman if he says, as I do, that he does not know enough about the matter to decide. But all this has nothing in the world to do with the argument I actually used, and my correspondent has so amazingly muddled. It was simply that the defence based on danger, even when it can be substantiated, involves us in the greatest of all dangers; the slow decline of our European sense of the difference between chivalrous and barbarous war; that slimy and very slippery slope which might lead England at last, and after a much longer descent, even to those foul swamps where Prussia lies already dead.

As to my brother's attitude, it would be easy to fill a whole number with quotations from his published works, which say with far greater vehemence and force everything that I have said here about such things as the need of sympathy with Irish Nationalism. To mention but one thing out of a thousand, he insisted at the very height of the war that Ireland should not be talked of merely as a part of the Empire at all, but only as "our Ally in the West."

But in the matter of Amritsar, I find a rather curious confirmation which would be interesting even as a coincidence. Nobody can possibly tell, alas! what he would have thought of that particular case. But the general argument in my article on Montagu is remarkably like that in one of his articles on Disraeli. My brother condemned the British cruelty after the crushing of the Indian Mutiny more strongly than I condemned the British conduct at Amritsar. But he pointed out how unfortunate it was that the chief champion of the natives among the English politicians was not an English politician at all. It was Benjamin Disraeli, the Israelite, and, as my brother remarked, it was and is impossible to shake off the suspicion that his clemency was partly due, not to his warmth concerning atrocities against brown people, but to his comparative coldness concerning atrocities against white people. At best he was not moved exactly as we were moved by the tale of the Christian women in Cawnpore, any more than he was afterwards moved by that of the Christian women in Bulgaria. And as he had not the faintest notion of our resentment, he could not be the fairest judge of our revenge. In short, my brother's argument about Disraeli and the mutiny was exactly the same as my own argument about Montagu and the affair at Amritsar. For the rest there is nothing so tragic as the memory of laughter; and it is with a very different movement of the mind that I think how he would have laughed at the notion that either he or I were any less English for facing the possibility that England had played the tyrant in India, or the certainty that she had played it in Ireland.

That being disposed of, I have a very particular desire to go on from a logical refutation to a real agreement. It may surprise the gentleman, or even annoy him, but it is none the less the fact that I have a very real sympathy with him; not with what he says, but with what he means. He probably has a notion that I merely attack the Unionist, and if he knows my brother's work, he must know that my brother attacked the Unionist quite as strongly. But as a matter of fact, I can imagine myself feeling very strong sympathy for a Unionist, if he would use his real argument and not his sham one. And as very often happens in such cases, the Irishman would really be far more respectful to the real argument, even when it sounds amiable and moderate. In truth it is simply a piece of sentimental self-comfort and semi-conscious hypocrisy, which I would implore the Unionist to fling away for ever.

The point is really perfectly simple. It is foolish of the Unionist to be always reviling the Nationalist for being a Nationalist. For the Unionist is himself a Nationalist. The Unionist is not really an Anglo-Saxon, or any such crude colonial nonsense. The Unionist is not really an Imperialist, or any such pompous Prussian "World Politics." The Unionist is not really a Unionist, for he does not in the least desire to be united to an Irishman, in the only proper sense of being indistinguishable from an Irishman. The Unionist is an Englishman, and often a very genuine and honorable sort of Englishman, especially when he has the sense to call himself not a Unionist but a Tory. If he is an Englishman prepared to trample on Irish liberties, at least he is not an Englishman prepared to trample on English liberties, in so extreme a fashion as many of the English Liberals, who call themselves the party of liberty. He may object to a parliament house on College Green, but he does not object to every public house on every village green. Well, this Englishman is a fiery and even fanatical English Nationalist, and he thinks, rightly or wrongly, that the Irishman is an enemy of the English nation. He not only thinks he is an enemy, but he thinks he is a dangerous enemy, and simply and solely for that reason he fears to let him loose in the world. That at least is a comprehensible position, and there is osly one obvious thing to be said about it, which can be put in a single sentence. When a courageous man fears anything, his courage is shown in confessing it.

Instead of foolishly repeating that he distrusts the Irishman's weakness, he ought to say plainly that he distrusts the Irishman's strength. He might very well add that he specially distrusts the American Irishman's strength. Not only would the Irishman feel this is a more decent consideration of his own dignity than soft-headed attempts to soothe him like an idiot; not only would the Irishman naturally understand honest insular patriotism better than hypocritical international imperialism, but the Irishman would be given for the first time a real motive for moderation and good humor. He would then have his first real reason for proving that he was not threatening England, or perhaps for ceasing to threaten her. So long as the Unionist is so silly as to go on telling the Irish that they are wild creatures who do not know what they mean, they naturally concentrate all their energies on proving that they not only know what they mean, but jolly well mean it. So should we, if some smiling German were perpetually purring over us, and telling us that we concealed our love for him out of coquetry and caprice, but that we also must in our hearts the true-hearted Teutonic race-unity admire. So long as the Unionist is so senseless as to tell them they do not know what they want, they cannot possibly do anything but emphasize and exaggerate what they do want. They have no motive to rerute his real argument, either in logic or practice.

It may be that it is too late to do all this, but being conscious of what I have myself written on the subject for the last twenty years, and having nothing in it to withdraw, I can tell the Unionist, with my very sincere respects, that it is not my fault if it is too late.

Your grocer will tell you frankly that he makes less profit on Red Rose Tea than on other teas. The only object he has in recommending it is to see that you get the best quality possible. N

HORSES AND DOGS FOR PETS

The new first lady of the United States is said to prefer horses and dogs for pets. Cruel treatment of dumb animals arouses her to indignation, and on more than one occasion she has stopepd on the streets of Marion and Washington to reprimand a drayman or cabby for abusing his horse. In her younger days she was a skilled horsewoman.

PLANNING FOR MOST SUNLIGHT.

More Sun at North Pole Than in Toronto.

TORONTO, March 10.—(Canadian Press).—"The sun shines longer on the North Pole than any other place in the world," stated Horace L. Seymour, Town Planning Engineer, who delivered a lecture here recently.

From figures kindly furnished by Mr. Connor of the Meteorological office the speaker said he was able to state that the North Pole enjoyed about a week's more sunshine than the equator, and that in the latitude of Toronto it was possible to receive some thirty or forty more hours of sunshine than at the equator throughout the year.

Mr. Seymour's subject was "Town Planning," which he covered in a general manner, but treated in some detail the matter of "Planning for Sun Light." He showed that Toronto last year had actually 2,048 hours of sunshine or about 46 per cent. of the possible, varying from over 60 per cent. in some months to less than 15 per cent. in December last. He explained the effect of the sun's altitude in relation to the actual amount of sunshine received and to the intensity of the sunshine enjoyed. While the North Pole might receive the most sunshine throughout the year, what is actually received at the earth's surface would be considerably diminished on account of clouds and climatic conditions and the sun's rays would not be very strong. The records show that the interior of continents and especially on high plateaus are the localities best favoured with actual sunshine.

"What did Toronto do with the 2,048 hours of sunshine that she enjoyed last year?" queried the lecturer. The best location of detached free standing dwellings as well as attached high buildings was discussed at some length by Mr. Seymour. From studies on the subject, and he referred to numerous authorities, he said that he had come to the conclusion in his town planning work that for residential areas streets should preferably run north-east and south-west and north-west and south-west. For intensive city development, on the other hand, he showed that blocks should be long and narrow with main streets running north and south. While explaining that there are many factors that may determine the main lines of any city development, the ideally sun-planned city might be considered as one that had a central gridiron with long narrow blocks with main streets oriented north and south surrounded by a checkerboard of square blocks with streets radiating diagonally from the central development.

WIRELESS 'PHONE IN EUROPE

Between Buenos Aires and Paris, Promised.

BUENOS AYRES, March 10 (Associated Press).—Wireless telephone communication between Buenos Ayres and Paris is a promise of the not distant future. The Government has granted a concession to the General Wireless Telegraph Company of Paris to construct on the Argentine coast a powerful radio-telegraph and radio-telephone station to communicate with France and other European countries. The company, it is stated, expects to establish telephone connection with Paris by a system of continuous waves of 800 kilowatt power and over.

The duration of the concession is for 30 years. It authorises the company to carry on experiments in long-distance radio-telephony, and if at the end of three years the experiments are considered by the Argentine Government satisfactory, the concession will be extended to permit commercial exploitation of wireless telephone as well as telegraph communication. Three plants are to be erected, according to plans.

HELD NITRO-GLYCERINE TORPEDO UNTIL FIFTY PERSONS REACHED SAFETY.

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., March 10.—Catching a twenty-quart nitro-glycerine torpedo as it was blown from the casing by an unexpected flow of gas, Powell Wright held it until 50 persons and two hundred quarts of the explosive on a wagon reached safety. He then dropped it back into the hole with the receding gas and escaped.

The derrick was wrecked by the impact and the well caught fire when the torpedo was lifted to the crown block by a recurrence of gas.

AMERICAN MILLIONS SMASH PROFITEERS

MODERN SHYLOCKS OF SWITZERLAND ARE HARD HIT NOW.

GENEVA, March 12—(By Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service).—A Ticinese multi-millionaire of Lugano, named Battista Beretta Piccoli who amassed a fortune in America, and recently returned to his native town, is using his wealth to lower the price of boots. For some time past the prices of boots in Switzerland have been so high that in Italian Switzerland people went about wearing clogs or patched footwear, and children even went barefoot. Signor Beretta Piccoli bought wholesale a quantity of leather, and had boots made in Italy and then imported them into Switzerland, where he sells them at half the ordinary retail price, this is, 20 francs or less per pair.

At first the local bootsellers took no notice, but afterwards they were also obliged to lower their prices to the level of his and now the whole population of Lugano is wearing new boots. This millionaire is now proposing to import several hundred thousand more pairs of boots into other parts of Switzerland if the price of boots is not lowered there. The Swiss boot manufacturers have petitioned the government to prevent him from dumping his cheap Italian-made boots into Switzerland, but the trade unions and Socialists declare that if the government does this they will organize a general strike.

Signor Beretta Piccoli states that he is not selling the boots at a loss, for 22 Swiss francs are worth 100 Italian lire, and he an get the boots made in Italy 60 per cent. cheaper than in Switzerland.

THE "FLU" Dare Not Return

The "Flu" will certainly get a warm reception this winter if it dares show its ugly head in our peaceful midst, for the people are confident now that they can deal it such a smashing blow it will never survive. In every village, town and city in Canada, families are fortifying themselves with the greatest "Flu" ammunition known to science—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. Colds, coughs, etc.—the advance guards of Flu—are met with withering fire, and relief from these troubles is sure every time. One hundred thousand Canadians are only too willing to testify to the great healing power this remedy contains. It has conquered coughs of 35 years' standing. It cannot fail to do for you what it has done for others. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose, as it is sold under a money-back guarantee to banish coughs, colds, bronchitis, bronchial asthma and prevent you from getting the "Flu." It is not a syrup, but a scientific mixture, 20 times stronger than any other cough cure. One dose gives instant relief. Price, 75 cents. Take no substitute. None genuine without my signature. Voice Of The People

Edtior of the Examiner,

A few days ago we had occasion to ocmment on the ridiculous statement made by certain people in regard to the large increase in automobile facilities. We now want to disabuse the minds of motorists of an idea that has sprung up lately, to wit, that 75 per cent .to 90 per cent. of the motor accidents are due to pedestrians. To hear some people talk one would think that carelessness, recklessness and thoughtlessness are not confined to any one class. As the Safety League's Calender for April says, "Motorists and pedestrians owe it to themselves to go fifty-fity on the caution stuff." The motorist should remember that the pedestrian has less chance than the motorist ,that he therefore cannot afford to be careless, and that in an accident involving both, the pedestrian is the person who always gets the worst of the encounter; that is to say the driver of the automobile is always in the safer position.

These efficiency experts who throw the blame in their statistics on the pedestrians as a class include the children. We cannot repeat too often that children are not careless—they are carefree—and there is absolutely no excuse, of any possible form or manner that can be offered for a driver taking a chance when the children are or may be on the roadway. It makes little difference to the mother of a child killed whether the fault lay with her child or the motorist. The old and much discussed question of speed crops up again. It is easier to stop a car quickly at 15 than at 25 miles an hour; it is easier to stop at 20 than at 40 miles an hour. But let us repeat in closing that no one group has a corner on carelessness and that it ill behooves any of us to try to throw the blame on the other fellow.

R. B. MORLEY,
General Manager Ontario Safety League.

CRITICISM AND REMINISCENCE

(PATERFAMILIAS)

FATHER AND SON.

Thirty-three years ago to-day Emperor Frederick III. of Germany, only son of Emperor William I., on succeeding to the throne of his father, who died in Berlin on March 9th, 1888, proclaimed the policy by which he intended to rule the German Empire. This proclamation was addressed to Prince Bismarck and its contents put the Prince into an exceedingly bad humor, although the Liberal party accepted the policy as foreshadowing a more liberal administration than had hitherto been pursued. The Emperor, however, had but a short time in which to exercise his prerogative in the cause of freedom, for in consequence of ill-health his son, Crown Prince Wilhelm, was invested with the power of settling Government matters. Emperor Frederick suffered from a throat malady, to which he succumbed on June 15th after a reign of but ninety-nine days, and 'tis said the then Crown Prince—now deposed Kaiser—later discredited the world over as being mainly responsible for bringing about the late Great War, suffers, more or less, from similar throat trouble.

Emperor Frederick III., with Bismarck, was responsible for re-establishing the German Empire under Prussian hygemony.

The difference in disposition between this Emperor Frederick and his son was clearly marked in their initiative pronouncement on assuming the throne. For while the former opened his reign with an address to his "people," the latter, Emperor Wilhelm—now sawing wood at his exile home in Holland—began his rule with an order to the Prussian army. And it does seem irony of fate that he should have ended his reign in ignominious flight from that disastrous disorder in his armies inflicted by the Allies in France and Belgium. When the former Kaiser Wilhelm II. opened the German Reichstag on June 25th, 1888, he pledged himself to continue the policy of his grandfather, Emperor William I., who in his youth made himself unpopular by his readiness to quell the insurrection in Germany of 1848 with grape and canister, and only forgiven in 1870 when all Germany resented his supposed insult by the French Ambassador at Ems, which resulted in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71. Again the irony of fate, for as his grandfather's policy of autocratic domination, backed by the sword and shot and shell unpopularized that ruler with his people, so that same policy applied by the last Emperor of Germany in his international relationship up to and from 1914 to 1918, has made him the most detested and most unpopular man in the whole world, with a price set on his head, so to speak, despite his claim to the divine right of kings.

PETERBOROUGH BANKS.

To-day the business interests of Peterborough are admirably looked after by eight banks—just twice as many as in 1884, when this community took considerable pride in four banking institutions of the day; the Bank of Montreal, Bank of Toronto, Ontario Bank and the Bank of Commerce.

The Bank of Montreal was 37 years ago situated at the south-east corner of Simcoe and Water Streets in building now owned by Peterborough Club, is now on the North-west corner same street. This branch originally found its inception as an offshoot of the Cobourg branch of the Bank of Montreal in 1849, with the late Mr. Robert Nicholls as agent, who, on this agency assuming the dignity of a bank in 1854, was retained as manager. Mr. Jackson Rae followed in charge, and then came Mr. J. N. Travers, father of the late Mr. R. W. Travers, who was born in the rooms above the bank; where the Peterborough Club house now stands. Mr. R. W. Travers returned here to the home of his birth and managed the Bank of Montreal branch in its present building at the north-east corner of Simcoe and Water Streets for four or five years immediately preceding the present manager, Mr. C. C. Abbott. Mr. R. W. Travers met his death accidentally on the railway at London about eighteen months ago. The Bank of Montreal was the pioneer of Peterborough's financial institutions.

The second bank to be established here—two years later than the B. of M.—was the Bank of Toronto, a branch of which was first opened up in 1856 at the corner of Simcoe and Water Streets, where the City Hall is now situated.

In 1884 this bank enjoyed what was then considered commodious quarters in the Cox block, George Street, west side, about where E. F. Mason's grocery is at present located. Its business is now conducted on the corner of George and Hunter Streets, next to H. Le Brun & Co.'s clothing store; but a growing clientete calls for building expansion this Spring on the same site, where this bank has transacted business for 30 years. The first manager of this branch of the Bank of Toronto was the late ex-Sheriff James Hall, father of the present Sheriff Hall and Mr. E. H. D. Hall; the latter some few years ago served this municipality as City Solicitor. The bank's present efficient manager is Mr. E. J. H. Vanstone, who succeeded Mr. Peter Campbell, now retired and resident in Bowmanville.

The Ontario Bank came next and opened a branch at Peterborough in 1866, through the interest of the late Mr. Robert Nicholls, who held office as local director. The first manager was Mr. D. Eastwood, followed by Mr. George E. Shaw, and then by Mr Chas. McGill, who later assumed the general managership of the Ontario Bank with its main office in Toronto. The office first opened in the Nicholls building, just north of its subsequent location, north-west side of Water and Simcoe Streets, immediately opposite the City Hall and the old Bank of Montreal building. Considerable interior improvements were made in this later home of the Ontario Bank just prior to the concern's failure in 1906, when the building was taken over by the B. of M., by whom it is still owned and used for business.

The Bank of Commerce first found location in Peterborough in the building afterwards known as the Croft House, corner of Hunter and Water Streets, north-east side, where the Sun Life building is now situated. This was in 1870. Later it acquired more desirable quarters in the Cox block on the corner of George and Brock Streets, from whence the branch was removed to its present commanding situation, at the corner of Water and Hunter Streets, with the Masonic Temple and numerous offices above, and immediately opposite the present Post Office. The first manager for this local branch of the Bank of Commerce was Mr. James A. Hall, now Sheriff, and father of Mr. F. J. A. Hall. The present managing head is Mr. W. H. Dunsford.

Later Comers.

With the failure of the Ontario Bank in 1906, the banking field here, enjoyed exclusively for so many years by those first four financial institutions above referred to, was quickly broken into by other comers, finally furnishing Peterborough with five other substantial banks—the Dominion, the Royal, the Ottawa, the Union and the Bank of Nova Scotia.

In 1906 the Dominion Bank, after first establishing in temporary premises on Simcoe Street, adjoining the B. of M.'s present building, moved into its present quarters at the south-east corner of George and Simcoe Streets, where the old China Hall had been located for years. Its first and only manager was and is Mr. John Crane, formerly accountant with the defunct Ontario Bank. This handsome white stone-faced building suffered somewhat by the big fire in that block in the Winter of 1919.

November of 1906 saw the Royal Bank, also doing business here, in the same building on Hunter Street, south side, now occupied by R. J. Soden, dealer in books, stationery, fine China and kindred lines. A little over nine years later this institution, having acquired the building on the north-west corner of George and Hunter Streets, extensive reconstruction work was undertaken resulting in the present commodious Royal Bank building on that site with offices and apartments overhead and Heintzman Hall in the Hunter Street annex. The bank moved into these premises on January 1st, 1916, with Mr. Vincent Eastwood, its present and only manager since opening here, in charge. Previous to assuming this important position Mr. Eastwood was manager of the Peterborough Hardware Company, an experience which brought him into close relationship with many and varied business interests in this locality.

A year or two prior to 1916, the Bank of Ottawa opened a branch where Royal Bank is now situated, which premises it was obliged to vacate, when the Royal Bank of Canada purchased them, for quarters on the east side of George Street, between Simcoe and Charlotte. Subsequently, however, the local interests of this institution were assumed by the Bank of Nova Scotia. The Bank of Ottawa's first manager was Mr. Hollingshead.

The Union Bank, also doing business in a white and grey stone-faced building on the east side of George street, between Simcoe and Charlotte street, was established here by its first manager, Mr. C. H. Pennyfather, on November 1st, 1911. The present local manager is Mr. G. A. Campbell, who succeeded Mr. Pennyfather in June, 1919.

The Bank of Nova Scotia opened its branch in this city on March 1st, 1905. It is now situated on the north-west side of George street between Simcoe and Charlotte and nearly opposite the Allen Theatre. Its first manager, Mr. T. Hammett, later died of yellow fever in Trinidad, at the time when he was head of a branch of the bank there. Following this gentleman's untimely demise, the Bank of Nova Scotia's general management closed that Trinidad branch rather than subject their staff to so terrible a scourge as "Yellow Jake." Mr. J. W. Fraser is now manager of the Peterborough branch.

Peterborough's latest banking acquisition is a branch of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, originally opened up by its present local manager, Mr. C. S. Cummer, in the building on Simcoe Street where the Dominion Stores is now situated. This was in October, 1919, but on the Bank of Ottawa's premises, a few doors south of the Union Bank, on George Street, between Simcoe and Charlotte, becoming vacant, Mr. Cummer quickly recognized the advantage of moving into those more convenient offices, possession of which he took in December, 1919, under lease. This Merchants' Bank building, with its black and white marble front, presents a very attractive appearance. Mr. Cummer's mother was a member of the Shaw family; she was born in Cavan Township, and Mr. Cummer has many family connections in Peterborough district.

Reflects Enterprise.

And so we see that Peterborough has during its history had the services of no less than ten banks — branches of their mother institutions—eight of which are still functioning here. On general principles the number of banks in a municipality reflects the degree of business, commercial and industrial activities, prevalent in that community. For a bank not only handles deposits for its clients but it is a medium for financial transactions on behalf of customers without the intervention of either coin or bank notes .The banker also encourages business operations and fosters business and industrial expansion when his knowledge of conditions local and otherwise warrants him in standing behind any venture. But it cannot be expected that such reliable banks as are located in Peterboro will strain prudence to the limit. Such a course would neither be in the interest of client or bank.

A stranger coming into Peterboro cannot but be impressed with eight imposing bank premises meeting his eye, within a distance of two blocks. Should he be a business, commercial or industrial man, he at once concludes that this must be a live little city, and his conclusion is quite correct. Peterborough has reason to be proud of her banking institutions, and Peterborough's banks have contributed in the past, and will undoubtedly continue to contribute in the future their fair share of accommodation and business enterprise in enhancing the growth of a "Greater Peterborough."

ROCKED THE TOWN.

Chicago Man Invents Astronomical Clock.

CHICAGO. — Michael Bulka, of Chicago, has invented a remarkable astronomical clock which has attracted much scientific interest.

In a glass dome on top are a miniature sun, earth and moon whose movements duplicate those of these bodies in the heavens. The sun remains stationary, but the earth turns on its axis, the moon revolves around the earth and both Planets circle the sun. The globes representing the sun and moon are coated with phosphorus and show the nights and days and the various phases of the earth's satellite. Eclipses of the sun and moon are clearly indicated.

The amazing thing about it is that the earth revolves every 24 hours and the earth and moon take 12 months to complete their circle about the sun while marking off the four seasons. While these planetary movements are visible, a dial on the face of the clocks records the changes in days, weeks, months and years.

GOLD QUARTZ IN RE-OPENED MINE.

Was First Exploited Half Century Ago.

HOPEWELL, N.B., March 10 (Canadian Press).—The old mine at Crooked Creek, a few miles from Albert, which was worked many years ago when gold and silver in it, is now being re-opened. A two and a half foot vein of quartz which was lost in the old days is said to have been located, and a considerable quantity. believed to be of high value, has been already taken out. An assay is to be made at once.

The mine was first opened half a century ago. Twenty years later it was again the scene of activity, but at that time it was claimed that in some way or other the lode had been lost. The latest adventures claim to have discovered a quartz with a fairly high percentage of gold and silver.

Ladies' Auxiliary

About a year ago, the local branch of the Young Men's Christian Association decided to ask some of the ladies of Peterborough to help them in the care and supply of, the linen for bedrooms and dormitories in the Y.M.C.A. building here. This Ladies' Auxiliary is composed of three representatives from the different churches interested in Y.M.C.A. work, and now has thirty members. They hold teas and sales of homemade cooking to help in obtaining funds for this purpose, and, at the next regular meeting, on the last Wednesday of March, they are asking each lady to bring pillow cases, and make this occasion a pillowcase shower.

Good Work

In connection with the Peterborough Health Association is a Nurses' Supervision committee, composed of the following ladies: Mrs. Jas. Kendry, President, Miss Archer, Secretary, Mrs. B. Gardiner, Mrs. A. E. Coulthard, Mrs. A. W. Turner, and Mrs. G. S. Cameron. They have charge of all the supplies required by patients, such as milk and eggs, surgical accessories, and looking after the furnishing of a tent and beds when necessary. Any cases coming under the care of the Peterborough Health Association are entitled to supplies of milk and eggs, and the tubercular latients may have 2 quarts of milk daily and two dozen eggs per week, free of charge.

Milk Campaign

The forthcoming "Milk Campaign," which will be inaugurated on March 14th, is to be assisted by Miss L. G. Holbrook, Milk Utilization Specialist for the United States' Department of Agriculture, who has had considerable experience with such movements in the United States. "It has been shown," remarked Miss Holbrook in a recent address before the Child Welfare Council in Toronto, "that there is no material relationship between poverty and under-nourishment, schools in the poorer districts being often superior in this respect to those in the wealthier districts."

"To make boys think they must drink milk to have muscles to play ball will prove more effectice than any number of addresses to adult audiences," said the speaker, in emphasizing the necessity of interesting children in the campaign.

"Bald Headed Row"

Manager Eddie Grender, of the Majestic Theatre, Houston, Texas, recently made the statement that there is no longer a "bald headed row of seats at vaudeville shows these days. The women reserve 'em a week ahead of time for every show."

Of course, since Adam started them at it, men have always been trying to put things off on women, anyway, and one thing is sure, that Canadian women cannot be included in this generalization. You may get an occasional woman who likes a front seat at this class of performance, but it is usually the elderly female with the poor eyesight or the bad hearing that she wouldn't acknowledge for the world, and wants to get the worth of her money. As for the men who demand anything from B to G, and won't be satisfied with anything else, their name is legion. Theer is only one case on record of a gentleman who refused the offer of "Something in the second or third?" at a show of this calibre, and his reasons will always remain a mystery. He was a sporty-looking gentleman, but still stoutly affirmed that he wanted "a seat near the back" and got it. Whether he was suffering from a temporary lapse of virtue, or was the victim of a mental aberration at the moment, and thought he was going to hear grand opera, has never been ascertained.

Hair Dressing

In a recent hair-dressers' competition, the first prize went to a gentleman who had fashioned a beautiful blonde model into an enormous turban effect, the second was awarded to what was described as a Greco-Roman coiffure and the third was divided between a modern arrangement brushed severely back from the forehead and one with a fringe above the eyes.

A discussion arose between the hair dressers and the modistes in this competition because the latter wished more attention paid to coiffures over which a hat might be worn. The hair-dressers have decreed, however, an end to simple hair-dressing. Curls and wig-like arrangements are in favor, and bobbed hair has disappeared very definitely from their calculations.

LOVE

Love, "which makes the world go round," is credited with many things. It has been declared responsible for the invention of such a home article as the stocking-frame, fashioned by a poor curate of Nottinghamshire, named William Lee, who was infatuated by a young woman who could not afford to stop knitting her woollen stockings to listen to his impassionate declarations. Of course, anyone acquainted with the mental vagaries of the feminine gender will realize that the young lady seized on the handiest excuse in this case, but the curate evidently did not see the difficulty in this light, and immediately went to work to solve his problem, and in 1589, he invented his stocking-frame.

The chronicle here forsakes the young lady altogether, and omits to mention whether the curate was suitably rewarded for his devotion, or perhaps he became so enamored by his own invention, like Mercury, that he forgot his heart's desire. In any event, he went to London to see the Queen. Elizabeth refused to grant the enterprising young man a patent on his invention. She said it would be a hardship to those of her subjects who earned their daily bread in the old-fashioned manner of hand knitting, and concluded by remarking, "to enjoy the exclusive privilege of making stockings for the whole of my subjects is too important to grant to any individual," proving that the idea of monopolies in trade was not so general then as now. In 1560, however, after a miller in Thorston, Notts, had greatly improved the young curate's invention, a pair of knit silk stockings was presented to the Queen by her "silk woman," and we are told that she never thereafter wore a pair of cloth hose.

China's Famine

The inquiry made by so many people as to the immense export of eggs from China, where so many people are suffering from famine, is regarded by the Rev. Gillies Eadie, a missionary from China, as a matter of trade. He declares that the victims of the famine have no money to purchase food with, and the foreign merchants are shipping to those countries which offer a market for their product. He says that the Chinese Republican Government, whose one thought is to remain in power, could not stop such exporting, if it would.

Leadership

Social recreation, games, story telling, community singing and dramatization are included in a training course in "Group Leadership" now being offered by the Chicago Young Women's Christian Association.

STORY FOR THE FARMER'S WIFE

GOVERNMENT BEWAILS THE SOCIAL PROCLIVITIES OF THE PRESENT DAY FARMER'S WIFE—A LOST ART.

In a U. S. Government report it is said: "The farmer's wife is now so occupied with social affairs that she has lost the art of making butter and jam and doing the work of the farm that her grandmother did. The results in a great economic loss to the country."

A gentleman who noticed this statement sat down and wrote the following verses:

The farmer's wife in early days got up at half-past two,
And shined the cows and milked the cows and put the prunes to stew.
The breakfast for the hands she set upon the stroke of four.
And then she'd bake her bread and cake and scrub the kitchen floor
But nowadays the farmer's wife has time to call her own.
"Good gracious"! says the Government," how idle she has grown!"

The farmer's wife, in times gone by brought up the calves and lambs
And sacked the oats and fed the shoats and smoked the hickory hams.
And when she'd cook three big meals she cheerfully arose.
And with her churn set down to earn the money for her clothes.
But now she visits 'round and gossips, like as not.
"My goodness" says the Government, "how worthless she has got!"

The farmer's wife, some years ago, was wholly free from nerves;
Twelve hours a day she'd slave away at putting up preserves
Six children dangling at her skirts,
a seventh on her arm,
She'd gamely set herself to get the mortgage off the farm.
But now she sometimes takes a rest like city women do.
"Great heavens!" cries the Government, "what is she coming to?"

The farmer's wife, departed from this vale of toil and tears
For happier climes in those old times, when under thirty years.
The farmer got another another mate, he somehow always found
The ideal wife who toiled through life, and rested—underground.
But now sometimes her years add up their full allotted sum.
"Great Scott!" exclaims the Government, "how shiftless she's become!"

CONSERVATISM IN WOMAN'S DRESS

PARIS, Feb. 21 (by mail, Associated Press).—A return to conservatism in woman's dress is indicated in advance displays for spring and summer now being held in Paris. Several hundred American buyers who have arrived for the seasonal fashion shows are more pleased than they have been since the Armistice because of the ease with which the new modes can be adapted to the American taste.

The Paris dressmakers continue to show extreme effects in afternoon and evening wear, but the majority of the gowns reflect a return to sanity in dress. Such is the view of American buyers. Buying, however, is restricted because of the general depression in the United States. The business lull in America has led to purchase of the most quiet models, the theory being that American women during the coming season will buy only simple things which can be worn on many occasions.

Lengthening of Skirts.

The season is only half finished, but a general indication has already been given of the changes. One of the most noticeable innovations is the lengthening of skirts at least one inch. French dressmakers admit that this is a recognition of American taste which has resented the extremely short skirt since it was introduced.

Backs are still bare. This the dressmakers have refused to alter. American buyers are purchasing these "bareback" models with a view to rigidly modifying them in America.

While the new gowns are less radical, buyers say they continue to be complicated and expensive. With the reappearance of dyes of a pre-war standard, colour dominates all the gowns. The material may be simple, but gold and silver and blue and pink trimmings are combined to make it attractive. As one buyer described it. "modern simplicity implies expense, old-fashioned simplicity dullness."

Prices Still High.

Prices continue high. Dressmakers justify them by pointing to the artistry involved in their creations, and also to the fact that materials used were purchased at top prices.

For the eastern type of beauty the season offers much. There are draperies and turbans of all variety of colour and long strings of beads of all the colours of the rainbow. Beads are to be worn extensively, according to the arbiters of fashion.

The season's effects have been built for the normally built women, and the extremely plump and extremely thin women will have some difficulty in choosing becoming gowns.

Corset Ignored.

The corset has again been ignored. So serious and consistent has become this coolness to what was formerly fashion's basic principle, that corset manufacturers are contemplating an extensive campaign to bring the corset back into its proper place. Paris dressmakers say that corsets "are simply impossible," if one desires the utmost in smartness.

Feathers play a most important part in the new hats. Ostrich plumes in particular are being used on large hats. Hats for the most part are small and are worn crushed down on the head in many shapes.

Fruit is invading the realm of fashion. Bunches of fruit and flowers are worn at the waist and some of the gowns have belts of roses around the waist. Flowers are extensively used in many other combinations.

Fuller Skirts.

The prophecy of fuller skirts is slowly but surely coming true, according to buyers. Although it is not yet fully realised, the season's gowns are somewhat wider.

The frail shoulder strap, upon which so much depends, persists in the new creations. The dressmakers say they have strengthened it, so as to avoid "embarrassing complications," but men buyers say it still has dangerous aspects.

Baby's Advice

Don't use medicated soaps unless your skin is sick—and don't make it sick by using strong soaps, pigments, or by neglect.

Use Baby's Own Soap freely with warm water, rinse well and dry carefully, and the most delicate skin will be kept soft and white—will not harden or become coarse. Its constant careful use will make HARD SKINS softer and whiter.

Its gentle lingering aroma is a lasting pleasure enhanced by the knowledge that it is due exclusively to flower extracts—No artificial chemical perfumes are used in it.

"A really Wonderful Food"

March 7th, 1919.

Dear Sirs,

I am forwarding photos of my little boy, aged 3 years. At 3 months I commenced giving him "Virol." This is the result. I found it a really wonderful food. He is just recovering from influenza, and again it proves his best food.

I strongly advise all mothers to try it.

Yours truly,
J. DAVIS.

Virol is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, while for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol Babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

WHAT TO DO FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Good Advice from one who Had Suffered Much.

Nine-tenths of all forms of indigestion or so called stomach trouble are not due to the condition of the stomach at all, but are caused by other influences. The great contributing cause of indigestion is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it, is required by the stomach to take care of the food. If the blood is thin the stomach functions sluggish, food lies undigested, gas forms and causes pains in various parts of the body. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison.

Relief from this condition can be obtained by the tonic treatment which Dr. D. Shaw, Mt. Stewart, P. E. I. tried and now warmly recommends to others. Mr. Shaw says: "I suffered from indigestion for over four years, and have tried many of the well known remedies for such troubles but never obtained more than temporary relief. The trouble was aggravated by constipation setting in owing to the stomach failing to do its work, and laxatives only gave relief to the bowels, and left the stomach in a worse condition. The result was that my blood was growing more and more anaemic; I did not sleep well at night and was growing despondent. I was in this wretched condition when a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes and by the time they were finished there was some change for the better. This greatly encouraged me, and I continued taking the pills for some three months, by which time my stomach was all right again, my blood good, nerves strong, and life was worth living. My advice to all who suffer from stomach trouble is to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicien Co., Brockville, Ont.

GEMS OF NEW VERSE "THE SUM"

And hope and love and laughter;
A fire to light and a faith to keep

And a prayer that the dream be sweet.

TELLETT NOT REPRIEVED.

Announcement was Premature but the Action is Likely.

LONDON, March 11. — (Canadian Press.) — The announcement made that Charles Tellett had received a reprieve, now appears to have been unofficial. There is, however, every reason to believe that the announcement was well founded and that the Home Secretary will commute Tellett's sentence on the ground of insanity, evidence along this line being expected from Toronto.

ASK WALES FOR PRICES OF 1914.

Idle Men Demonstrate Before the Prince.

GLASGOW, March 11. — The Prince of Wales, who is visiting Glasgow, got an enthusiastic reception. During one day there was a parade of unemployed, carrying banners with such motives as "We want the 1914 prices" and "The Prince has refused our dinner. We have no option." The last inscription referred to the Prince having declined to attend a public dinner in his honor, owng to opposition by the Laborites in the Town Council to the expenditure of funds for such a function.

A despatch from London Feb. 21 said the Laborite members of the Town Council of Glasgow condemned the spending of public money on the feasting of royalty when hundreds of families weer starving.

With hope, and dream of all that made this life seem so worth while.

I seek a liason with Fate,
That I may show these hearts bowed down
In grief; their beauty, youth and hopes all gone,
The little child left desolate.
It could not be that God above could send such woe to those he loved,
So it must be a Destiny that hated all humanity.

I seek a liason with Fate,
That I may challenge him, my gruesome friend,
To tell me why a saddened end did some so truly when
He might have brought us joy and Peace—
On earth Good-Will toward men.

I seek a liason with Fate,
That he may through this vale of tears,
Of broken hearts and agonizing years,
Some comfort bring, before too late,
Perchance to show it was the Test
Of Love, undying Faith that God knows best,
That only He could lift this veil of mystery.
Ah! would that Fate would make a liason with me!

CHINESE FASHIONS.

The vogue for things Chinese that is showing up in the present business in women's outer garments, especially in the quilted satin coats that are now so much "the rage," is also manifesting itself in some of the higher-priced Spring suits for misses and small women. These show treatment of the jackets, particularly in the cut of body and sleeves, that is patently Chinese. The trimmings, which run strongly to such things as braiding and embroideries, carry out the Far Eastern motif.

GREEK PRINCESS OPERATED ON.

But Anastasia Not Yet Out of Danger.

ATHENS, March 11. — Princess Anastasia, wife of Prince Christopher, has undergone an operation, Dr. Geroul anos, assisted by Dr. Alden Hoover, being in charge. The Princess's condition was considered grave, the surgeons declared after the operation was over, and that she would not be out of danger for several days. The patient was on the operating table for 75 minutes, and the operation was described as difficult.

Serious obstruction was found in the intestines, and the surgeons declared another operation, not particularly serious, might be required after a few months. The Princess stood the shock well, and Dr. Hoover described her as a "courageous and exemplary patient." He added that if the operation had been delayed for another week the princess's illness would have terminated fatally. It is understood that as soon as he examined the patient Dr. Hoover insisted upon an immediate operation.

STOLEN SILKS ARE RECOVERED.

$30,000 Truckload Found in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 12.—Silks, valued at between $30,000 and $35,000, were stolen at 10 o'clock yesterday morning from in front of a warehouse in Harrison Street, Manhattan, and they were recovered in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn at 6 o'clock in the evening. Patrolman Maloney was walking along Meserole Avenue when he noticed a large automobile truck standing near Diamond Street, on which were several cases of silk. No chauffeur was in sight, and the license number was one mentioned in a general alarm which had been sent out.

The patrolman waited for half an hour, and when no chauffeur appeared he had the truck and its load of stolen silk driven to the Greenpoint Police Station, where it was found that the goods were the property of William M. Johnson, of 3,729 Spring Garden Street, Philadelphia. They were turned over to him.

THIEF TRIES NEW TRICK

ROBBER, IN POURING RAIN, HURLS BRICK FROM STREET AND GRABS $2,500 JEWELRY.

NEW YORK, March 12.—During the heavy rain at dusk yesterday a well-dressed young man, holding an umbrella well over his face, hurled a brick, wrapped in newspapers, through the window of the jewelry store of Samuel Wimokur at 395 Fulton Street, Jamaica, and, grabbing a box from the window containing diamond-set jewelry valued at $2,500, escaped after firing two shots at the proprietor and one at the salesman who pursued him.

The robbery was affected in the view of several hundred men, women and children coming out of a motion picture theatre almost directly across the street from the jewelry store, and more than a dozen women in the crowd became hysterical when the robber ran behind them and attempted to continue his pistol attack on his pursuers with the women as a shield.

Half a dozen men tried to seize him as he fled through Fulton Street to New York Avenue, about 300 feet away, and finally dodged through an alley and disappeared in Union Hall Street.

From statements made to detectives of the Jamaica station, it was believed that he was aided by a confederate, who joined him immediately after the robber broke from the crowd with the box of jewelry under his arm.

The proprietor of the jewelry store, who led the pursuit, noticed that the bandit did not attempt to shoot the second man, who kept running at a distance of about fifteen feet in his rear.

Joined in Chase.

Some of those who joined in the chase told the police that on several occasions when they seemed to be gaining on the fugitive the second man put his right hand in his overcoat pocket and seemed to clutch a pistol there. Whether he followed the robber through the alley none of the pursuers were able to say, for an automobile shut him out of sight.

Winokur told Captain Wohlfarth that one of his salesmen noticed a man standing in front of the window of the jewelry store shortly after 5 o'clock.

"That fellow doesn't seem to mind the heavy rainfall," said the salesman as he walked toward the window. He remarked later that he noticed the man pull the umbrella well down in front of him when he observed that he was being watched.

The salesman had just turned his back on the street when there was a crash, and the next moment pieces of glass fell over the top of the partition behind the window onto the showcases.

"We're being robbed," yelled Winokur to his salesmen and started toward the door. As he turned the knob he saw the man reach into the window and take the box. By the time that Winokur and a salesman had bolted out the door after him he was running across the street toward the picture theatre. When he reached the sidewalk he threw aside his umbrella and, drawing a pistol from his coat pocket, he took careful aim and fired two shots at Winokur, both of which missed.

Policeman Whiteside of the Jamaica Station was in a dentist's chair in a building opposite the jewelry store when he heard the shots. He jumped from the chair to join the pursuit. It was said he managed to give a good description of the thief and the man believed to be his confederate.

NOVEL "BACK TO NATURE" COLONY

THIRTEEN PEOPLE TO LIVE "THE SIMPLE LIFE" IN SOUTH SEAS.

LONDON, March 12.—(Cross-Atlantic).—Thirteen people determined to escape from the vexations of modern civilization were passengers on the Canadian-Australian liner Tahiti, which touched at Honolulu recently. They are bound for the Marquesas Islands, made famous by Frederick O'Brien's "White Shadows in the South Seas," and there they propose to secure land and found a colony. They are all from England and represent the first devotees of a "Back to Nature" movement. There are men, women and children in the party, their ages ranging from two and a half to 55 years. They will leave the Tahiti at Papeete, the capital of the Society Islands, and proceed to the Marquesas by another vessel.

The group is captained by T. F. Rhodes Disher. Mr. Disher started the exodus to the South Seas by inserting a notice in The Times here inviting "those interested in the formation of a simple life colony on a tropical island" to write to him. He received answers from all over the world, including one from Honolulu.

Disher, who is 33 years old, is accompanied by his wife and their two children. He has just retired from business in London, where he was a manufacturer, one of his principal lines being pickles. He said that he had built up a fortune in 10 years. He proposes to buy sufficient land for the founding of a colony in the Marquesas, and has established in advance banking connections with the Banque de l'Indo-Chine at Papeete. There seems to be no element of financial speculation in his plan; he simply proposes to secure land for all who care to join his "simple life" community. His reason for retiring from business and seeking a home in the remote Pacific islands is that he wishes to live a free and natural existence and escape the oppressive taxation brought on by the World War.

But for certain eccentricities of dress Disher might be termed a typical young Englishman. His appearance would not have been different from that of many bareheaded young men in Honolulu, except that he wore a dark red knitted belt or sash with tassels at the left side.

Disher does not smoke or drink. Ordinarily he has no objection to anyone else doing so, though he considered the amount of smoking on the Canadian Pacific trains which brought him and his friends from the Atlantic seaboard to Vancouver, B.C., was a disgrace. He has no particular fads or notions about living. "All that anyone will be expected to do will be to obey the law of the land, which is French. We have all manner of people coming, people from all walks of life—chemists, physicians, dentists, mechanics, merchants, army officers."

A second member of the party was a soldier in the World War. Puffing away at a stubby briar pipe he explained that if he had remained at his work until the age of 65 he would be retired on a pension amounting to a little less than his current yearly wage. He also found that the average life of employees in his particular service was 66, and he could not see that the pension would do him much good at that rate. So he had answered Disher's advertisement and joined the movement for "a simple life colony on a tropical island."

The emigrants believe it possible for a number of white people to apply themselves to the cultivation of the fertile soil of a tropical island, and with their own vessel market their products at ports where they would find a ready demand.

The party on the Tahiti carry no supplies or implements. They have only their personal effects, and expect to secure whatever supplies and equipment they need at Papeete.

New Drug Will Make Millions of People Well

NEW DRUG WORTH MILLIONS TO SUFFERING HUMANITY. NUMBERLESS PEOPLE GO DOWN TO THEIR GRAVES 10 TO 20 YEARS BEFORE THEY SHOULD.

A poisoned system soon decays, causing early death. We are only as old as our Livers. When the Liver is out of order the system is unable to discharge the waste matter, causing a poisoning of the whole system, which no doubt causes all sorts of aches and pains. When the system becomes poisoned, some organ of the body is sure to suffer. It may be your Stomach, Kidneys, Liver, Intestines, etc.

There is only one drug known that will relieve this, and that is Tanated Calomel, which is the only drug known that will act directly upon the Liver. Tanated Calomel is very different from all forms of Calomel. It is very quickly taken up by the system, and acts on the Liver in a few minutes after taking. No Salts, Seidlitz, or Castor Oil are necessary to remove it from the system, as it is self-eliminating. No nausea, sick stomach, or griping after taking.

You no doubt have been taking all sorts of Tonics, Laxatives from time to time, with only temporary results. The reason is that none of these medicines act upon the Liver, and you cannot have good health with a disordered Liver.

Doctors recommend that you take One Tanated Calomel about 15 minutes before meals or take two at bedtime, and you will get a good sleep, waking in the morning feeling 100% better, full of vigour, bright, alert, clear-headed, and ready for a good day's work.

Tanated Calomel is sold in Peterborough by F. C. Weber, 220 Charlotte Street.

AUSTRIA MUST GIVE UP COWS.

Reparation Committee Insists on Delivery.

VIENNA, March 12.—Formal notice that it would be required to fulfill the live stock provisions of the Treaty of St. Germain has been served upon the Austrian Government by the Reparation Commission. This involves the delivery to Italy, Jugo-Slavia and Rumania of 20,000 head of cattle, including 6,000 milch cows.

The American representatives on the Reparation Commission, before their withdrawal, had, together with the British, opposed previous attempts by the interested nations to secure such action. The ground of the opposition was that the requirement was unfair to the countries which were supplying Austria with quantities of milk and fats, and that the nations to which the cattle would go did not actually need the stock demanded.

That a consignment of Aberdeen-Angus cattle purchased in England at an average of $464 could have been sold at an average of $3400 in the Argentine, is a good indication of the growing demand for the breed there.

DEAD RAISINS VS. MOONSHINERS.

Port Vue, Pa., Streets Choked With "Hootch" Refuse.

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Port Vue, the hustling borough which adjoins McKeesport and houses to the great Port Vue tinplate works, the largest of the kind in the world, is also the abiding place of many "moonshiners," if the evidence to be seen on Port Vue Avenue, the principal street in the borough, is any indication of what is going on behind walls and in cellars of the town.

The main thoroughfare is so choked with huge piles of "dead raisins" that the Board of Health of the town has taken action, if for no other purpose than to guard the health of Port Vueites.

A few piles of "dead raisins" here and there did not disturb the city officials and the Board of Health, but when some person or persons dumped several truckloads in the business section of the town "a wave of indignation" forced the Board of Health to act.

According to S. J. Palmer of the Port Vue Board of Health, one offender dumped into the street nearly half a ton of the refuse, packed in old whiskey cases, and drove away before he could be apprehended. Irate citizens brought the matter to the attention of the Board of Health, and Secretary Arthur David was authorized to make this statement:

"We want to inform manufacturers of 'raisin jack,' residing in McKeesport, that we, the Board of Health of Port Vue Borough, have no objection to their making this particularly mentioned 'hootch,' but we do object to the dumping of 'dead raisins' on this side of the Youghlogheny River."

NEW ZEALAND TRADE INCREASES RAPIDLY

Canada is Getting at Least An Appreciable Share.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Mar. 11.—(Cross-Atlantic). — New Zealand's trade is increasing by leaps and bounds, and Canada is getting her share of it, or at least an appreciable share. Figures issued to-day of the total of last year's trading show the imports for the year totalled £61,000,000, as compared with £31,671,689 in 1919. During the last quarter of the year Canada sent £631,000 of goods and received from New Zealand £351,000. Great Britain still continues to be New Zealand's largest customer, while Wellington had the largest volume of trade.

WANT THE DUTY RAISED.

Tobacco Growers See Drayton — Would Encourage Stemming.

OTTAWA, March 11.— Tobacco growers from Quebec and Ontario appeared before Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, to-day to urge higher customs duties on imported leaf tobacco. The present duty, including inland revenue, is 42 cents a pound. The delegation asked that it be increased to $1.00 a pound for unstemmed and $2.00 for stemmed leaf. The additional duty on stemmed tobacco was urged on the ground that it would encourage stemming in Canada of imported leaf and thereby find more employment for Canadian labor.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH BANQUET

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED LAST EVENINC.—THE TOASTS.

The banquet held last evening in the lecture hall of the George street Methodist Church to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church in Canada at which about 250 people were present, was a very successful affair in every way. The hall and tables, with their spring like decorations of yellow and green, were wonderfully attractive. Smilax in long festoons, and daffodils, graced the tables, with lighted green candles to add a finishing touch. An enormous four storey cake, with 40 candles to commemorate the occasion, was duly cut with great ceremony by Mrs. James Kendry, a charter member of the organization, and the banquet itself was complete in every detail, the carrying out of the decorations and the supper being a credit to the ladies of the church who spent so much time and careful attention to the details in their preparations.

Rev .R. Pogue, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, said grace, and at the conclusion of the repast, Rev. Harold Young, who was toastmaster for the occasion, gave "The King," which was responded to in the usual manner with the National Anthem. Mr. Young made a few remarks, explaining the purposes of the gathering and then toasted "The Women's Missionary Society," which was fittingly responded to by, first, Mrs. J. Kendry, who spoke of the beginnings of the society in 1881, in Toronto, with an auxiliary of ten members ,and of the Society in Peterboro, which was one of the earliest to be founded, in 1882, in George Street Methodist Church; secondly, by Mrs. S. R. Armstrong, president of the local Auxiliary, who spoke on the present status of the Women's Missionary Society, and gave an outline of the affairs of the organization as it stands at present ,and of the lines along which they expect to branch out in the near future; and, thirdly, by Mrs. Moore, district organizer, who reviewed the work of the different branches of the society around Peterborough and the progress that has been made in recent years, both in membership and increased contributions. The head branch of the organization, which is located in Toronto, has asked for an increased membership of 40,000, and Peterboro and the surrounding districts have already contributed practically the full quota to this number.

"Organizations."

The toast to the "Organizations" which carry on young people's work in connection with the Women's Missionary Society, was responded to by Miss Curtis ,on behalf of the Little Light Bearers; by Mrs. Stinson, on behalf of the Mission Band; and by Miss Fusee on behalf of the Young Women's Misionary Circle; and the toast to "The Men," proposed by Mrs. (Dr.) Harvey, vice-president of the local auxiliary, who spoke of the work to be done by the men in cooperation with the ladies in this regard, was responded to by Mr. E. E. Ingall, pledging the support of the men in every way possible.

A toast to the "Committee" who had charge of the successful affair, was responded to by Mrs. Shields, convenor of the committee, and the banquet ended with the singing of the doxology and the benediction by Rev. Simon Cruikshanks.

During the evening vocal solos were given by Mrs. J. H. Renwick, and Mrs. J. E. Middleton, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Young; and a tuneful little duet on the violin and piano was rendered by Master Arnold Spencer and little Miss Kathleen Lewis.

DACTORS SHOULD TEACH THE PUBLIC

Bitter Attack on United States Chiropractors.

CHICAGO, March 12.— A bitter attack on chiroptractics, made by Dr. Charles B. Pinkham, Secretary of the Board of Medical Examiners of California, was the feature of a recent morning's session of the Council on Medical Education.

"The public should be taught," he said, "that if there's any virtue in the claim, that a poke in the back will remedy a diseased condition it is quite as logical to assume that such a poke will force some vertebrae from its normal position, causing irreparable injury.

In order to counteract the influence of the chiropractic institutions, which were flooding the country with their graduates, he said, popular medical journals should be published and the germ theory should be illustrated in the public schools by movies.

"As the chiropractor educates the public," added Dr. Pinkham, "so should the medical profession educate the masses.

Tear down the wall of autocracy that now surrounds practically all the hospitals and then these institutions can become the centres of medical education, said Dr. Charles B. Moulinier of Milwaukee, President of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada, at the afternoon session.

When physicians learn the value of teamwork and the advantage of taking the public as far as possible into their confidence and work, there will then be more rapid strides in the advancement of medical science, Dr. Moulinie declared. And of all the ways this could be accomplished, he said, the hospitals offered the greatest opporunities of all. The hospital, in the opinion of Dr. Moulinier, should be more of a community centre than a place of isolation.

DON'T USE DRUGS FOR CONSTIPATION

Bathe Internally—the One Natural Way.

Did you ever know of any person who was permanently cured of constipation by taking drugs of any kind? Drugs simply force Nature, and larger doses are required from time to time until the trouble becomes chronic.

Internal Bathing with the J. B. L. Cascade is the only permanent relief from Constipation. It keeps the Colon, or large lower intestine, free from all accumulation. Soon the system performs its regular functions, and there is no further trouble.

Mr. F. Babin, Proprietor Alexandria Hotel, Ottawa, writes: "The J. B. L. Cascade has made a new man of me. I would not sell it for all the money in this world if I could not get another. Through my recommendation I know of a number of my friends who have been using it with the same satisfaction. For people troubled with Constipation I say it is a godsend, and can heartily recommend it."

The J. B. L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for Internal Bathing ever devised. It is endorsed by over half a million enthusiastic users. Ask to have it explained to you at Warne Drug Co. Limited, druggists, Peterborough Ont., or write for booklet to Tyrrell's Hygienic Institue, 163 College St., Toronto.

EXCHANGE WORRIES BERNARD SHAW NOW

CONTINENTAL SUCCESS A LIABILITY INSTEAD OF ASSET TO HIM.

LONDON, March 12.—(Cross-Atlantic).—George Bernard Shaw has just learned that a continental success may prove too costly an experience for him. Writing his solicitor in Budapest, he says:

"The success of my plays in Budapest is naturally gratifying to me as an artist. I have to thank you for having lodged to my credit in the Anglo-Austrian Bank the princely, but platonic sum of 1,083 kronen for a few performances of my shortest play—a trifle in one act. Consulting the current rate of exchange I find that this amounts to exactly fifteen shillings, on which I shall have to pay five shillings income tax and super-tax to the British Government.

"What will remain of my 1,083 kronen after it has paid Hungarian Government taxation I do not know. Probably your Government will take the 1,083 kronen out of the bank and send me a bill for the balance. Under these circumstances I must beg of you to do what you can to prevent any further performances taking place, as I really cannot afford any more continental success.

"In Berlin an overwhelmingly successful revival of 'The Doctor's Dilemma' has led to a colossally popular revival of 'Caesar and Cleopatra.' The great Burg Theatre of Vienna, which has just had a success with my 'Heartbreak House' (announced, as usual, as a failure by Reuter), is now reviving 'Caesar and Cleopatra' in the hope of repeating the Berlin success.

"Nothing more complimentary to an author and his country can be imagined. Only yesterday I received from Vienna 21,780 kronen in Austrian notes. The exchange is 1,200, and nothing doing. The British Government considers that I have received 18 pounds, and will extract 5 pounds from me on that unfounded assumption.

"I have not the heart to give you the Berlin figures. I read of the appreciation of the mark, but I assure you I appreciate it as little as I do the Austrian crown on paper. If it were not for the honor and glory of it, I had far better not have my plays performed at all. I trust that the moral elevation produced by my plays may be sufficient to offset the pecuniary damage done by the war to the unfortunate author."

TWO CHICAGO MEN KILLED BY GANGS.

Political Hatred Responsible For Bomb Outrages.

CHICAGO, March 11. — Political gang hatred, which for years has smoldered in the Nineteenth Ward of Chicago and which caused several pre-election bomb outrages, has broken loose again. As a result two men, both lieutenants of Alderman John Powers, were murdered by bands of assassins. They had no chance at self-defence.

Paul A. Labriola, for fifteen years a bailiff of the Municipal Court and father of two children, was shot down at Congress and South Streets and Harry Raymond, known politically as "Mamondi," a cigar store owner in Garibaldi Place, was killed in his store.

At midnight one man was held at the Detectives' Bureau in connection with the crimes. He is kept incommunicado and his name is withheld.

The outbreak of gang murder is said by the police to be the aftermath of the bombing some weeks ago of a political meeting sponsored by Anthony D'Andrea, opponent of Alderman Powers in Nineteenth Ward politics.

That the crime was premeditated is attested by a statement of Police Sergeant John Belske that for several days the district has been flooded with youths carrying "dynamite canes," with which they produced explosions similar to a pistol shot.

These explosions, coming from various quarters and continuing constantly throughout the day and until far into the night, dulled the attention of residents of the district. The actual murder shots were thought by auditors to be nothing more than the "cane" explosions.

That Labriola expected death is believed from his remark, "I hear they're out to get me, Paddy," to Detective Sergeant Alcock.

Labriola left his house in West Congress Street soon after 9 o'clock in the morning. His slayers were posted on either side. Three men were around the corner to the east, and two others waited on the corner at the west. Labriola walked west. The two assassins waited until he was within two feet of them before firing. As his body dropped, the slayers continued firing.

Their three aids then ran up and fired bullet after bullet into the body. Labriola was shot nine times. Any one of the wounds would have proved fatal. The slayers fled into a nearby alley and disappeared.

Ramondi, also a Powers worker, was the second victim. Two men entered his shop and, after asking for cigars, placed revolvers to his head and fired three bullets into his brain. He is believed to have been killed by the same gang that "got" Labriola. He was shot while the district was being combed by detectives and policemen for Labriola's murderers.

STRATFORD WIN JUNIOR HONORS

DEFEATED QUEEN'S 4 TO 0 ON SOFT ICE AFTER STUBBORN BATTLE.

STRATFORD, March 12.—(Canadian Press) The Stratford Midgets are O.H.A. Junior Champions, winning last night from Queen's by 4 to 0 after a stubborn battle on soft ice. As the game last Wednesday in Kingston was a 3 all tie, Stratford got the round by 7 to 3. That the score was not larger may be attributed to the soft ice which spoiled the Midgets combination and to Queen's great goal keeping for Queen's. He stopped dozens of shots dead on. All of the shooting was done from far out as the sloppy ice made it hard to carry the puck. Carson was in great form scoring two and whipping a number of hard tries from his side.

SOUND ADVICE FOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS

THREE REFEREES HAVE SENT IN THEIR RESIGNATIONS.

During last season's football schedule a good number of football enthusiasts made it a practice to pay strict attention to referees' decisions and now when the Football Executive are calling out for volunteers to act in the capacity of referees they only get the old reliables to appear at the meetings Three referees sent in their resignation last year through the unfair tactics of some players and spectators. It is up to all soccer fans to remember that every referee has got to make a start some time.

Officials Needed.

The local association need all the official referees they can procure and it is the very thought of the severe and unfair criticism, accompanied with much uncalled for abuse that keeps away candidates for such positions. Remember always that a referee is only human. He will make mistakes, but to-day it seems that if he makes a mistake he is never forgiven, either by the club, official or governing body. In fact, some club representatives would not be pleased unless they got a certain referee that the club desired.

Some players make it a habit when playing to make themselves conspicuous through the unsportsmanlike habit of "shouting" to referee to get some decision in his favour. This is not good judgment because he becomes a nuisance, not a player. He should reserve all his wind for the whole game of ninety minutes.

Post Notices.

In many of the Old Country clubs notices are posted in the dressing-rooms requesting all players to observe the laws of the game, and not question the decisions of the referee, as the club representative has the privilege of taking such action as may be thought advisable upon his control before the Football Executive.

The team that confines their play to legitimate and fair lines, and committing no offence calling for cension will win games where the others will not.

Many a time you will hear a spectator call the referee the necessary nuisance on the football field which ultimately ends with the said person becoming the biggest nuisance. A referee cannot expect to escape criticism; if you do you will be greatly disappointed. If you had all the eyes and wisdom in the world you would be held up to ridicule by some person who is always looking for faults of other people. A "Knight of the Whistle" must be firm, give decision promptly, without any doubt, do not tolerate rough play on any account; carry your duties out as they are intended—you are the judge, and above all study the laws of the game. Do not hesitate to give your decision without appealing to your linesman, who should be in a position to give a correct ruling. Linesmen should be neutral — not club members. Referees must put down time on paper the minute the game started along with the linesman, who should compare watches at commencement and half-time.

Should Get Together.

If you are fearless and determined the crowd will respect you but if you are weak and often undecided, your reception will be anything but a pleasant one.

The local referees should get together periodically and discuss the laws of the game which would be very beneficial to every one. It would cultivate a true spirit and make every referee's decision the same which would sooner or later obliterate the questionable spectator to a mere nothing.

ALLEN CUP FINAL PLAYED TO-NIGHT

VARISTY ARE OVERWHELMING FAVORITES FOR THE ROUND BUT NOT FOR THE GAME.

TORONTO, Mach 12.—(Canadian Press)—Tonight the final of the Allen Cup elimination game, Varsity and Soo, will be played at the Arena. By virtue of their 5 to 2 victory over the Grephounds on Thursday night the students enter the game with a three goal lead to their credit and overwhelming favorites for the round. They are not favorites for the game. The Soo's good showing on Thursday night had reduced betting to even money and that is exactly what the contest looks like an even money proposition.

TORONTO BALL TEAM HAS GOOD WORK OUT

DAVIS, NEW SHORT STOP, LIVED UP TO HIS ADVANCE NOTICES.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 12.—(Canadian Press)—The Toronto ball team put in three hours of good hard work yesterday and short stop Davis, last year with Minneapolis in the American Association, lived up to all the good advance notices said about him. Ike Owens, former Toronto boy, who was with Minneapolis last year, stated last fall when the Leafs got Davis from Washington tht they secured a stellar shortstop and he looked and acted like a great ball player. To-day McAndrews, young infielder, also showed up well. Other players who have reported are outfielder Mathews and Pitchers, Synder and Warfield. The latter is a recruit, who was sent along by Joe Kelley.

AT THE EMPIRE.

Elaine Hammerstein will essay in her latest Selznick Picture, "The Daughter Pays," which comes to the Empire theatre next Monday a role that offers greater dramatic and emotional opportuities than any she has yet appeared in. In the screen version of the story by Mrs. Bailie Reynolds the star reveals two striking domestic questions that cannot be retain the interest of motion picture audiences. The first question is whether a woman dare risk her happiness on the financial altar, and this is augmented by how great a sacrifice should a mother demand in the name of filial devotion.

It is intimated that these questions are not answered in the picture. On the contrary, the spectator will have the pleasure of pondering over the issues that are interwoven in the fabric of the plot.

Miss Hammerstein is cast in the role of a serious, refined and sensitive girl who is forced to bear untold humiliation in her marriage of convenience with a wealthy man whose one object in life is to make the daughter pay for an injury done him by her mother.

Robert Ellis has an important role in the supporting cast, and he also officiated in the capacity of director. Norman Trevor will be seen in the leading male role, and Theresa Maxwell Conover is prominent in the supporting cast.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE GRAND.

Billy Oswald, principal fun maker, with F. Stuart Whyte's gorgeous musical comedy is undoutedly, one of the funniest of present day comedians. Billie is Scottish and humorous. He has a thousand mannerisms, everyone of which wil tickle your funny bone and make you forget your worries. There is a laugh in every line of him. As a detective and later, the millionaire proprietor of a Motion Picture Studio, he is a continuous source of joy. Mr. Oswald is the epitome of pawkey humor. To see him is to chuckle to hear him is to shriek. He was a big pantomime favorite in England, before coming here and Canada has endorsed the old countries approval whenever he has appeared. In addition the "Girl from Nowhere" is the last word in musial comedy and neither trouble and expenses has ben spared to make this production the biggest brightest, and best that has appeared his season. In costliness of costumes, elaborateness of scenic sensationalism the "Girl from Nowhere" is without a peer; and the girls, shop girls, society girls, bathing girls, each one a peeress of pulcritrude. "The Girl from Nowhere" will be at Grand Theatre, matinee and night, Saturday March 12th.

AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE. THREE QUAINT TYPES IN "PASSERS-BY."

Three character types stand out prominently in "Passers-By," the J. Stuart Blackton-Pathe photoplay in which Herbert Rawlinson is starred, and which is announced for showing at the Grand Theatre for three days commencing Monday. These characters are Nighty, the cabman, Pine, the valet; and Samuel Burns, the derelict.

Mr. Blackton was fortunate in securing ideal types for these important parts. Tom Lewis, who has tried everything theatrical from circus acrobats to minstrels and vaudeville, is Nighty, the kind-hearted cabby, to the light.

William J. Ferguson, who made a hit this season as the butler in "The Little Whoper," proved to be a perfect type for Pine, the valet, who had been brought up in the service. For Burns, the derelict who was happy in his raggedness and poverty Mr. Blackton chose Dick Lee, a finished and talented character actor.

The Added Feature Comedy to this great picture is Harold Lloyd in his third $100,000 contract picture — "Number Please."

AT THE ALLEN.

FILM WORLD'S BEAUTIES APPEAR IN HAREM SCENE

If you have ever wondered at the content of ladies of the harem, you will cease wondering when you see the harem scene in the Robertson-Cole production of "Kismet" which will be shown for a run of three days at the Allen Theatre starting Monday and in which Otis Skinner makes immortal his tremendous stage success.

Nothing approaching the grandeur of this setting, has ever been attempted in motion pictures before. Dazzling in its coloring from the most delicate pinks, azure and blue to the deepest purple; rich in design of arched doorways and latticed windows through which may be glimpsed the setting sun, it is as impressive as a painting by a master hand.

The costumes worn by the ladies of the harem might have been woven by fairy hands, so delicate are they in texture, so silky in their sheen, and so rare in coloring. Costumes that would improve the disposition of any woman. Georgeously arrayed in one of them, and lounging amid Oriental splendor and luxury, milady might easily imagine herself one of the beautiful and fascinating heroines of "Arabian Nights."

Scores of the most beautiful girls in the motion picture colony, many of them famous artists' models, were used in the harem scene, where is enacted one of the most dramatic episodes in "Kismet."

OTIS SKINNER APPEARS IN FAMOUS "KISMET" ROLE

In all the length and breadth of fiction there is no more picturesque a character than Hajj, the beggar of Bagdad. Edward Knoblock, the playwright, made Hajj famous in the stage version of "Kismet," and Otis Skinner, perhaps the best known and most popular actor in the company, immortalized Hajj during the years he gave life to this characterization on the stage.

The Robertson-Cole Company has filmed the famous play, which will be run for three days at the Allen Theatre, starting Monday, and thousands of people in this city are going to have an opportunity of seeing Hajj, the beggar portrayed by no less a person than Otis Skinner himself. It is a safe prediction that the swaggering, crafty, adventure loving and amusing old Bagffdad vagabond will win every one's heart and in the years to come, when old plays are discussed, his memory will be green.

On the stage Hajj made an instantaneous hit wherever "Kismet" was played; the screen version will do that and more, for, on the screen Majj has an opportunity far beyond the limitations of the speaking stage, and Skinner's interpretation of this role in the screen version will stand for a long time to come as the finest study in character work that the moving picture cameras ever recorded.

AT THE EMPIRE.

BUSTER KEATON, HERO OF THOUSAND FALLS

Buster Keaton's horseshoes haven't failed him yet.

Keaton is a film comedian, which is proof enough that he needs a lot of luck in order to remain healthy. The tumbles and falls which are a part of the daily studio life of the comedian in "One Week" would spell hospital in capital letters to most ordinary persons.

But Keaton seems to have a charmed existence. He "will try anything once," which, while a poor rule to follow ordinarily, is making him and the Metro-Buster Keaton Comedies famous.

'Some day a brick building or a tratcor will start work on me while attempting the whim of Director Eddie Cline, and poor Buster will become only a fleeting memory. But I'm not worrying. My bones seem to be made of rubber and until they call a stretcher for me I'm not going to borrow any trouble."

AT THE REGENT.

Chambers' Tale, "The Fighting Chance," is Basis For Picture.

Anna Q. Nilsson and Conrad Nagel Play Leading Roles in Big Society Photoplay.

Robert W. Chambers' popular novel, "The Fighting Chance," has been produced on the screen as a Paramount Artcraft picture and will be the feature attraction at the Regent Theatre next Monday. Conrad Nagel and Anna Q. Nilson have the leading roles.

"The Fighting Chance" is the story of a scion of an aristocratic old New York family, Stephen Siward, who has inherited a taste for strong drink. His weakness bids fari to conquer him, until he meets Sylvia Landis at a fashionable weekend party in the country. She is engaged to marry Stephen's chief enemy, Quarrier, who has already done Siward much harm in a social and business way. But, seizing the "fighting chance" of winning Sylvia and overconfing his failing for alcohol at the same time, Stephen engages in a dramatic battle and finally comes out successful.

"The Fighting Chance" has the high society background for which Mr. Chambers is famous. Dorothy Davenport, Bertram Grassby, and Maude Wayne are included in the cast. Charles Maigne directed the picture.

WORK OF RECRUITS IMPRESSES M'GRAW

SURVEY OF FIRST WEEK ASSURES GIANTS' LEADER OF GOOD MATERIAL FOR PITCHING STAFF.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 12.— Although less than a week of actual work has been done at San Antonio, it has been established to the satisfaction as well as gratification of Manager McGraw, and the advisers and commentators of his camp that the leader of the New York Giants has richer and ampler material form which to construct his 1921 machine than he has ever before had at his disposal. The youngsters are almost uniformly of high class in native ability, and they serve as a tribute to the acumen of the scouts to whose efforts their presence here is due. With hardly an exception, the recruits seem likely to be seen in major league baseball ranks, if not in the season now at hand, then within a year or so.

It appears quite probable that Pat Shea and Bill Ryan, who are both of last year's Maple Leafs, although they are by no means sure, will be added to the regular hurling staff of the Giants. Each has shown an impressive line of wares in the limited opportunities offered upon the mound in the last few days, and they are considered ready to enter upon the notable years of their career as pitchers.

Large Stock of Pitchers.

In case these two are taken on for service in the pennant warfare and are lined up with Rube Benton, Fred Toney, Jesse Barnes, Arthur Nehf, Phil Douglas, Slim Sallee, Pol Perritt and perhaps Jesse Winters, the sum total appears formidable, not only in numbers but in power. This would exclude, for the current year at least, Olin Voigt, who has made quite a hit with the onlookers at Bears Field; Virgil Barnes, brother of Jesse, who has displayed prowess also, and Claude Davenport, Jim Garton, Bob Grody and Ray Evans, each of whom is believed to be a comer.

The spirit of McGraw inspires the players, youngsters as well as veterans, and his eye is everywhere. After each practice game and each work-out he summons to his vicinity a group of the players and delivers an address in which personalities fly freely about, encouraging as well as admonishing.

Each practice session is full of ginger and such a thing as lackadaisical play is unknown. To-day's work was no exception to the rule, but rather seemed to be characterized by zippier, more unsparing effort than ever before. Fly-chasing, however, was abandoned entirely to the outfield candidates instead of the whole squad having a share in it for the sake of exercise, as had been the case in previous sessions.

WORLD'S CHESS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Contest Between Jose Capablanca of Cuba and Dr. Emmanuel Lasker, Who Won Title in 1894.

HAVANA, March 10. — The world's chess championship match began here to-day between Jose Capablanca of Cuba and Dr. Emmanual Lasker, who won the title in 1894, recalls the interesting fact that although the game dates back for centuries, the first credited world's championship was decided only 70 years ago. This was won by Professor Anderssen of Breslau, in an international tournament of chess masters in London.

Paul Morphy, an American Prodigy was the next holder of the title, defeating Anderssen and other continental experts in Europe a few years later. Upon Morphy's retirement, W. Steinitz, of Austria and the United States, was acclaimed the champion after defeating Anderssen in 1866 in a series of match games. Steinitz held the title until 1894 when Lasker defeated him in a match.

Lasker proved his superiority in matches with Marshall in 1907, Tarrasch 1908, Janawski 1909, and Schlechter and Janowski in 1910. Capablanca challenged in 1911 but the two experts were unable to agree upon terms, for a match.

During the Great War the small "war game" was obscured until brought back to prominence through an offer of a purse of $10,000 by a Havana club last year for a championship mach between Lasker and Capablanca. It was reported that Lasker had yielded the title to the Cuban player because he lacked support for a match but later he was prevailed upon to accept the Havana offer.

Capablanca, who has represented Cuba in Russia in the diplomatic service, possesses a record that earned him the right to challenge for world honours. In 1909 he disposed of Marshall, American champion in a match, winning eight games, losing one and drawing 14. In 1911, the Cuban won the national tournament at New York and an international tournament at San Sebastion. He captured the New York national tournament in 1913 and won a tournament of Russian experts in 1914. Capablanca overwhelmed Kostich, the Serbian master, in a match at Havana in 1919, winning five games in succession and causing his opponent to resign from further play. In the same year Capablanca won the international tournament at Hastings, Eng.

MONTREAL CLUB SHOULD BE IN.

Fullerton Takes International League Club Owners to Task.

NEW York, March 12.—Hugh S. Fullerton, writing in The Evening Mail, says: "The International League is growing, yet to my way of thinking it overlooked a tremendous chance for expansion when it included only Newark in the 1921 circuit. Newark is too good a baseball town to be omitted from the circuit, and the healthy rivalry with Jersey City makes it even better. But why is Montreal omited from the league?

"Montreal is a tremendously large city, and one of the most rapidly growing on the American continent. It is inevitable that it shall be the New York of Canada, and it if is not the third largest city on the continent fifty years from now I will be surprised. True, much of the population is French-Canadian. If it is on that ground that the city is not included in the circuit the International Leaguers are foolish or ignorant. A greater proportion of the French-Canadians of Montreal are interested in baseball than of the English or Irish population. A greater percentage of the French-Canadian boys play the game than of any other nationality.

"The answer of the magnates probably will be that the French-Canadians do not atend the professional games in large numbers. Why? Because some thoughtless or ignorant managers and players have for years made a practice of yelling insults to the French-Canadian rooters.

"Montreal, however, can afford to wait. It is a major league city rather than a Class AA one."

OUT TO WRECK OUR EMPIRE.

Grand Master Warns of of Big Conspiracy.

NIAGARA FALLS, March 12.—Grand Master Donald Sharpe of the Ontario West Grand Lodge, in his annual address at the opening Grand Lodge meeting here, urged the brethren to be vigilant. "There are evidences on every hand," he said, "of a world-wide conspiracy to wreck the British Empire, and many men of many nationalities are involved in the plot. Sinn Fein organizers have always been in the forefront with anti-British propaganda, and it is from this source that the movement is being inspired and guided. Orangemen rallied to the Empire's aid against the German hordes. Once again I call upon you to aid her in her day of tribulation and trial. Be vigilant!

"Let us dedicate ourselves to the work of the order afresh. This is a democratic institution. Let us participate in its deliberations. Our aims, objects and princples are of a high and lofty nature. Let us endeavor to keep them on that high pinnacle. Protestantism is looking to the Orange Order for leadership. Let us lead. We have the men, we have the ideals, we have the enthusiasm.

THIS WOMAN PROSECUTES IN CRIMINAL CASE.

Rose Rothenberg Makes Her Debut in New York Courts.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Miss Rose Rothenberg who recently became a member of the staff of District Attorney Swann, made her professional debut at the Criminal Courts Building yesterday as the prosecutor in a criminal case. Women attorneys have previously appeared for the defendants in the courts here, but Miss Rosenberg's appearance as a county prosecutor is aid to be the first in the history of the criminal procedure in this State.

It is a jury trial before Judge Koenig, in General Sessions, and the selection of the jurymen developed a brief personal tilt between the prosecutor and the attorney for the defendant, Samuel Fieldman, when he reminded the talesmen that his legal opponent was a woman, and cautioned the jurors that they should not favor the prosecution on that account. Mr. Feldman was particularly keen in enforcing his challenges against two of the first men called for the jury, both of whom were "bachelors."

"I take exception to the remarks of counsel," protested Miss Rosenberg, "because the personal element should not, and I hope will not, enter at all into the deliberation of the jurymen. The fact of sex must not weigh with the jury one way or the other. I am here for the performance of a required official duty as a representative of the people of the State of New York."

The defendant, a negro, Eugene Bell, 29, who said he lived at 2.110 Madison Avenue, is charged with the hold-up and robbery of $112 from Henry Butler, a salesman at 2.192 Fifth Avenue, on Dec. 10. Bell pleaded not guilty, declaring he was a "theatrical manager" in the "good season" and a porter when road tours were dull. Harrington Reynolds, also a negro, has pleaded guilty to complicity in the hold-up.

GOSPEL HALL MEETINGS.

(Contributed).

Last night a crowded house listened to the story of Mr. Bentley's conversion. There was deep interest as he told how in his youth he wandered very far into sin, despite the fact that his parents were Christians. He went from one bad thing to another, until his language became dreadful, his companions of the most daring type, his habits of drink and other forms of sin were shameful. While thus heading for ruin, a gospel tent was placed at the end of the street where he lived. The preacher was a man ever on the look-out for souls, and this man Mr. Bentley positively feared, for the simple reason that he was in the darkness of sin and that out-and-out Christian was in the light and liberty of God's blessed salvation. Some time after that man sat at tea in Mr. Bentley's house. He dealt faithfully with him about his soul, and though he resented it, it led to him going to a meeting that same night where this tent-preacher was speaking. God spoke to him that night. His false place was broken up, and he was in real soul agony. He now saw that the broad road would certainly end in eternal destruction. Just as plainly God showed him that in that stupendous sacrifice of Christ on Calvary's Cross, a work was done mighty enough to break the bonds of sin. With broken heart,
He looked to Jesus on the Cross,
For him he saw Him dying:
God's word believed that all his sins
Were there upon Him lying.

With that personal trust in the Mighty Saviour, his burdened soul was free, and he knew that his life henceforth must be lived, not unto himself but unto Him, Who died and rose again. Six years after his conversion he became a gospel preacher, giving his whole time to the work. Salvation is a joy unspeakable to him. Come and hear him Sunday night at 7 o'clock.

WAS CHRIST DIVINE?

In St. Andrew's Church to-morrow evening Rev. James Rollins will continue his series of sermons on "The Main Points of Christian Belief," taking as his subject, "Was Christ Divine?" This is a subject of great importance and interest. The inquiry of Cannon Liddon confronts us all. "Where is Jesus Christ now? And what is He? Does He reign only by virtue of a mighty tradition of human thought and feeling which creates and supports an imaginary throne? Is He present personally as a living power in this, our world? Can you approach Him now and receive from Him mighty aid, not as an act of imagination, but as a substantial fact?"

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LADIES' AUXILIARY HELD A CONCERT

INTERESTING PROGRAMME PROVIDED—A MUSICAL TREAT.

The Great War Veterans' Hall on Murray street was well filled last night on the occasion of the concert held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, under the direct supervision of Mrs. John Black. Those who failed to attend this concert missed a real musical treat, all the numbers being rendered with finished effect, and every offering being enthusiastically encored. The first number was a pleasing piano solo, "Valse Chromatique", by Mrs. Hotston, followed by a song; Lauder's "Early in the Morning", by Mr C. Coleman, accompanied by Mr. Follis rendered in Mr. Coleman's usual fine style. "The Angel's Serenade" by Miss Doris Rathbone, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, and with a 'cello obligato by Mr. Cyril Rathbone was exceptionally good, Miss Rathbone's beautiful voice blending strikingly with the deep-toned instrument.

Mr. Harold Jones, accompanied by Miss Cunningham and Mr. Rathbone on the 'cello, sang "Mate O' Mine" with ringing effect. Mr. Hotstons comic song, "It 'Wont last very, very long", accompanied by Mr. Follis, was very good, and a duet by Messrs. Maurice Park and Douglas Carlisle, accompanied by Miss Rannie, brought out these two fine voices in a splendid manner. Mr. J Johns' recitation, "The Two Bootblacks", was very funny, and Mrs. J. H. McDonald's vocal solo, "Two Souls", with Mrs. George Evans as accompanist, was rendered with Mrs. McDonald's usual sweet, clear voice and fine technique. A vocal duet by Mrs. McKinstry and Mrs Kitney, "Love is Meant to Make us Glad", accompanied by Mrs. Hotston, was well received and the final nuumber was a song by Miss M'nnie Allen, whose pretty voice was heard to good advantage in "Whisper, I shall Hear", accompanied by Mrs. Massey-Cooke.

SALVATION ARMY CANVAS MONDAY

TEAMS WILL VISIT YOU AND THE COMMITTEE KINDLY SOLICITS YOUR FRIENDLY CO-OPERATION.

Citizens are reminded of the campaign in support of the Salvation Army, which takes place on Monday Morning next. The objective is $3,000.00, and is to be raised by public subscriptions and contributions. The manner of the canvass has been arranged conveniently for all citizens. The manufacturing plants and larger stores all have lists, which will be handled by the institutions themselves, and the teams will canvass the centre of the city.

It is felt that the outlying district, to a great measure, will be reached by the lists that have been prepared.

The Salvation Army are doing a great work the world over, and their means of financing are limited, owing to the fact that none of its members are men of great wealth, and it is only by the means of subscriptions and general contributions that the work can be advanced.

The committee bespeaks for the teams of canvassers a very cordial reception on Monday, in the hope that the objective, $3,000.00, will be readily raised. The sum is not a large one, and the needs of the Army and the work it does, are well known to all citizens.

PLATINUM PLANT IS BEING BUILT.

Big Deposits Found on Fraser River.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 10. — (Canadian Press).—That production of platinum in British Columbia is on the point of becoming an important industry is the opinion of S. J. Marsh, a prominent mining man, who says that investigations which he has conducted for many years have disclosed that one of the principal platinum deposits in the world is in the Fraser River and three of its tributaries—the Qyesnel, the Willow and the Cottonwood Rivers. A plant is being built and it is expected that reduction work will be begun this Spring, stated Mr. Marsh.

He believes that for 250 miles on the Fraser and 150 miles on tributary streams 75 per cent. of the black sand deposits can be dredged and concentrates to the extent of from 8 to 40 pounds per cubic yard of dirt obtained.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 12.—(Canadian Press)—Price changes at opening of to-day's stock market were again mainly downward but confined to fractions. Steels, oils and rubber issues gave promise of further activity. Rails and coppers were comparatively steady.

Initial prices on the Stock Exchange to-day were only fractionally lower, but within the first half hour the pace quickened and the tone became more reactionary. Mexican Petroleum, a feature of yesterday's general revision, soon lost 2 1-2 points and Crucible Steel, Sears Roebuck and Sumter Tobacco featured other backward issues. Most leaders in the Oil, Steel, Equipment and Shipping groups registered new low quotations for the current movement. Rails were the only stocks to offer resistance to further selling pressure.

VETERAN MAGISTRATE SUSTAINED SLIGHT INJURY TO HIS SHOULDER

While leaving his house this morning for his office, Magistrate D. W. Dumble slipped and pitched forward, falling heavily against a wooden post. His left shoulder was severely bruised, and he was considerably shaken up—however, not to such an extent that he could not attend Police Court. He was unable to take down the evidence, and one of the stenographers from the City Hall was called in to perform this duty.

Despite his protestations that he was not seriously injured, he was at last induced to have doctor's examination. Dr. T. W. H. Young, who was attending the Board of Health meeting, was called, and examined the veteran Magistrate. He pronounced him perfectly sound, but warned him against over exertion, and advised a few days' rest.

His Worship undoubtedly received a painful bruise, for not a few times in the Police Court a wince of pain crossed his seamed and kindly face, and his many friends will hope that his shoulder will soon be better.

$1,300 NETTED FOR ORPHANS

COLLECTION FOR ST. VINCENT'S ORPHANAGE ON SATURDAY EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS.

$78.73 THE LARGEST BOX

The tag-day collection for St. Vincent's Orphanage amounted to the handsome sum of nearly $1,300. This sum exceeded the expectations of those taking part in the work, and proves conclusively the charity which lives in the hearts of the people of Peterborough, and which finds expression in the helping on of good works. It was a cheering sight to witness the young and the old, the rich and the poor, all wearing the round green badge, regardless of sect or creed, to further the cause of the poor little orphans.

The weather was better than that supplied for last year's tag-day, when a heavy cold rain made things disagreeable for the workers. On Saturday they were on the job, bright and early, some at half-past six, to waylay the earliest unwary pedestrian, remaining until late in the afternoon, and a day of this sort, with long hours of standing and chilly weather, is not a picnic, by any means. Most people are very generous, and, even if their contribution be small, will wish one the cheerful "good luck to you," which bespeaks the kind heart, and, as often happens, the man or woman in threadbare clothes is the more generous giver. One prosperous-looking gentleman from "the land," with a big fur coat, was in quandary about his contribution. He had loudly signified his intention of "giving something to a good cause," but a close examination of his purse revealed nothing but a tight wad of bills, a silver quarter and three coppers. An unavailing search failed to produce the desired nickel. On being interrogated as to the feasibility of depositing the quarter on the little black box, he replied with an incredulous stare, and finally compromised by handing over the three cents. One man contributed the two cents which he declared to have been saving up for the Sunday collection, and a gentleman with an accent, who evidently remembered that half-pennies were invented so that the Scotch might give to charity, got off with a cent to his credit in the box. A citizen on his way to the meat-shop promised whatever he could spare after buying the Sunday roast, and a young lady stationed outside one of the banks, where many passers-by had signified their intention of procuring funds to enrich the cause, finally decided that this institution must have a convenient side door.

Those who have forgotten their purses and others who have no money on an occasion like this are many and various. One lady of the latter class, protesting poverty, whose accidentally-opened bag disclosed a richly-lined interior, was rather fussed when reminded of it. And there are those, also, who suffer from curious afflictions of sight and hearing, and are oblivious to all signals of a "tagging" nature. There was one youth who passed back and forth, giving the girls "the glad eye," but resolutely refusing to purchase a tag, and the man who sorrowfully exhibited a two-dollar bill and asked for change on every one of his many trips back and forth was extremely aggravating. The "flirty" gentlemen were numerous, as usual, many requiring much explanation as to the object of their donations, one remarking that he had kept a quarter for five blocks, in search of a good-looking woman, and another, saying, "You would take the last bit from a man's mouth," reaching in and extracting a dime from his cheek. One of our local undertakers refused, on the ground of having a lot of little orphans of his own to look after, and one old gentleman gave the young ladies the benefit of his ideas on love and marriage, and the evils of long courtship, for the space of half an hour, coming back later with his "niece," a young man who was with some difficulty persuaded to purchase the emblem of charity.

But the grouches were in the minority. Good wishes and generous contributions met the seekers on every side, and kind words made the day pleasant for them. One gentleman, with an eye of getting a good deal of fun from the proceeding, had two tags for himself, one for his little boy, and another for his bright-eyed collie dog, and an old man, who rather plaintively remarked that he hadn't been tagged, "being too old," was glad to give a quarter.

There were several cheques and numbers of bills, with mounds of silver and copper to be counted at the close of the successful day, one of the cheques, however, deposited with great ceremony, proving to be a cream-tinted advertisement of a recent "Welfare Address" of the boxes which were in commission.

Miss Annie Simons, with No. 59, containing $78.73, headed the list, and No. 56, held by Mrs. W. J. Young, came second with $70.59.

FARMERS' PARTY IS OPTIMISTIC

WILL BRING HON. T. A. CRERAR HERE EARLY AND HOLD "GET-TOGETHER" PICNIC.

FINANCING IS GOOD

For the first time since the recent by-election, the West Peterborough U.F.O. Political Association met Saturday afternoon in their new, commodious and comfortable quarters above the U.F.O. store on Simcoe street. The hall has been completely renovated throughout, presents a bright and cheeful appearance, and a comfortable rest room has been furnished for agrarian lady visitors to town on market days or other occasions.

The meeting on Saturday was largely attended by members of the organization of both sex. Quite undaunted by their defeat in the by-election here, the party look forward to future campaigns for both the Federal House and the Legislature, in which their candidate will carry the Farmers' colours to victory.

Sec.-Treasurer E. A. Scott's financial sheet showed the organization's funds to be in a healthy condition after defraying all costs of the last election.

The meeting decided to hold a farmers' picnic the coming summer, and at an earlier date to arrange that Hon. T. A. Crerar, the Farmers' political chief, address a mass meeting in Peterborough.

WILD GEESE HERALD AN EARLY SPRING

SEVERAL FLOCKS MIGRATING TO THEIR SUMMER FEEDING GROUNDS HAVE BEEN SEEN RECENTLY.

Reeve McIntosh reports having seen several flocks of wild geese flying north, marshalled in their usual formations, and apparently following a pathfinder. Other harbingers of spring have been trooping in to the Peterborough district, and every person has doubtless heard the song sparrows' matins and the soft song of the bluebird. Blackbirds and robins are already numerous, and the crows that have wintered in the pine woods around the city are giving the newcomers a noisy welcome. All these signs point to an early opening of spring, although last night's fall of snow, which quickly melted this morning, conveyed a warning to beware the Ides of March.

DAMAGE FROM BLASTING.

BOBCAYGEON, March 14.—Merchants near the canal are somewhat afraid of the blasting operations under way. Last week one blast put a hole in the bank roof, smashed a pane of glass in the skylight, and damaged a water shed at the rear of E. J. Wollard's store, besides breaking a few other panes of glass here and there.

USING OLD LICENSE.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 14.—Grant Anderson has been summoned to answer in the Police Court for driving his motor car under last year's license. The Chief took his number on Saturday.

MIGHT OPEN TAUNTON TO GOVERNMENT

COL. BOLES OFFERS TO RESIGN SEAT TO MAKE OPENING FOR NEW BRITISH MINISTER.

EMBARGO THE ISSUE

LONDON, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—Col. Dennis Boles has offered to resign as member of Parliament for the division of Taunton in order to give Sir Arthur Griffiths Boscawen, recently appointed Minister of Agriculture who lost the by-election in Dubley, another opportunity to find a seat. The Coalition caucas has not yet, however, accepted the position of trying to elect the new Minister in Taunton.

James Lunnon, Organizing Secretary of the Agricultural Workers' Union, has already been selected to contest Taunton under the banner of the Labor Party, and if the new Minister opposes him the embargo on Canadian cattle again will be the big issue in the contest. In the last election Col. Boles had a majority of about eight thousand over the Laborite.

BROTHERHOOD WINS ITS SUIT

JUSTICE ROSE RULES THAT EXPULSION OF RAILWAY BROTHERHOOD INVALID.

TORONTO, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—"The Executive Council of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada has no right to cancel the membership of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees in the Congress, and no action taken by the defendants has been effective to exclude the Brotherhood from membership," is the decision of Justice Rose in the legal fight between the Brotherhood and the Council of the Congress. Members of the Executive Council of the Congress are restrained from representing that Brotherhood which has ceased to be a member and must pay costs. The Judge holds that the act of expulsion was irregular and invalid.

SPRACKLIN WON'T SPEAK IN TORONTO

INFLUENCE BROUGHT TO BEAR FROM WITHIN THE CHURCH.

TORONTO, March 14.— (Canadian Press.)—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, of Sandwich, will not speak in Toronto in the referendum campaign. He was to have spoken in a down-town Methodist church, but influence was brought to bear from within the church which resulted in his non-appearance. It is also likely that plans to bring "Pussyfoot" Johnson will also be interfered with. The matter was discussed with the Canadian Press this morning, but the Referendum committee issued a statement to the effect that it did not intend to invite outside speakers to come to Toronto, at this juncture in the campaign.

"IT'S NONE OF THEIR BUSINESS"

Eight months ago a coal conveyer was erected in connection with the Simcoe street gas plant which is the property of the Hydro Power Commission of Ontario. the cost of the conveyor was estimated at about seven thousand dollars. Its mission was to convey the coal from the railway iding to a convenient place in the plant. For some reason known only to the Hydro officials the conveyor was not used to the extent that was anticipated and to-day it is being dismantled.

To-day Mr. W. G. Ferguson, local manager of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, was asked why the expensive piece of equipment was being dismantled and he replied:

"It doesn't concern the people".

"It surely effects those who have gas bills to pay?" Mr. Ferguson was asked.

"It's none of their business," he reiterated.

G. N. GORDON SPEAKER AT CLUB LUNCH

ADDRESSED MONTREAL REFORM CLUB ON SATURDAY AND SPEAKS IN OTTAWA WEDNESDAY.

"FUTURE OF LIBERALISM"

MONTREAL, March 14.—(Special to the Examiner).—Mr. Gordon, M.P. for West Peterborough, gave an address to the members of the Montreal Reform Club at their weekly luncheon here Saturday.

There was a large attendance of members to hear Mr. Gordon, who was enthusiastically received as one of the signs of the movement towards domination at Ottawa.

Mr. Gordon gave an address on the "Future of Liberalism," and indicated the rise and growth of the Liberal movement in England, and showed how in Canada, the movement was identical in its growth and development.

Mr. Gordon also dealt with the reconstruction policy of the Liberal party, the question of insurance against unemployment for the returned men, and an interesting discussion took place among the members and the speaker.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Gordon by the members of the Club for his eloquent address, and it was arranged that he should speak again at an early date.

Mr. Gordon speaks at Ottawa to the Reform Club on Wednesday next, at a dinner to be given that evening.

BOYS FORGOT TO RETURN THE CAR

POLICE END EXCURSION INTO NORTH COUNTRY.

Seventy-one dollars and twenty cents was the total bill against Chas. Fleetwood and Arthur King, who appeared in Police Court this morning, charged with using a motor car owned by Dr. Pulkinghorn, without his permission. Half the taxi drivers and express men in town formed the crowd of rail birds that graced to-day's court. The two automobile enthusiasts, it was charged, rented the car for one day but kept it the next, and were finally apprehended by the forces of law and order in Lakefield. The solicitor for the youths, Mr. J. O'Brien, declared that they had only the loftiest intentions in keeping the car the second day, and were willing to pay for it. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge. Magistrate Dumble set the fine at $10, and then the Chief of Police started reckoning up the costs and damages to the car, estimated at $25, by Dr. Pulkinghorn, and the rent for the second day. It all totalled $71.20, the boys to go fifty-fifty. The case was enlarged till to-morrow to give the youths time to settle.

END OF SESSION STILL DISTANT

DRURY THINKS LEGISLATURE WILL ADJOURN TWO WEEKS AFTER EASTER—OTHERS DIFFER.

TORONTO, March 14.— (Canadian Press.) — Premier Drury has given up all hope of closing the present session of the Legislature at Easter as originally anticipated. The Prime Minister's own view is that the sesion will last about two weeks after Easter, but others believe it will be the end of April before the members conclude their labors.

DROWNED BEFORE HIS MOTHER'S EYES.

Four-Year-Old Ottawa Boy Drowned in the Rideau River.

OTTAWA, March 14. — The body of four year old Leonard Shea, who was drowned in the Rideau River on Thursday morning while playing with a companion, has been recovered.

A particularly sad incident of the tragedy is that the little fellow disappeared under the icy waters in full view of his frantic mother. It appears that while playing with a companion young Shea ventured on the ice, then unsafe, owing to the mild weather. As a result of blasting operations 50 yards away, the ice was loosened and the piece on which the boy was standing broke away from the shore before he could scramble to safety. His companion ran to the mother's house and told Mrs. Shea what had happened. She only arrived on the scene in time to see her little one sink to his death.

Admiralty Reduce Estimates As Far As It Is Safe To

SIX NATIONS NOT LIKELY TO MOVE

BRANTFORD, March 14. — (Canadain Press.)—"Application reported as made through an adopted Chief at Syracuse, N.Y., to President Harding for the establishment of an asylum for the Six Nations Indians has been talked about, but has never been officially brought before the Six Nations Council," Asa R. Hill, secretary of the Six Nations Council stated to-day. He added that the Indians had a number of complaints regarding the way in which they were being used, but that it was not the fault of the Government but the Department of Indian Affairs. According to Secretary Hill, the move back to the States has been chiefly talked about by the Deists (sometimes called Pagan) element, and it was these old people of the race who wanted to go back to the Confederacy to avoid having their rights encroached upon.

INCREASE FOR CARETAKER OF THE HOSPITAL

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD LIGHT AMOUNT OF BUSINES BEFORE IT THIS MORNING.

SEWER RECOMMENDED

The caretaker and his wife at the Isolation Hospital were granted an increase of $10 a month by the Board of Health this morning. They have been receiving $800 per year, roughly $66 a month and their remuneration was raised to $76 to-day after the board had decided that they could not comply with their request for a $14 increase. It was pointed out that practically everything is found for the caretaker and his wife but their clothing but their isolation was taken into consideration.

Dr. W. H. Young M. O. H., suggested to the board that one of the sheds at the hospital be converted into a henhouse and a henry established. A considerable saving in egg bills would be effected and there was nearly enough scraps at the hospital to maintain the birds. The M.O.H.'s suggestion was embodied in a motion and he was authorized to purchase the nucleus of a flock.

Mrs. Clara Barns, Gilmour street, secretary of the Queen Mary Home and School Association wrote the board complaining of the stench at the head of McDonnel street or Monaghan Road. The disagreeable odour it was stated could be eliminated if proper sewer connections were available for the convent and the Board recommended to the Council that the sewer be extended to Monaghan Road.

The report of Miss A. M. Price matron, submitted to the board, today for February, showed that on Feb 1, there were 3 patients in the hospital made up of one case of scarlet fever, one of sleeping sickness and one of mumps. During the month nine cases were admitted, five of scarlet fever and four of dip theria. One case was from out of the city. The original three cases were discharged during the month and nine were in the hospital on March 1.

Expenditures at the hospital during February were $1,446.92. The maintenance of the hospital for the first two months of the year totalled $2,400.10.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid: J. Nasimok, $2.22; E. F. Mason, $14.50; William Brown $88.10; Bond's Drug Store, $4.50; Pet. Utilities Com. $4.82; J. W. Edwards $31.00; Thos. Gilgour, $9.23; Porter S. White $28.56; W. G. Kent $11.25; E. Graystock, $5.85; J. C. Turnbull Co. Ltd., $15.35; B. R. Strano $19.28; A. M. Price $1.00; Pet Examiner Ltd, $1.00; G. J. Jopling and Sons $4.44; R. J. Soden $2.00; Alex. Gibson $16.00; J. M. Fanning, $43.34.

Those present at the meeting were Mr G. H. Duncan in the chair, Dr. T. W. A. Young, M.O.H., Mr. G. Lynch, Mayor A. A. McIntyre and Mr E. F. Mason

BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES FOR NEXT YEAR ARE 91,000,000 POUNDS GROSS, AS LOW AS COMPATIBLE WITH NATIONAL SECURITY, FIRST LORD SAYS.

DRASTIC ECONOMIES

LONDON, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—British naval estimates for the following year amount to over ninety-one million pounds gross and eighty-two and a half millions net, it was announced to-day by Lord Lee of Farham, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a statement explaining the estimates. Lord Lee stated they were based on the Government's policy of maintaining a "one power standard."

"It is the duty of the Government to carry out that policy as economically as possible," Lord Lee's statement continued, "giving full weight to special geographical, international and other considerations which have arisen since the war. This they are doing, and recognizing to the full the necessity of reducing expenditures to the lowest limits compatible with national security. The Admiralty have effected drastic economies and have agreed to assume risks which in ordinary circumstances they would regard as difficult to reconcile with the full maintenance of the Government's declared policy."

Lord Lee pointed out that the economies included reduction in the number of capitalships in full commission from twenty to sixteen as compared with thirty-eight in 1914. "This is the smallest number that will enable the sea-going technical training of officers and men to be carried out properly," the statement asserted.

FORMAL HUN APPEAL MADE

NOTE ADDRESSED TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS' SECRETARIAT PROTESTING AGAINST ALLIED PENALTIES.

BERLIN, March 14.— (Canadian Press.) —The Government has addressed a note to the League of Nations secretariat protesting against the penalties being enforced by the Entente for Germany's non-fulfillment of her reparations obligations.

DUSSELDORF, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—The town of Hamborn, five miles north-east of Ruhrort, was included in the area of Germany under occupation by the Allies in an order issued to-day by the Entente military authorities here. A state of siege has been proclaimed in Hamborn, but no garrison has been stationed there. The Allied order says that all arms, including hunting pieces and sabres, must be turned over by to-night, and all former German army officers must be registered before Tuesday night.

TO BE TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION
THE CAUSE OF MANY ILLS

If you do not feel well and go to your family physician, one of the first things he will do is to ask you to hold out your tongue. The reason for this is that the condition of the tongue shows the condition of the stomach and bowels.

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headaches, coated tongue, foul breath, heartburn, water brash, etc, and those troublesome piles which cause so much annoyance and misery.

Keep ouyr bowels moving regularly and you won't be sick.

In Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills you will find just the remedy you require for this purpose. They are purely vegetable and do not gripe, weaken or sicken.

Mr. James S. Harris, Box 9934, Halifax, N. S., writes: "For two years I sugered with constipation. I could not get anything to cure me, and hardly anything would give me even temporary relief. One day my uncle induced me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and even brought me a vial. I tried them without much faith, but I soon found that they were doing me good, and after using the second vial I was relieved of the trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOSPEL HALL MEETINGS.

(Contributed.)

On Sunday night the Gospel Hall was again crowded to the doors with people eager to hear the word of God as proclaimed by Mr. Bentley. "Three Representative Women" was the theme. These were found in first chapter of Book of Ruth. The speaker said that Naomi represented Christians who were out of the will of God. She left Bethlehem and went to Moab because trial arose, but nothing but sorrow and disappointment was the result. It is better to trust God to deliver us in trial than to run away from it. Many a backslider is such to-day because they don't trust God in a tight corner. Such was Naomi, the disappointed. But thank God she went back home to her country and to her God. Orpah, her daughter-in-law, went with her for a little way and then was just as easily persuded to return to idols.

She pictures another class: Those who, when there is a movement Godward, have their feelings stirred and say they are going to trust Christ and live for Him, but a very little persecution or sneering from some child of the devil quickly changes their opinion. Their feelings only have been influenced, not their conscience. Such was Orpah the dubious.

The other woman was a noble character. Ruth was her name. When she set out to go to Bethlehem with her mother-in-law she meant it. Nothing could deter her. Nothing but death. With regard to salvation and heaven are you as decided as Ruth? All the wisdom, power and love of God is shown in the substitutionary work of Christ on Calvary's cross. Nothing more was needed. Nothing less would have been enough. And now He appeals to your will. You can say I will trust Him or you can say I will not trust Him! Though everything seems out of joint, and all hell oppose you, and the devil train his heavy artillery straight on you, you can if you will say:

"Jesus I will trust Thee, trust Thee with my soul;
Guilty, lost and helpless Thou canst make me whole.

By unanimous request Mr. Bentley will continue the meetings through this week. Each night at 8 o'clock.

ALLEGED HE PASSED A WORTHLESS CHEQUE.

LINDSAY, March 14.— Benjamin Mintz, accused of paying a worthless cheque for goods received from Pulver & Co., of this town, has been brought back from Montreal, and committed for trial on April 8th. Bail is fixed at $400.

Mintz was accompanied from Montreal by his lawyer, Mr. Garbett, who asked for an adjournment to secure evidence and plan his defence.

SIX SINN FEINERS HANGED.

DUBLIN, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—Six prisoners convicted of complicity with the murder of British intelligence officers and members of the Crown forces in Ireland were executed in Mount Joy Prison this morning. They were hanged in pairs at intervals of an hour. Twenty thousand people gathered outside the prison during the hours that the executions were going on, and all work in the city stopped until eleven o'clock. Even the Post Office was closed and the telegraph service was suspended.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

LINDSAY, March 14.—F. B. Utley, the first general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Lindsay, was a welcome visitor at the recent Masonic "At Home." He entertained the audience under the name of Ralph Gordon, and his old-time friends here were agreebly surprised

CLARA SMITH HAMON ARRANGES FURNITURE AS ON DAY OF SHOOTING, BEFORE JURY, AND GARMENTS SHOWN IN COURT.

WOMEN BREAK DOWN

ARMORE, Okla. March 14.—Clara Smith Hamon, on trial here charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon ,returned on Saturday to the hotel rooms occupied by herself and Mr. Hamon, and in the presence of the jury rearranged the furniture as it was on the night of the shooting. A short time later she heard the testimony of Dr. Walter Hardy that Mr Hamon had come to his sanitarium with the declaration: I'm shot by Clara Hamon."

Accompanied by Sheriff Garrett and Clara Hamon, the jury visited the hotel where Hamon was shot, first inspecting the room occupied by Mr. Hamon.

Clara Hamon personally arranged the furniture and effects as near as possible to the location on the day of the shooting. It was noticed that only by extreme effort did she maintain her composure, dropping into a chair just as soon as she had completed the few changes.

While Dr. Hardy was on the stand the State offered in evidence the blood-stained undergarments of Hamon, which previously it had been said were burned to prevent his wife's seeing them.

Dr. Hardy testified that Mr. Hamon staggered toward him, pale of face, and kissed him on the forehead In reply to the doctor's question he said: "I told you she would do it. I'm going to die. I am weak and I want to go to bed."

Dr. Hardy told of caring for Mr. Hamon when he came to the sanitarium and quoted an admonition given by Mr. Hamon, thus:

"Doctor, take my right hand. I want you to promise me you never will reveal how I was shot, except in open court."

As Attorney General Freeling displayed the underclothing Hamon had worn and a gown in which he was placed at the hospital, both Mrs. Jake Hamon and Clara wept into their handkerchiefs.

Dr. Hardy said the hole in the underclothing and shirt corresponded with the wound.

Mrs. Jake Hamon Breaks Down

Mrs. Jake Hamon was unable to compose herself and her son led her sobbing from the court room. Judge Champion called a five minutes recess. It was the first time Mrs. Jake Hamon had seen the garments. Previous statements by Hamon's friends had indicated they had been burned to keep the widow from seeing them.

Dr. Hardy said that after the operation Hamon rallied and had the use of his faculties. He said Clara Hamon came to the hospital the

TORONTO PRIEST DIES SUDDENLY

TORONTO, March 14. — (Canadian Press.) — Rev. Dr. Dennis McBride, Rector of St. Michael's Cathedral died very suddenly in his 34th year.

The late Dr. McBride, who was born in Hamilton, was ordained to the sacred ministry in Rome eight years ago. Returning to Toronto he held the professorship of Canan Law and Moral Theology in St. Augustine's Seminary for the past seven years, and was appointed to the Rectorship of St. Michael's Cathedral last October.

Dr. McBride was in his usual good health yesterday morning when he celebrated 7 and 8 o'clock masses and preached at both the services, and two later masses. He was seized with his fatal illness shortly after leaving the Cathedral for St. Michael's palace.

STOCKHOLM, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—Nya Daglight Allehanda to-day prints from an alleged usually well-informed source a report that General Budenny, who was marching, by order of the Soviet Government, from Southern Russia to Moscow, on reaching Orel, joined the Revolutionaries with his entire army of a hundred and twenty thousand men and assisted in the capture of Orel. The report has not been confirmed.

TO ADJOURN PARLIAMENT FOR SUMMER

PROLONGED RECESS WOULD SUIT THE GOVERNMENT AS MEIGHEN MUST ATTEND IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

BUDGET IN THE FALL

OTTAWA, March 14.— Western members are urging the government to adjourn for at least two weeks over the Easter holidays. The usual Easter recess is from the Wednesday before until the Tuesday after Easter, which this year would mean an adjournment from March 23 to March 29. This brief recess would be of no use to members from the west, many of whom are anxious to get home for a week or two around the first of April to get seeding and other spring activities under way.

Budget is Late.

A prolonged Easter recess would not be unwelcome to the government, as Sir Henry Drayton stated in the house the other day that he could not even approximately fix a date for bringing down the budget and on all hands there is a disinclination to have the session run into the summer.

The prime minister is also anxious to get away with his colleagues to the imperial conference, which opens in London early in June, hence everything is combining to bring about an adjournment of the house over the summer months, and it is not altogether impossible that the house may adjourn on the 23rd until September 1, provided the opposition will agree to an interim supply vote that will furnish the government with funds to carry on over the summer.

This arrangement would also make it possible for parliament to deal at this session with redistribution. By September the census returns should be available.

MRS. JAMES DALY SUFFERS A STROKE

AFFLICTED WITH PARALYSIS, CAN NEITHER EAT NOR SPEAK.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 14.—Not much hope is held for the recovery of Mrs. James Daly, who suffered a paralytic stroke last Thursday, since then she has neither been able to eat or speak, although quite conscious and suffering from goitre the past few years. Mrs Daly went to Kingston for treatment a month ago, but she was too weak to permit of Dr. O'Connor eye, nose and throat specialist of that city, risking an operation. Much sympathy is entertained for the Daly family, who have lost several children of late years.

WIDELY KNOWN MINISTER DIES

REV. ROBERT CAMPBELL PASSES AWAY AT MONTREAL FROM INJURIES SUSTAINED BY A FALL FROM CAR.

AN OUTSTANDING FIGURE

MONTREAL, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—The death occurred yesterday of Rev. Robert Campbell, M. A., D.D., one of the oldest and best known Presbyterian ministers in Canada. His death was caused by pneumonia following injuries sustained by a fall from a street car on February 28 last.

Dr Campbell was for over half a century in the ministry, retiring in 1909. His death marks the passing of one of the outstanding figures in the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Dr. Campbell has been clerk of the general assembly for nearly 30 years and through that office as well as by reason of his remarkable personality and attainments, he was known the whole Dominion. He was throughout strongly opposed to Church union.

TO ASK FOR LOWER LIVE STOCK RATE

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGES MAY APPEAL TO RAILWAY BOARD FOR DECREASE IN FREIGHT RATES.

ALSO BETTER CONDITIONS

TORONTO, March 14. — (Canadian Press.) — At a meeting of the Canadian Live Stock Exhange on Saturday, Vice-President O. Atwell, was appointed to confer with E. S. Todd, of the Eastern Canada Live Stock Exchange with respect to the question of appearing before the Dominion Railway Commissioners, with a request for a reduction of the rates governing the movement of live stock.

It was the opinion of the delegates representing all the large stock yard centres in Canada that the prevailing rates had a tendency to keep the shippers from shipping to a greater number of markets.

It was stated that livestock salesmen will also ask for a revision of some of the conditions governing the transortation of live stock.

Next year's convention of the exchange will be held in Montreal.

Threats Are Made Against the Life of Rev. Spracklin

PASTOR-INSPECTOR DECLARES TORONTO ORGANIZATION HAS WARNED HIM TO KEEP AWAY FROM TORONTO IN CONNECTION WITH "DRY" CAMPAIGN OR HIS LIFE WILL BE ENDANGERED.

WILL DISREGARD THESE THREATS, HE SAYS

PARIS, Ont., March 14. — (Canadian Press.) — Threats against his life by a Toronto organization were reported by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin here last night in preaching to the congregation of the Methodist church. His sermon marked his first appearance in a series of addresses throughout Ontario on behalf of the "Drys" in the Referendum campaign. Mr. Spracklin declared that a threat from Toronto had been sent to his home at Sandwich, Ont. It was sent by the "Determination League" of Toronto, and warned him to keep away from that city in connection with the campaign of drys or he would be shot.

"I intend to disregard this message entirely," declared Mr. Spracklin, and that he would speak in Toronto whenever the officials of the temperance forces arranged for him to apepar.

THE GREATEST AUTHORITY.

Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy:

But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you.—From the sayings of Jesus.

And let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.—Paul.

Gayer, Brighter, Fresher with every washing

Those smart, dazzling cretonnes, so cheerful and gay—how are you going to wash them?

Not any old way, just because they are cotton—think how much they cost! You can't afford to risk their fading.

Princess Soap Flakes are the answer—because they were perfected for the cleansing of fine materials. Women use them to wash their delicate crepes, satins and silks—all the fragile blouses, frocks and lingerie which need special care.

They protect the color and beauty of fine, expensive cottons—the sheer voiles, dainty batistes and fine ginghams which "regular" laundering makes so dull and drab.

Mild as the finest toilet soap

Princess Flakes are the purest, mildest soap modern science can produce—really fine enough for toilet use.

In color they are snowy-white, in form a curly flake which neither packs nor mats and dissolves to the last particle.

These wafer flakes produce the thickest and stiffest of creamy suds which dissolves dirt and freshens material.

Woolens won't shrink and they dry soft as new when washed with Princess Flakes. Sweaters, leggings, caps and mittens, blankets—how soft, warm and sweet-smelling because Princess Flakes are refined with a touch of perfume.

Saves clothes and saves money

Clothes wear out quickly because the ingredients of common laundry soap weaken the threads and start breaks in the fabric. If washed with pure soap like Princess Flakes you will get longer wear.

Ordinary laundry soap is wasteful because it is more than half moisture and filler. Princess Flakes are pure, whole soap and therefore go so much farther that their use is actual economy aside from their saving of clothes.

You should use them for every laundry and household purpose. They are the ideal soap for use in washing machines.

Package for convenience
Bulk for economy

Buy Princess Flakes by the package to keep on the kitchen shelf—it is such a convenience! But buy in bulk for laundry use—by the pound or the 25 pound carton which allows the biggest saving of all.

But—begin using today—for fancy washing and general laundry work. Princess Flakes are the last word in soap—your money's worth in quality, convenience and actual soap value.

THE STATUS OF MAGISTRATES.

Hon. W. E. Raney's attitude towards the police magistrates of the province as indicated by the letter he wrote to Magistrate Hastings, of Dunnville, is one for which most people will find it difficult to find approval. As pointed out by Hon. G. H. Ferguson in the Legislature the other day, the magistrates are part of the judiciary of the province and should be allowed to exercise their judgment conscientiously and without interference on the part of anyone. The Attorney-General apparently could place the magistrates upon the same level as office hands, liable to be dismissed if they do not see eye to eye with him. That conception of the status of magistrates will not be accepted by the people of Ontario, who will object to Hon. Mr. Raney or any other member of the government attempting to dominate over the men who are charged with the administration of the law. The Dunnville inquiry has shown the Attorney-General in a very unfavourable light. And the criticism launched against him by the leaders of both the old parties in the Legislature reflects a large measure of public opinion. There is plenty of scope for Hon. Mr. Raney's activities in his Department without attempting to dictate to the magistrates of the province.

REGISTERING OF FIREARMS.

The alarming outbreak of hold-ups and robbery under arms has made it necessary that every precaution should be taken to prevent firearams from coming into the possession of those who want to use them for illegal purposes, but at the same time the new regulations in regard to the registering of such weapons would seem to be of rather doubtful value. The law-abiding citizen who may happen to possess an ancient blunderbuss or an antiquated revolver is put to a good deal of inconvenience in having to notify the police of the ownership of the firearm and to secure a permit, and the police have a lot of unnecessary work in filing all the particulars. The crook, however, pays no attention to the regulations; he may have half a dozen weapons and he is in no more danger of being detected than he was before the passing of the measure, although eventually the system may result in making it a difficult matter to secure possession of firearms. The fact that he can be given a heavy penalty for the illegal possession of a revolver is not likely to worry very much a criminal who is using that revolver for purposes that would earn him a much greater sentence in the event of his apprehension. The object behind the regulations, however, is a good one, and citizens are advised to respect it as such and comply with the law, both for their own sake and to assist the officials.

SAFETY FIRST.

The letter from Mr. R. B. Morley, general manager of the Ontario Safety League, which appeared in Saturday's Examiner, is commended to those members of the Ontario Legislature who not only ridiculed the Peterborough bill to reduce the speed limit for motor cars, but endeavoured to place the responsibility for the majority of accidents upon pedestrians. Mr. Morley, whose position in connection with the Safety League, enables him to speak with authority, declares that this idea is ridiculous. Pedestrians, of course, owe it to themselves, as well as to the motoring fraternity to be careful, but as Mr. Morley points out, the driver of the automobile is always in the safer position when it comes to an accident involving a pedestrian, he has more chance than the latter and cannot afford to be careless, especially in the case of children. It is evident the Legislature paid no attention to the factors in the situation as outlined by Mr. Morley, for they refused to seriously consider the necessity for a change in the speed limit and looked at the matter only from the viewpoint of the motorists. The careful driver will, however, observe common sense methods in his handling of his car and will remember Mr. Morley's advice to be thoughtful of the safety of other people, forgetting that the Legislature allows him to to travel at twenty miles an hour, regardless of traffic conditions.

A MATTER OF PATRONAGE.

The inauguration of a Civil Service Commission and the placing of appointments in its hands has not done away with patronage in Federal matters, according to Hon. George E. Foster, who rather astonished the House of Commons the other day by remarking that in the appointment of the census officials it had been necessary to follow "the policy of all past governments in such matters." The Civil Service Commission, the veteran minister declared, had been unequal to the task of finding the 2,400 men needed for the taking of the census and so the old method had been employed. In other words the enumerators have been selected on the recommendation of the sitting member in each riding held by the government or of the defeated candidate in ridings held by the Opposition. It was an amusing coincidence that the task of imparting the information to the House should have fallen to Sir George Foster, whose speech on the abolition of patronage in 1916 is still fresh in the public mind and the venerable Minister of Trade and Commerce must have rather appreciated the joke himself, especially when he recalled the references to patronage being "the canker and dry rot eating at the heart of the body politic" that he had made on that memorable occasion. Whatever may be the general verdict on the method adopted in the selection of these officials, there will be at least satisfaction in the fact that a glance over the list shows that many returned soldiers have been chosen. In West Peterborough, for example, the chief enumerator is Lieut.-Col. Jos. Mills, while in East Peterborough the appointment goes to Capt. T. D. Johnson.

LETTERS TO THE PRESS.

The Toronto Star has been discussing the subject of letters to the press and very truly says that newspapers everywhere are all the time receiving some from "curious persons who, if their letters do not appear, assume that the editors are afraid to print them." It could be also truly said that the curious persons in some cases do not confine themselves to letters assuming this, but in their desire to convince the editors how absolutely true their view of the matter is, call personally to enforce it upon the editors, or telephone them.

It can be said at once that editors are afraid to print some letters, and those are the ones that contain libellious, untrue, ill-informed or abusive remarks upon individuals or groups of individuals. They are afraid to do so not only because of the ease with which libel suits can be brought, but more so because they consider it absolutely wrong to do so. It is pleasant however to be able to say that such letters are very few and far between, and it might be as well for those individuals who write them to remember that the editors are careful to remember their names. This leads on to the question of "pen names." Among the leading papers of the world there is no objection held to these as all of them require to know the identity of the writers, "not necessarily for publication but as evidence of good faith," and because there are many people who can bring forward important subjects and discuss them in a manner of use and interest to the public, who do not care for publicity. The latter point can well be understood if a little thought is given to it, and the truth of it can be seen in the letters which appear in such large numbers from "Constant Reader," "A Citizen," "A. Z." and so on in all the leading papers.

The Star points out that no newspaper undertakes to publish any or all letters, and it is evident that the "thing couldn't be done." The space demanded for the news and information demanded by the public is large; "cutting this down to the bone" is one of the hard tasks in a newspaper office—not the find of copy. Consequently, as the Star points out editors must discriminate in favour of the letters which are short, to the point, and interesting. Many letters which do not appear are left out solely because they require more space than can be given them. A long letter is seldom allowed to crowd out half a dozen short and pointed ones. This rule may not please the writers of long letters, but it is the rule which serves the best interests of the paper and its readers.

Again the Star says: "We like to receive and publish short, bright letters, with a little humor and perspicacity in them, and we find that everybody likes to read them rather than the long and disputatious disquisitions of persons who like to write by the yard airing prejudices and rehashing controversies that began long ago and may never end."

The Star in the main is right in its conclusions. Human nature is prone to err in the matter of what the legitimate functions of a newspaper is. The dissemination of news and the discussion of public questions are the chief purpose of a newspaper. It is not a vehicle for slander or for the public washing of other people's clothes. Every newspaper tries to keep up to high ideals and those particularly affecting the particular aspects of the community in which it is published. The local newspaper is always found on the side of right, and on every matter that makes for the advancement of the people. There is no other more potent force than a newspaper, and all in the work wish to serve all of the people irrespective of consequences.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

The best example of dignity is the ham actor.

Lots of people who think that they need a doctor need something to occupy their time.

About the only resurrection which a large portion of the population seems to connect with Easter is the resurrection of the style book.

"Run Out the Rum," reads the slogan of the Referendum Committee on the billboards. That's what they're doing in Montreal, only they're running it out to Ontario.

"Yes," effervesced the writer of best-sellers, "I always think of my public in planning a novel."

"But do you ever think of their feelings?" asked Miss Cayenne.

"What are you going to wear?" asked the first flapper.

"Oh, a few yards of cheese cloth, perhaps," replied the amateur actress.

"Then, my dear," interjected the third, "don't you think you will need some upholstery?"

Speaking of flattery, The Ottawa Journal says that if you tell a girl she's a bird she will be ready to fly with you. Yes, and tell a girl it's the attributes of her soul, not of her physical self, which appeal to you, and she will be ready to fly at you.

The musical comedy chorus were getting into their street clothes after the show.

"Say, dearie, you look cold," remarked the blonde second from the end to her chum, as she twisted one of her golden locks over to hide a wisp of hair that the peroxide had failed to reach. "Why, you're pos'-tively shiverin'. Now, ain't it the truth, girls?"

"Cold? Well, why wouldn't I be cold," replied the back row chromo. "comin' right out of that bathing beauty scene and climbin' into these up-to-date clothes?"

Did you ever notice that the people who say with a deprecating gesture, "It isn't done, you know," are the ones who never do anything worth while?

ACTION FOR DAMAGES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

NORWOOD, March 14.—The only case before the last division court here, at which Judge Huycke presided, was that of Wm. Partridge vs. Jos. Oakley, arising out of a motor car accident occuring on Christmas day on the Norwood-Hastings raod. Plaintiff is suing for damages sustained in the accident. Counsel for plaintiff is Mr. V. J. McElderry, of Peck, Kerr & McElderry, Peterborough and Mr. J. O'Brien of Gordon & O'Brien Peterborough, is counsel for defendant. The witnesses heard were: Mr. Robt. A. Scott and son William of Asphodel, Messrs. Hugh Robb, Winnifred Simpson and F. A. Webb, of Norwood, and Mr. Geo. Richardson of Asphodel. His Honor adjourned the case and will hear the lawyers' arguments in Peterborough.

ASPHODEL RATEPAYERS FAVOR STATUTE LABOR

Largely attended public meetings in Norwood and Westwood both favored the retention of work by statute labor instead of a proposed change by which statute labor would be commuted and the money expended on roads under the direction of a foreman over a road gang.

As several ratepayers put it, the old system gives farmers opportunity to do the needed road work at a time when other calls are not pressing on the farm, and for which he would, under the new method, be obliged to pay for in cash.

A Ticklish Point

There is a trifling disadvantage to daily newspaper advertising which those who sell other forms of publicity use for all it is worth, and trust that the prospect will not reason too far to refute it.

That is: the absence of color. They point to certain other forms of advertising and say: "Look, you can show your product big and in color so that he who runs may read."

That's good selling argument from their point of view. But stay! Is the running reader apt to gather the impression which the advertiser intends? May not the impression be too cursory? Will it be seen at all?

The fact is that the daily newspaper is the Great Intimate Human Medium.

Insofar as the woman in the Home is concerned, it is her only point of contact with what is going on in the outside world. From the birth of a neighbor's baby to the marriage of a King's daughter it is her news mentor—the loom that weaves for her the knowledge of what is going on.

You know yourself when you are away from home how much it gladdens your heart to get a sight of your local paper. Do you read it—you do!

Well, just what your newspaper means to you, other persons' newspapers mean to them.

If every paper in this country published a ten-line display advertising paragraph reflecting upon your integrity, do you think you could offset it by using all the billboards, street cars and circular advertising available?

Get the point?

The world could get along without billboards, street car cards, booklets, circulars and a thousand and one other forms of publicity, but it could not get along without its daily newspapers.

This is the Time of Times for concentration upon Daily Newspaper Advertising. Daily Newspaper Advertising is the most powerful vehicle of publicity yet given to the use of man. It is the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End of all successful advertising.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing Newspaper Advertising will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES

Nicholas M. Sabataini, Delmonica's chef, gives an excellent recipe for turnips in conjunction with spring lamb. His recipe is as follows:

Bone a shoulder of lamb, keeping the shank bone on. Stuff with the following: One-third of a pound of chopped salt pork, a little parsley, two raw eggs, one cupful of bread crumbs and one small chopped stewed onion, and add a pinch of dry sage. Mix altogether, season with salt, pepper and nutmeg, then roll it up and tie. Put in a saucepan with a little butter, fried to a fine color, then moisten with a little broth or water, adding some small-sized white turnips, cut in fours, and two blanched onions, a little bunch of parsley garnished with a bay leaf and a little thyme. Let the whole cook slowly for one hour. Skim off the fat, withdraw the onion and bunch of parsley and season to taste. Dress the shoulder with the turnips around, reduce the stock and pour it over.

BERNE, March 12.—The recent census has caused much disappointment, showing a population of 3,850,000, or only 100,000 more than that of ten years ago. It had been expected a population of 4,000,000 would be indicated.

LOVE!

By KATHERINE MOORE

Chapter 1

Leonard replaced his coffee cup on its saucer and, leaning toward me across the breakfast table, closed his hand over mine.

"Four years tonight, little woman," he said smilingly, with an unmistakable ring of affection in his voice. "Four years! What shall it be to celebrate?"

When Leonard and I married, we reached the apex of comradeship. We had started with the proverbial love sighs and hand thrills until our souls were merged into unity. Love and marriage to us meant the give and take of comaraderie as well as its other joys.

"Theatre?" I queried, coming out of a happy reverie of the past four years.

"Yes, and with a dinner fore and aft if you say the word."

"We'll start off with dinner and the theater and let our inclinations decide on the aftermath. Just that much sounds scrumptious to me," I smiled back.

"But this has to be a swell affair to properly celebrate our anniversary, you know," pleaded Leonard with a half boyish pout and his forehead deep with furrows.

"There now—stop tying your forehead into knots. We'll make it one long dinner and eat until you have to call a taxi to move me."

Leonard's laugh had the resonance of genuine happiness and spontaneity. He looked quickly at his watch.

"Five minutes to catch my train, Noreen. Take it easy. I'll meet you for the 5.30. There's one for each year," he said boyishly as he kissed me good-bye.

Keeping house for Leonard was like playing with an adorable doll's house that you had always dreamed of having as a child but never expected really to own. Quality was our motto. Our little home was certainly not of quantity, but complete and of the best. We were building slowly but surely.

Leonard was practising law in the big city and success was coming to us as I knew it must. I believed in my husband. I thought that he believed in me.

All morning I busied myself with the necessities of house-keeping.

"There will be no need of ordering anything today as Mr. Allen and I are dining out tonight," I told Emma. I decided to let her take the afternoon and evening off, going out directly after luncheon if she cared to.

At 2 o'clock I was alone and the solitary atmosphere of the house rested me. I had no thoughts of anguish then to madden my lonely hours. But the time would come, as I found out all too soon, when such hours would make my days.

I would sleep. Does not sleep make one youthful and beautiful? Tonight I must be that. I slept for almost two hours and my mirror scintillated with radiance. I smiled at my own delight and vanity.

In the midst of my dressing the telephone bell rang. I frowned at the interruption—but it was Leonard. His voice sounded dry and nervous.

"Noreen, I'll have to call the party off. A big case has come up—I'll be busy getting data," he spoke rapidly. "Save me a bite of something to eat. Wait up, I want to talk things over with you. So sorry, dear—good-bye."

I hang up the receiver. Mechanically I started unfastening my dress. It was a fawn colored duvetine Leonard had wanted me to have. He had seen it in a little shop window on Fifth Avenue and had gone with me to look at it. I had liked the fact that he was observing enough of my qualities to arrive at a correct conclusion of what would be becoming to me. Few men see that far.

I can't say that I was greatly disappointed at not going. True, I would have enjoyed it—but I was so saturated with my husband's interests that I realized a case meant something big—for him.

I redressed quickly. I must do some shopping for dinner. I must get something that would tempt Leonard's appetite when he came home tired.

I let a trolley car pass me. I would walk. The air bristled with a dry coolness of late autumn. I felt exhilarated, partly from the air and partly from the thoughts of something big for Leonard. That our theatre party was off did not matter so long as we were traveling surely along the road of attainment which we had started together. By 6 o'clock a few pangs of hunger tormented me. I smiled at myself to think of the scant luncheon I had had because of the big dinner which I had anticipated. A cup of tea and toast would tide me over and I determined to wait dinner for Leonard. Little memories of four years ago were creeping under my skin.

RESULTS REMARKABLE SAYS NEW YORK MAN

Prominent Rochester Citizen Tried Ten Years to Get Relief, But Tanlac Is Only Thing That Helped Him.

JAMES J. BEASLEY
Of Rochester, New York

One of the latest to testify regarding the powers of Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results, is James J. Beasley, 102 Elmdorf Avenue, Rochester, New York. Mr Beasley has been chief record keeper for the Department of Water Works, city of Rochester, for thirty years and is a well known and highly respected citizen. In referring to the remarkable recovery of his health by the use of Tanlac, Mr. Beasley said:

"I have been trying for ten years to find relief from a case of dyspepsia. Nothing ever helped me to amount to anything until I got Tanlac. This is saying a great deal, for I did everything it seems that a man could do to find relief. Of course, I was hardly ever sick enough to go to bed and was most always able to keep going, but I just never felt right. At times during those ten years, my stomach would become sour like vinegar, I would have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling after eating that would last for hours. I suffered a great deal from nausea. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate and I would become alarmed over my condition. My nerves were on edge all the time, and I became irritable, nervous and restless. I had no strength or energy to do anything. In fact I wasn't like myself at all. Even a week or two ago it was an effort for me to get out of my chair and I felt as stiff and clumsy as an 'old work horse.'

"It is really remarkable what Tanlac has accomplished in my case. It has relieved me entirely of indigestion, I never have that distressing feeling any more after eating, and I feel perfectly fine in every day. I will always feel grateful for what this wonderful medicine has done for me and I am only too glad to give it my heartiest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold by The W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd.

AN ADDRESS BY REV. H. B. KENNY

"THE CHURCH STANDS FOR ALL THAT IS GOOD AND TRUE," SAID THE SPEAKER

CAMPBELLFORD, March 14. — The Methodist Church was crowded to capacity last evening, when the pastor, Rev. H. B. Kenny, in his usual able and forceful manner, preached on the theme, "The Young Man and His Mate." The text was found in 1st Corinthians, xv., 33: "Evil communications corrupt good manners."

In his opening remarks, the speaker spoke of the word mate not in the feminine gender, not as some think of matches made in heaven and consummated on earth, a union of God therefore sacred, but a mate in its broader sense, an associate or companion. The principle that no man liveth to himself was clearly emphasized. Man posseses the faculty to help some one. The faculty of speech, which none of the lower animals possess, enables us to tell others of Christ. Without the hearing faculty the words of eloquence would fall on unappreciative soil. The faculty of humor was necessary to our well-being. Some people act as if it hurt them to laugh, but laughter is the safety valve of life, and harmless pleasantries are as necessary to life as the air. This side of life is to be used and spells association. The importance of right association was emphasized. All are consciously or unconsciously influenced by their associates. The mental law of association was dealt with, and it was shown that the boys who read the Jess James' type of book sometimes become thugs and end in jail; while those who study Kitchener, Haig, Cromwell, pure and true, or John Howard, Wilberforce, Lord Shaftesbury, unselfish and philanthropic, live on in the hearts of men and followers of Knox and Wesley become Christ-like.

Various Habits.

Profanity is learned from others, and blasphemy, which is so prevalent, should be eliminated. The tobacco habit, as proved by the statistics of the British Army, show the injurious effects of tobacco, and while some may suffer no harm from its use, many are, especially in youth, injuriously affected by its use. This is also true of the drink habit. A sound mind in a sound body can be secured only when one lives a pure life.

The Church of Jesus Christ stands for all that is good and true. We must cultivate the association of Jesus Christ. We need His love as the flowers need it. We need His help in the dark hours of life. The speaker appealed to the young men to be heroes, maintaining that heroes are not luxuries but necessities. Goodness begets goodness, and the Church of Jesus Christ must stand for everything Christ stands for; manhood, pure ideals and aspirations, must elevate men. If we are prepared to give Christ His rightful place in our lives, He will guide us, and we shall never become slaves to evil.

Course For Children.

OLD ENGLISH HUNTING SONG

That Rugged old English hunting song "John Peel," as sung by De Gogorza Emilio, constitutes one of the new Red Seal Records obtainable from Ye Olde Firme Heintzman and Co., Limited, George and Hunter St. Peterboro. The song is half English, half Scotch, and when the singer asks "Do ye Ken John Peel?" he is asking if you know a famous hunter who lived and who rode hard just about a century ago, through many a different dawn over country that had killed many a skilled huntsman and many a great hearted horse.

next morning and was permitted to see Hamon alone, the nurse being withdrawn.

"She did not stay more than two minutes, maybe three," Dr. Hardy declared. After Clara left, Dr. Hardy said he went in and Hamon said he was going to die.

"That's the woman that did the work. I was lying in the same position as I am now," he quoted Hamon as saying. Hamon then was lying on his back on the hospital cot.

Dr. Hardy testified that the bullet which killed Hamon entered between the eighth and ninth ribs and lodged four inches lower at the back penetrating the liver.

Dr. Hardy described the day-by-day progress of Hamon's case, and said that the condition was brought about by the wound. On the Thursday after Hamon was shot all indication pointed to a change, but his condition gradually grew worse, with heart, stomach and kidney function failing until he died the next morning at 7 o'clock, the doctor declared.

"A gunshot wound in the liver," replied Dr. Hardy to a question as to what caused Hamons death. Under cross-examination Dr. Hardy testified that Mr. Hamon was found to have been suffering from cirrhosis of the liver when he was operated on for the bullet wound, and could not have lived two years longer.

Says He Saw Bullet Removed

Kelly M. Roach of Oklahoma City, a life insurance and oil man, was another witness for the State. He said he came to Ardmore on November 2 to deliver to Hamon a $200,000 life insurance policy. He said he learned Hamon was at a sanitarium, and went there and saw an operation of Mr. Hamon by which a bullet was removed from the back.

Mike Gorman, Active Vice President of a bank in Ardmore, testified that he had seen Clara in Hamon's offices, frequently working as a stenographer, when Hamon first came to Ardmore. Mr. Gorman said that once in 1915 he thought he saw Clara with a small pistol in her hand, standing near Hamon, and that she ran into another room as he entered.

The testimony was brought out over strenuous objections by the defense. The Court overruled an objection that it was remote and irrevelant and had no part in this trial.

W. H. Meyers of Oklahoma City, a hardware salesman, testified that in November, 1920, he sold a .25 calibre automatic pistol to Clara B. Smith, the date being near Nov. 9. Mr. Meyers was recalled and testified that he at the same time sold the pisol purchaser a magazine full of cartridges. The defense admitted Clara Hamon was the purchaser.

Myrtle M. Skane, colored, formerly a maid at the hotel where Hamon was shot, testified that Hamon had Room 28 in he hotel, and that the girl had No. 29 ;that the rooms were adjoining and that the bed in 28 gave indications of having been slept in, and that the one in Room 29 did not show it had been used. On cross-examination, she said she had not seen the bed in 28 for twenty-four hours, however, and that no blood was found in Room 29 on the day following Hamon's shooting.

Miss Ella Rissin, one of the proprietors of the hotel where Hamon was shot, testified that Clara Hamon occupied the room next to Hamon's part of the time, that Hamon her's, when she occupied it. On cross-examination Miss Rission said Mr. Hamon was called from the girl's room to answer a long distance call about 7 p.m.

CHURCH SERVICE AT MARK STREET

SYNOPSIS OF THE MORNING SERMON BY REV. G. E. ROSS.

Larger than usual were the congregations at Mark street, both morning and evening on Sabbath last. The male quartette was splendid. "Achan's Wedge of Gold" was the subject of the morning sermon by Rev. G. E. Ross, and was based on the passage found in Joshua, vii, 21, "When I saw among the spoils a goodly Babylonish garment and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, I coveted them and took them and they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent.' The following is a synopsis of the sermon:

True Citizenship Always Bows To Authority.

Achan was an Israelite of the tribe of Judah, who marched with Joshua to the siege of Jericho. Everything in that city was under a curse, and devoted to destruction. Achan was a soldier, whose duty it was to uphold the laws of his country and his God. But a wedge of gold, a mass of silver and a fine Babylonish garment were too much for Achin and his lust of spoil was the ruin of himself and family, and brought such a curse on all Israel that in the enterprise against Ai, Joshua and his army was defeated. The lesson here is very plain, it is this. Obedience is better than sacrifice. Achan's obedience to God and his submission to civil authority, were of far more value than his prowess or sacrifice on the field of battle. What an eternal pity to see a brave and worthy veteran, returning from the battlefield to be overcome by pride, lust, greed of gain, and contempt for God's laws and civil authority.

Haughy Presumption is Always a Weakness.

The cup of Canaan's iniquity was full. God had declared a war of extermination. The city of Jericho, with all its inhabitants, with the exception of Rahab and her family, was to be destroyed. No spoil was to be claimed by the soldiers. All this was very clear to the whole army. We cannot think that Achan was actuated by contempt of authority, his sin seems to be three-fold, nauely, avarice, covetousness and presumption. He covets the garment that he can never wear for it would brand him with infamy the moment he would put it on his person. The wrath of God, the sting of conscience, the contempt of honest men, must pierce the tinsel glory of that stolen garment, and his cheek as a soldier, must burn with shame for having disobeyed orders. There is a business lesson here. The man who covets and appropriates his neighbors' goods, position, home, happiness or peace of mind, takes what he never can restore and will call down sooner or later on himself and his family, the withering curse of God.

Sin Entered the Soul of Achan Through His Eye.

Achan does not envy, but he covets. He takes that which he covets and finds it a curse. Nothing which we covet can be a blessing, for we secure it contrary to the will of God. He saw the gold and silver and began to lust after them. To possess silver, gold, and a costly garment, under other circumstances would have brought no sin with them, but in the present situation, these things were cursed, and it was not in man's power to make them a blessing. Sometimes we gloss over our sins and try to make them look respectable, but God sees through the veneer. Notice that Achan sees, then he covets; after that he takes them; then he hides. There is the rising scale in this dirge of death; sees, covets, takes, hides confesses and dies. And all this pathetic tragedy is brought about by disobedience to law and established authority.

Achan Hides His Sin, But God and Conscience Finds It.

Notice, when Achan hid his sin, God came upon the scene. When God came upon the scene, Achan hid himself. God and conscience are the most effective policemen in human experience. God will penetrate to the very centre of the nation to find the culprit and conscience will blaze and burn a path to the hidden iniquity. Not only did God and Achan's conscience look upon this withering curse, but the whole army blushed and suffered. Ai was the next object of attack, and the men of Israel, who until now had been mighty victors, were scattered like chaff before the wind. What caused Israel's defeat? It was hidden iniquity in Israel's camp. Hidden sin in the camp of God's church will paralyze its usefulness. A case of whiskey for beverage purposes in a Methodist cellar will do more damage to the cause of God than a case of dynamite.

Achan's Stolen Goods in the Centre of Israel's Own Camp.

Remember, no power of the enemy could have defeated Israel with God in the van of the army. No power from without can injure the church of the living God. A short time ago a man admitted that he had tried to put a struggling church "on the rocks." But to-day that man skulks about an object of contempt. His presence is not desired even in the pool room. Decent men and women despise him, honest men feel that the sanctity of their homes would be safer with the wolf. And yet that local church never enjoyed such prosperity as she does at the present time. No, nothing can cripple the church, but sin in her own camp.

The Innocent Suffer With the Guilty.

It was impossible for Achan to bear all the punishment for his crime, his wife and children must share the infamy and the awful death. But this is an inexorable law. Every honor and success and distinction which we honestly win, we share the glory with those who love us; and our defeats and miseries and poverty, and sin and shame is likewise shared by those we love. The wife and innocent children of this culprit must endure their equal share of the punishment. To Achan, his honor and integrity were a holy charge. The honor of his country, its laws and his God was his to guard and to keep. The peace and health and safety and comfort of his wife and children were, or should have been, as sacred as his own soul. Let us beware then, of looking, coveting, taking and hiding that which God has cursed or tended with a curse.

SINN FEIN PLOT?

LONDON, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—The Daily Graphic this morning claims that a Sinn Fein plot is on foot "to import from the United States a large number of young men of Irish nationality, adepts in acts of violence." These gunmen, the newspaper declares, are expected here shortly, "elaborately disguised." But the British Secret Service, says the Daily Graphic, have adopted equally adequate precautions to trace them down. Certain members of the Cabinet and other prominent men have been marked by the expected visitors, according to the newspaer.

HAD AN ANNOYING HACKING COUGH

GOT NO REST AT NIGHT

Hacking coughs are wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and the bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that unless you get immediate relief the cough may become settled and serious lung trouble ensue.

There is no better remedy than Dr Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for relieving all kinds of coughs or colds, combining as it does the lung healing virtues of the pine trees with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing and healing expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Mrs. E. J. Ross, Penhold, Alta., writes "About three years ago I caught a very bad cold, accompanied with a sore throat and hoarseness. I was so hoarse that you could not hear me speak. I could get no rest at night with the terrible annoying hacking cough. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. I finally saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised so I got a bottle, and after using four of them my cough had all gone. Now I always keep it in the house."

"Dr. Wood's" is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark, price 35c and only 60c a bottle. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Toronto, Ont.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog, and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

"If a man die shall he live again?" was the subject discussed by the Rev. W. Harold Young, at the Sunday evening service. Mr. Young took his text from Job 14:14, where he asks the question, "If a man die shall he live again?"

This was the despairing cry of the patriarch. There was no element of hope in him. Out of the darkness that surrounded his life, out of the loss of things which had seemed to make life worth while, bitterness had come into his soul. The only way in which life could possibly be enjoyed was to start all over again —to have a second chance.

A Great Desire.

Whatever life may have meant to Job it has come to us down through the generations that this life may not be all. In the hour of bereavement and sorrow, we say, "Is this the end?" an assertion of a lingering hope and a great desire. In other words we ask, "Does Death End All?"

In trying to answer this question a good principle to follow is to take into consideration first the things that make men doubt the possibility of life after death. "We shall never be able to convince those who do not believe as we do," said Mr. Young, "unless we enter with some sympathy at least with their point of view."

Reasons for Doubt.

There are one or two things which seem to make it impossible for some people to believe in immortality. One of these is the increasing sense of a close connection between our spiritual, mental and soul life on the one hand and our spiritual and bodily on the other. People ask the question, how can mental, spiritual and thought life exist when the physical and bodily no longer does?

A second difficulty is one which is almost new in our generation—that of localizing any definite abode or place where these departed spirits go. This was not such a difficult problem in ancient days. Men thought of heaven lying just above the blue skies an din the very nethermost parts of the earth they located hell. Now, however, science has swept the earth and our whole physical universe has been changed.

Another very real difficulty which the blue skies in the very nether-what is involved in immortlity. The whole trend of thought to-day is that either in heaven or in hell every human soul finds a place—"If immortality at all, then immortality for all."

"A Larger Field."

"With these three points in mind," continued Mr. Young, "We may perhaps arisen is a new conception of people find it a very difficult matter to believe in life after death. Even though there are tens of thousands to whom these difficulties are haps better understand why some however there are certainly millions of people who face the facts squarely and see through them a larger faith in immortality."

Mr. Young then enumerated some of the reasons why we believe in immortality. In the first place immortality is unmistakably taught in the Bible. There are two things said about immortality is clearly, indubitably and we are given the great inspiring picture of one who tasted death and then came through to a newer and larger life—Jesus Christ. But the Bible does not stop there. Confidently and enthusiastically it holds out the pledge that what Christ did others can do. We are told that "We know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." Also, "For as in Adam all die even so in Christ shall all be made alive." We also have these promises in the very words of Jesus Christ, "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." Again, "In My Father's house are many mansions.....I go to prepare a place for you."

"Unmistakably this is the teaching and promises of the whole New Testament," said Mr. Young "To deny immortality is to deny the teachings of the Bible."

Demand for Justice.

In the second place immortality is one of the implications and necessities of this rational universe of ours. One demand of our universe is that justice shall be done. We have only to think of the persecutoin of such as Savanarola, Edith Carvell—Jesus Christ Himself—to realize that justice is oftentimes not meted out in this world. Therefore, a rational universe demands that there shall be some life where justice shall be done.

Another reason for belief in immortality is the conservation of values. In this rational universe in which we live, values are conserved. If we deny immortality, do we not deny the conservation of our supreme value—life itself.

"Another life is as inevitable and sure to be believed in," declared Mr. Young, "as that the sun will rise tomorrow."

God is Love.

There is still another foundation on which to place our faith—the universe is friendly, or in other words God is love. This is the very core and centre of our Christian faith. God does not look on men as mere automatons, but are children of His own heart. If God is love then there must be for those He loves a new life, an immortality where he will bring them into closer relationship with Himself.

"Is there a life after death?" Tested by the Bible, by a rational universe and by the love of God, the answer comes there can be nothing else," concluded Mr. Young.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—The week opened on the Stock Exchange with prices variably changed. Heavy speculative selling soon began, however, which forced some important issues to a parity with last week's lowest figures. The pressure was most pronounced against oils, steels, railroads, Baldwin and Sears Roebuck. Mexican Petroleum dropped 3, Pan-American 2, and General Asphalt 1 point. Crucible Steel fell 2, Sears Roebuck 1 3-4, Famous Players 1½, Baldwin and Union Pacific 1, and United States Steel, St. Paul, Reading, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio ½ to 3-4. Chicago North-West Preferred opened 2 3-4 higher, Kelly, Springfield, 1½, Utah Copper and Norfolk and Western 1 3-8, and American Canadian, American Smelting and Ray Copper ½ to 3-4. These gains were shaded when the weakness elsewhere became acute.

Oils rallied during the morning on reassuring advices. Mexican Petroleum recovering 2 1-2 points, and Pan-American 2 points The rebound was further sustained by short covering in Atlantic Gulf, Central Leather. American Tobacco, Studebaker, and Specialties, notably Stromberg Carburetor and Famous Players, common and preferred. These issues rose a point or more over last Saturday's final prices. Rails were dull but steady for the most part, although reports submitted over the week-end disclosed a further reduction of tonnage and earnings. Conditions in the money market were unaltered, call loans opening at 7 per cent.

The market suffered another sharp reaction at midday when liquidation of oils, shippings, steels, and specialties became more urgent, Crucible and Atlantic Gulf fell under last week's lower levels, and Virginia Caroline Chemical last 2 points.

The depression became more marked in the final hour, Atlantic Gulf, Reading, Baldwin and Tobacco and Motor specialties leading further re-action. The closing was weak.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, March 14 (Canadian Press).—Considerable strength developed in the wheat market to-day owing largely to the word of export buying at the seaboard. Scantiness of rural offerings tended also to lift the prices. The demand here, however, was confined almost altogether to shorts. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 3 cents higher, were followed by reactions from the initial top figures.

Corn reflected the action of the wheat. After opening unchanged to 5-8 higher, the market steadied with part of the extreme gain lost.

Oats were firmer with other cereals, starting 1-4 off to 1-8 advance, and hardening all around before beginning to react. Provisions showed weakness as a result of free selling on the part of commission houses.

Prices subsequently underwent a material set-back in the corn market when wheat turned down grade. The close was weak, with May 67 7-8 to 68.

Heavy selling on the part of leading longs ensued in wheat, and prices dropped rapidly. Industrial and financial conditions were regarded as main bearish factors. The market closed nervous. March 1.55 to 1.55¼, and May 1.46½ to 1.46 3-4.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, March 14 (Canadian Press).—Throughout this morning's session the local stock exchange was strong, practically all leaders holding their week-end gains. Abitibi retained its earlier advance, and closed for the morning at 42. Atlantic Sugar and Brazilian were both unchanged at 30 and 33 respectively. Brompton, however, sagged fractionally and closed at 36. Canada Steamships was slightly stronger at 30, notwithstanding the president's optimistic statement in London, which was expected to cause some activity in this issue. Laurentide maintained its half-point gain, and closed at 83 1-2. National Breweries was one of the most active stocks this morning, opening at 31, and firmly closing at 41 1-4.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 14 (Canadian Press).—A steady to strong tone was maintained throughout the morning's trading on the Toronto stock exchange, the sentiment being uninfluenced by the irregular and conflicting price movements on the New York exchange.

Fractional advances were made by practically all stocks traded in, the Winnipeg Railway proving one notable exception, declining 1 1-2 points to 40 1-2 Abitibi, Dominion Steel Corporation, and Brazilian all finished the morning with gains of half a point, while Canadian General Electric was extremely active, and closed at noon for a gain of 3-4. C.P.R., Cement, and Steel of Canada shared to a smaller extent in the general recovery.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, March 14.—(Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts heavy; trade strong. Heavy beef steers $10 to $11.50; choice butcher steers $9 to $10; butcher cows, medium, $5 to $7.50; calves $14 to $15.50; lambs $12 to $13.25; hogs, fed and watered, selects, $15.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 14. — Administration of the affairs of the bankrupt town of Transcona by a commission appointed by the Provincial Government is desired by the council, Ratepayers will support the Town Council when it goes before the Government to request the appointment, necessitated by the financial position of the corporation.

Council's action in recommending this move received the approval of the ratepayers Friday night at a mass meeting, when the town's situation was explained and the meeting informed that, although $560,000 is outstanding in taxes, the series of financial manoeuverings of the past five years has resulted in a crisis and that the town is now faced with a $285,000 debt at the year-end which it will be unable to meet.

Borrowed money was used in February to discharge a portion of the corporation's obligations while only $20,000 revenue is in sight by October 1 to meet accumulating debts of $139,000 in July.

Mayor A. R. Lyons presided at the meeting.

AXE FLEW BACK.

FENELON FALLS, March 14.—While splitting wood John Copp met with a painful accident when the axe caught a clothes line, flew backward, and inflicted a rather ugly wound on Mr. Copp's head. Several stitches were needed to close the gash.

LINDSAY'S WAR TROPHIES.

LINDSAY, March 14.—The War Department has allotted to this town six German machine guns, with 12 ammunition boxes, as war trophies. It has been suggested that they be placed at the six town schools.

MARRIED MEN IN UNIVERSITIES.

Quite Numerous at Oxford and Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., March 14 (Associated Press).—Married men have become quite numerous among the undergraduates of Cambridge and Oxford Universities since the war. Prior to that time they were practically unknown in the student bodies of those universities. Some of them bring their wives and children to the university towns to live. One of the proctors here who was unaware of this unusual situation, was so astonished recently when he saw an undergraduate pushing a carriage containing a baby that he demanded an explanation. The student told him that the child was his and that his wife was living in Cambridge Inquiry has since brought out the fact that there are a number of married men in the Cambridge University.

BIG LEAGUERS WARMING UP

BOSTON, March 14.— The hold-out situation, involving several of the Boston Red Sox players, is reported in despatches from the Hot Springs, Ark., training camp, as a cause of increased anxiety to Manager Duffy. Unless some of the delinquents appear for practice soon, it is said that H. H. Frazee, owner, will make a couple of wholesale trades.

The Boston manager believes that the owner of the club will make no further concessions in salaries and if the players will not accept the terms offered they may be shifted to minor league organizations.

Mitchell After Pitcher Miller.

BOSTON, March 14.— Manager Mitchell of the Boston Braves in an attempt to round out the pitching staff has renewed efforts to induce Frank Miller, former pitcher for the Pirates to join the Braves. Miller has declared that he is through with baseball and will stick to the farm, but Mitchell hopes to have him reconsider his decision. Infield and outfield candidates will arrive at the Braves training camp at Galveston Texas next week.

Ty Showing Them How.

DETROIT, Mich., March 14. — Lessons in base running are occupying a good part of the training sessions of the Detroit Americans at San Antonio, according to advices received here.

It's Spirit That Wins.

NEW YORK, March 14.—After the final game of the world's series last fall, John Heydler, president of the National League, said: "It's spirit that wins ball games."

In the army they call it morale.

But by any name the Cleveland Indians were full of it and it didn't blow away during the winter.

Tris Speaker is with his tripe in Dallas without a "hold out." He didn't have one. The world's champions all signed during the winter.

On the other hand four of the Brooklyn club's bulwarks—Grimes, Smith, Meyers and Wheat, captain of the club—are pressing their demands more for money by remaining away from the club.

Uncle Robbie, however, isn't the only manager with hold-out worries.

Pat Moran's whole Cincinnati infield is on a strike, George Gibson is without a pitching ace and two of Miller Huggins' promising yonng Yanks are missing.

Holding out is just a game of endurance with the spoils for the side that holds out longest.

The magnates this year say they are going to hold out till the well known cows come home.

Charley Ebbets says he'll trade his obstinate Robins and go through the season without them. Pat Moran says he has already filled the places of Groh, Roush, Kopf and the others with recruits.

Col. Til Huston says the Yanks can get along without "two gun" Collins and the languid Bob Meusel, and George Gibson claims the Pirates can go through the season without Cooper.

Honoring "Babe" Ruth.

NEW YORK, March 14.—"Babe" Ruth is being heaped with honors in Sherveport, La., where the New York Americans are spring training, it was reported. Ruth has been presented with a floral bat by high school students. He rides around in an automobile loaned by citizens and is not required to have a license. The usual license plate is replaced by a small sign inscribed: "Babe Ruth."

Inspecting White Sox Pitchers.

CHICAGO, March 14.—The pitching talent of the White Sox club will be lined up for inspection at the training quarters at Waxahachie, Texas, according to reports from there, and Manager Gleason expects to pass final judgment upon some, it is said. A heavy rainstorm yesterday delayed this feature of the White Sox training programme.

Tris Will Make No Change.

CLEVELAND, O., March 14. — Manager Tris Speaker was prepared to use practically the same batting order that won the American League pennant, in the first game of the season, scheduled with Dallas.

Peck is Satisfied.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 14. —After a day in which rain made cards and billiards the possible exercise, Manager Huggins was anxious to get his two teams of Yankees at play again to-day. Roger Peckinpaugh announced that while he had not signed a contract there were no differences between him and the club. Collins, Meusel and Baker are still missing.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE GRAND.

THE GIRL FROM NOWHERE.

Canadian playgoers have learned to know that the name of Mr. F. Stuart-Whyte attached to a musical comedy means tuneful music, clever, clean comedy, rich costumes, artistic scenic effects, in short a delightful evening's entertainment. "The Girl From Nowhere," which Mr. Stuart-Whyte presented at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening, proved that this confidence in the well known promoter, was not misplaced, for the production was one of the most enjoyable that he has given us, a lively concoction of music, fun and girls that was a treat alike to eye and ear.

Incidentally, it gave local theatregoers a chance to welcome back to the Stuart-Whyte fold that favourite Scotch comedian, Billy Oswald, a member of the Original Versatiles, who has been across the Atlantic for three or four years. Mr. Oswald proved as funny as ever and his work as Septimus Jones, detective, kept the audience convulsed whenever he was on the stage. Old friends, like Miss Zara Clinton and Mr. J. V. Barrett-Lennard, were warmly received. Miss Clinton, in the title role had her usual success in her song numbers, while the gowns she wore made the women in the audience gasp with envy, and the men breath a silent prayer of thanksgiving that they are not called upon to purchase anything so expensive. Mr. Barrett-Lennard, always one of the most successful of Mr. Stuart-Whyte's corps of entertainers has never had a part that suited him better than that of the Hon. Betrie Vivian in which his comedy methods were responsible for gales of laughter. Mr. R. Barrett-Lennard was a very effective juvenile his songs being among the features of the musical score while Mr. Warren Lawler acted a double role successfully and displayed a rich baritone to good advantage. Among others in the cast who scored were Miss Beatrice Carman, who sang delightfully, Miss Blanche Young, a clever solo dancer, and Miss Mona Warren, the pretty little Vancouver girl, who is well remembered for her charming work in "Babes in the Wood."

"The Girl From Nowhere" can be scored as among the most successful of the Stuart-Whyte productions and it is not necessary to say more.

AT THE GRAND TO-NIGHT
BIG DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAMME IN "PASSERS-BY"
And Harold Lloyd in "Number Three."

Qaint Characters Aid Plot of "Passers By."

"Passers By," the J. Stuart Blackton-Pathe feature starring Herbert Rawlinson and feautred to-day and Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Grand Theatre, is a real life drama of real people. Of course it has a plot, for it is the greatest work of C. Haddon Chambers—playwright, with nothing but successes to his credit, and that plot is tender and noble in theme, but primarily it is a study of types.

The story turns the searchlight on the characters, dispositions and philosophies of several people who pass by Peter Waverton's window one stormy night. He brings them into his home, entertains them, and invites them to come again. Out of this kindly keep comes the happiness that Waverton thought he had lost.

The special added feature with the above masterpiece is the world's greatest Comedian of the Screen, Harold Lloyd, in the third of his $100,000 contract pictures, "umber Please."

AT THE ALLEN.

"PROPS" HAD MAN'S JOB IN "KISMET."

Camels, Marshmallows, Baby Flea-Ridden Dogs, Large Negro and Butterflies Needed.

A clever property man is one of the greatest adjuncts to that army of men composing the staff which surrounds a director who is making an exceptional motion picture. Upon the property man falls the responsibility of being able to get anything that a director may wish to use in the making of his scenes.

Of course, in making society plays the task is comparatively simple to that of furnishing "props" for period plays. Since the beginning of the production of "Kismet," which was made for Robertson-Cole, with Otis Skinner as the star and which is to be seen at the Allen Theatre on Monday, Louis J. Gasnier, who is directing the production, has had his property men in hot water day and night in order to get the many unusual things that are required.

A caravan of camels and ten donkeys were ordered one afternoon. When Mr. Gasnier arived on the scene he looked the animals over and approved them. Then turning to the property man he took out a memorandum and handed it to him with the instructions that he wanted those "few little things in about a week."

"Yes sir, you'll have them,' responded "Props" before he looked at the list. Then walking off by himself he read: "15 lanky dogs covered with fleas; 21 more donkeys, 100 goats and half a dozen more camels." So it started.

"Prop's" eyes grew large.

"One three-weeks old Turkish baby and mother, 14 prayer rugs, one seven foot negro, one ten pound box of marshmallows, six large butterflies and two small butterflies, and an ancient Turkish razor in working condition," it ended.

No wonder "Props" looked a little uneasy. He had a hard time getting the camels. Where in the name of heaven he was to get a half dozen more he did not know. A three-weeks-old Turkish baby; that was another problem, to say nothing of the butterflies. Suddenly an idea struck him and out of the studio he rushed.

Mr. Gasnier, looking after him smilingly remarked, "If I sent that man for the moon he would get it."

AT THE REGENT.

CHAMBERS' SOCIETY NOVEL IS SCREENED ON A LAVISH SCALE.

Popular Players Appear in Big Paramount Artcraft Film, "The Fighting Chance."

Lavish costumes, pretty ladies and luxurious surroundings are characteristics of "The Fighting Chance," the big motion picture version of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel, which will be on view at the Regent Theatre for three days, commencing to-day.

New York society, both in the city and vacationing in the country, forms the background for the story, which centres around Stephen Siward, young descendant of a long line of alcoholic ancestors, and pretty Sylvia Landis, who constantly fears that her love for the unconventional will involve her into scandal, or worse. The two agree to unite in their battles against their weaker natures, and the result is a highly interesting series of dramatic events, which finally ends happily.

"The Fighting Chance" is a Paramount Artcraft picture and the cast includes Anna Q. Nillsson, Conrad Nagel, Dorothy Davenport (Mrs. Wallace Reid), Maude Wayne, and Bertram Grassby. Charles Maigne directed.

AT THE EMPIRE.

"The Daughter Pays," a novel that created a sensation on two continents when it was first published, forms the plot of Elaine Hammerstein's latest Selznick picture, which is announced as the principal attraction at the Empire Theatre to-day.

The adaptation of Mrs. Bailie Reynolds' story provides Miss Hammerstein with a role that allows full play for her remarkable capabilities as an emotional artiste. As the daughter who give herself up to a loveless marriage in order to wipe out an ancient debt of her mother's, Miss Hammerstein is said to present a characterization that will immediately enlist the sympathies of the observer.

The Selznick forces have given the production a presentation which for lavish splendor and artistic settings is said not to be surpassed by any other production dealing with a modern theme.

ALLAN CUP TO BE PLAYED WINNIPEG

Application to have them take Place in Brandon, set Aside by the Court.

WINNIPEG, March 14. — The Allan Cup game will be played in Winnipeg. Mr. Justice Curran has disallowed application from Brandon for an injunction restraining officials from allocating the games to this city.

The application sets forth that it was desirous on the part of the Brandon Hockey Club to have a decision rendered by the executive of the C.A.H.A. as to when and where the games should be played. It was claimed that the time and place had been set by President Sterling who was exceeding his authority in so doing.

J. Symington, K .C., counsel for President Sterling, argued that the president was within his rights, and that any action that might be taken by the court would be futile, as other officials could and would order the games to be played as already arranged.

Rules of the Canadian Hockey Association were quoted and discussed at great length. Mr. Justice Curran expressed the opinion that it would be unwise for the court to interfere in this matter. He considers that the plaintiffs failed to come within the law in the case as presented and it was plain that they had no standing on which to apply to the premier association.

RACING MARE COMES TO PETERBOROUGH.

Mr. John Goheen, of this city, has purchased from Mr. Samuel Palmer, of Port Hope, his pacing mare, "Birdie Wilks," also the buggy and harness.

"SHAG" SAYS M'GILL WILL BEAT BLUE AND WHITE

TORONTO, March 14.—Standing between University of Toronto and a trip to the West to play for the Allan Cup is the McGill University team, but the local fans believe that the "Shagmen" will prove only a good team to work out against. They have reason for their belief, because in the intercolleigate senior series the Blue and White outscored the Montreal students by 16 to 4 on the round—9 to 3 at Montreal and 7 to 1 here. According to these figures, to-morrow night's game at the Arena will be another rout, but Frank Shaughnessy, who seldom guesses wrongly, has stated that his team is a lot better than Toronto fans believe, and that they will beat the locals.

There is, of course, keen rivalry between the University sextets, and whenever McGill meet the Queen's Parkers they always attract a capacity crowd. In the last game here McGill were a beaten team before they started, as they had played five games in less than a week, and were on the verge of exhaustion. They were very slow skaters on that occasion, and in only two departments—stick-handling and combination play—did they compare with the locals.

PETERBORO AFTER THE CHAMPIONSHIP

"Y" BASKETBALL TEAM LOST TO TORONTO BY SMALL MARGIN.

Peterboro "Y" played Toronto Central "Y" Saturday night in the Queen City in the semi-finals for the intermediate championship of the O.A.BA., and although defeated 27 to 24 the local team look for a victory in the home game here on the smaller floor. The Peterboro line-up was C. Seely, T. Pogue, forwards, C. Stewart, centre, O. A. De Graw, R Poguc, defence, A. Darling and F. Jobbitt, subs. At half time Toronto led 19 to 6 but in the last period the Petes scored 18 baskets to Toronto 8. On Saturday night the return game will be played at nine o'clock at the "Y". Ross Dobbin will likely referee. Preceding this game Toronto, "Business Men" who are invading Peterboro the same day will meet the local "Business Men" in a volleyball and basket-ball game starting at 3.30. A big night's sport is assured the basket-ball fans Saturday night.

The winners of the round will play the victors of the Hamilton-St Kit's game last Saturday night for the Ontario intermediate championship.

COLLEGIANS WON IN FINAL GAME WITH SOO TEAM

NORTHERN TEAM WAS OUTCLASSED—A ONE-SIDED GAME.

TORONTO, March 14.—Last season when the Sudbury Wolves defeated the Gramites, only to be beaten in the series against University of Toronto in overtime it was contended that the N.O.H.A. champions were the best team in the East, and that only exhaustion resulted in their failure, but the Blue and White got another chance at the Northern titleholders on Saturday and they established beyond a shadow of doubt that they are their masters. The score was 13 to 3 for the game and 18 to 5 on the round. These figures tell the tale and they show quite accurately the difference between the teams. The so-called Grayhounds are streaking it back to the Soo thoroughly whipped and convinced that the O. H. A. champions will go West in an attempt to lift the Allan cup.

It is a long time since a U. of T. team meted out such a decisive defeat to an opponent. In every position except right wing, where "Bill" Cook made a gallant attempt to get his teammates going, the locals had it over the men of the North like the proverbial tent. At centre Carson roamed at will, and neither the fleet-footed Desjardins nor the hard-checking Phillips could keep track of him. Eight times Carson sagged the twine behind Walsh and he probably would have run his score total into double figures had he tried very hard. It was a wonderful exhibition even by the man who is regarded as the best centre player in the O.H.A. and it alone was worth the price of admission.

Makes Pitiable Showing.

Although the local players showed sensational form, but this could only be expected when the Soo forwards except Walsh were playing like a lot of wooden men, the defense was woefully weak, and Walsh was giving a vaudeville attraction imitating a sieve. And the man who above all was expected to stand to his guns fell down with a loud thud, the echo of which almost reached the Soo, "Babe' Donnelly, 227th Battalion and Edmonton Eskimo star was the worst player on the ice.

To Donnelly's failure is attributed much of the blame for the avalanche and no less than nine of the goals were scored by the men he should have stopped.

Carson got around him almost every time he tried that side and Wright Brown and Westman made him look ridiculous. Donnelly did not play the man at any time, trusting solely to a poke-check, and poke-checking the puck away from men like Carson, Wright and Brown is no simple task. But Donnelly was not the only Soo player who was below form and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he has plenty of company.

Making It Sure.

When the teams retired after having scored eight goals in twenty minutes they left behind them ample reason for the fans to express their amazement during the intermission and these same fans began to wonder where the slaughter would end. In the first seven minutes of the next period they got their answer, for in that short, eventful space of time the locals scored no less than five goals and the humiliation of the visitors was complete. There was no further scoring in the period nor in the twelve minutes of the last dash. Carson, Wright and Olsen scored in the order named.

U. of T.—Goal, Langtry; defence, Ramsay and Brown; centre Carson; right wing, Wright and Westman; left wing, Sullivan and Olsen.

Referee—Cooper Smeaton.

BENNY KAUFF NO GOOD TO THE GIANTS UNLESS ACQUITTED OF CHARGES

NEW YORK, March 14.—Acting on the suggestion of Baseball Commissioner Landis, Beny Kauff of the Giants returned to this city to-day from Chicago, instead of reporting back to the training camp of the Giants at San Antonio, Texas.

Commissioner Landis and Francis X. McQuade, Treasurer of the Giants, discussed the Kauff stolen automobile indictment over the long-distance telephone, after which Mr. McQuade ordered Kauff to return to New York.

Treasurer McQuade said yesterday that Kauff would be of no earthly use to the Giants unless acquitted of the charges set forth in his indictment. Kauff, it is understood, will ask his attorney, Emil Fuchs, to have his case placed on the preferred calendar in the General Sessions Court in order that he may obtain a speedy trial. He is charged with having bought a stolen motor car.

WINDSOR, March 14. — "Pussyfoot" Johnson, the noted prohibition speaker, will not be permitted to make a speech on April 14 in the Windsor Armouries. Lieut.-Col. S. C. Robinson, of the 21st Regiment, who must authorize all permits for the use of the Armouries here, has informed the Referendum Committee, under whose auspices Mr. Johnson was to speak, that he will not give a permit.

"The Referendum Committee is welcome to use the Armouries for meetings as it has in the past, but I will not countenance bringing foreign agitators from the United States to Canada," Lieut.-Col. Robinson said. "We have trouble enough without them.

"England did not want Johnson, and Canada does not want him. Canadian or English speakers will be welcome."

SYRUP-MAKING STARTS FORTNIGHT AHEAD OF TIME.

INGERSOLL, March 14.—Syrup-making is in progress in a number of the outlying districts, the season opening nearly two weeks earlier than usual. A small quantity of syrup has already been sold in the district at $4 per gallon, according to reports, but this is not taken to indicate the standard price. With the drop in the price of other commodities as compared with previous seasons, it is expected syrup will also be cheaper.

REVIVAL — CHURCH OF GOD MISSION.

At the Mission yesterday afternoon, Rev. George P. Tasker gave a very interesting and inspiring address on 'India,' and the progress of Missions in that country.

Mr. Tasker is a firm believer in the transforming power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in every one who believes. He spoke highly of the good work being accomplished in India through the various missionary societies, including the Presbyterian, Anglican and Methodist denominations.

Describing the worship of some of the gods of India, Mr. Tasker said: "How can those who worship gods vile in character, so vile in fact, that if any man were to do those things attributed to the god no decent society on earth would tolerate him, how can the devotees of such gods attain to high moral character, inasmuch as their very worship degrades?" Mr. Tasker also spoke of at the mission in the evening. He leaves to-day to visit friends in other parts of Ontario.

Evangelist Campbell, because of the solicitations of friends has decided to continue meetings at the mission every night for the balance of the week. Everybody welcome.

IN MEMORIAM

SQUIRE—In memory of Mrs. Jas. Squire, who died March 13th., 1920.

Years may come and spring's sweet flowers,
Will bloom on hill and plain,
But never in this world of ours
Will grandma return again.

Inserted by her two grandchildren,
Blanche and Victor Flannery.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Jas. Squire, who passed away on March 15th, 1920:

One year has passed to-day,
Since our darling mother went away,
Yet it seems like yesterday,
We miss her more and more each day.

Up there on the sunny hill top,
That slopes to east and west,
With a beautiful view in the distance
We have laid her away to rest.

To rest till the bright glad morning,
Of the resurrection day
When body and soul are united
And death shall no more have sway.

With her beautiful hands, so toil-worn,
Safe folded across her breast,
Methinks when the Master sees them
He shall grant her the promised rest.

But the home place seems strangely silent,
And we enter with lagging feet,
For the light that cheered all within it,
Has gone out—we no more shall meet.

With her bright glad smile of welcome,
Standing there by the open door;
And many a time she has waited,
For us in the days of yore.

Oh, heart, that was true and steadfast,
To the living and the dead;
In many a grief have we gone to her,
And we always were comforted.

With us in the hapy glad times,
With us, when our hearts were sad,
A tower of strength to the troubled,
Rejoicing with those who were glad.

So thus did her life flow onward,
Just doing from day to day,
The duty that lay the nearest,
Treading the narrow way.

Till at last in the joyous springtime
Her tired and weary feet,
Have climbed up the hill to heaven,
And entered the golden street,

Inserted by Mrs. T. Flannery.

$33,852.79 IS ON HAND FOR BRIDGE

ESTIMATES FOR FIRST TWO MONTHS OF YEAR WERE EXCEEDED BY ABOUT $5,000, STATEMENT SHOWS.

NO DEFINITE ACTION

The Council's Special Bridge committee met last night and discussed various matters regarding the Hunter street bridge, but the question under fire mostly, failed to develop any definite action. Most of the discussion was of a cursory nature.

The monthly statement of City Treasurer Adams was presented and delved into by the committee. The balance on hand now to complete the structure was shown as $33,852.79, while since Feb. 28, $2,046.18 has been expended.

In going over the expenditures the committee discovered that their estimates for work during the last two months had been exceeded by some five thousand dollars. City Treasurer Frank Adams stated that he did not know where the difference lay.

"I don't think we can make head or tail of it without a full explanation," said Mayor McIntyre.

Ald. Hamilton explained that he had not requested Mr. Townsend and Mr. Christie to attend this meeting in time for them to reach here from Toronto.

Where the Explanation?

"Have we not had an explanation from the office lately?" inquired Ald. Jones.

"Yes, we had one the first of the month," replied Ald. Hamilton.

"Is the same office staff on yet?" asked Ald. Crowe, reverting to a matter of seeming interest to him.

"Yes," replied Chairman Ald. Hamilton.

"Have you any suggestions, or will the contractors listen to any suggestions you might make?" continued Ald. Crowe.

Ald. Hamilton replied that at present he could not see that any of the staff, except possibly the office boy, could be dispensed with, and the committee had not insisted on reducing the office staff any further.

Work is Needed.

On the grounds that there were laborers who needed work, Ald. Jones felt that Frank Hickey could be released. The chairman explained that he was only receiving laborer's pay, and although he felt they were going beyond their bounds in interfering with Mr. Townsend's gang, he was willing to abide by the committee's action.

Ald. Jones refused to put a motion in this regard, and the matter was dropped.

Mr. Ellis' Damages.

Mr. R. R. Hall, representing James E. Ellis had written the committee in regard to a settlement with Mr. Ellis for alleged damages to his mattress business on Hunter street east by the construction of the bridge, and Mr. Hall waited on the committee last night. He pointed out that the city could recompense Mr. Ellis in two ways: either by paying damages or by buying the property, and Mr. Hall asked the committee upon which basis they preferred the Ellis proposition settled.

Ald. Hamilton replied that the committee had nothing to do with buying the property, and could only consider damages.

In presenting this damage claim,

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC CHANGES ARE NOT CONFIRMED

TORONTO, March 15—Rumors are current that the changes to take place in the Board of Management of the Canadian Electric Company, Ltd., will include the transference of Mr. A. E. Dyment, Vice-President of the company, to the position of President, while the Hon. Frederick Nichols, President and General Manager, will become Chairman of the board.

The name of Mr. J. J. Ashworth, Secretary and Assistant General Manager, has been mentioned for the post of General Manager.

Senator Nichols, when asked for confirmation of these anticipated changes, said that no statement could be given out in advance of the annual general meeting of the company, to be held next Monday.

After Travel Says He Would Not Exchange Canada for Any Land

"CANADA IS THE PLACE FOR THE WORKINGMAN", DECLARES WILLIAM SAXBY, RETURNED FROM SIX WEEKS' TRIP OVERSEAS AFTER AN ABSENCE OF THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS.

UNEMPLOYMENT RAMPANT IN ENGLAND

Mr. William Saxby, 352 Smith street, has just lately returned from a nine weeks trip to England after an absence of 38 years, with the firm conviction that he would not exchange Canada for any other country as a place of residence, and with the reiterated assertion that "Canada is the place for a workingman."

In company with Mr. T. C. Ephgrave, Mr. Saxby made the trip over on the "Empress of France," a boat of 18,000 tons, and returned on a smaller vessel, the "Empress of Britain," the trip on both occasions taking a little under a week. The travelling was done via the C.P.R., and Mr. Saxby reports excellent service, and acommodation, his only criticism being a comparison of a meal on the train which cost him $2.20, while the same meal of four courses was furinshed in an English dining car for 4s. 3d.

Mr. Saxby was ill for four days on the trip across, during which time a discussion arose as to whether he was not the longest resident in Canada of any of the visitors to the Old Land. On being able to testify for himself, however, it was discovered that a resident of Moose Jaw, Mr. Bennett, had been absent from England six months longer than Mr. Saxby, coming to Canada 38½ years ago.

Pleasant Visits.

Mr. Saxby found his mother, a lady of 86, still hale and hearty and sound of sight and hearing, and spent much pleasant time in visiting her, a brother at Plymouth, one brother in Banbury, a sister in Sunderland, one at Hampton Court, two sisters and a brother in London, and many old friends and acquaintances —including a short stay with Mr. Ephgraves parents at Waltham Abbey.

Mr. Saxby's brother, who is connected with the London-Scottish Insuarnce Co., has offices in Cornhill, near the London Branch of the Dominion Bank, where Mr. T. F. Rhind, formerly accountant with the local branch, is now stationed, and whom Mr. Saxby took pleasure in favoring with a surprise visit.

A Romantic Village.

Mr. Saxby's mother is still living in the village of Stowe, in Buckinghamshire, where the family have resided for 200 years, and is still in the same house where she came as a bride, 66 years ago. This is the village made romantic by the love of the Master of Kinloss for the daughter and grand daughter of a village blacksmith, Miss Jackman. The young lady, now at college, is to be married in July, to her aristocratic suitor, who has now taken up residence some miles away from his ancestral home. His mother, the Baroness of Kinloss, the eldest daughter of the late Duke of Buckingham, who is said to have impoverished his estate in his efforts to propertly entertain the late Queen Victoria, and the Prince Consort, has also been a hostess to royalty, the present Queen and the Princess Mary having dined off gold plate in the wonderful dining room 75 feet long, in the house at Stowe. Mr. Saxby has some fine pictures of this immense place, built by Lord Cobham 200 years ago, with its many marble pillars and collonnades, its 3-mile avenue, and its interior, rich with statuary paintings and wonderful tapestries. These will all shortly be sold by auction; everything is being catalogued at the present time, and an effort is being made by the Baroness to dispose of the entire estate as it stands.

Industrial Conditions.

With regard to industrial conditions in England, Mr Saxby remarked that the factories and shops were very slack, and the only boom is in building in connection with the Government housing scheme, the housing situation being exceptionally acute there just now. One locality is putting up 3,000 houses at a contract price of £32,000,000, let to Sir John Aird and Sons, of London, and, from an elevation, Mr. Saxby on one ocasion counted 20 derricks in use in erecting office buildings, in London, the derricks, according to the English fashion, first being stationed on the top of the framework, before building operations are started.

Much Employment.

There are 1,400,000 of unemployed now in England, and some municipalities are instituting civic improvement programmes to relieve the situation to a certain extent. The government grant to the unemployed paid for 26 weeks, is now 18s per week for male and 15s weekly for female workers. The colliers, who work on a sliding scale, are drawing anywhere from £8 to £12 per week; the wage of an ordinary working man is about £4 weekly and that of the ordinary agricultural laborer about 46s for a week of 44 hours. The class that appears to be experiencing the greatest stress is the middle strata, the teachers and municipal employees on a stated salary, but Mr. Saxby saw little scarcity of food, remarking that meat three times a day still seems to be the general rule.

High Taxation.

England remains the highest taxed country in the world at present, her population paying more per capita than that of Germany, the income tax alone now being 7s 6d on the £, but Mr. Saxby saw very little active support of the reactionary movement, and was impressed with the general belief in the omnipotence of Mr. Lloyd George and his ability to "find a way."

England, like Canada, has just passed through an exceptional winter, it being considered there the warmest and the driest in 70 years, and when Mr. Saxby left for home on Feb. 26th, the lawns had already been mowed and the fruit trees were in bloom.

DISCOUNT ON CANADIAN DOLLAR ..... 12 5-8 CTS.

PREPARING FOR TAKING THE CENSUS

JOSEPH MILLS WILL HAVE CHARGE OF ENUMERATION IN THIS DISTRICT, WITH ABOUT 30 MEN UNDER HIM.

TO BE MOST THOROUGH

Mr. Joseph Mills has been officially notified of his appointment as Census Commissioner for the Federal district of West Peterborough. To Mr. Mills and his organization lies the duty of determining how many persons old and young alike live in this district.

This census he is advised, is to be made more thoroughly than heretofore. He will have under him 18 or 20 men in the city and 13 or 15 in the rural parts. Each man will be allotted a district containing in the neighborhood of fourteen or fifteen hundred population in the city and seven to eight hundred in the country. These sub-divisions will be determined from the present census figures.

Start in June.

The taking of the census will be commenced on June 1 simultaneously over the whole Dominion and today Mr. Mills estimated that the work would occupy two weeks.

Mr. Mills particularly desires to impress upon those who will be called upon in the course of the door-to-door enumeration that they answer the questions of the enumerators fully and clearly, and he stated that information so received would not be divulged.

Returned men will be given the preference by Mr. Mills in selecting his enumerators. He stated that he expected no difficulty in securing the needed men. It is understood that they will be paid one cent per name and it is estimated they will accordingly make very fair pay.

The Last Census.

The late Robert Leary conducted the local census taking of 1911. Mr. Mills had an extensive service overseas. He was attached to the 2nd Battalion, "Ironsides" as quartermaster, but was recalled to command the 93rd Battalion, a post he did not accept, as he felt that in the position also offered him of inspector of supplies and transport, his overseas experience would be more valuable. He filled the latter position with unqualified success until conscripiton came in force and the former enlistment system disorganized.

MAGISTRATE IS STILL INDISPOSED

PASSED A RESTLESS NIGHT AS RESULT OF FALL.

As a result of the heavy fall suffered by Magistrate D. W. Dumble yesterday morning, he is confined to his bed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. H. D'Oiley Reid, 607 Stewart street, and to-day was is considerable pain. The Examiner was informed that he passed a rather restless night but as no bones are broken his physician hopes for a complete recovery with a few weeks' rest. His left shoulder was painfully bruised in the fall and he received a shaking up dangerous to one of his years. This is the first time in some years that the dean of the bar in Peterborough has been confined to his bed. Justice of the Peace H. Rush presided in his stead at police court to-day.

SALVATION ARMY SELF-DENIAL CAMPAIGN.

Work of Teams to Complete the Canvas Will Be Continued To-day.

The response to the appeal to assist the local branch of the Salvation Army is holding up its end in the Dominion-wide Self-Denial Campangn, especially in Peterborough were very general and satisfactory. The completion of the canvas and collection will be carried on to-day, the several teams giving valuable assistance.

Reports from factories and stores are as yet only partially made, and many are yet to come in. In order to complete the work as speedily as possible, it is asked that the detail as noted above will have prompt attention, and so facilitate the work of the committee.

Several of the teams promise to close up their work to-day. All cards which have been issued and which are outstanding will be called for to complete the records. Again the request is made that factories and stores be prompt in completing lists.

RED TROOPS GROW HARD TO CONTROL

FIGHT FOR POSSESSION OF KRONSTADT FORTRESS INTENSE—APPARENTLY TO BE LONG ONE.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT

STOCKHOLM, March 15. — (Canadian Press.) — The Russian Bolshevik authorities seem to be losing upon to make.
said in despatches received here from Finland and Esthonia. These messages for the most part confused and unreadable, were pouring into this city yesterday and last night.

The artillery fire from the Kronstadt fortress was directed yesterday along the Sbuthern coast of the Gulf of Finland between Oranienbaum and Petrograd. The Bolshevik artillerymen in Krasnoya Gorka shelled and destroyed the lighthouse at Tollbaaken of Kronstadt.

An arrival from Kranstadt interviewed on Sunday night emphatically denied the Bolshevik reports that some of the Kronstadt forts had been captured by the Soviets. He said that the revolutionary leadership was wholly in the hands of the laborers and he declared that the fight for the fortress would be a long one.

AUSTRIA ASKS $50,000,000

WITH WHICH TO IMPORT FOOD —OFFERS RAILWAY CONTROL AS SECURITY.

LONDON, March 15.—(Canadian Press.)— At a conference held in Downing street yesterday which was attended in addition to experts by the British, French and Italian Ministers at Vienna and the French Ambassador in Loudon, Austrian representatives asked for a loan of fifty million dollars with which to import food. The Austrians offered as security, Allied control of the State railways and of the salt and tobacco monopolies, on which they said the Austrian government was already making profits. They suggested also the creation of new monopolies for alcohol and sugar.

DESCRIBE SLAYER OF TORONTO MAN

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF CECIL SABINE IS CONTINUED.

TORONTO, March 15.—(Canadian Press)—At the inquest into the death of Cecil Sabine, Manning Avenue druggist, slain by hold-up men in his store a week ago Saturday night, evidence was given last night that the murderer was a man between 20 and 25 years of age, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in height, of dark complexion, thin features, and wearing a dark gray overcoat. This was the description furnished by Sabine, before he died to detectives.

The landlady of William McFadden, charged with the murder, testified that McFadden had a large revolver.

Sabine's clerk, William H. Stokes, was in the dispensary at the rear of the store making up a prescription at the time of the murder. He heard a scuffling of feet in the front of the store and looking through the peak hole in the partition saw a man standing by the cash register with a white handkerchief hanging over the lower part of his face. A moment later he heard someone say "Cut it out", and then make an exit. When he entered the main store he found Sabine lying on his back in the passage to the dispensary. Sabine, who seemed quite conscious, remarked, "They have shot me."

The inquest was adjourned until to-night.

ORGANIZATION COMPLETED THIS MORNING AND TO-MORROW AMENDMENTS TO INSURANCE ACT WILL BE CONSIDERED.

PENSIONS NEXT ITEM

OTTAWA, March 15.—(Canadian Press.)— The special committee of the House on pensions, insurance and re-establishment will work this year along the same lines as last, taking up the different phases of its work separately and covering each as far as possible at the one time. This was decided at this morning's initial meeting of the committee. Hume Cronyn, London, is again the chairman, and sub-committees were named for the different branches of the committee work, similar to those of last year. The committee decided to ask those who give evidence to place a synopsis of their case in writing to avoid duplication.

The G.W.V.A., G.A.U.V. and other veterans' organizations will be heard and amendments to acts respecting returned soldiers and their re-establishment will be placed before the committee by the administering departments for discussion and approval. To-morrow morning the committee will deal with insurance, considering amendments to the Act proposed by the superintendent of insurance. Pensions will then be discussed and the committee will next deal with general re-establishment.

WILLIAM JUBB'S VISIT TO TORONTO SEER RESULTED IN MARY STOKES' VISIT TO COURT.

TORONTO, March 15.—(Special to the Examiner).—William Jubb's visit to Mary Stokes, a gypsy and fortune teller, resulted in Mary facing Magistrate Jones on a charge of theft. Jubb, who hails from Peterboro, informed the court that he visited Mary's establishment to get a glimpse into the future. The fortune told, he said the lady asked for his loose change. The change she juggled in her hands, he said, and then she gave it back to him. This act was followed by request for his loose bills. The bills she also juggled with and then she wanted all his money She toyed with the cash and on getting it back, Jubb found a $10 bill missing. He then called the police.

Mary, attired in her native robes denied the complainant's story. She was remanded on the understanding that she leave town for Saskatchewan, where, Mary says, she is going on a farm.

SPLIT INFINITIVE NOW ENDORSED.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Authors who have been criticized for the use of the split infinitive have now taken heart, for an excellent example of it appeared in a letter written on White House stationery and signed by Warren G. Harding, President of the United States.

The letter was addressed to Admiral Benson, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, and contained the words "to immediately advise."

To fully appreciate the joy given to the defenders of the split infinitive it was necessary to actually be among them. No great joy was expressed by the advocates of phonetic spelling when the late President Roosevelt endorsed it.

FAIR RENTS COURT BILL BROUGHT IN

HON. WALTER ROLLO INTRODUCED PROMISED BILL IN LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY—COUNTY POLICE BILL IS UP.

RURAL POWER IS NEXT.

TORONTO, March 15.— (Canadian Press.)—The Minister of Labor, Hon. W. R. Rollo, introduced in the Legislature yesterday his promised bill for the establishment of fair rent courts. Its purpose is to prevent profiteering and to provide reasonable rental rates. It will not be in effect where municipal councils do not make it so by passing a by-law. Only dwellings shall be affected by it for which the rental exceeds $100 a month in cities of over 200,000 and over $60 in smaller cities.

Hotel rooms and boarding houses are the only dweiiing quarters not affected by it. The Act allows landlords an increase of ten per cent. over what they received on Jan. 1, 1919 and an additional ten per cent or less for any structural improvements other than ordinary repairs. Assumption by the tenant of liabilities formerly borne by the landlord shall be regarded as increased rent, but the increase due to the landlord taking over certain liabilities is allowable. The Act is retroactive to October 8, 1920. Disputes arising shall be referred to a county or district court judge for final decision.

The Attorney-General's bill for the appointment of a commissioner of police and chief officer in every county was read the second time.

Another bill of the Attorney-General read a second time provides for the appointment of police magistrates on the understanding that they shall not engage in any other profession.

Premier Drury said that it was the intention of the government to bring down legislation based on the report of the committee of the Legislature appointed to consider means for more uniform rates for and more equitable distribution of Hydro-Electric power. He thought the $2 rental suggested by the committee was too large. There would, however, be some rental, and it would be for the House to decide what it would be.

PROBABILITIES.

Partly fair and mild, occasional showers.

HAS ENTIRE GIRL DETECTIVE STAFF

LONDON, March 15.—What is probably the only official women's detective force in the country has been established in Lancashire by the chief constable of the county police, and has proved a great success. A girl Detective Inspector is in charge of the department, and she and her assistants work in collaboration with men on every crime that is reported. Even the most important cases are handled by girl detectives.

Although girls have been employed on detective work in other parts of the country, Lancashire is the only place where women are specially trained for the work. The girls are paid at the same rate as the men on the detective staff and they go through the same training, except they do not do any drill.

The officers are anxious that there should be a good number of entries.

DEVELOPING RESOURCES MOTION OUT

MOTION URGING DEVELOPMENT OF CANADA'S NATURAL RESOURCES DEFEATED BY GOVERNMENT.

MUCH DISCUSSION

OTTAWA, March 15. — Canadian Press.) — The House spent Monday more listless perhaps than usual, in a discussion of natural resources. Captain Manion of Fort William and Rainy River brought the topic before the House last session and again it was Captain Manion who introduced the subject. He had a motion urging the advisability of the government bringing forward a policy "having for its object the development of the natural resources of Canada." He emphasized the importance of Canada's undeveloped resources from iron ores to the possibility of the reindeer industry in the wilderness of the north.

"A pound of action," he explained, "is worth a ton of oratory." While not binding himself to any particular course he suggested as a possible means of deevlopment tariff protection to encourage Iron ore production, assistance to and cooperation with private corporations, and a thorough investigation into the entire situation.

Naturally western men held the floor for a great part of the day. Dr. Cowan, speaking from the government benches, declared that the young men of the west were calling for industrial expansion. "All the Klondykes of the north have not yet been discovered," said Dr. Thompson of the Yukon. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge ,argued that development was being retarded by the present uncertainty in control over the western natural resources. Irrigation was a great necessity for the arid and semi-arid belts of Alberta and Saskatchewan. "Development of the natural resources," declared Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, expressing the Liberal views, "should be the A. B. C. of any government."

Captain Manion's motion was put to the House. Captain Manion is a Government member, but the 'Yeas' to his motion came from the Liberals, and the 'Nays' from the government and the motion was declared lost with an actual division of the House .

BODIES OF WORKMEN ARE STILL IN MINE

DUQUOIN, Ill., March 14.—Robert M. Medill, State Director of Mines and Minerals, is expected to arrive here from Sprngfield, to investigate conditions at the Union Colliery Mines at Dowell, which has been sealed since the night of the fatal fire there on February 23. The bodies of seven men who were caught when the fire broke out are still in the mine and it is likely an effort will be made to recover them this week, if it is safe for rescue men to enter the mine.

TESTIFIES TO GIRL'S GUILT

ERRET DUNLAP DECLARES CLARA SMITH SHOT HAMON ACCORDING TO HAMON'S STATEMENT

PAID TO LEAVE TOWN

ARDMORE, Okla., March 15. — Clara Hamon on trial charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, shot the former Oklahoma Republican National Committeeman, while he was lying on the bed in his room, Erret Dunlap testified Hamon had told him two days after the shooting. Dunlap was a former business associate of Hamon.

"He told me he went over to his room late in the evening, threw off his coat and vest and lay down on the bed for a rest," Dunlap testified.

Dunlap quoted Hamon as having said: "I had been there only a short time when I heard Clara come in. She laid her left hand on my head, and I felt her right on my shoulder, when she shot me."

"Of course I have been looking for this," Dunlap quoted Hamon as saying. The reply was objected to and sustained.

"He said he did not have a chance to protect himself; that she walked up to the front of the bed and shot him," Dunlap further quoted Hamon. Mr. Dunlap was asked if he had made any report to the county attorney or the sheriff, and he said he had not.

He admitted that he had had two or three conferences with the prosecution, but denied he had stated he had "taken charge of the prosecution."

Dunlap said that he was not present when Clara Hamon was furnished $5,000 with which to leave town.

Mr. Dunlap said he had not asked the county attorney to dismiss the case, stating there was "nothing in it." He said he had asked that a statutory charged filed at the same time against Hamon and Clara, be dismissed.

Ketch, now administrator of the Hamon estate, testified that under Jake Hamon's instructions, he had drawn $5,000 from his personal account, given it to Clara Hamon on the day following Hamon's shooting in the hotel suite he occupied with the young woman, and had told her to leave Ardmore and remain away.

ARREST MAN, WATCHER AT FATAL SPOT

GUARD AT OPEN MAN-HOLE THROUGH WHICH CHILD FELL TO DEATH CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

MONTREAL, March 15.—Thomas Lyng, of 150 Prince street, the watchman alleged to have been employed by the city to watch the manhole through which Lilly Manning of 170 Versailles street, fell and was drowned, was arrested charged with manslaughter this morning. He was taken to the cells at the court house and will be arraigned this afternoon.

On Saturday, Lyng appeared at detective headquarters before Chief of Detectives Lepage. After hearing the explanation of the watchman the chief allowed him his liberty provided he reported to him this morning. Since that time it is alleged that Detectives Beauchamp and Bogil have discovered two witnesses who state that the watchman was on the sidewalk at the time the accident occurred. Lyng, when he reported was placed under arrest.

It is reported that one reason for the manhole being left unprotected was that the barrel grating which normally protected the manhole, and at the same time permitted the dumping of snow into the sewer, had been broken by a waggon backing on to it just previous to the tragedy, and that a fence to protect the opening was being brought at the moment the child stepped into the unguarded hole from behind the passing street car

Body Not Found.

No trace of the child's body had yet been found, although the fourth day since the tragedy is now drawing to a close, and continual and careful search has been made by a diver and a number of civic employees.

The fatal accident occurred as Mrs. Manning and her two daughters, Lily and a younger girl, were crossing St. James street to catch an eastbound car shortly before four o'clock on Thursday afternoon last. Lily Manning was walking slightly behind her mother, when she tripped, and Mrs. Manning, saw her double up, and drop headfirst down the gaping mouth of a manhole of a sewer which drains this part of the city. Attempts were made by various by-standers to find the child but proved fruitless. The city has done much to search the sewers, and the services of a diver have been enlisted, but without avail.

According to the accounts of a witness of the tragedy and the mother of the unfortunate girl, there was no protection around the open manhole at the time of the tragedy and no one was in the vicinity to warn them of the danger of falling into it

KENTUCKY MOB LYNCHES NEGRO

LEXINGTON, Ky., Mahch 15.—Anarmed and masked mob of about forty men forced an entrance to the County Jail at Versailles this morning, got Woodford James, a negro, accused of the murder of two men, and hanged him to a tree.

The mob arrived in Versailles in motor cars with the license tags missing and lights off. Members of the gang went about the town to order people off the streets. Jailer John Edger was called out on pretense of receiving a prisoner. He was held by members of the mob who took his keys and went to James's cell, where the doomed man was found under a mattress.

Fighting desperately, James was dragged out and knocked on the head with a club. The blow stunned him. He was then placed in an automobile, in which he was taken a mile from Versailles and lynched.

SENSATION IS PREDICTED IN STILLMAN CASE

REPORTED STILLMAN LIKELY TO SEEK COMPROMISE ARRANGEMENT.

MAY DROP SUIT

NEW YORK, March 15.— Fresh developments in the divorce action instituted by James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank, against the former Fifi Potter, in which a French-Canadian guide is named as co-respondent, are said to be so sensational as to probably cause Mr. Stillman to drop his suit. Mrs. Stillman is said to be anxious to amend her answer to include the names of several women, and to make assertions which her friends believe, may cause Mr. Stillman's attorneys to seek a compromise arrangement which will prevent the charges and counter-charges from becoming public property.

John E. Mack, of Poughkeepsie, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, the twenty-six months old child, who has become a central figure in the divorce action, says that he is pre-

DID WE DO IT-ARE WE DOING IT?

Thousands of Delighted Shoppers Say Yes!

Once more Mr. Chesler has demonstrated that when he says a thing he means it. He said the Bargains at the Big Sale of the Elliot Stock would be so wonderful that they would very quickly wipe out the Big $40,000.00 STOCK OF FURNISHINGS and the WALK-EASY BOOTS & SHOES FOR MEN, BOYS, WOMEN, MISSES and CHILDREN. Every minute since the Store opened on Saturday Morning the crowd has thronged every foot of space, and showed their appreciation of the bargains by gathering up all they could carry away.

We haven't a minute to mention prices. We are too busy laying out goods and marking down the prices to keep the people satisfied. If you haven't been in the store for your share of the good things, make a special trip up town as quick as you can. We are after empty shelves by Saturday. You will certainly help us get them when you see our prices, away down to half or third of the value.

GOOD-BYE "REVOLVER."

Actuated probably by the outbreak of gun play in various parts of Canada, the Ontario censor of moving picture advertising has decreed that all revolvers depicted in movie picters must be painted out, or the posters themselves destroyed. The censor doubtless fears that there is an incitement to crime in such displays, and his edict is intended as a protection for the easily influenced young man who might be inspired by such pictures to embark upon a career as a footpad. It is presumed that revolvers will be eliminated from the moving picture films as well. There would be little use in forbidding the showing the revolvers on a poster or still photo in the lobby of a theatre if inside it would be possible to see firearms used in a film. And if the revolver is to go what is to become of the never-smiling "Bill' Hart and other famous gunmen of the celluloid drama? However, if the new order results in a slackening of the number of cases of violent crime there will be no objection from the public, although doubtless many people are frankly sceptical of the theory that moving picture posters have much to do with the wave of robberies and hold-ups.

KEEP THEM OUT.

The commitee in charge of the Referendum campaign will be very badly advised if they attempt to use the platform ability of either Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin or "Pussyfoot" Johnston on behalf of the cause for which they are in the field. The presence of Rev. Mr. Spracklin on a platform in the interests of the Referendum would detract from rather than add to the strength of the temperance policy and it would be a serious mistake in tactics to call upon the preacher inspector for any prominent part in the campaign.

Nor is there any necessity for bringing the famous Mr. Johnston into the fight. The people of Ontario are quite capable of forming their own conclusions in regard to the referendum and have no desire to have an outsider attempt to interfere with their decision. Mr. Johnston's presence was not appreciated in England or Scotland either, and there is very likely to be a general opinion in this province that he can find sufficent work for his peculiar talents in the land of which he is a citizen, without finding it necessary to cross the border and tell Ontario people what he considers to be their duty. There is plenty of debating strength at the disposal of the Referendum committee, and even free traders will not object to a high protective tariff against the importation of orators who are not citizens of Canada and who know of its problems only by hearsay.

NO DRAMATIC ACTION.

Judging by the letter received by T. J. Hannigan, secretary of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association, from Premier Drury, the Government "is not thinking of taking any drastic action such as is suggested in this report," i.e., the recommendation from the Special Power Committee of the Legislature that a tax of $2 per horse power be imposed on urban power users. This announcement will be hailed with satisfaction by the municipalities who were preparing to send a deputation to wait upon the government and enter a vigorous protest aaginst the proposal, which was regarded as most detrimental to the success of the Hydro enterprise. Their satisfaction will, however, not be shared by the Farmers' Sun, which is not overlooking an opportunity of showing its hostility for the Hydro scheme and endeavouring to stir up rural sentiment against Sir Adam Beck and his plans. Apparently the government has determined to ignore the anti-Hydro section of the U.F.O. and to regard the interests of the whole province as of more importance than the welfare of one part of the population. Any other course would have placed the U.F.O.-Labour administration in an almost untenable position, and the Premier's announcement indicates that that fact has been recognized by the government.

A PIONEER PRODUCER.

Second only to the organization known as Trans-Canada Theatres Limited as a factor in keeping before Canadain playgoers a British atmosphere in connection with stage productions is Mr. F. Stuart-Whyte, for whose efforts in that direction the people of the Dominion have much to be thankful. Mr. Stuart-Whyte it was who first dispelled the idea that in order for a musical comedy to be successful it was necessary that the cast and production should be imported from the United States. Bringing out from England some seven years ago a little party of entertainers, the Versatiles, Mr. Stuart-Whyte realized the possibilities offered by the Canadian field, and he proceeded to organize a musical comedy and pantomime company, built around the original Versatiles, which has continued to entertain and delight theatre-goers from one end of the Dominion to the other. Pantomines such as "Aladdin," "Cinderella," "Red Riding Hood," "Robinson Crusoe" and Babes in the Wood," rivals of the old favourites, "Floradora," "San Toy" and "The Geisha," and his last success, "The Girl From Nowhere" have been effectively presented, and Canadian talent has unhesitatingly been called upon to assist the British artists in the company. For his pioneer work in this connection the producer deserves the hearty thanks of all Canadian patrons of the theatre, and he has also earned commendation because of his recognition of the fact that a musical comedy can be amusing without being vulgar, that horseplay is not necessarily a factor in a successful production and that the average playgoer prefers a clean, wholesome performance to a programme in which the thin ice limit is reached. He has put musical comedy on a high plane in Canada and it is pleasing to know that his efforts have not been unappreciated or unsupported.

THE CASE OF THE GARFIELDS.

Saddening as is the predicament of the Garfield brothers, it must be a matter of satisfaction to the public that there is no room for doubt that justice has been done. By their own admission they are the men who attempted the robbery of Ben Johnston's store on the night when Mr. Johnston was killed. By their own admission they came here from London, armed with two loaded revolvers, with the intention of robbery. They have had a fair trial. Crown Attorney Ball discharged a duty that was obviously painful to him, with moderation and a due regard for justice. Mr. Nesbitt did what he could, under the circumstances of extreme difficulty in presenting their cases to the jury in the most favourable light possible. Mr. Justice Kelly was not merely fair—that goes without saying—but patient and considerate. He gave the prisoners and their counsel every opportunity to make the defence as strong as possible. There is not the slightest ground for fear that there has been any miscarriage of justice, and that is something for which to be truly thankful.

Naturally there will be some measure of sympathy for the young men who had made such a tragedy of their lives. The sympathy was properly excluded at the trial; but now that the trial is over human nature will assert itself. A large measure of sympathy is due the mother and innocent relatives of the men. It is part of the tragedy of such cases that the innocent must suffer; but for that there seems to be no remedy. And while we are showing our sympathy with wrong-doers who have come to grief, let us not forget their victims. Let us not forget Ben Johnston, and those who are left to mourn for him. They have the first claim on our sympathy.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

If the Varsity team brings back the Allan Cup there will be a feeling among hockey fans that the Provincial University deserves all the financial support the province can afford to give.

There is talk of the Dominion House being prorogued until next autumn. At that the Federal members would probably be back in time to wind up their business simultaneously with the Ontario Legislature, judging by the speed at which the latter body is moving.

When it comes to Hon. W. E. Raney most people are neutral. They don't care which party in the Legislature takes a fling at the Attorney-General.

BURY ALIVE INDIAN DOWN WITH SMALLPOX.

REDDING, Cal., March 14. — Charges that William Taylor, an Indian afflicted with smallpox, was buried alive on Hat Creek two weeks ago, have been presented to the District Attorney for investigation.

The allegation was made by Chief Samson Grant of the Hat Creek Indians, who stated that he received his information from his daughter, Mrs. Lela Rhodes.

Mrs. Rhodes, who is vouched for by the local Indian Agent, wrote to her father that two Indians buried Taylor after nightfall. Before they took the coffin to the grave, the letter said, they heard Taylor kicking, but were afraid to open the box, fearing the wrath of the Health Officer.

LOVE!

By KATHERINE MOORE

AN ANNIVERSARY

Chapter 2

"You're a brick, little woman! Steak, sweet potatoes, um!" Leonard lifted the cover of another dish. "Oh boy!" he exclaimed again and the lines of professional worry and strain seemed to fade and leave him ten years younger.

"I had to wait—tonight," I said in response to his solicitude for my hunger. "No, I'm not tired either."

So at the belated hour of 10 o'clock, after frustrated plans for a big anniversary celebration in New York City, Leonard and I sat down to the cosiest and jolliest little wedding dinner ever.

"Do you remember—?" Leonard would ask looking at me eagerly across the table, and then we would vie with each other in recalling details of those memorable days four years ago.

"This beats any hotel restaurant," ejaculated Leonard as he helped himself a third time to sweet potatoes.

Then while I removed the dishes from the table, Leonard kindled a fire in the big cobble-stone fireplace in the library.

"Sit down Noreen, dear," he said, giving me the large wingback chair by the fire place. "I'll give you a brief summing up of the new case as far as I have been able to peruse it. It is a suit for legal disunion or separation on the part of a Mrs. O. J. Darwood against her husband. It seems Darwood only married her eight months ago and is running wild already. He is out in Seattle now with some woman. Mrs. Darwood is a dependent little soul and it seems tough on the woman. Why is it so often the luck of a woman like that to draw a beast of a husband?"

"Why doesn't she divorce him?"

"That's what I can't make out. It may be religion, but I can't decide whether she is still in love with him or not. I don't see how she could be if what I have found out so far is straight. There's where you can help me." Leonard settled back in his chair with the aspect of an artist getting a perspective.

"I?" I parried innocently, knowing full well what he wanted.

"Yes. How would you feel if you were in Mrs. Darwood's place?"

"Different women see things so differently. They are not as fundamentally alike as men. I—well, I think I would divorce him."

"Why?"

"Because I would wish to be done with him entirely."

"You would not care to prevent him from marrying again?"

"I would have no feelings about that."

Leonard continued to cross examine me. "Wouldn't more money one way or the other matter to you?"

"No, I still think from your inference as to the man's character that I would gladly divorce him."

Leonard hesitated musingly.

"Yes, that is what I would figure. There seems to be an ulterior motive. Yet the woman seems so child-like and simple in her trouble that I was quite touched by her story."

Leonard went on to explain to me how Mrs. Darwood had met her husband on the steamer coming from Bermuda, and two weeks afterward they had married. She knew at the time that his secretary was traveling with him but had thought nothing of it. Darwood's trip had been one of business and required a great deal of writing. Now she had discovered that his so-called secretary was with him in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwood had planned a pleasure trip together to the coast and a few days before time to go they had quarrelled. Darwood had gone on supposedly alone, without explanations and without trying to patch up their misunderstanding. She had apprehended something wrong. Friends out West had corroborated her fearful suppositions. She had written to him, but he even ignored her letters.

I watched Leonard as he laid the case before me. It was the intricacy of the thing that fascinated him—the charm of his profession which he was always absorbed in. It was that which had given him no hesitancy in calling off the celebration we had planned for the evening. The fact gave me no feeling of jealousy, for I knew that without that element of material ambition no man could remain manly. But I could not help though wondering to myself whether I could think Mrs. Darwood so childlike and simple.

CLOTHING NOVELTIES.

Through the large interest in ready-to-wear garments of a sport character, the specialty clothing houses are finding it easier to introduce their novelties as well as to sell their accustomed lines. The manufacturers of separate coats, the trouser makers and houses handling dress accessories are busier, perhaps, at the present time than the trade at large. This is ascribed, as stated, to the influence of sports wear, and the variety of garments now offered to men and which they are accepting.

DECLARE DEATH OF SEX-APPEAL MOVIE PICTURES.

Salacious Productions Must Leave the Screen—General Producers and Distributors Move in Right Direction.

During the last few years in almost every state of the Union there has sprung into existence an aggressive demand for censorship of the motion pictures. Many states and cities have created censorship boards. The movement has already reached such a point as to threaten the existence of the pictures art and industry.

A few weeks ago I submitted the entire situation to the general public through a magazine of enormous circulation, The Pictorial Review, in an article entitled, "Too Much Sex Stuff in the Movees? Whose Fault is it?" In that article I stated plainly that the screen was burdened with subtly salacious sex pictures and declared my belief that the industry was incurring the wrath of thoughtful men and women.

The theatre owner was not to blame. The public flocks to the theatres showing spicy plays and gives meagre attendance to the house showing clean plays. The box office "tells the story," and the exhibitor had to get into line with sex-appeal pictures or go out of business

I stated that the majority of picture makers and theatre owners are clean men desirous of building their business on the solid rock foundation of "family trade" and that if the public rallied to their support the salacious play would pass out of existence as quickly as the war play died after the signing of the armistice.

The daily newspapers throughout the country published liberal extracts from the article and literally thousands of news articles and editorials were printed. A tremendous agitation followed with the result that public opinoin expressed itself, first, as opposed to unclean plays, and second, as anxious to cooperate with the film interests to make the screen safe for the growing generation.

Results have followed with such startling rapidity that to-day it is possible to announce that the greatest reform ever known in the history of entertainment is now in actual operation.

Not only have the motion picture people "cleaned house" but their action has the co-operation of the vaudeville interests and the music publishers.

No slow, tedious, cumbersome, un-American censorship accomplished these results. The men in these industries, aided by the press and the public, accomplished in a few weeks constructive results that would never have been possible through censorship.

Take Vigorous Action.

In New York at a meeting in Delmonico's, a committee representing all producers and distributors except three, banded together and adopted resolutions which will make it impossible for exhibitors to show their productions where such exhibitors show salacious pictures. All service will be withdrawn to such exhibitors.

Adolph Zukor, presedent of the Famous Players-Lasky Company was selected to lead the industry. Mr. Zukor said: "o far we have been successful in putting all picture menaces properly before the various legislative bodies, but all this will do no good unless we make pictures eliminating entirely salacious elements."

Clean pictures were the keynote of various addresses by Hugo Reisenfeld, Jesse Lasky, Edward F. Albee, John Emmerson and others.

Clean Pictures.

In Los Angeles, the most largely attended meeting of the Motion Picture Directors' Association of America was addressed by W. W. Hodkinson, the well known distributor. Mr. Hodkinson told the directors that the total volume of theatre business is now about eight hundred million dollars a year and that it would increase to a billion and a half dollars the first year of clean pictures. When mothers and fathers can permit their children to go to the theatres freely the box office will double its business.

Samuel Goldyn issued instructions to his Culver City Studio as follows:

"No pictures showing sex attraction in any suggestive or improper manner shall be produced, and there must be no salaciousness in photoplay titles and advertising matter.

"No picture shall be produced which makes drunkenness or gambling attractive and stories dealing with the underworld shall not be presented unless such scenes are merely a part of a conflict between right and wrong. Nothing is to be pictured which might instruct in the methods of committing crime.

"No incident in a story shall needlessly offend the holders of a religious belief."

HEADACHES

Make Life Miserable

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom if ever free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains; sometimes in one part and sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is proof enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Lanain, Owen Sound, Ont., writes "My system was out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another and am glad to say that it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy.

ON THE SCRAP HEAP

MONTREAL, March 14.—The merging reorganization of Nova Scotia Steel and other companies goes on apace, accompanied by the throwing on the scrap heap of a number of fallen and one-time financial stars. Only "the sound stuff remains as the basis of a reconstructed outfit, with propect of ultimate profit But the process is a rather painful one.

ACTRESS CLAIMED FRENCH THRONE.

Just about a century ago a woman caused a furore in France by claiming to be the daughter of Philip, Duke of Orleans, and by insisting that Louis Philippe, then upon the throne, was the son of a jailer, who had been substituted for her at her birth.

This woman, best known in history by the name of Maria Stella, was born in a small Italian town in 1773. The man whom she regarded as a father, until he confessed upon his death-bed that she was not his child, was Lorenzo Chippiani, who had charge of the jail in the village.

She went on the stage while she was still but a child, and quickly attracted the attention of Lord Newborough, an eldery widower. She said that he was utterly repulsive to her, but that her parents compelled her to marry him. Maria Stella was only 13 years old when she was married.

She maintained that the Duke of Orleans and his wife were in Italy when the Duchess gave birth to a daughter. She said that at the same time the wife of Chippiani had a son. The Duke was so eager to have a male heir that he induced Chippiani to exchange the babies.

It was a strange and piquing mystery, and it caused a tremendous sensation in France and Italy. An Italian court upheld her claim, but she could never win any recognition in France, and she died in Paris, poor and almost forgotten, in 1943.

BEAUTIFY CEMETERIES.

French Government Will Assist in Task.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The French Government has undertaken to assist in the enlargement and beautifying of the American military cemeteries of Belleau Wood and Romagne-sous-Montfaucon, the State Department was advised by the American Embassy at Paris.

The French Ministry of War will assume the expense of the purchase and improvement of the property necessary for the American Marine Corps monument.

CONDITIONS ARE SOUND IN THE BRITISH ISLES.

Major-Gen. Stewart Says Unemployment Situation Well Handled.

Major-General J. W. Stewart C.B., C.M.G., who organized and commanded the Canadian Railway Troops, and was Consulting Engineer to the British armies in France, is in Montreal, for two days rangements have been recently concluded between the Government of the Gold Coast and Stewart and Welch, Vancouver for the construction of a large harbor on the West coast of Africa—a tribute to Canadian enginering skill and progress which has aroused a pardonable note of pride in the newspapers of the Dominion. General Stewart returned from a visit to England in February.

The General expresses the opinion, that conditions in the Old Country were sound. Unemployment had reached the million mark, it was true, but no signs of acute poverty were manifest. Even though, as some believed, still more people would be thrown out of work by the present phase of depression, he thought that the steps taken by the British Government to prevent distress would be effectual As far as unemployment was concerned the British Government had handled an exceedingly difficult problekm with great tact and resource.

It was wrong to suppose that there was any real discontent in England. Agitators existed. They exist everywhere. But they could hope for no success in a country where justice to labor was tempered with generosity. The usual wage of the factory worker was 12 shillings a day, and this represented considerably more than $3 a day in Canada. Nor did the educated classes wish to see it reduced. They considered that a certain standard of comfort was due to, and could now be enjoyed by the employed, and only a very considerable deflation of the currency would justify a reduction in wages.

"Rumors are frequent of the approaching fall of the Coalition. Do you think that this is likely to occur?" he was asked

For the Premier.

"As long as Bonar Law is loyal to Lloyd George (and he has shown no signs of deserting him) the Government is safe. Bonar Law has the confidence of the Conservative party, and where he goes they will go. Talk of General Elections is mostly newspaper strategy, and can not be trusted. But yet if there were an election to-morrow, I believe that Lloyd George would be returned again with a large majority.

The Allied move in occupying more German territory was regarded by General Stewart as a proper step. Germany, said he, was commonly supposed to be bluffing. That she could really pay was not believed to be in doubt by most people. Great Britain and France had not framed their demands without a careful investigation of German conditions, and it was futile to accuse them of inconsiderate action. The real explanation of Germany's attitude was not her inability, but her unwillingness to pay. The German people had not yet awakened to the fact that they were a beaten nation, and they would admit no moral responsibility. Recourse to arms was the last step, just as the law was the last recourse KEEPS TABS OF STARS.

The utility of the Blink miscroscope as a means of detecting the proper motion of the stars is absolute. In comparing photographic plates taken by this means at an interval of twenty-five years the smallest proper motion that can be detected is 1¼ seconds for the interval, or five seconds per century. According to Innes, there are about three such stars over each square degree on an average, or 120,000 in the entire sky. It is estimated that the number of stars with sensible proper motion will increase with the square of the time interval considered. Accordingly, when plates taken at a century's interval are available, it should be possible to detect the proper motions of some two million separate stars.

WATER DISTILLATION IN THE DESERT.

In the big desert of Chile there is a considerable amount of brackish water, but no water that either human beings or stock can drink. Science, however, has come to the aid of this rainless section of the country in the form of an ingenious desert waterworks, consisting of a series of frames containing 20,000 square feet of glass. The panes of glass are arranged in the shape of a V, and under each pane is a shallow pan containing brackish water. The heat of the sun evaporates the water which condenses upon the sloping glass, and made pure by this operation, it runs down in little channels at the bottom of the V and is carried away into the main channel. Nearly 1,000 gallons of fresh water is collected daily by this means.

PORT HOPE FACTORY CUTS WAGES SLIGHTLY

Port Hope, March 11.—There is a big reduction in the price of files, therefore the management of the Nicholson File Works here finds it imperative that they cut wages in all departments from 8 to 15 per cent. CONDEMNS THE M'ADOO AWARD TO RAILWAYMEN

OTTAWA, March 15.—(Canadian Press.)—That the McAdoo award to railway men was one of the most iniquitous piece of legislation ever foisted on the United States was asserted by Hon. F. B. Carvell, K.C., chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, addressing members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon here yesterday.

Mr. Carvell said that the award was never based upon business or sound economics, but simply to get votes and even in that it failed. To it the chairman of the Railway Commission attributed most of the ills which the railways of Canada were suffering at the present time, and so long as it obtained, Mr. Carvell did not hold out any hope of reduction in rates either on freight or passenger traffic. Mr. Carvell made it clear that the scale of wages in the schedule was a fair one in his judgment, but the whole trouble lay in the working conditions by which it was possible for workers, or many of them, to draw twice the amount scheduled and in many instances more than that.

pared to fight to the finish to establish the legitimacy of the boy as the son and heir of Mr. Stillman. Stillman, in his complaint, not only asks for an absolute divorce, naming Fred Beauvais, a half breed guide, but asserts that he (Stillman) is not the father of Guy.

Mr. Stillman's complaint declares that the actions he alleges took place in Camp Stillman, near Three Rivers, Quebec. Beauvais, according to the complaint, was called "Apollo Belvidere" by Mrs. Stillman. The guide is described as 26 years old, tall, strong and handsome, of rather good education.

According to Chief of Police Poth of Tarrytown, Beauvais has been at the Stillman estate near Tarrytown. "He is the kind of fellow that you couldn't forget in a lifetime if you once saw him," says Poth. "He is a big, tall, strapping man, standing well above six feet and weighing 200 pounds. His black hair is straight as Indian's and his eyes are just as dark."

Fred Beauvais, the half-breed Indian guide, was known to many New Yorkers who were followers of the life of the woods.

Beauvais for a time had charge of the fishing tackle department of Abercrombie & Fitch, a house specializing in sporting goods and promoting among the well-to-do the spirit of "the call of the wild.' He had charge of the exhibition of Indian moccasins, beadwork, blankets, snowshoes and the like maintained by the store.

Beauvais was employed at the store on the recommendation of Mrs. Stillman, who was a highly considered customer, it was explained there to-day. She brought him to the atention of the management in May, 1918, and he was put in charge of the fishing tackle department. Though he lacked general knowledge of fine tackle and made some mistakes in recommending rods and lines and flies which were outside the range of his localized experience, Fred Beauvais was found of value to the store because of his pleasing personality and his stories of life in the woods and the lures used by the half breeds in taking game.

The extraordinary nature of the case was emphasized in an interview which reporters had with Surrogate Gleason in Poughkeepsie.

"Isn't it unusual that an action should be brought at this late date after the child is two years and four months old?" he was asked.

"This is the most unusual action that has ever come under my observation?" he replied.

BRITISH SCHEMES FOR ESTABLISHING STATE SOCIALISM COMING TO GRIEF

TELEPHONE AS BANKRUPT AS TELEGRAPH — HOUSING HAS FAILED AND LLOYD GEORGE ADMITS THAT BRITISH ARE MOST HIGHLY-TAXED PEOPLE IN THE WORLD.

LONDON (by mail).—The one most hopeful sign in Great Britain, in the midst of an almost universal depression, is that there has been a sudden and violent slump in politicalism and state control.

The opening of Parliament is interesting nobody. Neither does the expectation of a general election.

Politicalism, as it existed in the Gladstone period, is gone. No one cares. "A plague on both your houses," says the man in the street.

Practically nobody is proud of the present government. It is not even proud of itself. It remains in power merely because the opposition has not yet organised its plans and chosen its leaders.

Nearly all its high-buying schemes for establishing state socialism have come to grief. The telephone is now as bankrupt as the telegraph. The housing scheme has failed utterly. The Education Act was so expensive that it is being cut down.

The jute manufacturers have just notified the Government that unless it stops interfering with wages, they will close every jute mill in Dundee.

In the wool, coal, and sugar trades the Government has just been exposed as the chief cause of stagnation and high prices.

As for the railroads, they have recently learned that the market value of a Government promise is even less than they feared. The report of the Colwyn Committee practically repudiates the Government's promise to keep the railroads in repair.

The railroads claimed $600,000,000 counting $4.00 to the pound sterling. Lloyd-George appointed a committee of members of Parliament; and this committee now pleads that the Government made a bad bargain, and should not be held to it.

The poor railroads suddenly find that they have been playing the part of little Red Riding Hood. They find that the Government is not a kind grandmother, but a wolf in grandmother's clothing.

This repudiation has been the sensation of the week. It is not final, as the report of the Colwyn Committee is, after all, a mere opinion, put out for a purpose by a packed jury. But it emphasises the untrustworthiness of the Government.

As Lord Middleton says, "The mirage of a new heaven and a new earth is gone." The general conviction is that, not only has politicalism been a failure, but it has become the chief cause of our industrial and financial troubles.

The Anti-Waste Campaign is spreading like a prairie fire. It includes all sorts and conditions of people, but on the whole more Lords than labourers.

A remarkable book, by an unknown author — "The Mirrors of Downing Street"—is now in its ninth edition and has had a profound effect upon the British middle class. It describes Lloyd-George as a man who has been spoiled by power—who has lost his chance to be a statesman, and who has dwindled into a mere political acrobat. The book has stirred England deeply.

Extravagance Awful.

The awful extravagance of the Government—this, too, is now being realised more keenly, now that the depression has slowed business down and given men time to think.

It is being noticed that the British people, ho are only 45,000,000, are being taxed very nearly as much as the American people, who are 110,000,000.

Even Lloyd-George, in a moment of absent-minded eloquence, has said that "we are the most highly-taxed nation in the world."

The annual reports of the joint stock companies are now being made public; and it is being noticed that their profits are mere petty cash when compared with the monstrous expenditures of the Government.

Take, for instance, the most profitable company in Great Britain—the Imperial Tobacco. Last year it broke all its records and made $25,000,000 prots. Well, this would only keep the Government going for a day and a half!

Take the six next largest companies and their profits:

British Amer. Tobacco	$20,000,000
Shell	19,000,000
Burmah	18,000,000
Coats	16,000,000
De Beers	15,000,000
Guinness	15,000,000

These six companies made a total profit of $103,000,000 — just about enough to run the present Government for one week!

The profits of Lever Bros. in 1920 would be swallowed up in a single afternoon. The Cunard profits would run out of the treasury in about three hours; and as for the Hudson Bay Company—the oldest firm in England—its $2,000,000 of profits would pay the bills of the Government for about 60 minutes.

Such astounding facts as these are slowly being comprehended; and they will eventually put an end to the irresponsible politicalism that has made them possible.

THE HOME CIRCLE

Early plowing this fall, it is said, will lesson next year the damage done by cut worms, army worms, grasshoppers, and other insects. Most of the insects which did damage in the country this year began their work last fall when they went into the ground to pass the winter. The eggs were laid in soil which was protected by stubble, weeds or sod

Farmers who raise chiefly small grains can secure a more uniform distribution of labor by planting a larger quantity of winter rye. Less labor will then be required during the spring planting season, and the rye will be ready for harvesting earlier than the crops sown in the spring

If you like your town, say so. If you don't keep still and try to improve whatever does not suit you. Remember that when you start knocking the town in which you live, you are also talking against yourself, your family, and your business. If other places seem more desirable than your own home town, it is only because they are at such a distance that you cannot perceive their imperfections. You are living right now in the best town on earth. Tell people about it.

Certain laundries are now getting a large trade through the fact that they guarantee to replace all buttons which have been lost and mend all clothes which have been torn in the process of laundering. We imagine that the lost buttons and torn clothes are few and far between compared with what they used to be before this practice was started. If they are not then the average laundry is adopting this practice should include in its equipment about ten sewing machines and seamstresses.

It has been said that a town can be judged by its schools, for the schools reflect the spirit of the town. When well-equipped, well-patronized schools are found, the people of the community are wide awake and up-to-date.

If we wish to impress visitors and attract them to our town we must keep up the schools. Another year of school life has been entered upon, and it is the duty of all citizens, whether parents of school children or not, to take an interest and know what is happening inside the school house.

One thing, however, should be avoided. Unfair, indiscriminate criticism, will harm a school more than anything else. Conscientious teachers and members of the school board have a right to claim the hearty cooperation of all parties, and the interest taken by the citizens of the town should not be destructive, but constructive, tending to aid to the utmost those engaged to teach our children to become wise and good citizens.

If the housewife in the small town ever feels discontented with her lot, she should by all means go to the city on washday and see all the trials her sisters living there must go through. And even after all the trouble and exertion, city clothes are not as clean as country clothes. They can't be, for there they hang on the roofs exposed to the soot from neighboring chimneys and the dust and smoke of passing trains and street cars. Or they hang in back yards so small that in the country we would call them grass plots, and the clothes lines are woven back and forth so close together that the clothes have only about an inch to blow in the breeze. Let the country housewife think of these things and be content.

There is an aesthetic side to the good roads movement that is of no little importance. What is drearier, what is more depressing than to drive along a country road deep with mud and furrowed by ruts, the water standing in pools in the road and not in the ditches as it would be if the roads were properly built.

The man who is always seeking personal gain will never be rich in friends or respect.

The husband who honestly tries to be kind and gentle to his wife and seeks to please and cheer her up, does not come into the house with muddy shoes and does not lean his head back against the wall; and his wife wouldn't stand such conduct, unless she was as untidy as her husband.

Thousands are teaching when they ought to be taught; thousands believe themselves wise when their ignorance is lamentable; thousands believe themselves clothed in gold when they are only thinly plated and the copper shows through in many places. The wisest are comparatively ignorant and thousands of men who have grand ideas of their own abilities will some day wake up to the realization that they have been laboring under a large mistake.

3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt

Sift well together
½ package Sun-Maid seeded raisins

Tender Gums —A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

JAPANESE ARE ALWAYS HUNGRY.

Rarely Eat at Home, and Have Taken to Meats.

TOKIO.—The Japanese are a hungry race. They rarely eat at home if access can be had to the restaurants, which are consequently usually full at meal hours. Tokio and all the larger cities are amply accommodated by innumerable restaurants, capable of pleasing every palate and pocket. There are at least 20,000 of these in the mtropolitan area alone, hardly any two of which are quite alike. Some are new, and some are very old, extending back even a hundred years or more, but none of them offer any great variety in the menu, from an occidental point of view. A favorite dish of the newer eating houses is called "gyunabe," which consists of thin slices of beef, fried by the guest himself, in his private room, and done to his own taste. The process of broiling thin steaks of sirloin one's own "hibachi" or brazier, excites an appetite far more ravishing than a cocktail would. The beef is not done in fat, but in "shovu," a delicately flavored native sauce, and the dish is quite delicious. With it one eats rice and various kinds of vegetables to order. The Japanese have no special words such as beef or bacon or mutton; they just call them cow meat, pig meat, and sheep meat, though the latter is seldom seen as Japan has no sheep, except in the Zoo. The Government is trying to introduce sheep raising, and there are a few on the Government stock farms, but in the country generally there are no such animals.

Ideographs Over the Restaurants.

The ideographs for "cow" and "pig" may be seen over the various restaurants where such meat is to be had. If the sign bears beside the ideograph a red cherryblossom, viands of equine variety may also be had. Practically all Japanese business men take lunch down town; and as the beef restaurants are very popular, the rush at noon is simply tremendous. The cooking of "gyunabe" is quite an art which even the best of caravanners, or campers, might hesitate to try; for the slightest degree over- or under-done detracts from the flavor. The guest squats down on the "tatami" alone in his apartment, takes his chopsticks and turns his sizzling steaks to a nicety and feels ready for them before they are done. He would hardly be regarded as a gentleman if he did not take "sake," which is always an extra.

Many Delicacies.

They have many choice dishes with unpronounceable names to the white man, to whom, however, they offer courses fit for an epicure. Such a veritable "piece de resistance" is found in "tarinsabe" or bird-fry, for which the unfortunate bird is kept alive awaiting an order. It is then killed and addressed while the patron waits. Then there is the "unagimeski," comprising eels and rice, which comes higher than beef, the latter costing three or four shillings, the former five or six. Another popular dish is known as "tempura," consisting of fish—more commonly tai or colister, dipped in butter and fried in boiling vegetable oil.

Poorer Fare.

Of course the restaurants alluded to are not much patronized by the poorer classes, who have to subsist on much cheaper and lighter fare in ever-diminishing quantity. The vast majority of Japanese, however, do not get enough meat of a sufficiently sustaining nature, and they look like it. Many a poor man makes a whole meal on a sweet potato. "Udon," a kind of spaghetti, and "soba," a buckwheat macaroni, are favorite dishes for the poor. "Suehi" is also much in demand. It consists of some sort of relish, often seaweed, rolled up in rice paste. In all foods the Japanese use much seaweed, which is much more nourishing than many western relishes.

New Drug Will Make Millions of People Well

NEW DRUG WORTH MILLIONS TO SUFFERING HUMANITY. NUMBERLESS PEOPLE GO DOWN TO THEIR GRAVES 10 TO 20 YEARS BEFORE THEY SHOULD.

A poisoned system soon decays, causing early death. We are only as old as our Livers. When the Liver is out of order the system is unable to discharge the waste matter, causing a poisoning of the whole system, which no doubt causes all sorts of aches and pains. When the system becomes poisoned, some organ of the body is sure to suffer. It may be your Stomach, Kidneys, Liver, Intestines, etc.

There is only one drug known that will relieve this, and that is Tanated Calomel, which is the only drug known that will act directly upon the Liver. Tanated Calomel is very different from all forms of Calomel. It is very quickly taken up by the system, and acts on the Liver in a few minutes after taking. No Salts, Seidlitz, or Castor Oil are necessary to remove it from the system, as it is self-eliminating. No nausea, sick stomach, or griping after taking.

You no doubt have been taking all sorts of Tonics, Laxatives from time to time, with only temporary results. The reason is that none of these medicines act upon the Liver, and you cannot have good health with a disordered Liver.

Doctors recommend that you take One Tanated Calomel about 15 minutes before meals or take two at bedtime, and you will get a good sleep, waking in the morning feeling 100% better, full of vigour, bright, alert, clear-headed, and ready for a good day's work.

Tanated Calomel is sold in Peterborough by F. C. Weber, 220 Charlotte Street.

OPERATIC STAR GETS DIVORCE.

Fritzi Scheff Said Hubby Was Expensive.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 15.—On the grounds of cruelty and desertion, the comic opera star, Fritzi Scheff Anderson, has been granted a third divorce. Her husband did not defend the application. Fritzi told the court that her husband had frequently struck her in the face, blackening her eyes. He also refused to work, she said, and had a liquor bill of $75 a week. Her husband was a "charming man" when sober, she said, and on three different occasions she had withdrawn contemplated actions for divorce because he had promised to do better.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

CHIROPRACTIC CHIEFS' BATTLE FOR LICENSES

MIRIAM RUBIN CASE STIRS NATION WIDE MOVE FOR RECOGNITION.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The remarkable cure of Miriam Rubin, the 8-year-old girl in Waukegan who talked for ten days and nights without stopping, had its aftermath last week in the official recognition of chiropractors by the Iowa State Legislature.

The climax of the twenty-five-year fight by chiropractors for recognition in their home State was achieved after the wide publicity given the baffling case of the babbling girl, cured by a chiropractor after medical specialists had despaired of the girl's life.

Bitter attacks on chiropractic and enthusiastic defense of the new science have marked the cure of the strange talking sickness that mystified medical science.

Sedatives failed to affect the little girl. She babbled continuously, repeating long conversations and school lessons over and over, telling imaginary adventures and going over the same old memory records again and again, while constantly complaining of pains in the head.

A New Arrival.

At length a chiropractor, Dr. Paul O. Berger, asked to be allowed to try to help the girl. He had been interested in the case because he had a little girl about the same age as Mariam.

He examined the girl's spine and found the second and fifth vertebrae displaced. He snapped them back into place with an audible crack and little Mariam went to sleep for the first time since her strange malady had attacked her.

The chiropractors hailed Dr. Berger's feat as a triumph for their treatment and recalled the remarkable cure of the deaf heir apparent to the Spanish throne in the same way.

The Prince was born deaf and the Spanish Parliament therefore had passed a law setting him aside from succession to the throne, which would pass to King Alfonso's third son in case the Crown Prince died, instead of to the deaf heir apparent.

Famous Specialists Fail.

The most famous physicians in Europe failed to cure the congenital deafness of the Prince until an obscure practitioner in England examined the boy's spine and found two vertebrae displaced.

The displaced vertebrae pressed on the nerves which communicated with the ears, he explained, and he snapped them back into place. The vertebrae had been displaced by a fall suffered by the Prince's mother, Queen Victoria of Spain, shortly before the Prince was born.

The same day the operation was performed the Prince was able to hear slightly, and his hearing improved until it is now normal. The Spanish Parliament accordingly repealed the law setting him aside from succession to the throne.

Opens National-Wide Fight.

Legal recognition of chiropractic in Iowa and Oklahoma, coming on the heels of similar action in fifteen other States, has opened the fight of chiropractors for recognition in all States. The fight is especially bitter in California, where practitioners are going to jail for their beliefs, because they refuse to pay fines for practicing medicine without a license.

"How can we be fined for practicing medicine?" asks one of the California chiropractors.

"We do not practice medicine, because we do all our adjustments with the bare hands. We treat disorders of the body, not by administering drugs, but by restoring the nerves to normal tension and normal health. This we do by relieving all the nerves radiating from the spinal column of any abnormal pressure.

"So we would rather go to jail than pay our fines. Payment of the fines would be a tacit admission that we are in the wrong, but we sincerely believe we are right, and we expect to win out."

Fight 25 Years Old.

The fight for recognition dates back to the discovery of chiropractic tenty-five years ago by Dr. Palmer. Prosecution of chiropractors began in 1912, when O. L. Brown was sent to jail in Akron, Ohio, for practicing without a license. Another chiropractor took his place, and he won his fight in the courts.

One of the most sensational attempts to crush out the chiropractors was made in Salt Lake City in 1916, when Dr. Ben Johnson was jailed. A score of patients, one a blind girl who attributed the restoration of her sight to Dr. Johnson's treatments, marched solemnly through the streets to the jail, bearing banners, and paid the doctor's fine in pennies.

Texas and Montana recently have opened campaign against the chiropractors, but in Montana the Legislature came to their aid and passed a bill legalizing the practice of chiropractic in that State.

Dr. F. H. Seubold, Chicago representative of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, thus states the case for the chiropractors:

"It is our claim that the American citizen has as much right to select the doctor of his choice as he has to select the religion he follows. We do not wish to compel any one to accept our methods, but we stoutly maintain, and are putting up a glorious fight to prove, that where chiropractors are affording relief to sufferers who can obtain no relief elsewhere, they must be allowed to practice."

THREE COURSE MEALS FOR RATS.

Suggested Methods For Poisoning Campaign.

The importance of catering to the likes and dislikes of American rats is outlined in a bulletin of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose specialists are engaged in a rat-control campaign in this country. Barium carbonate, a tasteless and odorless poison, mixed in foods most likely to appeal to the rodents' tastes, is recommended by the specialists. It is an established fact that a starved rat will eat anything from a strip of lead pipe to an old boot. This variety falls an easy victim to a poisoned meal. However, it is the well-fed rat which predominates in the United States that is often inclined to be finicky in the matter of food.

Rat poisoning campaigns often fail because the house owner does not give his intended victims a sufficient variety of edibles. Rat baits may be divided into three classes: Meat foods, vegetable foods and cereals. In mixing his baits the poisoner selects a food from each of the three classes, and combines it with barium carbonate in the proportion of one part poison to four of food. Then he places a teaspoonful of each variety on a strip of paper or bit of board so that the rat, travelling along his runway, finds a three-course meal all laid out for him. Usually one of the three baits appeals to him, and the rat population is reduced by one.

Poisoned baits should be watched carefully, and uneaten baits replaced by others of the same class on the following evening. In this way a wide selection of foods may be used without departing from the basic combination. All baits must be kept fresh and tempting if the process of extermination is carried to completion. The common practice of smearing a dab of poison on a bit of stale bread, which is then placed in some out of the way corner and neglected, will not produce satisfactory results.

TIME FOR A CHANGE.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 15.—(Canadian Press).—There were a total of 30,075 automobile accidents in New York State cities in 1920, and in these 945 persons were killed and 22,751 injured, according to reports of city police departments.

GRANT PREFERENCE TO FRENCH GOODS.

Canada Concludes Modus Viviendi With French Government.

LONDON, March 15 (Cross-Atlantic).—The Canadian Government and the French Government have reached a modus vivendi under which Canada will apply the most favourable duties applied to any other Power save the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and will grant the most favoured treatment with regard to export transit and consumption taxes and internal taxes.

This arrangement will be in force until the regular commercial treaty between the two countries is signed. The French Government, on its side, pending this period, will extend to all Canadian goods the regime set forth in the Conventions of 1907 and 1909. The modus vivendi day be denounced by either of the High Contracting parties on two months' notice. The chief products of Canada that will benefit by these regulations are feathers, chocolates, fixed oils, rope, varnish, soap, glue, stationery, steam engines, all kinds of motors, agricultural machines, machine tools, boilers, gasometers, plates and dies, locks and household utensils, dried plums and apricots, crushed apples, and peas. The new tariff basis will not apply to bentwood furniture, pianos, and organs.

TOUGH LUCK.

"Well, George, are you perfectly satisfied?" asked his uncle after the Christmas party was over. "No, uncle, I ain't," was the plaintive reply. "Bless my soul, how's that?" "Why," replied George, "auntie told me to eat as much as I wanted, and I couldn't."

MAD MARKET IN AUSTRIA FOR DOLLARS.

Also Pounds Sterling and Other Stable Money — Paper Crowns Cheapest Thing in Country.

VIENNA, Marc 15 (Associated Press).—The financial plight of Austria is indicated in the supplementary budget brought in by the Minister of Finance, estimating the deficit for the current financial year at 42,000,000,000 crowns.

This is nearly double the figure given by his predecessor in the autumn, and even now does not take into consideration certain factors, such as new demands on the part of the federal civil servants and, that just made by the provinces, that the federal government shall increase their appropriation three-fold and bear one-half of the salaries of provincial civil servants, including school teachers.

Printing Paper Money.

It is reported that the money presses are now turning out paper crowns at th rate of 3,000,000,000 a month for Austria alone, the government apparently having adopted this as the expedient way of meeting the never-ending demands of its own servants, the workmen and of all classes of people for increased pay to enable them to meet the equally never ending increase in cost of living.

This has created a bad market for dollars, pounds sterling, and other stable money, causing fluctuations of as much as 200 crowns to the dollar within a period of one week. The same condition is reflected in the stock market, while precious stones, jewellery, works of art, fine rugs, and similar articles find ready sale at fair values. It is said the banks are financing art dealers who are scouring the country for pictures and selling them outside for foreign values, the money either being left there in the shape of credits against a collapse here, or brought in for further speculation on the money exchange.

Exchange Profits.

The Division Centrale, that department of the government officially in control of foreign exchange, is openly charged by one of the Vienna papers with having made enormous profits by manipulating the exchange rate.

A committee of 15 representative men has been appointed to effect economies in government, but public opinion is expressed in the newspapers has little faith in its accomplishing anything of real effect, inasmuch as the chief item of expense, the civil list of about 14,000,000,000 crowns, seemingly cannot be reduced. (This item has since been increased, as the Austrian government on 19th February granted bonuses of 4,400 a month to its civil employees in response to their demands.) All parties admit the size of the government machine is absurd for so small a country, but no one knows how to reduce it. Thousands of civil servants, many aged and all untrained in productive work, cannot be thrown on the country. It is stated that the civil servants and their dependents represent one-fifth of the population.

HUN BEGGARS PLAY SHELL-SHOCK GAME.

Develop School for Training Men as Fraudulent Mimickers.

(Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Febr. 23. — (By mail.) — Dishonest beggars, seeking to excite public sympathy, have developed a "school of shell-shock here," according to physicians who have had an opportunity to examine some of the men who have been suddenly taken with terrible fits of trembling on the crowded streeets.

The graduates have learned the technique of shaking as if suffering from chronic ague. They walk along —shaking the while—and frequently they fall down in front of or near a person who looks if though they had some money, tremble a moment and become rigid, the eyes fixed, the face purpling.

Policemen rush up, give the man a quick examination, and if they think that he is not faking they give him first aid, and permit those who wish to give him some money.

One of the first things done, however is to examine the eyes. If they flicker or the eyeballs move the case is usually pronounced a fake. Some beggars have learned the business so well that they puzzle the doctors.

Discussing these alleged shell-shock cases, a physician said some of them had absolutely no injuries from their war service and were simply "mimicking men who really had been hurt and so cheating them out of the sympathy that they deserved."

A POOR DRUMMER.

Norman Johnson, well known humorist and philosopher, told a good one on himself at a recent banquet. He landed from a train in a southern town one day, and was accosted by a the lone negro who tended to the baggage of travelers.

"Whar your baggage, sur?" the negro asked.

"I have no baggage," replied Mr. Johnson. "I deal in intelligence."

"Youse de fust trabbling man I ever seen, whar doan cair his samples wif him," the negro replied.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

GUILLOTINE STILL USED IN GERMANY.

Englebert Manns to Be Beheaded By It For Murder of American Soldier.

(Associated Press.)

BERLIN, March 14. — A grim reminder of the fact that the guillotine still is used in Germany for the infliction of the death penalty is given in the sentencing of Englebert Manns to die by that instrument for the murder of Edward Golding, an American soldier. Manns killed the American in order to rob him and was sentenced to death by the German court.

Executions, once carried out in the market places before the populace, are now attended by the prosecuting attorney, the judge before whom the case has been tried, sometimes the jury and those invited by the judge.

The executioner is called the Henker and is appointed by the state, and paid for each head he cuts off. He wears a gown of deep red during the operation, and is masked The prisoner is gowned in black.

Women convicted of a capital offence also are put to death by the axe. A young woman recently was guillotined for the murder of a female companion.

MAY STRIP THIS TOMB OF STONE.

Grave of Impressario Hammerstein Imperilled By Debt.

NEW YORK, March 15.—With $1,478 still due on the stone over Oscar Hammerstein's grave in Woodlawn Cemetery the impressario's last resting place will be stripped of its monument, unless this debt is quickly paid. This payment it is said, Mrs. Hammerstein, the widow, is unable to meet although she is willing to sacrifice her remaining valuables rather than have the grave dispoiled, as threatened. Unless some friend or admirer of her husband came forward the portrait which hangs in the Manhattan lobby, will be put on the auction block before she would permit the grave to be disturbed. If the portrait, from the brush of Baron Arpad Paszthory did not realize the amount needed, Mrs. Hammerstein said she would auction her husband's piano.

Mrs. Hammerstein explains that she derives no revenue from the Manhattan Opera House, because for lien in favour of her husband's two daughters by his first wife

The monument, a big granite cube bearing a lyre one one side and a bronze medallion of Mr. Hammerstein on another, was dedicated privately last May. It cost $2,728, of which $1,250 has been paid. The widow said the makers held a lien on the stone, securing the payment of the balance.

LORD MILNER WAS REGARDED AS A CONFIRMED BACHELOR

Lord Milner, long regarded as a confirmed bachelor, who is in his sixty-seventh year, may be congratulated on the happy culmination of his quiet romance and on the reward of his years of devotion, writes La Marquise de Fontenoy, in the New York Sun. For his Viscountess, who only three weeks ago married off her pretty daughter to Captain the Hon. Alexander Hardinge, assistant private secretary to King George, and only surviving son and heir of Lord Hardinge of Penshurst, the British Ambassador to France, is still a very beautiful and above all a very gifted woman.

In her childhood she sat for the late Sir John Millais's celebrated picture, "Puss in Boots," which is as widely known on this side of the Atlantic as in Great Britain, while George Meredith portrayed her in his novel, "Beauchamp's Career." She was then Miss Violet Maxse, daughter of the late Admiral Maxse, editor and proprietor of the National Review, which is now under the direction of her brother Leo. The Admiral was also the founder of Prince's Skating Rink in London. Lady Milner is one of the finest amateur violinists in England, is very witty and has known how to win and hold the friendship in turn of such men as the late Earl Cromer and Lord Kitchener.

Her first husband, Lord Edward Cecil, the soldier son of the late Lord Salisbury, was a universal favorite and far and way the most popular of all the Cecil family. Known to all his relatives and intimate friends by the sobriquet of "Niggs," he had a remarkable career. It was to him even more than to eneral Sir Robert Baden-Powell, grand scout master, that belongs the credit for the preservation of Mafeking from capture by the Boer besiegers in the South African war of twenty-one years ago.

COWLESS MILK IS LATEST FIND

How Housewife May Get Rid of Early-Morning Caller.

BOSTON, March 14.— Henry Ford's dream of a cowless milk has come true. An absolutely pure cowless milk, or in other words, a synthetic milk is being made.

It can be made by anyone at home far a few cents a quart, according to the expert who discloses all the above. He is Dr Earl B. Carr of the New England Sanitarium at Melrose.

This synthetic milk is made of the following surprising ingredients

Ordinary oats, ordinary peanuts, pure water, a dash of salt. Dr. Carr and Dr. G. E. Cornforth, the food expert and dietist at the institution demonstrated how the cowless milk is made. It looks them about five minutes to produce a quantity.

They used a little machine, not unlike a sausage grinder A handful of raw peanuts was dropped in. Under the spout was spread a piece of cheese-cloth. These were ground a pulpy mess coming out. Next was produced a quantity of steel cut oats known as "Scotch oatmeal." This was run through the grinder, coming out a fine white powder. This was mixed with the peanut pulp and the whole was wrapped into the cheese-cloth and placed in a bowl. Over this they poured a few cupfuls of water.

The water began to thicken and turn white. The mixture in the cloth was kneaded, keeping it in the water This complete, there remained in the cloth a pulpy lump, which, it was explained, was the cellulose or woody portion, indigestible, rejected by the cow.

It is declared babies thrive upon the cowless product

SIMPLE PHOSPHATE SUPPLIES STRENGTH AND ENERGY BUILDING ELEMENTS THAT MODERN FOOD LACKS.

Just one or two little tablets of real organic phosphate dispensed in drug stores under the name of Bitro-Phosphate taken with each meal is probably just what you need to cause you to jump out of bed in the morning eager for the industrial battle of the day.

Modern foods lack sufficient phosphorus and that is why 40 per cent. of men and women today are nervous, weak and run-down. Bitro-Phosphate is safe to take and McDermid & Jury or any good druggist can supply it at reasonable cost.

IRREPARABLE LOSS

"Anybody hurt in the wreck?"

"One gentleman, I believe."

"Bones broken?"

"I think it was his heart. He sat down by a leaking suit case and shed tears." — Birmingham Age-Herald.

TURKISH TOWELS MILADY'S DRESS.

Suits Now Created From Plain White Towelling.

NEW YORK, March 15.—This Spring fashionable women will find that Turkish towels, or the old-fashioned huck towelling, and even red and blue-bordered crash, will constitute an essential part of their street costume in keeping with the latest vogue.

This is the edict as sponsored by manufacturers. Fifth Avenue windows are very smart with sport suits developed from both light and heavy weight towelling, barred in white and banded at peplum, collar, and cuffs with gay shades such as rose, tangerine, porcelain blue, jade, or topaz.

Other models are barred in these colors and are very gay indeed when worn with little Turkish towel turbans to match, with white Oxfords flaunting colored laces, and even a handbag to match.

These suits are cut very much as are the earlier Spring models of tricotine and gabardine. The majority have the loose, unbelted Eton jacket, although a few basque-like models with shoe-string belts of the prevailing color, are worn.

Those suits made from the plain white towelling often have a splash of embroidery on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. The embroidery is done in heavy wooden beads or metallic disks, as only a very heavy embroidery would show from the thick nap of the goods.

Towel effects are equally good in separate skirts and dresses. The skirts are generally cut circular and may have a bias band of contrasting color about pockets and the bottom of the skirt.

Street and sport dresses developed from towelling are often combined with harmonizing or contrasting organdie or voile. One striking model is shown of black and white towelling combined with cherry organdie. The organdie is used for the convertible choker collar, a finely tucked vestee, and tight leg O'mutton sleeves. The vestee falls over the skirt with hip length front and back panels.

FRENCH EXTREMISTS SAY "ON TO BERLIN"

Large Group Advocates March Into Germany and is Disappointed at Sanctions.

PARIS, March 15.—(Cross Atlantic.)—There is a growing uneasiness in conservative circles in France against the display of the group that seems almost disappointed because the Germans have made no resistance. This group is arguing that the present sanctions are for too moderate to bring Germany to her knees and that the Allies are assuming a large expense for nothing. They talk openly of going "on to Berlin." An article to-day in Le Petit Journal is headed "How Berlin Can be Brought Under Fire," and it proceeds to say that first of all Hamburg and Bremen must be occupied, the Kiel canal cut and an embargo placed on the German trade with Scandinavia. When this is done the Allies should occupy the mouth of the Oder and from that point Berlin should be bombarded. Auguste Ganvin in the Journal des Dabats comes out strongly for economic exploitation for the whole of the Ruhr district by the Allies and he argues Premier Llyod George and act with France in this matter "treating the people of the occupied regions as inhabitants of a conquered territory subject to penalties because they took part in the war." It will require all the cool headedness of Briand and Millerand to prevent France from taking the bit between her teeth.

BRITISH BUDGET MAY REACH £985,000,000

LONDON, March 14.—(Canadian Press.)—Owing to pressure of work the House of Commons will meet on Saturday, and possibly hold a session on Easter Monday. The Government is anxious to dispose of various measures before the House, and it is expected that when the Chancellor of the Exchequer brings down his budget there will be an interesting debate. The Times estimates that the budget will amount to £985,000,000 at the lowest, which is a prospect to disturb the taxpayers.

U. S. TONNAGE STILL AHEAD OF BRITISH.

But American Shipyards Have Shown Sensational Slump in 1920.

LONDON, (By mail.) — The British shipbuilder is surveying the reports of 1920 with mingled satisfaction and apprehension.

The outstanding fact is that America still leads. The British tonnage completed in 1920 was 2,140,923. The American was 2,692,615. America wins, as you might say, by 5 tons to 4.

But on the other hand there has been a sensational slump in American shipyards. There has been a decrease of over 2,000,000 tons while in the British yards there has been an increase of 213,647 tons.

British shipbuilders are now confident that they will soon regain their former supremacy in shipbuilding. To-day they are building only one-third of the tonnage of the world, instead of one-half, as they were accustomed to do in pre-war days.

The general feeling of confidence in the future of British shiping was shown recently by the striking success of a Cunard flotation. The Cunard Company is doubling its tonnage and it asked for $20,000,000 of new capital.

The issue was snapped up in a day. There were more than 10,000 applicants. Plainly the Cunard Company could have had fifty millions as easily as twenty. Its average net profits in the past eleven years have been well over $5,000,000 a year.

Building Smaller Vessels.

In all shipyards there has been a falling off in the size of the vessels. British ships have been on an average only half as large as the American ships; and there was not a single ship of the first class in size and speed built anywhere in 1920.

The largest Clyde liner was the Empress of Canada, and she was only 22,000 gross tons. No Mauretanias were built and probably may never be.

A liner that would have cost $2,500,000 to build in 1914, now costs $7,500,000—an impossible price.

In all British shipyards the demand was for slow, cheaper ships of moderate size. The most popular liner was one of about 18,000 tons with a speed of 15 to 18 knots.

Utility first. The necessity for economy has put an end to luxury and experiment. The supreme problem in every shipyard is how to reduce costs.

Oil Burning a Feature.

Britain is swinging from coal to oil much more rapidly than any other country. She is even competing seriously with America as the builder of oil tankers. She built 64 as against 88 in America.

But in general British shipbuilding at the moment is in a state of depression, with a crisis of some sort approaching.

There are 438 new shipping comanies registered in 1920, but nine-tenths of these were in the first half of the year.

During the last five or six months there have been many cancellations —thousands of workmen are idle, and several of the large yards are closed.

The causes of the depression are high costs and low freights. There is less freight to carry than there was in 1914, and there is more tonnage—8,000,000 tons more.

The cost of running a coastal steamer has risen 150%; and on ocean going vessels the increase is 280%. There are heavier charges for insurance, depreciation and interest.

Wages have gone up, and output —so says Lord Weir, has gone down 40%. A conference is now being held in London at which the shipbuilders are announcing to the labor leaders the fact that present wages cannot continue.

But all things considered the British shipbuilder is fairly well satified with himself although he does not say so.

His workers have been more or less turbulent, and a strike more or less does not matter.

German competition has gone and American competition is going. Next year he will be the top dog. So in spite of the shipping department and the price of bunker coal things might be worse, he thinks.

UNEMPLOYED PEAK PASSED IN BRITAIN.

British Labor Will Resist Threatened Wage Reductions.

LONDON, March 15.—(Associated Press). — The unemployment question in Great Britain is still very serious, but the belief is held in many quarters that the peak has been passed and a decline may be expected, says the American Chamber of Commerce here.

Wages combined with low output are given as the chief element in the high cost of production, but as yet few proposals have been made by employers for reductions.

In certain industries and occupations where there is either a sliding scale based on the cost of living, or where special bonuses are paid to meet increased cost, a reduction of wages will be automatic, according to the Chamber.

It was anticipated that the movement in the United States to reduce wages would be followed by a similar move in Great Britain, but British labor is in a much stronger position and has expressed its decision to resist any reductions which may be threatened. says the American Chamber.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did it with a Home-made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, one small box of Orlex Compound, and 1-4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger."

$33,852.79 IS ON HAND FOR BRIDGE

Mr. Hall said there were many things to be considered. Mr. Ellis had been practically cut off from all access and Mr. Hall considered that the property had been rendered practically valueless.

Ald. Hamilton declared that Mr. Ellis' business was largely wholesale, and he considered that it could not have been greatly affected by building the bridge. "It wasn't as if it was a retail concern."

A Warm Reply.

Mr. Ellis here replied rather warmly to the chairman. "Evidently, Mr. Hamilton," he said, "you don't know anything about my business."

Mr. Hall, continuing, told the committee that he could prepare full details of the damages incurred. He had no selling proposition to put up at once, and Mr. Ellis did not desire litigation if it could be avoided.

Anxious For Justice.

"The majority of the Council are anxious to see that justice is assured Mr. Ellis,' remarked Ald. Whitehouse.

Mr. Hall favored the city buying the property out and out, as the most logical solution, and agreed to prepare a valuation, and also a statement of damages for Mr. Ellis.

Purchase Property ?

Committee will recommend that the city offer the Chamberlain Estate $1,400 for the building on the corner of Sheridan and Hunter streets, used during the bridge's construction as an office for Engineer Frank Barber. Ald. Hamilton favoured this purchase, and pointed out that the city would have to pay damages to the Estate if the property was not purchased; by acquiring it, Council could dispose of the premises later, thus avoiding damages. He stated that Mr. E. A. Peck, solicitor for the Chamberlain Estate, had asked $1,800 for the building, excluding the land, which cannot be sold, but on which the Estate has a seventeen year lease. Mr. Peck held out for a higher figure when the chairman 'phoned him last night, suggesting a purchase price of $1,400. The committee considered that it would be advisable that the city buy this building, and will recommend such action to Council.

That Name Plate.

On examination of the blue print submitted by the contractors of the name plate for the Hunter street bridge, Ald. Crowe discovered that the arrangements of names did not properly balance. To be explicit, there were eight names on one side and seven on the other, and to bring it to a state of equilibrium he moved, seconded by Ald. Whitehouse, that City Treasurer Adams' name be added. This motion carried.

The committee present were: Ald. Hamilton in the chair, Ald. Jones, Ald. Whitehouse, Ald. Crowe, Ald. Morrison, Ald. Gainey, Ald. Phelan and Mayor McIntyre.

Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone and mix fresh as wanted.

X-RAY SHOWS TOOTH IN LUNG.

Operation May Cause Sufferer's Death.

WILMINGTON, March 15.—An X-ray photograph of James B. Broad, Controller of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company, who is in a critical condition at a local hospital, showed that the cause of his illness was the lodgment of a tooth in his lungs, attending physicians announced to-day. They say Mr. Broad had four teeth extracted several weeks ago, taking gas for the operation, and they believ that one of the extracted teeth accidentally slipped down the windpipe.

The physicians assert that unless an operation is performed at once Mr. Broad cannot recover. while, on the other hand, it is feared an operation may prove fatal, as the patient is extremely weak.

REVOLUTIONISTS CONTROL ARMENIA.

Overthrow Soviet and Establish Provisional Government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 15. —(Cross-Atlantic) The anti-Communist revolt which broke out recently at Erivan, the Armenian capital is spreading according to a wireless report received here. The Red Armenian Government failed to suppress the uprising owing to the absence of all its available forces in Georgia. The members of the Erivan soviet either fled or were imprisoned, and a provisional revolutionary Government is in control.

BATTLED EIGHT HOURS WITH GIANT "DEVIL FISH."

See Monster in Sight of Bathers at Palm Beach.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15. —Florenz Ziegfeld, jr.. and J. Leonard Replogle battled for eight hours recently with a giant ray, or devil fish, that towed two boats 40 miles from Palm Beach and 17 miles to sea, and then escaned when the cables broke, although its body bore four harpoons, eight rifle bullets, and 15 wounds from lances.

The sea monster was in sight of the bathers near the breakers pier, when discovered. Immediately two fast motor boats started in pursuit.

Occupants of both boats threw harpoons into the big fish. which immediately sped away to sea? Army rifle bullets were fired into its body, but the fish did not slacken speed. At nightfall the cables to the harpoons parted and the fish escaped.

Airplanes followed the boats and watched the struggle.

TWEED IN DEMAND.

The enlargked demand for tweed clothing in both the men's and the women's wear trade has reached a point where mills making such materials recognize the business from this source as an important factor. As business continues to come in on these cloths sellers are looking forward to even greater development next Fall. Domestic manufacturers are not altogether well pleased over this outlook, for the reason that imported lines offer stiff competition on the materials in question. However, price liquidation has proceeded further in this country than aboard, and values do not show the differences which otherwise they might.

JAMES HATTON PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He Used Them Years Ago for Heart Trouble and Pain in the Back. and te Results Have Made Him a Firm Friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ste. Cecile de Whitton, Que., Mar. 14th (Special).—A friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills of long standing is Mr. James Hatton, one of the grand old men of this place. Mr. Hatton is eighty-two years of age, but his memory is still clear and he tells how some years ago he used Dodd's Kidney Pills for his heart trouble and violent pain in the back, and how satisfied he was with the result.

"We had the grip very bad last winter," Mr. Hatton adds, "and Dodd's Kidney Pills brought us through all right."

To avoid disease, the kidneys must be kept in good working order. The kidneys are the scavengers of the body. Their work is to strain all the impurities out of the blood. If the kidneys are wrong the impurities, the seeds of disease, remain in the blood, and serious trouble is bound to follow. At the first sign of trouble try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ask your neighbours if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not do what is claimed for them.

PHOTOGRAPHIC MAP OF LONDON BEGUN.

Three Machines Engaged in Work of Taking Aerial Scenes For Map.

LONDON, March 15 (Cross-Atlantic).—The scheme for a great photographic map of London taken from the air has at last assumed practical shape ,and yesterday the first machines equipped for the task began the work. Three aeroplanes connected with each other by wireless telephones so that they can all manoeuvre together on a pre-arranged plan are being employed in making this gigantic map which, when completed, will cover an area of 300 square miles, and require the exposure of 10,000 plates. The planes will fly at a distance of about 5,000 feet when taking the photographs. The air-map will be complete in that it will give a distinct if tiny photograph of each separate building in London. The photos will be pieced together in one "mosaic."

THE principles upon which a Bank is founded, the number of years it has been in operation, and the policy followed during these years—these features, combined with its present standing, form the criterion of the strength of a Bank.

The Bank of Montreal began business in the year 1817, with a modest capital of $1,250,000, and for over a century it has followed a conservative—aggressive policy until to-day its capital and reserve fund total $40,000,000 and its total assets are in excess of $560,000,000.

LAD MAIMED FOR LIFE IN EXPLOSION.

Two Belleville Brothers and Sister Played With Dynamite Cap.

BELLEVILLE, March 15.—Maimed and perhaps disfigured for life, Alex. Nicholson. an eight-year-old boy, lies in the General Hospital here suffering from injuries received by the explosion of a dynamite cap.

The boy found some dynamite caps in a manner as yet unaccounted for, and when playing in a workshop upstairs with an elder brother and little sister the children were startled by an explosion. The older boy escaped injury, as also did the little girl, but Alex. received the full charge of one of the caps, his face being cut and his fingers considerably torn. At the hospital it was found necessary to amputate two of his left hand fingers and one from the right, and his face is under treatment for several nasty cuts and bruises which may result in disfigurement.

The children say they thought the dynamite caps were electric plugs.

CAUSE OF FLU STILL UNSOLVED.

Report of British Ministry of Health.

LONDON, March 15.—(Associated Press.)—In the report issued by the Ministry of Health on the epidemic of influenza, of 1918-1919 it is stated that the cause of the disease is a problem "still unsolved." The report is the result of what it describes as the "first intensive study of the great and devastating scourge that swept Europe and Asia and, during the space of a few months, claimed a larger number of victims than fell during the whole of the European war."

It is stated that the immediate outlook is not such as to inspire confidence. "Until a universal improvement in the standard of comfort and the conditions of life is secured there will be no prospect of actively mitigating the incident of the deadly disease. Other diseases have been brought under control; influenza still eludes us," the Health Ministry admits.

GOOD JUDGMENT AFTER EATING

Giving the Stomach the Alkaline Effect by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is Worth Remembering.

You cannot, as a rule, say in advance that this, that or the other food will cause indigestion. Experience has taught most people that even mince pie fits snugly at times while at others a glass of milk raises hobs with the stomach.

One good rule to follow is the preventative measures of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. You thus avoid gassiness, sour stomach, heartburn and such distresses due to indigestion or dyspepsia. These tablets also help to digest the food by giving the sotmach the alkaline effect to offset acidity; they relieve the distress when the mince pie or milk should be more than a match for your digestive powers. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and note how nicely they seem to calm the stomach when it feels all upet.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(Canadian Press).—Reports dealing with Mexican affairs were responsible for another drive against oil shares at the opening of to-day's stock market. Mexican Petroleum, selling exquarterly dividends, promptly added 2 1-4 points to its recent series of reactions. Other issues of the same class were lower by fractions to a point. Crucible Steel and United Fruit at declines of 1 1-2, and two points were among the other backward stocks, together with Reading and Mercantile Marine preferred. The few irregular gains of the first half hour were made by stocks of little importance.

A further rally during the noon hour derived much of its support from the purchases of rails, including many of the low-priced issues. The advance was checked, however, when Atlantic Gulf developed increased weakness at the new low quotation of 31 1-4. Motors and Tobaccos also reacted.

Active stocks extended their declines in the early trading, especially United Fruit, Crucible, Panama Petroleum, Reading and Hide and Leather preferred. From the lower levels, however, there were quick recoveries of 1 to 2 1-2 points. Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive, Pressed Steel Car, Atlantic Gulf, Chandler, Harvester, American Tobacoc and U. S. Steel were conspicuous in the rally. Standard rails also hardened. Reading more than retrieving its losses, while Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific made moderate gains. Call money was in free demand at 7 per cent.

The leaders were lower in the last hour, Atlantic Gulf, Asphalt, American Woollen, a American Sugar and Baldwin recording extreme declines of 2 to 5 points. The closing was irregular.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(Canadian Press.) — Sterling Exchange strong; Demand, $3.89 1-2. Canadian Dollars 12 3-4 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, March 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Fresh export business led to moderate upturns to-day in the price of wheat. Realizing on part of the holders, however, took place on bulges and brought about re-actions. Later, renewal of reports about green bugs in the south-west tended somewhat to favor the bull side of the market. Opening quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1-2 higher were followed by a general sag, then by upturns. Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-8 higher the market declined a little and then scored a material advance. Oats were governed by the course of other cereals, starting 1-8 to 1-4 cents off to a like advance and after weakening temporarily went up grade. Provisions averaged lower

The lightness of receipts had a considerable bullish effect on the corn market. The close was steady, with May 69.

Subsequently estimates that export buying in the last two days totalled five million bushels, caused sharper gains to develop in wheat. The close was unsettled, with March 1.55½ to 1.55 3-4, and May 1.48 3-4 to 1.49.

LIVESTOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, March 15.—(Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts medium, trade slow.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 15. — (Canadian Press.) — Dull trading on the Toronto stock exchange this morning brought about significant changes in the prices of stocks. In fact almost all transactions were made at last night's prices and any variations were only fractional. The transactions were the lightest for some days. During the trading recently Victories have been gradually receding although the losses in on cases have reached to the extent of a full point from the high marks established some weeks ago.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, March 15. — (Canadian Press.) — There was practically no change in prices during the morning's session of the stock exchange, every issue closing quietly around the opening figures. Abitibi, however, was stronger, and closed at 42 3-8. Atlantic Sugar remained unchanged throughout the morning, as did also Brazilian and National Breweries, the latter selling at 40 5-8.

STYLES FOR SPRING AT "LEADER" SHOE STORE

With the return of spring, one's thoughts turn to new footwear. The new styles which are just being opened up at The "Leader" Shoe Store, 291 George street, are very smart looking, both in women's and men's wear. Due to the fact that the downward trend in prices of leather forced down some of the extravagant styles, designers of shoes have adopted simplicity for spring and summer.

The buyer for "The Leader" Shoe Store has just returned from the wholesale markets, and brought a large showing of the new stocks in the most favoured models. Tan and black shoes will get about a fifty-fifty split in prominence. The tans are to be seen in many shades. Black shoes with glossier and vici-kid finishes, are favorites. The English custom lasts and the medium ball-shaped toes will be popular with younger men, but the wide lasts will continue with the older men. The brogue will also be popular.

Spats will be worn more than ever this year. Shades of tans, gray, fawn, brown and buck, with some variations will rule this spring. Oxfords, in general, will adhere to the styles of twelve months ago, and two-strap pumps will have many admiders. A visit to the "Leader" Ship will interest all preparing for the Easter parade.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MISS PEARL LUCY.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McQuaig, 474 Sherbrooke Street, entertained about thirty-five of their friends on Friday evening last.

A miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Pearl Lucy's approaching marriage was the occasion for the gathering. The evening was spent in games and music.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. L. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. M. P. Webb.

After a hearty vote of thanks had been tendered to the hostess and many good wishes passed to Miss Lucy, the happy gathering dispersed, wishing her all happiness in her future home.

TEACHERS' ULTIMATUM TO BRANTFORD BOARD

Increased Wage Schedule From Ontario Secondary Federation.

BRANTFORD, March 15.—What is practically an ultimation from the teachers who are members of the Ontario Secondary Teachers' Federation has been received by the Board of Education and referred to the committee on management.

The ultimatum reads that the inferior quality of teachers being secured by boards in Ontario was mainly due to low salaries paid, and that members of the Federation had agreed not to teach in Continuation schools for less than $1,300 a year. For teachers at High schools in rural municipalities the salary has been fixed at nothing below $1,700 per annum, while no Federation member will teach at town or city High schools or in Collegiate Institutes at salaries less than $2,000 a year.

ENTERTAINMENT AT PROTESTANT HOME

PARK STREET BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE TOOK PART.

The Peterborough Protestant Home was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last evening, when about forty-two of the members of the Young People's Society of Park Street Baptist Church, preceded by a freezer of ice-cream, and bearing all sorts of good things in bags and boxes, paid the Home a visit and gave a social evening of hymns, songs, and recitations for the entertainment of the aged members.

Mr. Neil Porter, president of the Society, who had charge of the affair, contributed some very pleasing songs and instrumental solos to the programme; Mr. Robinson, organist of the church, played, and vocal solos by Mrs. Wade and the Misse Booth and Goodwin were very much enjoyed. Mr. Thomas gave a reading, and the entire programme of music and refreshments was carried out with a jolly heartiness which was evidently very pleasing to the audience and to all who took part.

The entertainment concluded about ten o'clock, when the visitors rolled away in the special street car which they had chartered for the oasion.

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS HARD HIT BY COSTS.

Owing to frequent demands by British printers for wage increases, quite as frequently granted by the Master Printers' Association, there are only four daily papers in London paying their way and few, if any, weeklies making ends meet. In fact, according to The Saturday Review, there is hardly a self-supporting newspaper in the British Isles, and more will shortly be added to the number which have already ceased publication. Not only are long-established weighty publications going out of business, but those which remain are being debased, it is said.

FRASER AUXILIARY HELD A SOCIAL.

A nice sum for the mission work of the Fraser Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church was realized from a well-patronized St. Patrick's Day tea held by them on Saturday last in the Guild-Room of the church. Mrs. Adam Hall received the ladies, Mrs. H. Wightman and Mrs. B. B. Gillespie had charge of the sale of home-made cooking, and the tea-table was presided over by Mrs. H. E. Stinson and Mrs. M. Comstock, assisted by Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Leclair. A number of small tables were in charge of Miss Rannie, Miss Ross, Miss McCrae, Miss L. Hall and Miss Florence Hamilton.

A splendid musical programme was provided by Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Ford Turner, who sang, and Mrs. Hills and Miss Rannie, who gave piano selections.

THERE WAS NO MISTAKE

CUSTOMERS COULD HARDLY BELIEVE THE PRICES ASKED AT THE ELLIOTT SALE WERE NOT ERRORS.

Mr. Chesler has given a demonstration of how he can wield the price-slashing knife when he says the goods must go, no matter what the losses amount to.

He announced that buyers would find the bargains at the Wipe-Out Sale of the Elliot stock were irresistible. They did. The store was packed to capacity all day Saturday and Monday.

Patrons asked in surprise if there was not some mistake—the prices seemed too ridiculous for belief—but were assured that it was not a question of value but of getting rid of the goods. There was no question about the goods going. They went—in armsful.

To-day in his large advertisement Mr. Chesler says he has no time to give prices as he is too busy getting out and marking down more goods in an effort to satisfy a ravenous crowd of buyers. Mr. Chesler advises haste if all are to get a share of the bargains.

THE EASTER SUITS WILL BE DELAYED

WHILE TAILOR SPENDS A WEEK IN THE BASTILE.

For association with the demon rum last night a local tailor was hailed before Justice of the Peace H. Rush this morning. Despite his protestations that he had untold Easter suits to finish, Mr. Rush administered a week's remand, giving the Chief the right to mitigate the furlough if he thought wise.

Jordan Case.

John Jordon, local pugilist, was remanded for a week on the selling charge. On Saturday morning pages of evidence were taken down by Magistrate Dumble on the testimony of Georg Alex, the Russian buyer, and John Jordon, alleged seller. Jordon said he didn't sell it for $6.00 a bottle as Alex said, but treated the Slav out of his own cellar.

J. O'Brien represented accused. The conclusion of the case will take place on Tuesday next.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK EXPLAINED

A lecture on "Social Service Work", by Mr. W. E. Dyer, was given in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum last evening, under the auspices of The Catholic Women's League.

Mr. Dyer illustrated his talk with lantern slides, depicting different branches of Social Welfare endeavour, showing, among other things, the old and new ways of handling milk and the ravages committed by the common house fly in its peregrinations from the manure heap to the baby's milk bottle. He also showed several interesting Californian scenes with the olive and orange groves in full bloom, and some views of the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, going on with the Welfare Series in a collection of hand-tinted lantern slides from the fampus Tissot paintings of Bible subjects, showing the beginnings of Welfare work in those old times. These are beautiful pictures, and were very much appreciated by the audience. A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Miss M A. O'Connell, seconded by Mrs. G. H. Popham, and tendered by Mrs. Jas. V. Gallivan, the President of the Catholic Women's League in Peterboro, and Monsignor McColl also expressed his appreciation of the entertainment. Pianoforte solos were rendered by the Misses Marguerite Weatherhead and Mary Galvin.

INTERESTING TALK AT MARK STREET

At Mark street Methodist Church last evening, Rev. F. E. Malott of Trinity Church gave a very interesting talk, entitled "Here and There in the Old Land," illustrated by lantern slides.

There was a very good audience, and young and old seemed to be delighted with the entertainment. Miss M. Succee contributed some very pleasing piano solos, and the lantern was ably handled by Master Percy Oke.

PETERBOROUGH WAS WELL REPRESENTED.

On the occasion of the recent trip of Peterborough curlers across the Atlantic, the Empress of France, on which they sailed, contained more representatives from Peterborough than from any other place in the Dominion, Mr. and Mrs. Waddell, Mr. R. Hicks, and Messrs. Wm. Saxby and T. C. Ephgrave, who sailed on the same boat, making five from this little corner of Canada.

QUESTIONS THE UTTERANCES OF RANEY REPORTED

COUNSEL FOR MAGISTRATE HASTINGS BRINGS MATTER INTO DUNNVILLE PROBE.

CAYUGA, March 15.—(Canadian Press).—When the Dunnville law and order inquiry was resumed this morning, John Counsell, for Magistrate Hastings, called the attention of Commissioner Paterson to a newspaper report of what Warren Stringer, M.L.A., Haldimand, and the Attorney-General had stated in the Legislature last week when discussing the Hastings suspension. The report of Mr. Raney's statement was to the effect that after making his letter public, the Magistrate started political propaganda. Mr. Counsell said there had been no evidence at the inquiry on any such action; in fact, the evidence showed that the political propaganda was started by the Attorney-General, in connecting the name of Frank Lalor, M.P., and alleging the existence of a political and whiskey ring. The latter charge has since been dropped by the Department. The Commissioner stated he was not trying the Attorney-General, and ruled that he could not enter newspaper editorials or reports. Hearing of further testimony was then proceeded with.

OFFICERS RESIGN FROM THE P.A.A.A.

As a result of the feeling existing among some of the sport organizations of the city that the Board of Trade has ben "trying to run" the Peterboro Amateur Athletic Association, President H. R H. Kenner of P.A.A.A. and Vice President of the Board of Trade and Secrtary L. Frazer of the Board of Trade, who has carried on the secretarial duties of the P.A.A.A., handed in their resignation to Vice-President, Dr. A. W. McPherson at a meeting of the P.A.A.A held to-day in the Board of Trade rooms. It is rumored that Dr. McPherson's resignation may also be received as he is on the directorate of the Board of Trade There were considerable fireworks at the session. To-day Secretary L. Frazer of the Board of Trade, said that many members had not appreciated the facilities offered them by the Board in carrying on the work. On his own account he felt no regrets at giving up the post but he felt they were lingering under a misapprehenson of the Board's intentions towards them and would discover their mistake in time.

None other of the numerous organizations affiliated with the Board had taken exception to having their officers members of the Board

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

THE DOLOMITES

When the French geologist Deodat de Dolomieu at the end of the 18th Century travelled through the Southern Alps, discovering there a mineral composed of lime and magnesia, which was later named Dolomia or Dolomite in honor of the discoverer, he did not dream that his name would for ever be associated with those strange Italian mountains.

Grohmann, one of the few who, fifty years ago, began to explore their summits, prophesied that a time would come when no part of the Alps would be so much frequented as this. The Dolomites are those marvels of stone which tower skyward flooded with light and color and glorified by the poetry of strange and most ancient legends.

The Dolomites give the Italian Alps an advantage over those of Switzerland, because very tall peaks, white glistening masses of snow and glaciers with azure blue crevices are seen everywhere. The Dolomites, however, are found only and exclusively within the new boundaries of Italy. To the experienced alpinist this name is the richest for views and reminiscences.

The two centres of tourism in the Dolomites are Bolzano and Cortina d'Ampezzo, the one a city of 25,000 inhabitants, renowned for its excellent hotels, chief town of a large district, the upper Adige, which forms a part of Tridentine Venetia and can be reached by through-train from Rome in eighteen hours. The other a charming Alpine borough, situated 1219 meters above sea level, in the midst of a splendid Dolomitic amphitheatre. Bolzano and Cortina are connected by the so-called "Trans Dolomitica," a highway for automobiles, 112 kilometers long. This highway is the main artery of tourism in the Dolomites. But there is a very important branch which runs from Ora, by way of Predezzo and the Val di Fassa and rejoins the more frequented upper artery. As it touches the most hidden and remarkable parts of the Dolomites, this great highway—comparable to the smiling Ligurian Riviera or the Sorrento-Amalfi, but grander than these two — is a marvellous work of our civilization. Above ravines and water-falls, over bridges and through tunnels, now through gloomy mountain defiles, now through sunny pastures, covered with russet rhododendrons, opening to the traveller infinite horizons towards the South as far as the Alpine foothills of the Padoan plain and towards the North, as far as the glaciers of the great watershed — now suspended over rocky falls, now crossing the debris of mountain slides, through shady woods and lovely little valleys—the Trans-Dolomitica winds along safe and broad, as if it were an integral part of the landscape.

Of course the war, which for two years and a half raged in the Dolomites, won for Italy by the Italian "Alpini," has caused great damage. But, already in the summer of 1920 all the hotels were re-opened and all communications were in perfect order. The State Railways, in agreement with an automobile transport company provided, in 1919, for a new, accurate and convenient service of elegant automobiles on all the lines of the Dolomites. This year, 1921, the hotels and transport service will be perfected so as to place at the disposal of travellers the very best modern accommodations.

Arrived in Bolzano, we betake ourselves to the "Strassermauer," a large wall for the protection against the torrent Talfer, and above is the plain rich in vineyards and the hills covered with dense woods. Towards the East we see the jagged chain of the Dolomites, in the morning azure colored, at noon whitish-yellow like ivory and in the evening inclining to purple, almost as if its peaks were on fire. The group visible from this side of Bolzano is called "Rosengartin" or, disparagingly "Catinaccio" (large basin). Behind this extends the Valley of Fassa.

Twenty eight kilometers from Bolzano we come to Hotel Karersee, a first class alpine station, magnificently situated in the midst of the colossal Dolomites of the Rosengarten and the Latemar. In the west glisten the snows of the Ortler, 3902 meters high. In the neighborhood is a very beautiful lake, celebrated for the splendid color of its water.

The volcanoes of Fiemme, Fassa and Livinallongo were actiye in the Triossic period, then became extinct, closed their craters and collapsed. But even to-day, in the midst of the white dolomia, traces of them are seen.

Let us descend to the bottom of the Valley of Fassa, a territory which keeps pure the spoken Latin Ladina, all surrounded by huge dolomitic, tower-like rocks.

We cross the level of Gries, above which the Vernel rises skyward with an incomparable gesture, and arrive at Canazei, the Chamounix of the Dolomites, an important alpine station. Beyond Canazei the road begins to ascend towards the mountain pass of the Pordoi. When we have reached the Pordoi Pass which, with an altitude of 2250 metres above the sea, is the highest pass in the Dolomites fit for vehicles, we see in the East the mountains of Badia, Livinallongo and Ampezzo, with an endless chain of peaks and spirelike rocks. We are now close upon the zone devastated by the War. And in the centre of this zone, belonging exclusively to history, there rises a glorious monument to the Italian Army, the dark Ridge of Lana, "drenched with blood, the scene of great bravery, lacerated in its innermost bowels, pierced by tunnels and covered with a network of vegetation." The almost level road continues up a steep declivity, passing through Pieve of Livinallongo, Salesei and Andraz. All round we see towering dolomitic peaks, black volcanoes, glistening glaciers and, through a gigantic cleft, we look down into the very deep Valley Alleghe. And there, towards the South, the Civetta, the Queen of this entire panorama, rises before us 3220 meters high, one of the most superb of the Dolomites, crowned with sharp crests and embattled towers. Gilbert and Churchill describe it thus:

We advance into the Valley of Andraz and pass through the Loccia, suddenly arrive at the third opening which separates Bolzano from Cortina d'Ampezzo, the pass of Falzarego with an altitude of 2107 meters. Here is a view of the vast battle fields, whipped and furrowed by millions of shells. Everywhere are dugouts, a very intricate network of passages and enormous mine craters which disfigure the profiles and change the appearance of things. Here is the Castelletto once a summit now a heap of stones, because it was blown up by a handful of Italian soldiers with thirty-seven tons of nitrogelatin.

Cortina lies in the centre of a vast magnficent emerald colored basin, surrounded by thirty little groups of houses and is one of the resorts in the alpine region most frequented by foreign tourists.

Next the picturesque Lake of Landro, on whose tranquil surface are mirrored the huge ice towers of Monte Cristallo, and then our arrival at Toblach and we have passed through the Dolomitic region from one side to the other.

CONNIE MACK THINKS HE SEES LIGHT FILTERING INTO THE CELLAR BERTH

ELONGATED PILOT IS NOURISHING SECRET HOPES THIS YEAR OF BETTER FORTUNES FOR ONCE-FAMOUS ATHLETICS.

As one has been accustomed for the last six years to speak of the Philadelphia Athletics either in terms of pity or ridicule, it is surprising, if not startling, to go into Connie Mack's training camp and find a spirit of optimism has infected the place.

It is not that Connie or that any of his athletes, from the strongest to the lowliest, are entertaining hopes of knocking everything in the American League flat and copping a pennant. It simply is that every one expects to get out of last place, which is more than any one could have counted on since the old days when Mack had his big champions and many pennants.

Connie himself, who is not given to boasting, perhaps is more optimistic than any of his boys. It's a bit early at this writing and scarcely a one of the players seems to have awakened to the fact that at last they might be able to beat some one out in the flag race. But Mr. Mack, always considered one of the wise men of baseball, realizes it and couldn't help but talk with a spark of enthusiasm even in his customary guarded way.

Manager Mack Optimistic.

"You know, I don't like to make any predictions in the early Spring," he ventured, "but I actually feel that at last we are almost on the verge of making a ball club. I still may need players for a couple of positions. That I will not know until I see the team under fire.

"This is the first time since 1914 I have come South for Spring work with practically the same team I had on the field at the finish the previous year. Of course, this team did not get anywhere last year, but I feel certain that I at last have some real big league ball players, or men who will be big leaguers when they finish their development.

"The boys are all, with one or two exceptions, very young. But I think they are made of the right stuff and will prove it. Perhaps I wouldn't feel so optimistic were it not for the present condition of the American League. I can't help but feel encouraged when I look over the teams we will be up against this year.

How Others Figure.

"On paper it looks as if Cleveland and New York will fight it out for the pennant. But one can't even feel sure of that. Cleveland seems to me to be a team on the decline. New York has a lot of temperamental stars. Chicago, which undoubtedly last year had a team far above either, is all shot to pieces. The Browns have been hurt by the loss of a strong second baseman, and the rest of the clubs are more or less of a guess.

"You know in the last six years there hasn't been one strong team developed. I mean by that not one that was built up from young material. We have been plugging along, trying out hosts of youngsters. Now I feel that we are just about ready to present a real team. Maybe it will take a couple of years yet to get it up anywhere in the race, but when it does get there it will be a team that should go along for a number of years."

Mack Keeps Hopes Secret.

At least there was no display of spirit and enthusiasm among the players on the field. They went through their morning and afternoon rehearsals much after the fashion of children in the classroom. They do their work splendidly. The morale of the club is high. They have faith in Connie Mack. They are prompt on the field; labor quietly but industriously, observe the rules of training, and seem as orderly as a college squad with a faculty man present.

A Little "Pep" Needed.

If some one in the squad would just let out a yell or two during the daily drill, or if a couple of players would get into a red hot squabble over something on the ball field, an observer would feel more of the optimism secretly shown by Mack.

It is hardly possible that if the players themselves haven't that feeling they can accomplish anything. They have been in the rut too long. Perhaps if they were put into Cleveland or White Sox uniforms they might get that confident feeling and sally forth and lay low a lot of clubs.

There is strength on the club. One can see it even if it isn't asserted.

OAK HALL

SPORT IN BRITAIN

By HUGH DRYDEN
(Staff Correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

LONDON, March 12.—Americans who come over here to see the International polo contest next June must expect to pay vere much more for their seats than they had to pay at Meadowbrook in 1914. The bottom price of a seat at Hurlingham was, according to rumor, to be equal to that of Meadowbrook's best, $25; but Sir Harold Snagge, Chairman of the Hurlingham Cup Defence Committee, now explains that the scale of charges for the series of three matches will be $25, $50, $75, $100 and $125, which is still much above the Meadowbrook prices.

Sir Harold Snagge thus explains the Hurlingham Club's financial policy with regard to the International games:

"The Organization Committee, bearing in mind the enormous crowds which flocked to see the matches at Meadowbrook in 1914, and anticipating that wide interest was likely to be aroused both here and in America by the matches to be played this year, considered very carefully and at great length how far in these days of financial stress they could wisely go in meeting the inevitably large public demand for seats, and it was with the greatest regret and reluctance that they felt themselves compelled to confine their plans within the limits of approximately one-fourth of accommodation provided by the American Polo Association at Meadowbrook. Their decision was governed in this regard by the fact that the closest estimates obtainable indicated a prospective capital outlay in connection with the erection of stands, etc., of between three and four times the sum which would have been required under pre-war conditions and at pre-war prices."

The great golf ball controversy is reaching an acute stage as next Summer's invasion of England by United States golfers draws near. It is now being recognized here that the recent ruling by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, fixing a new standard ball, a "floater," smaller and lighter than the old one, with a view to limiting the length of drives, has defeated its own object, and that in practice the "limit" ball conduces to longer driving than ever. A prominent golf journalist, George Greenwood, writes:

"It would be an act of extreme discourtesy to introduce a 'floating' ball at a time when American players are contemplating visiting this country to compete in our amateur and open championships. American golfers do not use light balls, and are strongly opposed to the introduction of a standard 'floater.' Personally, I am not hopeful, no matter what outrages the new 'limit' ball may perform during the coming season, that the United States will abandon her present position. It will then become a question of policy as to whether it is advisable in the interests of golf as a British institution to let America go her own way, as has already been done in the matter of the stymie rule. Even in this event there is no reason why there should not be a friendly rivalry between the two countries, each, of course, respecting the other's laws of the game when competing internationally. There are other considerations which make it undesirable to resort to panicky measures. It is pretty certain that, until the general body of golfers have had an opportunity of tasting the equisite joy of annihilating space with the new ball any change to a lighter implement would be extremely unpopular. Too much of a good thing invariably produces the requisite reaction and it would be well to indulge them in their orgy of swiping.

"I have little doubt that when we all come to play with the 'floater' it will be a different ball from what we at present conceive it to be. What is certain, however, it will be a more pleasurable ball to hit, and at the same time will require a greater measure of skill to control. If either or both of these objects are attained then golf as a national game will have been saved."

Meanwhile, another difficulty is arising concerning the ribbed mashies and irons, recently introduced by some American golfers. Mr. Greenwood warns British golfers who contemplate the possession of ribbed mashies and irons, for which it is claimed that a remarkable degree of "stop" can be put on the ball, that a rule is being drafted rendering their use illegal. "Clubs with scored corrugations across their faces and with edges like razors," he says, "are freak implements, and should be banned forthwith."

* * * *

The whole question of golf organization is brought up in connection with the rules formulated by the U. S. G. A., for the Walker Cup, which have just reached this country. The only body in Britain having any authority as regards golf organization is the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, and the crying need is for a golf association on the lines of the U. S. G. A. As things are, it looks as if the golfers of Great Britain must forego the privilege of competing for the Walker Cup unless they immediately set to work and form a British golf association. For the competition is only open to countries possessing national associations. They must ask themselves whether the reward is worthy of the price to be paid for it. Another question requiring a definite answer is; Who is going to pay expenses? International matches are unsatisfactory unless the competing teams are representative. A sum of not less than $7,500 would be required to send a team of four, with reserves, to the United States. Even if this sum is found, it is not certain whether all the four or six best British amateurs would care to make the trip.

The success of the Walker Cup competition will not be complete if Great Britain abstains therefrom. But a good many golfers in this country consider that the Rules of Golf Committee has already gone to the limit of concessions to American convenience and opinion and it is a fact that its members are disappointed with the results of concessions made. Therefore, it is possible that the Walker Cup competition will not conceive over here the cordial welcome which the personality of the donor of the trophy won for himself when he visited England last year.

For the seventh time S. H. Fry has captured the British amateur billiard championship, having first won the honor as far back as 1893. In the final heat, Fry defeated J. Graham Symes by 3,000 to 2,591 points after a memorable struggle. Quite as much interest was taken in the contest between these two amateurs as in any match where professional players showed their skill. Amateur play between first-class cueists is generally more enjoyable for the spectators than a professional match, which is apt to become monotonous and mechanical as huge breaks are piled up by the almost uncanny skill of the experts.

That unique sporting event, the Altcar coursing Meeting, ended in the capture of the Waterloo Cup, the Greyhound's Blue Riband, by Lady Sefton's Shortcoming, which in the final heat beat Sir R. Jardine's Jassiona. A great deal of money was represented on the famous Altcar plains during the meetings. Perhaps few people know how costly coursing is. The owner who aims at success must have a long purse and unlimited patience. The winner often comes from a kennel where it is only one of a hundred of its kind. Added to the bare keep of these animals high salary must be paid to a professional trainer, while assistant kennelmen and boys help to swell the wage bill. The diet of a racing dog is better than that of most workingmen. Best English rump steak, Welsh mutton, and even poultry are found in the dietry. New milk, new-laid eggs, cod-liver oil, port wine, whiskey, and brandy have to be provided, and often an experienced veterinary surgeon is retained. A hound may cost from $500 to $5,000 to purchase, and as much more may be spent in training it. And even then it may be beaten in the first round. Some of the most famous winners started with the poorest prospects. The smallest greyhound ever run won the cup two years in succession. Another winner led a mongrel life in the streets until a few months before it won the trophy, and yet another winner was sentenced to death as a puppy because it was deemed worthless. But the trainer spared it, and it justified his faith by winning the cup three times in four years.

BRANDON WINNERS OVER PORT ARTHUR

Take First of Allan Cup Semi-finals by Score of 12 to 4.

WINNIPEG, March 15.—Playing right at the top of their form, the Brandon Allan Cup holders practically eliminated the Port Arthur North ends from the series here last night when they took the measure of the Thunder Bay champions to the tune of 12 to 4, in the first game of two to decide which team will meet the eastern champions in the final. The Manitoba champons excelled themselves in every department, were exceptionally strong in defence, and showed a wonderful attack that simply could not be beaten The winners took a three-goal lead in the first period, but were forced to travel their fastest in the second session to secure the edge, when they went to their dressing room with the long end of a 6 to 2 score. The last period saw the eclipse of the boys from the head of the lakes when the Brandon team gathered in six goals against two by the easterners.

GRAND NATIONAL RACE THIS WEEK.

Blue Ribband of 'Chasing Sport and Hardest Test of Racehorse in World.

LONDON, March 15.—(Canadian Press.)—On Friday of this week, March 18, the Grand National, the blue ribband of the 'chasing sport and hardest test of the racehorse in world, will be run over the historic Aintree course at Liverpool. The Grand National course covers four miles and 856 yards of a formidable country. in the course of which no less then thirty jumps have to be negotiated, the fences for the most part being larger and more difficult than found elsewhere. To even get around this course successfully is something of a feat, and on an average a third of the starters fall, while on one occasion, in 1911, the whole field came to grief except the winner, Glenside, a moderate animal whose victory was due entirely to his ability to keep on his feet.

Test of Merit.

This the great test of merit in a steeplechase horse is the Grand National, which is always run at Liverpool in the first week of the flat-racing season, though in the three years. 1916,1918, a substitute race was run at Gatwick, providing the first break sinre the race was first run in 1839 by Lottery carrying 12 stone (168 lbs.). In the early days of the race such winning weights were not unusual but for many years the impost was regarded as impossible, until in 1893 that great horse Cloister won with 175 lbs. on his back. That is the top weight, and it was repeated in 1899 by 'Manifesto, the late King Edward's Ambush II. winning the following year with 157 lbs. Another great horse, Jerry M., won the race in 1918 carrying the top weight, and this was again repeated by the winner of 1919, Poethlyn. who had also won the previous year but with a good stone less in weight.

Ninety-Two Entries.

The race this year brought the unprecedented entry of 92, but of these 19 paid forfeit when the weights were announced by the handicapper and subsequent scratchings have further reduced the number. But nevertheless it is probable that a far larger field will go to the post than in any previous race. Last year there were 22 starters, and in recent years the record has been 26 in 1911 when Glenside won. In the Spring of 1914, when sport was proceeding uninterruptedly and with every sign of prosperity, the great steeplechase closed with 58 subscribers; the previous season there were 46, and in 1912 Sir Charles Assheton-Smith's famous horse Jerry M. was one of 56 nominated. The present heavy entry is doubtless explained by the value of the race, which is now a handicap of $250.00 each, $150.00 forfeit. with $25,000.00 added, including a trophy worth $1,000.00. The amount of the stake won by Jerry M. was only $16,000.00.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD MAY BE WINNER OF PROVINCIAL MEDAL IN POINTS GAME

HAS WON THE WADDELL TROPHY FOR THE HIGHEST SCORE IN THE POINTS COMPETITION—HIS TOTAL OF 50 HAS BEEN SURPASSED ONLY TWICE IN ONTARIO RECORDS SINCE 1896.

The annual meeting of the Curling Club will be held next Monday night. In addition to the usual business including the election of officrs and presentation of prizes there will likely be short addresses by R. Hicks and R. M. Waddell, on the Canadian curlers tour of Scotland this winter.

With the annual meeting the club is officially closed for the season, but on account of the exceptionally mild weather this year the date of the termination of the games is recorded as March 10th. This is one of the earliest closings in the history of the club. The nearest approach to it in the last 13 years was in 1919, when the ice was abandoned on Mar. 15th. The latest dates during that period was in 1909 and 1912 when the play continued up to March 27th in each year.

Won Points Trophy.

It is generally expected by the members of the local club that J. E. A. Fitzferald who won the Waddell Trophy this year for the highest score on the points basis will also be registered as the winner of the Ontario Curling Association's medal for the biggest score in this competition throughout the province. Mr. Fitzgerald ran up a score of 50 points. Since 1896 when Sam Ray won the provincial honours in the points game, the 50 mark has been surpassed only twice, and was equalled once. Last year it was won by A. K. Moore of the Peterboro Club, who also won the first winner of the Waddell tropny. Mr. Moore's score was 47 points and Mr. Ray's 44. In other words Mr. Fitzgerald this year has piled up one of the biggest points scores in the records of the Ontario Curling Association and the local curlers will be surprised if it has been exceeded by any other curler in Ontario this season. If Mr. Fitzgerald is returned the winner of the provincial prize the Peterboro Club will have the unique distinction of carrying it off twice in succession. The Waddell trophy on which Mr. Fitzgerald has won in the local points contest, is a silver curling stone mounted upon three crossed silver brooms. It was donated last year by Mr. Waddell who has always been deeply interested in the points game.

The points competition is one of the real tests of a skilful curler. One of the ices is especially marked off, and a referee appointed. Mr. Angus McIntosh has been the referee this year.

Without going into all the details it may be explained that certain shots have to be made by the men who try for the points trophy, and the scoring is based on the results of the players efforts. One or more stones are placed in exact positions on the rings according to the different shots to be attempted. These include the draw, raise, chap and lie, wicking in and out and similar plays that arise in any straight curling game. Naturally the winner of this competition has to be versatile in his game, and also to have command of the fine shots he is called upon to make.

VARSITY MEETS M'GILL TO-NIGHT

WINNERS WILL LEAVE FOR WINNIPEG IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE GAME.

TORONTO, March 15.—To-night McGill and Varsity meet at the Arena in a sudden-death semi-final Allan Cup game.

The winners will leave for the West immediately after the game, where they will play the winners of the Brandon-Port Arthur series two games for the amateur championship of the Dominion. Both games will be played in Winnipeg, the first on Saturday night and the second next Monday night.

OTTAWA AGAIN N.H.L. CHAMPIONS

DEFEAT ST. PATRICK'S IN HARD BATTLE IN SECOND GAME OF PLAY-OFF.

TORONTO, March 15.—Ottawa, last year's hockey champions of the world, will again enter the series for the Stanley Cup against either Seattle or Vancouver. They won the right here last night when, in the second of the games for the N.H.L. championship, they defeated St. Patrick's, winners of the second half of the race, by a score of 2 to 0. As Ottawa won at home last Thursday night by 5 to 0, it is probably the first time on record that the losing team has failed to score a goal in the play off.

The game, when it started, developed into a terrible battle—the best professional game of the season on local ice. The teams fought neck-and-neck for more than two and one-half periods, the first goal of the contest being scored only after 51 minutes of play. Prior to that the opportunities favored St. Patrick's, if anyone, but rolling pucks and the failure of the forwards to pick up passes and rebounds at the critical moments nullified these chances.

The game came within an ace of not being played at all. As it was, it was fifteen minutes late in starting, the trouble being due to the high-handed action of members of the St. Patrick's team who used the opportunity to hold up the owners for more money. The Arena was crowded to the rafters, and the big crowd was getting impatient, while the directors and the players battled about terms in the dressing-room. Finally a compromise was reached, the owners agreeing to pay the players half of one week's salary if they would go on the ice. The terms were accepted, and Referee Smeaton faced the puck at 8.45 p.m. The directors of the local club were not averse to paying a bonus to the team. As a matter of fact, plans had been made to give most of the players substantial presents for their efforts during the season, and these would have amounted to more than the players actually received by holding up the club when the spectators were all in their seats. This action is resented by the owners, who will likely place the case before the attention of the league.

Immediately after the game Ottawa left for home and will leave for the Coast to-night. The teams:

Ottawa—Goal, Benedict; defence, Boucher and Gerard; centre, Nighbor; wings, Darragh and Cy Denneny; subs, Broadbent, Bruce and McKell.

St. Patrick's—Goal, Forbes; defence, Cameron and Stuart; centre, Noble, wings, Randall and Smyllie; subs, Dye, Corbett, Dennenay.

Referee —Cooper Smeaton, Montreal.

The Summary.

First Period.
No goals scored.
Second Period.
No goals scored.
Third Period.
1. Ottawa....Gerard.....11.00
2. Ottawa....Nighbor.....4.00

AT THE GRAND.

FINE PROGRAMME SHOWING AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"PASSERS BY" WILL BE THE TALK OF THE TOWN.

The chances are that those who went to the Grand Theatre yesterday and saw J. Stuart Blackton's Pathe production of C. Haddon Chambers' play, "Passers By," are still thinking about it. Anything that gets under the skin as does this powerful photoplay, cannot avoid being the talk of the town for the proverbial nine days.

Herbert Rawlinson invests the leading role of Peter Waverton, the wealthy bachelor who entertained the passers by, with tenderness and understanding. He is given the support of three of the best character actors it has been our good fortune to see in a long time. These are Tom Lewis as the kindly cabby; William J. Ferguson as the very dignified valet; and Dick Lee as the vagabond.

The feminine end of the cast is well upheld by Leila Valentine as Waverton's old love; Ellen Cassity as the new, and Pauline Coffyn as the sister. Charles Stuart Blackton, the six-year-old son of the producer, brought forth ohs and ahs of delight from the audience.

It is seldom a picture with the quaint charm, the unique story and the beauty of theme and artistry of treatment of "Passers By" passes by our way. Don't let the opportunity to see it pass by. It remains at the Grand Theatre until Wednesday night, together with the great comedy picture, "Number Please," with that inimitable comedian, Harold Lloyd, who kept the large audience in roars of laughter for nearly half an hour. This comedy alone is well worth walking a long way to see. An interesting News reel rounds out a very fine programme, well worth seeing.

AT THE ALLEN.

"Kismet," the Robertson-Cole super-special which opened at the Allen Theatre yesterday for a run of 3 days, although resplendent with beautiful scenes is a most unusual picture because of the very excellent cast. Otis Skinner, foremost actor of the American stage, plays the stellar role Although Mr. Skinner has won fame for his remarkable interpretation of this same role on the legitimate stage, he will certainly add to his laurels in the screen production. His acting is a revelation, he supporting cast is excellent.

Never has a more beautiful picture than "Kismet," the Robertson-Cole super-special which opened at the Allen Theatre yesterday been produced. It is a story of Bagdad one thousand years ago, and the realistic settings carry you completely into the land of fairy tales. It is Bagdad the beautiful. Otis Skinner who plays the role in which he made such a tremendous hit in the stage production of "Kismet" is equally as convincing on the screen.

HOW THEY MAKE MODERN CANDLES.

Mechanical Processes Replaces Old Methods.

The wick is to the candle what the burner is to gas, according to a writer in a recent English trade bulletin. In the manufacturer of candles the wick has always received considerable attention. This was true before the year 1820, when the wick was made of twisted cotton yarn. With this type of wick, the charred and glowing end required the services of a snuffer.

Braided or plaited wicks were introduced about 1825, and the snuffer became an ornamental accessory, as it was no longer a matter of necessity, as formerly.

Modern wicks go through a regular pickling process before the candle manufacturer uses them. The wick is soaked in a solution of certain chemicals, ammonium phosphate, potassium chloride and sal ammoniac being among those used. The object is to prevent the wick from smoking, and also to retard the combustion of the cotton. After the pickling the wicks are slowly dried and are then ready for coating.

Manufactured candles are of many types, but the molded candle is more or less universal household use is usually composed of a mixture of stearine and paraffin wax. The molding machine is merely a development of the idea of the old candle mold which at one time formed part of the regular equipment of every household, in the days when candles, like soap, were made at home. The modern molding machine consists of a series of molds in a bath of water. Each mold receives a wick and is filled with the molten candle material.

In the regulation of the temperature of the water in the bath during the process lies the secret of the art of making candles. When sufficiently set the candles are mechanically expelled from the molds by machinery on the piston principle, a series of pistons rising up and lifting the candles out. When thoroughly hard, the ends of the candles are trimmed, and they are then ready for packing for the market.

OBITUARY

T. G. GILLESPIE

One of Peterborough's most respected citizens was called away at an early hour this morning in the person of Mr. Thomas G. Gillespie of 110 Lock street, in his 68th year.

Mr. Gillespie was in his usual health yesterday and on Sunday occupied his pew in Murray street Baptist Church at both morning and evening services. At half past seven he complained of weakness and pain but became more comfortable and rested until one o'clock this morning when he breathed his last.

One month ago Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were "At Home" to their friends on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of their marriage.

The family, who mourn the passing of an honored husband and father are Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. C. E. Sisson Mrs. Clayton Hambidge of Cavan, Mrs. Douglas Loomis, Mr. Stanley Gillespie of Kitchener and Miss Hazel, who is at home with her mother.

The desceased was a member of the W.O.W. and the I.O.O.F.

The funeral will be held at 2.30 o'clock on Thursday, Rev. J. R. Webb of Murray Street Baptist Church, of which Mr. Gillespie was a deacon will officiate. Friends are asked to kindly omit floral tributes.

MRS. W. H. BRAVENDER.

The death took place on the 8th of March, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George Perry Armstrong, of Portage la Prairie, of an old resident of Lakefield, Mrs. W. H. E. Bravender. The deceased was in her 63rd year, and had recently undergone a serious operation. Her death came as a great shock to the people of Lakefield, where, up to about a year and a half ago, she had resided for 18 years. Mr. and Mrs. Bravender came here at that time, and bought the old Samuel Nelson property, converting it into a beautiful residence. Mr. Bravender being connected with the Lakefield Portland Cement Company before it was taken over by the Canadian Cement Company.

Mrs. Bravender was a loyal and devoted member of the Methodist Church, and was an active worker also in W.C.T.U. work. She is survived by her husband, Mr. W. H. E. Bravender, three sons, Roy of Seattle, Clare of Winnipeg and Allan of Los Angeles, California, and by one daughter, Mrs. George P. Armstrong, of Portage la Prairie.

GOSPEL HALL MEETINGS.

(Contributed.)

The wet weather of Monday evening did not dampen the interest in the meetings which are continuing this week. An earnest congregation listened to Mr. Bentley's address on "Marks of the New Birth." Just as the Gospel by John insists upon the necessity of that new birth, the first Epistle of St. John shows its marks. The first is faith in Christ as the one sent by God to save sinners, 1 John, 5:1. Following that is an immediate change in the individual's attitude to sin. "Whosoever is born of God, doth not practise sin," 1 John 3:9. Though no Christian can claim to be perfectly sinless, he cannot practise it. It is no longer the habit of his life. The born-again person also begins to love every other born-again one. 1 John 3:14. There is a sort of spiritual free-masonry among the redeemed of the Lord. They are in the same family as brothers and sisters, and the only fitting characteristic of such a close relationship is love. And last but not least, the regenerated person is the only one who can "overcome the world." 1 John 5:4. Worldliness is anything that is heartless towards Christ. If a professing Christian tried to witness for Christ in the ball-room or theatre, or at the card table what would hapnen? At once they would find that the mention of His name was unwelcome, but the person who has been cleansed by His blood and seen the beauty of His face, has tasted a joy which lifts them clear above the world and its pleasures of sin.
